

WAY TO SUCCESS OPEN

WISE ADVICE TO THE DEMOCRATIC PARTY.

Its Mission in the Service of the People is Clear—Must Honestly Fulfill Pledges and Be Progressive and Conservative.

This is not the first occasion on which the door of opportunity has been opened to the Democracy and they have shut it on themselves. Let them remember "the landslide" of 1892 and its consequences. The same thing may easily occur again. It is still before the eyes of the people that the Democratic party has recovered from their overthrow and the fight will have to be made over again. Only by uniting on the fundamental principles and making mutual concessions as to personal interests can the Democracy hope to win. If they falter the party is lost. The principles will some day be victorious, but the Democratic party will have lost the glory of the victory.

The Democracy has before it a clear, if difficult, mission—to establish the rights of the people according to the constitution, and to make it plain that among these rights is the right to acquire and hold and use property in any manner not inconsistent with the rights of others and only so. If the rights of the people and this property right are conflicting, then is this latter not right, for the rights of the people are the supreme law.

The Democracy must be at once both progressive and conservative. It must honestly fulfill its pledges. It must meet bravely the questions arising out of the new conditions of which we hear so much, and it must conserve those rights of the individual on which our security has been based in the past. Nor is this reconciliation as difficult as some would have us believe. We are, it is true, drifting into new seas; but we have a chart by which we may steer safely, however perilous the tides that swing away us and the rocks and reefs that appear in our course. Its name is the constitution. It is drawn by a body of wise, experienced and patriotic men whose minds were set on one thing—civil liberty through the perpetuation of Republican institutions.—Thomas Nelson Page, in the North American Review.

Opportunity of the South.

No sensible man, certainly no one friendly to the south, wishes to see the tariff made a sectional question. The course of Mr. Clark and Mr. Underwood tends to prevent this. They are not only making their own party throughout the country, but are a strong public sentiment in support of tariff reduction that has divided the Republican party, and thrown the house into the hands of the Democrats. When we read that in this they are serving their own section, we have in mind the important fact that they are bringing to bear on national affairs the intelligence and strength of their section, and giving it the opportunity to lead in the affairs of the nation. They are determining the unfortunate sectionalism that has, perhaps unavoidably, pervaded southern politics for a long time. They are raising the south on the side of progress and in the line of the most significant movement of national opinion that has manifested itself in years. Nothing is more certain than that our vast and intricate and oppressive tariff system is to be reformed, and its reform is bound to be the one last of statesmanlike action in the next few years. It can be determined, and under certain conditions it can be led by the men of the south.—New York Times.

Reciprocity and Public Welfare.

President Taft seeks the benefits of reciprocity in the quickest way. Instead of negotiating a treaty which could not become effective without ratification by a two-thirds vote of the senate, he has negotiated an agreement which can be enacted into law by a majority vote of the two houses. It now remains for the American people to make their attitude with regard to this agreement so clear and emphatic that congress will not dare to put it into cold storage. It ought to be adopted! The welfare of the country demands it, and the leaders of the Republican party in congress ought to be wise enough to see that antagonism will be resented.—Rochester Post-Express.

As to Ballinger.

A strong disposition to sidetrack the Ballinger investigation report is evident in the action of the house agricultural committee, to which it was referred. It is "up to" Mr. Ballinger to have that committee bring the matter before the house, but Mr. Ballinger, it is safe to say, will do nothing of the kind. He is a man, boasting of being in the right and sensitive to criticism, would insist upon action.

Business Management and Post Office.

"If any private corporation had the privileges and monopolies enjoyed by the post office it would make money too fast to count. The post office department is the only corporation in the world that does $224,000,000 worth of business and yet loses money."—Don C. Seitz, in World's Work.

Joint Reciprocity With Canada.

We sincerely hope the arrangement will be perfected. It is not all one could wish for. Two nations so closely knit by language, race and community of interests, and divided only by an imaginary boundary line, when they are not united by a water frontier, ought not to be hampered in their commercial relations by any tariffs whatever. Considering all the circumstances, however, the cause for reciprocity is not that the negotiators accomplished so little, but that they accomplished so much.—Philadelphia Record.

Hard Proposition to Defend.

The Republican politicians who persist in declaring that the tariff is not responsible for the high cost of living and the rise in revolt against the reciprocity agreement with Canada because, as they say, lower tariff duties on food products will cause domestic prices to be reduced are between the devil and the deep sea. If the tariff does not mean high prices it falls in the first priority its makers have in promoting it.

