

MAJOR MORISEY SERIOUSLY INJURED

MANCHESTER MAN IN STREET CAR ACCIDENT AT WASHINGTON, D. C.

LEFT FOOT HAD TO BE AMPUTATED

Left Hip and Right Shoulder Dislocated. Passes Through Operation and is Doing Fairly Well.

Wash., D. C., Jan. 8th, 1911. Capt. J. F. Morisey, Manchester, Iowa.

Major Morisey fell off the car this evening. So badly injured that the left foot had to be amputated. Left hip and right shoulder dislocated, is doing fairly well. Operation just over.

E. P. Seeds.

The above telegram which was received here Monday morning by Capt. J. F. Morisey brought the news that Major G. H. Morisey had been seriously injured at Washington, D. C., last Sunday evening. The Manchester friends of Major Morisey are greatly shocked and grieved to learn of his misfortune and sincerely trust that his injuries are not of such a nature as to endanger his life. During recent years he has resided at Washington, where he holds a position as doorkeeper in the House of Representatives. Of late his health has not been the best, and because of his advanced age his friends will feel apprehension for him until it is known for a certainty that he is out of danger. We all hope for the recovery of Major Morisey.

DECLAMATORY CONTEST JANUARY 13.

- Chorus—"Wind of the Sea"—Clayton Jones—High School Chorus.

DECISION OF JUDGES.

A GOOD FAILURE.

Strange as the headline may sound, it is safe to say that so far as the people of this vicinity are concerned it appears without qualification to be the failure of Messrs. Pamba & Melick, of Cedar Rapids, to keep their part of the contract for the purchase of Burton Clark's business and stock of merchandise. And this statement does not necessarily, even by implication, reflect in any way upon the gentlemen according to their original intention. The Cedar Rapids merchants would have found hospitable people here in Manchester, who would have welcomed them to their business circle if they had completed their purchase. But the completion of their contract would have removed them from our business circle, for a time at least, one of its best known and best liked members. For that reason Delaware county people learned without regret of the failure which will keep Mr. Clark in his accustomed place as the vendor of first class dry goods at reasonable prices.

NEW BOOKS AT LIBRARY.

- Roosevelt—African Game Trail.
- Prine—Land of Living Men.
- Chamberlain—How We Are Fed.
- Chamberlain—How We Are Clothed.
- Smith—Bunny Bright Eyes.
- Boyer—Power of a Lie.
- Hodgkins—Nineteenth Century Authors.
- Holland—Miss Gilbert's Career.
- Hoffman—Games for Everybody.
- Arnold—Clayhangers.

HAS NARROW ESCAPE ENOM DEATH

Workman on New Catholic Church at Ryan Falls Fifty Feet.

While working on the roof of the new Catholic church at Ryan, Henry Ehrlich, a tinner, in some manner lost his footing and fell to the ground fifty feet below. Fortunately he struck against a scaffolding on the way down, which served to break the force of the fall. Two of his ribs were fractured, his head and one arm badly cut, and he was badly bruised about the body. Ehrlich resides in Dubuque and was employed by the contractor building the church.

ASSESSOR'S MEETING.

The assessors of Delaware county held their annual meeting at the Court House in this city Saturday, January 7, 1911. The forenoon was occupied in perfecting an organization. C. J. Murray of South Fork township was elected chairman and Thos. Wilson at this city secretary. In the afternoon the meeting was called to order by C. J. Murray, chairman, and the roll call showed the following assessors present: Henry J. Werake, Colony; L. J. Schneider, Elk; J. N. POULTRY SHOW AT EDGEWOOD.

