SUPREME COURT ORDERS WIN UP OF STANDARD OIL

Justices Hand Down a Drastic Decision Disposing of Five-Year Fight to Outlaw the Rockefeller Corporation.

Washington.—The Standard Oil trust must be dissolved. This is the decision of the Supreme court of the United States handed down May 15. The decision gives victory to the government in its five-year struggle to break up the Rockefeller combine. The finding of the lower court, that Standard Oil used illegal methods in crushing out competition, is affirmed with only slight modifications. The principal change is the allowance of six months' time for the company to wind up its affairs. The Supreme court declares that the corporation violated the first and second sections of the Sherman anti-trust law. These relate respectively to restraint of trade and monopolizing and constitute the main basis of the government's case. The decision was read by Chief Justice White.

CHIEF JUSTICE WHITE.

Justice Harlan announced a dissenting opinion. "Our conclusion is," said the chief justice, "that the decree below was right and should be affirmed, except as to the minor matters concerning which we have indicated the decree should be modified. Our order will therefore be one of affirmance, with directions, however, to modify the decree in accordance with this opinion, to the extent necessary to compel compliance in every respect with its decree, and so it is ordered. Given Six Months to Wind Up. The court held that the thirty days given by the lower court as the time within which the Standard Oil company was forced to comply with the law was inadequate, and announced that it would grant six months within which the Standard Oil company must be dissolved.

The reorganization of the Standard Oil company of New Jersey, the chief justice said, there was a endeavor to control and monopolize; that further investigation made this conclusive presumption of an intent to restrain trade.

ROUGH ON THE DOVE

AIRSHIP IS WRECKED

ZEPPELIN VI, LATEST MODEL OF GERMAN DIRIGIBLES, COMES TO GRIEF AT DUSSELDORF.

Firemen Save Passengers. Gust of Wind Plays Havoc With Hugo Gas Bag as Craft is About to Start on Journey With Eight Voyagers.

Dusseldorf, Rheinland Prussia.—Count Zeppelin's dirigible balloon, the Deutschland, the latest of his models, after a career of only six weeks, was totally wrecked on the roof of its shed.

The finish of the airship was less spectacular than that of its five predecessors, but more complete. Fortunately the crew and passengers escaped injury.

The accident occurred as the Deutschland was being released for a passenger trip. Eight passengers, four men and four women, had seated themselves comfortably in the cabin, the crew were at their posts and 200 men on the ground clung to the guide ropes as the powerful craft slowly emerged from her berth and, under pressure of over a half million cubic feet of gas, struggled to be free.

Just as the airship cleared the shed a violent gust of wind drove her back against the entrance. At the impact several of the balloons burst and the released gas destroyed her equilibrium. The army of men at the guide ropes clung desperately, but were powerless against the wind, and another gust lifted the airship bodily and she dropped on the roof of the shed, her back broken and her hull left dangling over one edge.

In this position the crew and passengers, rudely shaken, but not seriously injured, were left helpless until a fire brigade, hurriedly summoned to the scene, ran the leaders to the top of the balloon shed and pulled the marooned ones out of the wreck.

The Deutschland was built to replace the earlier craft of the same name which went to her end in the Tenthredin forest on June 28 last. The motors and the vertical steering planes of the original Deutschland were saved and utilized in the construction of her successor. The latter made her maiden flight on March 30 and had since made a number of successful trips.

From the very beginning the bustle which the world recognized that the suit put the Sherman anti-trust law to the most severe test to which it had been subjected. The law had been on the statute book since 1890, and had been the basis of some eighteen suits finally passed on by the Supreme court of the United States.

That the law was constitutional was accepted as settled by these decisions, but simple as the words of the statute seemed, there was an absence of unanimity in regard to its interpretation.

Oil Suit in Courts Since 1906. The suit which called forth the oil decision was instituted in 1906 in the eastern district of Missouri. It was brought in the name of the United States. The immediate object was to dissolve the Standard Oil company of New Jersey.

DIAZ WILL RESIGN

MADERO IS GIVEN HIGH POST—PEACE IN MEXICO SEEMS ASSURED.

GENERAL ARMISTICE SIGNED

Conditions Under Which the Government Will Compromise Are Regarded as Almost a Complete Surrender to Rebels.

Mexico City.—President Diaz and Vice-President Corral will resign before June 1. A general armistice has been signed at Juarez and peace in Mexico seems assured.

