MANCHESTER, IOWA, WEDNESDAY, FEBRUARY 4, 1914

FORMER RESIDENT DIES IN SOUTH

MRS. J. B. BOGGS PASSES AWAY AT HOME IN JACKSONVILLE, FLORIDA.

DEATH OCCURRED SUNDAY MORNING

Remains To Be Brought to Manchester for Interment in Oakland Cemetery.

Delaware county friends regret to learn of the death of Mrs. J. B. Boggs at her home in Jacksonville, Florida, last Sunday morning, Feb. 1, 1914. The remains will be brought to this city this afternoon, and taken to Oakland cemetery, where burial services will be held.

Catherine A. Black was born in Clarion county, Pennsylvania, on July 3, 1844. She was united in marriage with Mr. J. B. Boggs on November 23, 1861. Three children, two daughters and one son, were born to this union. They are Miss Amy Boggs, Mr. James Orrin Boggs and Miss Ennis Boggs. Mr. and Mrs. Boggs resided at Delhi until the county seat was removed to Manchester, when they removed to this place, which was the family home until about three years ago, when Mrs. Boggs and daughters removed to Jacksonville, Florida, where they have since resided. Mr. Boggs held the offices of deputy sheriff, county judge and county auditor of this county for many years. His death occurred on February 26, 1891.

Mrs. Boggs was a member of Orient Chapter, No. 15, O. E. S., of this city. She was a quiet and unostentatious woman, and fully in sympathy with the plans, purposes, hopes and aspirations of those who stood nearest to her by ties of friendship. Many Delaware county friends mourn the death of Mrs. Boggs, as she was a true friend to everyone.

The many friends of the family join with the Democrat in extending their sincere sympathy.

WARNING TO HUNTERS.

Hunters who attempt to violate the federal law as it applies to the preservation of migratory birds, will find themselves in deep water if their actions come within the notice of the federal inspectors, according to E. A. Cleasby, of Portage, Wisconsin, one of the federal inspectors. Mr. Cleasby was in the city yesterday and expressed his surprise that a report had been made purporting to have come from State Fish and Game Warden, E. C. Hinshaw at Spirit Lake, in which Hinshaw is reported to have said there was no prosecution in Iowa this year under the federal migratory bird law because of the state law which permits hunting during the spring.

The federal law was signed and approved by President Wilson and became effective October 1. It makes the following changes as to the Iowa law. No hunting is allowed on the Mississippi and Missouri rivers, or on the shores, at any season of the year no wood ducks to be killed for five years; open season for ducks, geese and brant, September 1 to December 15 inclusive, and shooting migratory birds between sunset and sunrise is prohibited.

This government is determined this law shall be enforced as indicated by the statement of Mr. Cleasby, who said he would advise all hunters to refrain from attempting to hunt migratory birds this spring, because the government will prosecute all violations.—Waterloo Times-Tribune.

MANCHESTER GIRLS WIN.

The girls' basketball team of the Manchester High school defeated the Independence girls at the latter place on Saturday evening by a score of 17 to 6. At the end of the first half the score was 14 to 2, in favor of Manchester.

The lineup of the Manchester team was as follows:

Hazel Chapman and Lucy Robinson, forwards.

Lydia Haas, Achsa Drew, guards.

About twenty-five young people accompanied the team to Independence.

FARM HOUSE BURNS.

The farm home of Frank Segar, near Almor, was destroyed by fire between eight and nine o'clock this morning. Mr. Segar had recently built a new residence near the old one and the family were over at the new house when they discovered that the old one was ablaze. The origin of the fire is unknown. The building, together with nearly all of the furniture, was completely destroyed.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Jewell and Mr. and Mrs. Will Jewell, who are prosperous farmers of Richland township, expect to leave about the middle of this month for Parkers Prairie, Minnesota, where they have purchased a large tract of land and where they will make their future homes. THE PROSPECT STREET IMPROVEMENT.

Prospect street is being improved by the addition of a gravel surface, the work being now in progress. The gravel is obtained from the pits east of town owned by the city, which is also defraying the expense of the improvement.—The Press.

