

PATRIOTIC DEMONSTRATION AT ARMORY

Soldier Boys Given Reception. Crowds Gather at M. & O. Station When Members of Company H Board Train for Camp Dodge, Des Moines.

BID FAREWELL TO LOVED ONES

Citizens Devise Plan to Give Material Assistance to Dependent Wives, Mothers and Children of Guardsmen Who Responded to Nation's Call. Pathetic Scenes Mark Departure of Militia Men.

Following the assembling at the Armory, of Company H, Iowa National Guard, in response to an order issued early last week, the company received orders to join the other companies of the National Guard at Camp Dodge and left Saturday morning over the Manchester & Oneida railway, and at Oneida the coaches were taken by special train over the Chicago Great Northwestern to Des Moines, the special train taking companies from Dubuque, Manchester, Waterloo, Cedar Falls and Charles City. Never before in the history of Manchester was there seen such a crowd at a railway station as was witnessed on Saturday morning. Fathers and mothers, wives and children and sweethearts assembled at the station to bid farewell to the young men who were taking leave from home and friends to serve their country.

Reception at Armory

On Friday evening a reception was held at the armory, the boys of the company being banqueted at the Bowen and Marucci cafes at 7:30. Following the banquet the soldiers assembled at the armory where a program of patriotic songs and speeches was carried out. The large armory was packed to the doors; every

It is not practicable to report like this to give even a brief synopsis of what each speaker said. The speeches, however, were replete with patriotism and assurance of honor, gratitude, affection, and love for the members of Company H. They also contain assurance that during the absence of the members of the company their county, state and nation would provide for those dependant upon them for support.

The Memorial

Your fellow citizens of Manchester gather here to-night to do you honor, and to bid you God-speed. In the time of peace, you have gladly answered the yearly call to camp-life and drill, that the State and Nation might have men prepared and equipped to defend them in the hour of need, such training as gives the State and Nation confidence in you, and gives you confidence in yourselves. That annual call had in it the pleasure of release from the monotony of daily toil to a time of joyous association with comrades, making it a holiday life.

Now the trumpet sound is otherwise. It is the call to war, and you respond with the same willingness, even with eagerness, so your Manchester friends are here not merely as a token of appreciation, but to remind you that you are our boys, and that we shall be wrapped up in what you do, and Manchester will be claiming your deed of daring, and at each report of something splendid, we shall be saying, "That's what Manchester, Iowa, can do."

A part stands for all, and down yonder, you are we, and more of us will follow your example when the call comes for volunteers.

You stand for us, but better yet, you stand for Old Glory, whose clean folds have been defiled, and whose stars and stripes have been torn, thru Mexican ignorance of its meaning—the flag that is the symbol of highest national life in the freedom of its people, in the happy homes and in the prosperity that rewards honest toil—the flag that brought newness of life to Cuba, and its principles would bring to Mexico if it only knew it, the reign of peace, quiet, and development, it so sorely needs. "Thrice is he armed that hath his quarrel just." You do not go forth on a war of conquest. We have land and resources in plenty. We give evidence of our good faith in our dealings with Cuba—in a way unparalleled in the records of time, and the world may know thereby that it is not greed of territory that drives you toward Mexico.

Nor is it for revenge, though Mexico has given abounding provocation for it. We need not recite the "long list of Mexican crimes against, and insults to, the United States. That is familiar, present history. We are a patient people, and you go Southward not for revenge, but to emphasize with rifle shot and sabre thrust, Uncle Sam's command that this thing must stop, and stop forever. You go South to abate this nuisance, and you will help make clean work of it.

Boys, you stand for the flag and for us, you also stand for yourselves. To-morrow morning, mothers, wives or sweethearts, will look thru their tears as they try to smile farewell. Fathers, with dry eyes will follow you with thoughtful anxious hearts.

"Your Flag and My Flag! And how much it holds— Your land and my land—secure within its folds! Your heart and my heart beat quicker at the sight; Sun-kissed and wind tossed, red and blue and white. Flag for me and you— Glorifies all else beside: the red and white and blue."

On Friday a committee of business men of Manchester made a hurried canvass of the city to raise the necessary funds for the banquet, and after giving the boys a royal banquet the balance of the fund raised was turned over to the company to be used by its members while away from home and friends.