Minister of Foreign Relations de la Barra will become president of interim.

Francisco I. Madero, the revolutionist leader, will be called to the City of Mexico to act as de la Barra's chief adviser and as the greatest guarantee possible that every pledge made by the government will be carried out.

As viewed by the public it will be virtually a joint presidency pending the calling of a new presidential election.

The cabinet will be reorganized. The minister of war will be named by de la Barra. The foreign office will be in charge of a sub-secretary named by de la Barra. Other cabinet officers will be chosen by de la Barra and Madero jointly.

A new election will be called within six months.

Political amnesty will be recommended to the chamber of deputies.

These are the conditions upon which President Diaz will compromise, as announced by Minister of the Treasury Limantour. Virtually they are admitted in high quarters to be a complete surrender to the revolutionists.

The resignation of Diaz and the joint regency of de la Barra and Madero are said to constitute a guarantee so complete that the original insurrection demand for 14 governors no longer needs to be considered.

The cabinet was in almost continuous session for two days notwithstanding the severe illness of President Diaz. The president's entire face is infected from an ulcerated sore. His upper lip is swollen far beyond its normal size and his face is inflamed. He speaks with the greatest difficulty, but while he is in severe pain, his condition is not alarming at this time, despite his advanced age.

The government's conditions were telegraphed to Judge Carbajal at Juarez with instructions to submit them to Madero. Soon after the terms were submitted an armistice covering the entire republic was agreed upon.

Inasmuch as the government believes it has made every concession that the revolutionists have requested, it is firmly believed that a treaty of peace will follow.

SAY LORIMER SEAT BOUGHT

Helm Committee Reports That His Election Could Not Have Been Procured Without Bribery.

Springfield, Ill.—The report of the Helm committee on the election of William Lorimer to the United States senate was sent into the senate by the chairman.

The document recited the facts of the investigation and said it was evident from the evidence taken that the election of Lorimer could not have been procured without bribery and corruption.

No recommendations were made in the report for taking the matter to the United States senate and outside of the recital of the facts set forth there was no comment.

The report alluded to the inability of the committee to compel the attendance of witnesses from other states, of whom there are said to have been several whose presence was desired and whose names never have been made public.

PACKERS WANT NEW HEARING

Federal Judge Grants Permission to Defendants to File Motion to Reopen Their Case.

Chicago.—Judge George A. Carpenter, in the United States district court, allowed counsel for J. Ogden Armour and the other indicted packers to file a motion for a rehearing of their demurrer to the indictments. The motion was based on the decision of the Supreme court in the Standard Oil case.

The court declared that he would not hear oral arguments and directed the attorneys to file briefs within one week. The court then told what he believed is a fair construction of the decision and the whole proceeding ended in less than fifteen minutes.

Judge Carpenter held that the Supreme court must regard the Sherman anti-trust act under which the defendants have been indicted, as a penal statute.

89% of the World's Creameries Use DE LAVAL Cream Separators

Ten years ago there were a dozen different makes of creamery or factory separators in use. Today over 95 per cent. of the world's creameries use DE LAVAL separators exclusively.

It means a difference of several thousand dollars a year whether a DE LAVAL or some other make of separator is used in a creamery.

Exactly the same differences exist, on a smaller scale, in the use of farm separators. Owing to the fact, however, that most farm users do not keep accurate records as the creameryman, they do not appreciate just what the difference between a good and a poor separator means to them in dollars and cents. Nine times out of ten the farmer who buys a separator does not know he is wasting $100 a year in quantity and quality of product through the use of an inferior cream separator.

Now, if you were in need of legal advice, you would go to a lawyer. If you were sick you would consult a doctor. If you had the toothache you would call on a dentist. Why? Because these men are all specialists in their art and you rely upon their judgment and skill. When it comes to buying a separator why not profit by the experience of the creameryman? His experience qualifies him to advise you correctly. He knows which separator will give you the best results and be the most economical for you to buy. That's why 98 per cent. of the world's creameries use the DE LAVAL exclusively.

There can be no better recommendation for the DE LAVAL than the fact that the men who make the separation of milk a business use the DE LAVAL to the practical exclusion of all other makes.

Before you buy any Cream Separator be sure to see the local DE LAVAL agent and try a DE LAVAL.
