A high wind prevailed here for a short time Saturday afternoon and not a little damage was done in various places. The most serious damage resulted at the George Kaufman home, where, it seems, the wind spent most of its force. A barn door was torn from the hinge, carried by the wind across the back yard and slammed with great force into the side of the house. The siding was broken and the plastering damaged. Also two windows were broken by the force of the impact. At the farm home of John Nebel, some iron roofing was blown from the barn and blown into the house. Mrs. E. B. Sawyer of Earlville was

Gildner Bros' Special Order Department

The greater part of our business is in ready clothes, but in order to give you an example of the excellent tailoring in a HART, SCHAFFNER & MARX suit, we've arranged a special service for you.

If you will make your selections from a line of three hundred imported and domestic woollens, we'll take your measurements and have a suit made specially by the above concern.

Our aim is to show you what beautiful merchandise we can give you and at the same time save you from $5.00 to $7.00 over the price you pay the so-called "tailor to the trade houses," besides being far superior in workmanship.

The men who make these suits are the greatest clothing artists in the world. The fabrics we have on display are very beautiful. You ought to take advantage of this opportunity.