Offer Services

The business men's committee which made the canvass learned that Manchester citizens who could not join the boys of the militia would demonstrate their patriotism by offering material assistance to those who were dependent upon members of the company for their livelihood. Manchester citizens can always be depended on to do their duty in this particular, and no wife, child or dependant mother will lack the necessities of life because the husband, father or son has answered the call of his country.

Recruits Join Militia.

Fred W. Miller and a number of recruits left Monday evening for Des Moines, where they joined the Company for preparation at Camp Dodge. Among the recruits and members of the company which left Saturday morning were: Dick Holden, Raymond M. Fuller, Howard H. Hamilton, Chester Tousey, Grant W. Robinson, Howard H. Hunt, Fred A. Correll, Sorlie C. Smith, Wm. C. Scheel, Henry Hammell, Lee Champlin, Paul Beuhke, Chas. Washburne, Ned Seeds, Walter Bruster, Leroy Geordich, and Sergeant C. O. Burch. With the above young men enrolled in the Company, the number of privates was 88 men, and three officers. Word was received here yesterday and this morning stating that a number of the boys were not accepted for service on the Mexican border for physical reasons. We are informed that a number of the men were under weight, while others were dismissed because of defective eyesight. The boys who are exempt will probably arrive home today or tomorrow.

Leave Soon for Border.

Word was received this morning from Major Harry Utley, stating that the first regiment, of which Co. H, is a part, would in all probability leave Des Moines Thursday evening for the Mexican border.

CHAPMAN—DUREY.

Miss Hazel Chapman, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Chapman, of this city, and Mr. Charles H. Durey, of Huron, South Dakota, were married at the Presbyterian Manse on Thursday evening, June 22, 1916. Rev. W. A. Montgomery performing the ceremony in the presence of members of the immediate families.

The bride is well known in Manchester, where she has been a favorite among the young people. She graduated from the Manchester High school, and attended the state teacher's college at Cedar Falls, preparing herself for the profession of teaching in which profession she has been singularly successful. She is a young woman of culture and refinement, and will grace the home in which she is to be mistress. Mr. Durey is a son of B. H. Durey of Huron, and has made his home at Huron during the greater part of the last six years. He holds a responsible position in the post office at Huron, to which city he took his bride on Friday evening.

Manchester friends extend hearty congratulations to these young people, and wish them happiness and prosperity as they go to housekeeping.

MRS. STEIN WINS DISTINCTION.

Mrs. Karl Buren Stein, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George G. Pierce, and professional coach, reader and teacher of elocution of dramatic art in Chicago, is winning distinction as the foremost in her profession. The May 28 issue of the Music News, on its cover page, contained a beautiful likeness of Mrs. Stein, and on page five of the same issue appeared a column and a half article regarding her work as an instructor. Charles E. Wait, editor of the publication says:

"Chicago has many fine educational institutions, and it is possible here to learn a great variety and wide scope of things the artist before the public must have.

"But of all the things here offered, none is more characteristic nor indeed is any one of them more precise than the dramatic training given by Mrs. Stein and especially in those phases where (in opera) it is so closely associated with music.

"Mrs. Stein has a long list of pupils now in professional life, filling engagements in important companies throughout the country, and it is quite the expected thing nowadays for her pupils to be offered engagements immediately on presentation of the plays, sketches and readings, which under her authentic touch always assume professional importance before they are offered at all to the public."

CONSOLIDATION GETS A JOLT.

At the special election, held in Prairie township last Friday, to determine whether the township should consolidate its rural schools into a Consolidated school, the proposition was defeated by a vote of 123 to 11. It appears that the question of transporting the children to a centrally located school was the determining factor in turning down the proposition by such an overwhelming vote.

COUNCIL MEETING

The city council met in regular session on Monday night, with Mayor Richardson and Councilmen Hockaday, Davis, Williams, Dorman and Cowles, and City Manager Matthews present. A number of grievances were presented by Manchester citizens. E. M. Carr called the council's attention to the fact that the use of the sanitary sewer as a storm water sewer was causing damage to the property of the Manchester Democrat. He contended that the sanitary sewer of this city were not designed or intended to care for storm water and that his property and the property of others was being damaged by the improper use of the sanitary sewer. He urged the council to cease using the sanitary sewers as storm water sewers.

