PRESIDENT DIAZ SEES NO DANGER

Asserts Mexico is in the Main Tranquil.

RIOTS ARE SOON SUPPRESSED

Ambassador Wilson Informs State Department Only Outbreaks Are Confined to Remote Districts of Chihuahua.

Washington, Nov. 29.—The entire republic of Mexico, with the exception of the state of Chihuahua, is quiet, according to a telegram received by the state department from Henry Lane Wilson, United States ambassador at Mexico City.

Mr. Wilson reviewed the situation in view of the reports which he has received from consuls in various parts of the country. The revolutionary party, according to the ambassador's dispatch, seems most active in the remote districts of Chihuahua. The Mexican government, he says, is adopting energetic measures to suppress the outbreaks.

Diaz Sees No Danger. President Diaz issued a signed statement as follows:

"The recent riots in certain portions of Mexico are the political work of Francisco Madero. According to proclamations he published on throwing himself into an attempted revolution, his object was to attain the presidency by force, since he was unable to do so by the votes of his fellow citizens.

"This political movement did not extend, since hitherto it has limited itself to riots in Puebla, Gomez Palacio, Parral and Ciudad Guerrero. In all these places the rioting has been repressed by the police and federal soldiers. The rest of the republic remained completely tranquil.

"The Mexican people love peace and understand its benefits, and will not accept any revolution.

Scores Foes of Anarchists. "Further, the business men understand that their interests would be in danger in the hands of persons who profess socialism and carry on an anarchistic propaganda.

"No danger exists here either for the natives or for the foreigners, but it is distressing that the press should publish sensational and exaggerated news which tends to cause alarm in the money markets and to do damage to business.

"It can not be said there have been any serious disturbances, for even in the places where there have been riots, to which I have referred, order was re-established a few hours later, and every one is attending to their affairs with no more excitement than that created by the sensational news.

On the other hand, the government is supported by public opinion and a well-disciplined army."

TAFT BUSY ON HIS MESSAGE

Document Will Not Be Particularly Lengthy and Will Contain No Novel Features.

Washington, Nov. 29.—The regular cabinet meeting has been postponed from today until Wednesday, when the president hopes to have his message complete and ready for reading to his official advisers.

The message is beginning to take shape. It will not be a particularly long message, and so far as can be learned it will contain no novel features. But in its preparation the president has been compelled to go through a mass of documents, the study of which has greatly retarded the actual work of dictation.

"You have done more for the suppression of vice than any other individual I know of," writes a prominent minister to Mr. Mand after witnessing his wonderfully veracious indictment of the white slave traffic in his play "Shadowed by Three." This play is the frankest exposition of the damnable practices of the clique of panders which has thrown its tentacles around our great centers of population that has ever been made, either from pupit, press or the stage of the theatre. Its author has had no hesitation in picturing things as they are, and in calling a spade a spade. If it hurts some people's feelings, let them change present social conditions.
