NOT A BAD STORY.

The following story, apropos of what may happen before the day of November, was told in Chicago a few days ago by Urey Woodson, secretary of the democratic national committee. "You republicans," said Mr. Woodson, "remind me of old Colonel Gunfire, a died in the wool democrat who lived in an overwhelming republican district. The Colonel blew into the legislature one day and asked to be sworn in as a member. Colonel, said the presiding officer, did you sure beat a republican in your district?"

"Shu, I beat three of 'em at once," said the Colonel triumphantly."

LAFE YOUNG HAS HAD ENOUGH.

Lafe Young has thrown away his brief as special counsel for "the interests," and has come out strongly for Cummins for president, and for progressive policies generally. In a recent issue of the Capital he says:

"The overwhelming victory of Senator W. S. Kenyon at the polls Monday can be considered in no other way than an unqualified and ringing endorsement of Senator Cummins and a vote of approval for him and his candidacy."

"Senator Cummins was behind Senator Kenyon. He came from Washington to Des Moines to let the people of Iowa know where he stood on the question of senatorial preference. On the other hand, Senator Kenyon made the race in Iowa on a platform of endorsement of Senator A. B. Cummins as republican candidate for president."

"The outcome is plain. Iowa is for Cummins for president or for a candidate who stands for progressive principles. If the selection of delegates to the Chicago convention had been left to the voters of Iowa Senator Cummins would have won."

"With the overwhelming vote for Senator Cummins and Kenyon before it, the Capital is convinced that the former should have the vote of the Iowa delegation to the Chicago convention. Sixteen of the delegates to the Chicago convention from Iowa are instructed for President Taft. These instructions should not be violated. But as soon as they have been fulfilled, the delegation should throw its entire strength to Senator Cummins. This of course, in case Taft is not nominated on the first ballot which seems unlikely."

Sixteen years ago Mark Hanna was in need of a newspaper organ in Iowa, and in need of a versatile newspaper man to help keep the voters of Iowa in line with the wishes of predatory wealth. He made Mr. Young a tempting offer, and the offer was accepted. For sixteen years Mr. Young has been loyal to the reactionaries. For sixteen years he has been at war with his own real desires, for it is hard to believe that his sympathies have not been with the masses of the people. He has been like a man away from home for sixteen years, and no doubt rejoices over a defeat which gives him an opportunity to hereafter speak and write what he really feels and believes on all questions.

No doubt many of Lafe's old-time personal friends are also rejoicing over his defeat for the senate, because it releases him from a political bondage that has prevented him from doing a humanity-lover's work among men.

BRYAN'S LETTER TO RIEGEMAN

Henry Riegman of Des Moines was treasurer of the Democratic state committee in 1896, and ever since then has been a personal friend and admirer of Mr. Bryan's.

In an interview published in a recent issue of the Register and Leader Mr. Riegman had the following to say:

"The democratic candidate for president will be either Clark or Wilson. I will not be Bryan, for he will not accept the nomination. In a letter which he sent to me at Burlington when the convention was being held he said: 'No friend of mine will humiliate me by presenting my name to any convention this year.' I believe that Wilson will be the most acceptable man to the democrats. To win, the democrats must get 1,000,000 votes from the republican party, and I believe that Wilson can come nearer drawing that number than any other man the democrats have. As it stands now, neither one has enough delegates to nominate."

CATO SELLS MAKES GOOD IN TEXAS.

We congratulate the party upon the election of Judge Cato Sells of Cleburne to be national committee man. Judge Sells is a progressive democrat, a man and a gentleman, a born leader and a harmonizer without sacrifice of principle. He will give Texas genuinely democratic representation in the national councils of the party. — Houston (Texas) Chronicle.

The people of Iowa endorse all the Chronicle's good words about Cato Sells, and rejoice over Mr. Sells' success in the Lone Star state.

The democrats of Iowa, who have no interest in politics other than to help promote good public policies and equal justice to all, can rejoice with their progressive republican neighbors over Senator Kenyon's sweeping victory. Mr. Kenyon stands today for nearly everything that the democratic party has stood for during the past sixteen years.

Roosevelt describes some of his standpat opponents as "men with brains of about three-guinea-pig power." And this is not an exceptional statement from his recent speeches, but rather a representative one. Roosevelt can not plead the impetuosity of youth, as the friends of Lafe Young Jr. did for him when he called Iowa progressives "hypocrites and liars." It is now well known that Lafe Young's senatorial prospects were injured by the bad names used by his son under exasperating conditions. And the great African hunter may live to regret the abusive language which he is using toward his adversaries.

BANKING IMPUDENCE.

(From the New York World.) State banks like the Fidelity Trust Company of Buffalo, and national banks like the Bank of Commerce of this city, are openly resisting a Congressional investigation through the Pujo committee. The one class of banks takes refuge behind the doctrine of States' Rights; the other class behind the National-Bank act, which vests visitatorial powers in the Comptroller of the Currency.

This attitude is as foolish as it is impudent on the part of both classes of institutions. As creatures of the Federal Government, the national banks are especially reprehensible in their resistance. They owe their privileges to Congress and what Congress has given it can take away; and a visitatorial power given by Congress to the Comptroller can be recovered.

And what of the State banks? If they are creatures of State law, are not their relations with national banks still subject to Federal inquiry or regulation? Are they beyond Federal reach in their relations to interstate commerce? Are they not subject to Federal taxation, as they were once forcibly reminded, and can they therefore hope to escape subjection to Federal inquiry in matters of national jurisdiction?

These privileged creatures of the law evidently need a lesson. They are assuming a power superior to that of their creators. They are, moreover, raising a suspicion that there may be more substance to the charges of a credit monopoly than is known to exist.

Many disinterested persons have questioned the necessity or wisdom of the Pujo inquiry at this time. Are the bankers striving to convince doubters, and to confirm others in the belief, that it is more than imperative to submit their affairs to searching public investigation?

Wobblers Seldom Succeeds. "Success in life depends far more upon decision of character than upon the possession of what is called genius. The man who is perpetually hesitating as to which of two things he will do, will do neither."—William Wirt.

A Good Cause. All the school teachers at Lugano have gone on strike owing to a difference with the educational authorities. With splendid loyalty the little pupils are standing by the teachers and urging them not to give way.—Punch.

Aristocratic Dairy Farmers. Dairy farming is popular as a genuine source of income to the British aristocracy.

Generally. You can generally find a crowd where anything foolish is being done.

Would Have Preferred Cheese. Rats in Washington ate up over $2,000 worth in bills, but we are of the opinion that if they had been given an option in the matter they would have preferred to have had it in cheese.

Earliest Expressions of Thought. History, as it lies at the root of all science, is also the first distinct product of man's spiritual nature; his earliest expression of what may be called thought.—Carlyle.

Lost for Good. "Did you hear about my neighbor losing control of his motor car?" "Greene—No, I didn't." "Redd—Well, he did. The sheriff's got it now!"

Troubles May Be Avoided. Many of the troubles of life are due to lack of discipline and effort.

Prescient in His Day. A scientist has discovered that in 5321 A. D. the earth will cease to turn on its axis. But if it shouldn't be well be spared the humiliation of hearing the people denounce him as a liar.—Memphis News.

Game Easy to Play. I know of no easier or more delightful occupation than that of managing other people's business at long distance and without responsibility for the result.—Exchange.

Must Live for Others. A class which lives only for itself and not for the community of which it is a part is bound to perish. The Nemesis of selfishness is extinction.

Nonsense That Deceives. "Nonsense when earnest is impressive and sometimes takes you in. If you are in a hurry, you occasionally mistake it for sense."—Disraeli.
