TRY TO RULE JUDGES

SENATOR BORAH SAYS DEPARTMENT OF JUSTICE 'INVESTIGATES' FEDERAL JURISTS.

DENIAL MADE BY M'REYNOLDS

Lawmaker Alleges Government Agents Watch Courts—Seeks Favorable Rulings in Big Cases in Charge Made Before Senate.

Washington, Aug. 9.—The first charge that department of justice agents had investigated federal judges in order to influence their action in cases in which the government was interested was made in the senate on Thursday by Senator Borah, and endorsed, partly at least, by Senator Norris.

Senator Borah's charge was brought out by a report from Attorney General McReynolds, responding to a senate resolution asking where federal agents were in investigating judges.

The resolution reflected some sentiment in the case of Federal Judge Speer of Georgia, whose court had been investigated, and who had attacked the department of justice in a public speech.

Senator Borah's charge was characterized as "startling" by Senators Crawford and Sutherland.

Senator Hoke Smith asked Senator Borah for the exact time when federal agents had been making efforts to influence judges in behalf of government cases.

"I think it has been going on more or less continuously for the last four or five years," responded Mr. Borah.

These judges are practically under the control of the department as far as promotion and demotion is concerned," said Senator Borah.

The terms of this convention are practically identical with the details of the international peace treaties which are being negotiated.

SHUT DOOR ON LIND

PRESIDENT'S MEXICAN REPRESENTATIVE WILL NOT BE RECOGNIZED BY HUERTA.

OFFICIAL EDICT IS ISSUED

Unless Lind Brings Recognition of Huerta Government, He Will Be Persona Non Grata in the Southern Republic.

Mexico City, Aug. 8.—John Lind, special representative of President Wilson of the United States, now on his way to Mexico, will be persona non grata to this government, unless he brings credentials in due form, together with recognition of the government of Mexico, his presence in this country will not be desirable.

Manuel Garza Aldape, the minister of public instruction, who is acting as the representative of President Wilson in the United States embassy, it was also dispatched by the Mexican government to the United States and to Europe.

By order of the president of the republic, I declare a minister of foreign affairs ad interim, that if Mr. Lind does not bring credentials in due form, together with recognition of the government of Mexico, his presence in this country will not be desirable.

It was pointed out by a prominent Mexican that in the former case, the government might be obliged to accept the suggestion as actually put forward by Mr. Lind, but that in the second case the government would be justified in characterizing him as one who was inciting the Mexican people to rebellion.

These officials are still firm in their assertion that no suggestions whatever involving mediation or the resignation of Huerta will be acceptable, and that the best that Mr. Lind can hope for in this respect is to be ignored.

Washington, Aug. 8.—Wilson's action in sending John Lind, former governor of Minnesota, to Mexico as a special emissary in the present situation, was criticized in the senate on Wednesday by Senator Clark of Wyoming, who declared "something else must be done by the administration to guarantee adequate protection to American citizens."

Senator Clark presented a resolution for an immediate investigation by the senate foreign relations committee of the condition of American citizens and American property in Mexico.

Washington, Aug. 8.—William J. Price of Louisville, Ky., was elected as the delegate to the national convention of the National Association of Manufacturers for the Pacific coast, inviting the association in each of these cities to send a representative or committee to Washington to discuss arrangements relative to the deposit of the government funds which the secretary proposes to make in the different sections to facilitate the movement of the crops this fall.

Washington, Aug. 6.—By direction of Secretary McAdoo telegrams were on Monday sent to the presidents of the clearing house association in 63 cities in the west, south and on the Pacific coast, inviting the association in each of these cities to send a representative or committee to Washington to discuss arrangements relative to the deposit of the government funds which the secretary proposes to make in the different sections to facilitate the movement of the crops this fall.

Washington, Aug. 8.—Eighteen men lost their lives in a double explosion at the East Brookside mine of the Philadelphia and Reading Coal and Iron company here on Saturday. Two were rescued alive. Thirteen men died in the first explosion, and five died in the second.

Washington, Aug. 8.—The nomination of Prof. Paul S. Reber of the University of Wisconsin to be minister to China was sent to the senate by President Wilson. It is expected that confirmation will follow.

Laurens, Ia., Aug. 7.—The richest pearl find of the season was brought to light from the bottom of the Mississippi river by a clam fisherman named John Wendt of this city. It weighs about 50 grains.

Boston, Aug. 6.—Knights of Columbus and their families, numbering about 25,000, have arrived in Boston for the annual supreme convention, which was formally opened with solemn high mass at Holy Cross.

Calumet, Mich., Aug. 6.—Ingram of Detroit has returned to Laing to make a report on the strike to Governor Ferris. Before he left here he expressed confidence that the strike would end soon.

Weston Ends His Long Walk. Minneapolis, Minn., Aug. 5.—Amid the roar of cannon, the clanging of bells and the tooting of whistles, Edward Payson Weston completed his tramp of more than 1,500 miles from New York city here.

