Time's Changes.

He had Hoboken in mind, but we Americans do our farming in North Dakota and Kansas, where the vat flourisheth not nor peepeth the cask above the lowly ground.—Spring field Republican.

How He Fooled Her.
One day mother left my little broth- er with a neighbor while she went shopping. When she returned he was telling her what he had for lunch, and in conclusion he said: "She poured water in my cup before she poured the tea, but I saw her do it and I fooled her 'cause I just drank as far down as the water!"—Chicago Tribune.

Quantities That Count.
"The longer I live the more deeply am I convinced that that which makes the difference between one man and another—between the weak and the powerful, the great and the insignif- icant—is energy, invincible determina- tion, a purpose once formed and then death or victory."—Sir Thomas Fowell Buxton.

Everything Due to Effort.
In all human affairs there are ef- forts, and there are results, and the strength of the effort is the measure of the result. Chance is not "Gifts," powers; material, intellectual, and spiritual possessions are the fruits of effort; they are thoughts completed, objects accomplished, visions real- ized.—James Allen.

How It Happened.
Editor—"I am told that in your ac- count of that fashionable wedding you actually mentioned the groom's name. Don't you know that is contrary to custom?" Reporter—"Yes; I'm sorry, sir, but you see it happened to creep in among the out-of-town guests."—Life.

Value of Yawning.
A good yawn, medical experts say, is excellent for the lungs, and for all the breathing organs as well. But there is an art in yawning, just as there is an art in breathing. Every yawn should be as deep as possible, so as to bring all the muscles of the throat and chest into action, and also to fill the lungs with a current of fresh air.

The Secret.
"What is an amateur?" is still one of the raging queries of the hour. But, in spite of all the recent discussion, we haven't changed the answer we evolved four years ago, viz., "Anyone who can get away with it."—New York Tribune.

Perfect Epicure.
Mrs. Brown—"My 'usband, 'e's a very dainty feeder." Mrs. Green—"Is 'e? Now my old man is jest so much the other way about; 'e's a perfect epicure. 'E'll eat anything."—The Tat- ler, London.

The Town-Booster.
"Mister, I'm a stranger in town. I'm lost and can't find my way to the depot." "Better settle right here, my friend," advised the booster. "You couldn't locate in a better place."

Famous Hymn Credited to Saint.
A famous hymn, "The Day Is Past and Over," is believed to be a trans- lation from the Greek and written by St. Anatolus.

Why, of Course.
"What would you call a pie trust magate?" "Td call him a pie-rato cing."—Baltimore American.

Yet Hope.
"Waiter, have you forgotten me?" "No, sir, not yet, sir."—Masses.

Is The Careful Woman's Selection

Washes Clean—Won't Tear The Finest Fabrics.

White's DeLuxe Jr Washer is built along the same careful lines as all the White Line washers, and gives the user a cylinder machine for but very little more than the ordinary dolly type washer, but at the same time a larger capacity

The revolving tub bench is a decided improvement over the sliding or swinging wring- ing, both as to usefulness and floor space occupied in the laundry.

When not in use the bench folds up and therefore occupies approximately the same floor space as an ordinary washer.

This machine is equipped with an eleven inch roll wringer of the highest grade, with an electric motor that is built especially for it after very exhaustive tests.

The washer, motor and wringer are all covered by a five year guarantee, and all de- fective parts, on account of workmanship or materials, replaced free for that length of time.