HARMONY WITHIN THE PARTY

With That, Democratic Opportunity Was Never So Great as at the Present Moment.

What chiefly characterized the Democratic lovefeast in Baltimore was the independence of tone with which the distinguished guests discussed the future of the party instead of making a mere parrot-like repetition of a cast-iron program. While there were differences of opinion as to means on the one essential feature of Democratic national policy, "a tariff for revenue only," a tariff for revenue only, the inference was marked by the utmost harmony and enthusiasm. What Governor Harmon of Ohio urged in behalf of a revenue tariff Senator Baller of the American people. As a tariff for revenue only, the inference was marked by the utmost harmony and enthusiasm. What Governor Harmon of Ohio urged in behalf of a revenue tariff Senator Baller of the American people. As a tariff for revenue only, the inference was marked by the utmost harmony and enthusiasm.

What has been highly proclaimed in Baltimore will be for the Democratic house of representatives to translate into acts. While firmly adhering to the policy which can be fully accomplished, practical legislation will demand in the interest of an over-burdened people the acceptance of such concessions as may be made by a protectionist senate. But, as there is a large, liberal and progressive element in the protectionist majority of the senate, the Democrats of the house will have reason to anticipate an agreement in favor of substantial reductions of the tariff. The tariff is a large, liberal and progressive element in the protectionist majority of the senate, the Democrats of the house will have reason to anticipate an agreement in favor of substantial reductions of the tariff.

Remedy Up to Congress.

It is becoming tolerably evident that the closing session of this congress will accomplish nothing except a big lot of appropriations. A large number of bills are now on the floor, but they are all of the kind which are passed by the fact that the session is so short.

There is a large percentage of humbug in that plea.

Congress could do great deal in three months if it wished to. If it was run for business instead of maneuvering for political position, manufacturing campaign thunder and engineering private pulls, the record would be very different. Yet if public business must be left unattended because the session of each congress is too short, the responsibility still rests with that body. It is authorized by the constitution to establish by law another date than the first Monday in December for its meeting. When we read that in this they are serving their own section, we have in mind the important fact that they are bringing to bear on national affairs the intelligence and strength of their section, and giving it the opportunity to lead in the affairs of the nation.

A Tariff Commission.

We have strong hopes that the tariff commission plan will succeed in the senate, as well as in the house of this congress. Some of the senators will oppose it, and will try to wear out the session until a vote cannot be reached in a body that has no means of shortening debate. But means may be found of securing a vote, and the vote should be favorable. Such a result would diminish tariff agitation. The diminution of this would encourage business. The encouragement of business would stimulate "capital" and should make "labor" hopeful, because employed views could displace abstract ones, until eventually there should be no more "politics" in a tariff law than in a bill of lading. It is earnestly to be desired that a sane senate on this question will sustain a sane house and a sane president.—Brooklyn Eagle.

Reciprocity and Democratic Victory.

When confronted with evidence of the growth of tariff reform sentiment in the country the Republican organs used to say that, nevertheless, there was one more Republican presidential victory in the tariff. We can tell the Republicans now that there is a sure presidential victory for the Democrats in the Canadian reciprocity agreement if they reject it. The agreement, as President Taft has said, is of national scope. It will interest the people and they will understand it. It is never understood a tariff bill, because it directly affects consumers, because it reduces import duties on articles of universal consumption.—New York Times.

Hardly!

There is really no reason for counting Indiana as a doubtful state in the next presidential election. Republican reverses have been the result of local instead of national differences in the party. It is the spirit of the Washington (Ind.) Herald.

Perhaps; but as the Democrats carried the state ticket by about 12,000 plurality and elected their congressmen by over 30,000 plurality, it doesn't look exactly that way.—Indianapolis News.

Select Hardy Varieties.

Nebraska fruit growers find that while the cover crops are valuable in lessening the winter injury to orchard trees, they are not nearly so important as the selection of the hardy varieties.

Nursery Stock.

Nursery stock, particularly apples, is high, but good ones of better varieties are cheap at any price to the man who knows how to set, prune, cultivate, mulch and spray.

FARM AND ROAD IMPROVEMENT

CARRIER TO HANDLE MANURE

Farmers Will Find Them of Great Convenience in Many Ways—Not Hard to Construct.