Conversation is a bore when you have to make it. Mr. Winslow's Soothing Syrup for Children... Visitor—Good heavens! The dog! Host—Don't be alarmed, he's only going for Frita's bread and butter that you've been sitting on—Meggendorfer Blatter. COCA COLA HABIT, A GHOST. We have all heard of ghosts, but none of us have ever seen one. It's the same way with Coca-Cola. "Ghosts" you can hear about them but you might search for them until doom's day and you would never find one. Physicians who have treated hundreds of thousands of drug-habit cases, including opium, morphine, cocaine, alcohol, etc., say that they have never seen a case where the use of Coca-Cola has so fastened itself upon the individual as to constitute a habit in the true sense of the word. Although millions of glasses of Coca-Cola are drunk every year, no Coca-Cola fiends have ever made themselves visible at the doors of the sanitariums for the treatment of drug habits. The Coca-Cola habit is analogous to the beetroot habit and to the strawberry habit and the ice cream habit. People drink Coca-Cola first because they see it advertised and thereafter because it tastes good and refreshes their minds and bodies. They drink it when they can get it and consider it a luxury. If you had ever witnessed the ravings of a real drug fiend when deprived of his drug, if you had ever observed the agony he suffers, you would never again be so unfair as to mention Coca-Cola in the same breath with the "habit-forming" drugs—AD. Another Form of It. "Where are you going with that big box of candy?" "I'm lobbying for a friend of mine whose girl has kept him guessing for three years. If I can succeed in making her come to his defense by saying he's not worth killing, why he's going to show his appreciation of my services by inviting me to an elaborate dinner." ECZEMA ON ENTIRE SCALP. R. F. D. No. 2, Sunfield, Mich.—"I was troubled with eczema. It began with a sore on the top of the scalp, which grew larger and larger until it was a large red spot with a crust or scab over it. This became larger finally covering the entire scalp and spread to different parts of the body, the limbs and back and on the face. The sores grew larger gradually until some were as large as a quarter of a dollar. They would itch and if scratched they would bleed and smart. The clothing would irritate them at night when it was being changed. I tried many different remedies but I could not sleep. A watery fluid would run from them. My scalp became covered with a scale and when the hair was raised up it would raise this scale; the hair was coming out terribly. I treated about six months and got no relief and after using Cuticura Soap and Ointment with two applications we could notice a great difference. It began to get better right away. While the eczema was completely cured." (Signed) Mrs. Bertha Underwood, Jan. 3, 1913. Cuticura Soap and Ointment sold throughout the world. Sample of each free, with 32-p. Skin Book. Address post-free, "Cuticura, Dept. L, Boston."—AD. Peppery. Mandy and Rastus had been quarreling for some time and before day they went to court and end their difference in a divorce, agreed to visit for advice the friendly justice of the peace who had married them two years previously. For ten minutes they sat in the judge's office, the best he could, following the recitations first from the one and then the other. Finally all the testimony was in. "Now, look here, Mandy, I think you're the one to blame. You simply haven't taken time to learn. Rastus, haven't you ever heard that a woman must eat a peck of salt with a man before she can live with him friendly?" "Rastus, but that don't mean she got to fill up wid pepper along wid it, does it, judge?" "Auntie Obligeed, you is ingenious in his excuses as he is profuse with them. One day he showed up an hour late for about the sixth time that you had been reprimanded. Johnnie exclaimed: "But you will have to excuse me, Mr. Thompson, for I had to see my mother off on the nine o'clock train; she's gone to New York to visit for a week." "Two days after Johnnie came in an hour late again, but anticipated Mr. Thompson by rushing into the latter's private office and exclaiming: "O, Mr. Thompson, the stork took a baby yesterday at our home this morning." "Indeed!" sarcastically exclaimed Mr. Thompson, "and your poor mother away down in New York, too!" "Johnnie, that's nothing," answered Johnnie. "My Aunt Yorkie was at home when the stork brought the baby." "A doctor said: "Before marriage my wife observed in summer and country homes, coming in touch with families of varied manners, customs and discriminations. I decided that the families using Postum seemed to average better than those using coffee." "When we were married two years ago, Postum was among our first order of groceries. It was also in some tea coffee for guests, but after both had stood around the pantry about a year untouched, they were thrown away, and Postum used only." "Up to the age of 23 I had been accustomed to drink coffee as routine habit and suffered constantly from indigestion and all its related disorders. Since using Postum all the old complaints have completely left me and I sometimes wonder if I ever had them." Signed by Postum, "Cuticura, Dept. L, Boston."—AD. "There's a Reason" for Postum. Postum comes in two forms. Regular (must be boiled). Instant Postum doesn't require boiling but is prepared instantly by stirring a level teaspoonful in an ordinary cup of hot water, which makes it right for most persons. A big cup requires more and some people who like strong things put in a heaping spoonful and temper it with a large supply of cream. Experiment until you know the amount that pleases your palate and have it served that way in the future. "There's a Reason" for Postum.
