

Story of Human Friendship

AMON AND PYTHIAS, AN ETERNALLY FRIENDSHIP."

No story with a heart beat in it has ever lasted and lived more vividly through all the ages than the wonderfully beautiful narrative of the friendship of "Damon and Pythias." These two noble figures have an everlasting evidence of man's humanity to his fellow man and countless thousands have found life more blessed because of the example. When it is no wonder that the progressive photoplay producer should realize that in this great and appealing human story was the subject of subjects. The always quick to see what is wanted most and wanted best by the public, the Universal Company has made of this presentation their premier dramatic spectacle, giving in the pomp and glory that has been the tradition of the night of its day, these two noble figures are the central feature of a story of impelling power, dramatic intensity and a sentiment that is at once heart reaching. The real friendship of these warriors and leaders of men and the great test to which it is put, fills the six parts with a plot of absorbing interest and one that bristles with the thrill of unexpected climaxes and the throbs of exciting pulses. The Universal has made this the costliest production of its active and brilliant career showing the wonderful scenes in a superb spectacular and effective manner and with accuracy and the effectiveness that comes from real creative realization. Battles, the throngs at the games, the classic dances, the thrill of the charioteers, the conflicts at sea are pictured with wonderful power while the real sentiment of the story is brought out with a tenderness, that is lasting. Managers Thorpe Bros. have been fortunate in securing this sensational feature for the attraction at the Plaza Theater on Thursday, October 14. It will come here not only with the stamp of enthusiastic metropolitan approval but with the unusual record of having the full hearty endorsement of the Supreme Lodge of the Knights of Pythias who in all parts of the country have hailed the coming of this presentation as an event laden with splendid opportunities for teaching, with its entertaining features, the great influence of the order and the foundation of its ritual—the friendship of Damon and Pythias.

Special matinee at 4:15 p. m. for ladies and school children. Night shows at 7:15 p. m. and 9 p. m., sharp. Admission—Children, 15 cents; Adults, 25 cents. All children occupying seats at the night shows must have tickets.

The complete story of Damon and Pythias in book form for sale at A. C. Philip's. Price 50 cents.

MRS. FRANK OVERMANN.

Mrs. Frank Overmann, one of the highly respected ladies of the vicinity of Petersburg, passed away at the family home last Monday, after an illness of several months, at the age of seventy-four years. The Dyersville Commercial of last week contained the following account of the life of Mrs. Overmann:

"Deceased's maiden name was Miss Mary Beckman, and she was born at Hamilton, Ohio, on March 2, 1839. She came to Iowa with her parents, when six years of age and the family settled on a farm east of New Vienna where she was educated and grew to womanhood. In 1865 she was united in marriage to Mr. Frank Overmann, the ceremony taking place in St. Boniface church, New Vienna, after which the couple went to housekeeping on a farm near Petersburg, where she had since made her home. Her husband died on March 3 of this year. She is survived by six children, Margaret, now Mrs. Henry Nacke, Petersburg, Neb.; John, at home; Anton, of Petersburg; Mary, now Mrs. Aug. Detmer, of New Vienna; Frank, of Petersburg, Neb.; Joseph, at home.

"In the death of Mrs. Overmann, another of the few remaining early pioneers is removed. Here's was a life of charity and unselfishness, lived strictly in conformity with the precepts of her faith, a life truly worthy of emulation. She was a fond and loving wife and mother, and the sympathy of all is with the bereaved children in their affliction.

"The funeral took place this morning from her late residence to St. Peter and Paul's church at 9:30 o'clock, where requiem mass was offered for the repose of her soul by Rev. Father Sassen, after which the remains were laid to rest in the parish cemetery, beside those of her