(By Anton Wagner.)

Farmers will find a manure and litter carrier a great convenience. It consists of a small wire rope elevated to any distance desired, and of any length, the outer end being placed over a pole and then firmly staked to the ground.

The supporting pole ought to be braced on three sides to prevent it from swaying. The box may be as large as desired, but the average size will hold about six bushels.

The end of the track in the barn should be about a foot higher than at the outside end, so that when the car is lowered it may be pushed out by its own weight.

A manure spreader may be stationed under the wire rope, and if the box is fastened to the carrier by bolts through its sides it can be dumped in a "lifty" and a vigorous push will send it back to the barn.

This carrier may be utilized in many ways, such as carrying ensilage from the silo to the dairy barn, or litter from one place to another.

These carriers are manufactured at a moderate price, but an ingenious man can construct one at small cost. He will require a double pulley, as many feet of rope wire as he needs (a three-inch round wire may answer the purpose), and the necessary iron rods and bolts for the carrier.

It is becoming tolerably evident that the closing session of this congress will accomplish nothing except a big lot of appropriations.

Yet if public business must be left unattended because the session of each congress is too short, the responsibility still rests with that body.

It is authorized by the constitution to establish by law another date than the first Monday in December for its meeting.

PLOWMAN SHOULD KEEP BUSY

Secretary Wilson Tells Characteristic Story of Economical Minister Running Farm.

"I used to know a clergyman," said Secretary Wilson, of the department of agriculture, recently, "who owned a fine farm and ran it on very economical lines, so that it paid splendidly. Taking his usual daily stroll over his rich, broad acres, he saw a plowman, while the horses rested, sitting on the handle of his plow. It occurred to the minister that he paid this man ten cents an hour besides board, and he stopped and said gently but reproachfully: 'James, wouldn't it be a good plan for you to have a pair of pruning shears here and be cutting a few bushes along the fence while the horses are taking their short rest?'"

James returned the minister's serious gaze, and in the same gentle, yet reproachful voice, he answered: "Look here, sir, wouldn't it be a good plan for you to have a tub of potatoes and a vigorous push will send it back to the barn."

This carrier may be utilized in many ways, such as carrying ensilage from the silo to the dairy barn, or litter from one place to another.

These carriers are manufactured at a moderate price, but an ingenious man can construct one at small cost.

He will require a double pulley, as many feet of rope wire as he needs (a three-inch round wire may answer the purpose), and the necessary iron rods and bolts for the carrier.

WINNIPEG, MANITOBA, THE GREATEST WHEAT MARKET ON THE CONTINENT

REMARKABLE YIELDS OF WHEAT, OATS, BARLEY AND FLAX IN WESTERN CANADA LAST YEAR.

Figures recently issued show that the wheat receipts at Winnipeg last year were 88,269,330 bushels, as compared with the Minneapolis receipts of 81,111,200 bushels, this placing Winnipeg at the head of the wheat receiving markets of the continent.

Further information it is found that the yields throughout the provinces of Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta, as given by the writer by agents of the Canadian Government stationed in different parts of the States, have been splendid. A few of the instances are given:

Near Redvers, Sask., Jens Hertness threshed about 60 acres of wheat, averaging 29 bushels to the acre. Near Elphinstone, Sask., many of the crops of oats would run to nearly 100 bushels to the acre. A Mr. Muir had about 200 acres of this grain and he estimates the yield at about 60 bushels per acre. Wheat, near 25 bushels to the acre on the farm of Mr. A. Loucks, near Wymard, Sask., in the fall of 1910. K. Erickson had 27 and P. Solvason 17. In the Dempster (Man.) district last year, wheat went from 25 to 30 bushels per acre. From 25 to 30 bushels per acre on the Mackenzie & Mann farm today went forty-three bushels to the acre. In the Wainwright and Battle-river districts yields of wheat averaged for the district 26 bushels to the acre. M. B. News, of the Tofield, Alberta, district, got 98 bushels and 28 lbs. of oats to the acre, while near Montrose, over 94 bushels of oats to the acre was threshed by J. Leone, notwithstanding the dry weather of the year. Further reports from the Edmonton district show that Frank McLeay of the Horse Falls 100 bushels of oats to the acre. They weighed 45 lbs. to the bushel. A 22-acre field of spring wheat on Johnson Bros.' farm near Agricola yielded 40 1/2 bushels to the acre.