The above item, clipped from the Manchester Press of last week's issue. This, we are inclined to think, is hardly fair to our city council nor just to the property holders on Prospect street. The facts of the case as we understand it, being a property owner, on Prospect street, are as follows:

The property holders along this street, deciding that it needed to be improved, made arrangements with the city council whereby they agree to gravel a strip eighteen feet in the center of the street, on an average of six inches deep, from the gravel pits owned by the city, east of Manchester, and that the property holders should pay 17 cents per lineal foot on the property abutting each side of the road, which would make the gravel net the city $1.02 per yard, which they are getting drawn from the quarry and delivered on the street for $1.00 per yard. The city simply being to the expense of leveling the same. This would seem to be quite a different deal for the city than the above item indicates, and we believe that the property owners on Prospect street are to be complimented on their enterprise, which is certainly an improvement to the town and a benefit to the owners of property on other streets.

The city that it would be a great improvement to our town and show a public spirit which would be commendable.

We would suggest that the Press rectify this statement which would be only right, thereby giving the property holders their dues and putting the City Council in their right light. We are quite positive that this Council is not giving away the funds of the city, as this item indicates, or might lead the people to believe. The Council's idea was that it would furnish employment for the teamsters of the town at a season when work is slack, as well as benefiting the town by improving the street.

WILLIAM T. WOOD CALLED BY DEATH

SUCCUMBS AFTER WEEK'S ILLNESS AT HIS HOME IN EARLVILLE.

LIFE LONG RESIDENT OF THE COUNTY

Funeral Services Held at Earlville Monday Afternoon. Many from Manchester Attend.

The entire community is shrouded in sorrow because of the death of Mr. William T. Wood, which occurred at Earlville on Saturday morning, January 31st, at 3 o'clock, following an attack of pneumonia of less than a week's duration. Mr. Wood, who was 61 years of age, was a life long resident of this county, he became widely known, and probably no man counted a larger circle of staunch friends than he. His sound judgment and wise counsel made him eagerly sought for in matters of importance and his opinion was highly respected. Many a man less fortunate than he has been aided by his beneficence and his acts of generosity cannot be over estimated. He was foremost in everything pertaining to the advancement and prosperity of his home town, Earlville, and gave fully of his means to accomplish a worthy purpose. He was a staunch member of the Congregational church and sought in an unaffected and thoughtful manner to influence others to lead a Christian life. Mr. Wood left the farm near Colesburg some twenty years ago and came to Earlville to reside. Here he was married on June 1st, 1892, to Miss Mary Prentice. One son, John Robert, was born to the union. The marriage of Mr. and Mrs. Wood was supremely happy, and a great grief came to the home when Mrs. Wood died on July 2, 1913. Father and son then were drawn more closely together and they endeavored as best they could to overcome their grief and keep up their home. Time heals all sorrows and as the shadow of grief was being lifted from the house of mourning, the father was stricken and the son left an orphan at the age of 16 years. One brother, John C. Wood, of this city, is left inconsolable by the death of William, who had been his companion during all their lives. Mr. Wood was a member of the Masonic lodge, and other societies and the funeral which was held at the Congregational church Monday afternoon was in charge of the Earlville Masonic lodge. The sincere sympathy of the many who were Mr. Wood's friends is extended to the son and brother in their great sorrow.

Among those of the Masonic lodge from Manchester who attended the funeral services were:

L. Matthews, sr., J. B. Higman, Seth Brown, sr., A. D. Brown, T. R. Hatch, A. D. Long, Chancey Sager, Eugene Hulbert, A. C. Philipp, H. T. Smith, Chas. Edmunds, Frank Whitney, Wade Long, C. J. Hockaday, Robt. Barr, Steve Edmunds, Jacob Pettion, Jacob Munch and John Marshall.

The music committee of the Congregational church have again engaged Mrs. Edwin Davis as organist of the church for the ensuing year. Mrs. Davis is an accomplished musician, and the members and friends of the church will be pleased to learn that she will preside at the pipe organ during the year.
