CHAUTAQUA STAR DIES. Antonio Albiach, Spanish Tenor in Thavius's Band Swooned Away At Newton.

Signor Antonio Albiach, the sweet voiced Spanish tenor who sang the Troubadour part in Il Trovatore at the Chautauqua here this season, sang his last number at the Newton Chautauqua. He was stricken while singing his part and died at the hotel at 6 o'clock the following morning.

Signor Albiach was apparently of a very robust constitution and always sang with great power. The physician who attended him in his last illness claims, however, that Albiach had a very weak heart. The immediate cause of death was acute indigestion.

Signor Albiach was a Spaniard by birth and had his home in Paris. He had a wife and one child. He was unable to speak or understand English and his life in America was a very lonely one.

He was buried at Newton, as it was impossible to communicate with his family in time to make funeral arrangements. The Chautauqua crew boys acted as pall bearers and the funeral ceremonies were conducted at the Catholic church, he being of that faith. About two hundred persons attended the funeral.

Would Have Preferred Cheese. Rates in Washington ate up over $2,000 worth in bills, but we are of the opinion that if they had been given an option in the matter they would have preferred to have had it in cheese.

Must Be Either Good or Bad. "A man's mind may be likened to a garden, which may be intelligently cultivated, or allowed to run wild; but whether cultivated or neglected, it must, and will bring forth. If no useful seeds are put into it, then an abundance of useless weed-seeds will fall therein, and will continue to produce their kind."—James Allen.

The people of this vicinity, who attend the Great Jones County Fair, at Monticello, August 26, 27, 28, 29 and 30, will be given the opportunity of seeing the greatest aviator of them all—Jimmy Ward—a man of unequalled daring, wonderful perception, and a record as an aviator, which has never been surpassed. With his wonderful Curtis Biplane, the "Shooting Star," Mr. Ward will show all the tricks that made him famous, darting to supreme heights, doing the dip off death, volplaning, and every other feat which has made him known as the Greatest Bird Man of the Age. These exhibitions will be the acme of aviation. Mr. Ward is one of the most noted and spectacular air pilots in the world, today, and his feats have thrilled thousands from coast to coast. Mr. Ward's contract calls for appearances, rain or shine, and if he makes no flights, he receives no pay, of which there is better assurance that those who attend the fair will see his work daily.

Webster City, Iowa. May 6, 1907.

I suffered with severe pain in my left kidney for several months and at times the pain would be so severe that I could not work and thought my time was short. I had taken treatment from several different physicians but received no benefit. Finally I consulted Dr. Shallenberger, Chicago Specialist, and he told me he could cure me and I am glad to say he did. I have had no pain for months and feel well. Write to me and I will answer you cheerfully. George Marshall.

Mr. Marshall reports that at the present time he is still enjoying the best of health.