Among the many interesting features planned for the Clayton County Farmers Institute to be held at Edgewood on January 11, 12 and 13 is to be a regular poultry show. Many valuable premiums are offered and competition is open to Clayton and adjoining counties. U. J. Shanklin, state licensed judge, has been secured to score all entries. Mr. Shanklin is perhaps the best authority in the west on fine poultry, having acted as judge in all the principal shows for many years. A charge of ten cents a bird will be charged for judging and furnishing an official score card. This will not be confined to birds entered for premiums but any one who can have their poultry scored by him the charge stated. This is a rare chance to have the promising individuals of your flock judged by eminent authority at a nominal cost, and at the same time you can secure an education in poultry matters. A separate room has been secured for the poultry and success is assured. The corn show is another special feature and will be judged by competent authority from Ames. A cordial invitation is extended to all.

GEORGE FORD ANSWERS SUMMONS

PROMINENT MANCHESTER MAN PASSES TO HIS REWARD AFTER SHORT ILLNESS.

DEATH CALLS AARON ESTABROOK

Old and Respected Citizen Dies at the Home of His Daughter Here Last Friday.

GEORGE FORD.

His many friends feel with keen regret and genuine sorrow the death of George Ford, which occurred at his home in this city Thursday, January 5, 1911. Mr. Ford has always enjoyed good health and possessed an unusually strong and vigorous constitution, and those who knew him best were entirely unprepared for its comparatively sudden death, which was caused by an acute attack of kidney trouble. His last illness covered a period of about five weeks. Recognizing that the beginning, that his illness was of a serious nature, those about him provided every aid and comfort. The best of nursing and medical skill was provided, but of no avail.

Mr. Ford was well known, not only in Manchester, but in Delaware county, but in the territory in northern Iowa which he has covered as a traveling salesman for many years. He was born in Rockford, Illinois, and came to Delaware county when a boy. He called Manchester his home for forty-six years and there was hardly a person in this city but that knew him and held him in high esteem. He was engaged in the retail grocery business for many years, being associated with his brother John under the name of Ford Brothers. They built what is known as the Ford building on Franklin street and the firm carried on for years the leading business in the community. Mr. Ford was united in marriage with Miss Jennie Nethercut in 1873. Mrs. Ford survives her husband. The deceased is also survived by a brother, John, who has resided at Davenport for the past few years. The deceased was of open-hearted and generous impulses. He was active and attentive to his business and enjoyed and merited a reputation for strict integrity. He was well liked by all and the community extends its sympathy to the bereaved wife, who mourns the loss of a true and loving husband.

Mr. Ford was a member of the Masonic order, under whose auspices the funeral services were held on Sunday afternoon at 2:00 P. M. Rev. J. P. Moore officiated and interment was made in Oakland cemetery. Those from out of town who were here to attend the funeral were John E. Nethercut, of Geneva Lake, Wisconsin, and William P. Nethercut, of Milwaukee, Wisconsin, both of whom are Mr. Ford's cousins; Mrs. W. A. Keyes, of Omaha, Mrs. Ford's niece; Mrs. Clarence Becker, of Le Mars, and Mrs. Frank Hoffman, of Dubuque.

AARON ESTABROOK.

Aaron Estabrook was born in Elizabeth town, Essex county, New York, December 18, 1832. At the age of eight years he came west with his parents to Newark, Licking county, Ohio. In 1842 he came to Iowa, landing in Bellevue, Jackson county. He came to Manchester, Iowa, by water from the eastern part of New York to Bellevue and settled near where the city of Maquoketa now stands. In 1847 he moved to Dubuque county, where he married to Margaret Florsino October 21, 1853. Of this union four children were born, Geo. R., who died at Marshalltown, Iowa, Aug. 20, 1908; Mrs. Laura Hamblin, now of Manchester, Iowa; Mrs. Nettie Henry, of Evanson, Illinois, and Mrs. Jennie Parker, of Waterloo, Iowa. In 1853 he came to Delaware county and settled on a farm near Manchester, where Mrs. Estabrook died April 29, 1893. In the fall of 1893 he had a sale and went to Marshalltown, Iowa, to live with his son, but not liking the change he returned to Manchester and has since made his home with the different children. For the last seven months he has been bedfast at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Solon Hamblin in this city, and death came not unexpected January 6th, 1911.