Carl Kullberg and Geo. Slack complained because their petition for a curb and gutter on south 5th street, filed last year had not been given attention. It was stated that there was no established grade on that street and that the work had been delayed on that account.

George Barr called the council's attention to some of the numerous defective walks laid since the building of curb and gutter last year. Dr. H. M. Bradley called the attention of the council to the condition of the Hawkeye Highway leading through the city. He claimed that it was in poorer condition than any section of this highway, which passes through any of our neighboring cities. He urged that the ground at the foot of West Main street be made more presentable. Dr. Bradley's protest created some discussion.

Orin Greenwood, W. A. Maurer, Solon Hagblin, Wm. McIntosh and others, appeared before the council and complained about the recently constructed curb and gutter on East Main street. They contended that the curb and gutter was not on the proper line, and that on the north side of the street it was immediately over the water main and that on account of the street grading the water main numerous places above the floor line; that it would be difficult to repair the water main without damaging the curb and gutter; that they would not pay for the improvements unless these defects were remedied.

No action was taken by the council on any of the above matters.

BIG TILE PROJECT

A. M. Cloud, Judge Geo. W. Dunham and numerous other owners of property in the east part of the city and adjoining the incorporated limits are installing a tile system in that section which is perhaps the largest in this county. The main will begin at Main street near the culvert next to the John Midkiff property, and goes diagonally across lots on Fayette street, then up the low land in a northerly direction. Twelve inch tile will be used from Main street back for a distance of 2370 feet, then a ten inch and further on an eight inch tile.

The soil in the section which this system will drain is a deep black loam and when properly drained will raise immense crops. The farmers who are installing the system will spend a large sum of money, but when the surface water is once carried off, we'll wager that it will take a fancy price to buy that land.

A SUCCESSFUL CHAUTAUQUA

The sessions of the 1916 Chautauqua came to a close on Friday evening of last week, the closing program being given by the little folks, who gave a spectacular international peace pageant, under the direction of Miss Alice McCune, supervisor of the Junior Chautauqua. The part played by the little folks proved interesting and entertaining, and the careful preparation made for the pageant demonstrated Miss McCune's ability as a play specialist.

Following the peace pageant the Ada Roach company gave the musical comedy, "The Heart of the Immigrant." The entire program of the 1916 Chautauqua gave the best of satisfaction, and the local boosters for a 1917 Chautauqua found no difficulty in securing eighty signers, guaranteeing the next Chautauqua. The Red Pathway system put forth a special effort to give the patrons an unusually strong program, and that they succeeded in this there is no room for doubt.

MISS LILLIE PIERCE

Miss Lillie Pierce, sister of Mrs. Wm. McIntosh and C. A. Pierce, of this city, died in Los Angeles, California, June 27th, 1916, following a wearisome illness of several months. Miss Pierce was born in Delaware, December 12, 1860. She was a daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. M. Pierce. For some years she was a successful teacher in the rural school of the county and at Delaware, Edgewood, coming to Manchester to live in 1894. In 1905, Miss Pierce went to Los Angeles, California, residing there until her death.

Miss Pierce was a woman of many lovable and admirable qualities. She was faithful to every trust, and tenderly cared for her aged parents in their declining years. Throughout her long illness she was patient and cheerful, and when the suffering came the passing from the suffering of this life to eternal rest she was prepared for the great change. Her death brings great sorrow to the remaining sisters and brother, and the sympathy of Manchester friends is extended to them at this time.

Galveston, Tex., June 28.—A message from Mexico City states that the Mexican reply to the American ultimatum has started for Washington and that it is a complete defiance of the Washington government.

Demande Release of Carranza.

Washington, June 28.—Carranza's reply to the American ultimatum demanding the release of the troops captured at Carrizal is a counter-demand for the release of 30 Mexicans arrested on the American side since the battle, according to state department officials.

In a separate note accompanying his reply Carranza demands the lifting of the embargo on arms. Both demands, it is understood, will be flatly refused by President Wilson, who is already at work on his address to congress asking for a virtual declaration of war. This, it is believed, will be delivered to a joint session of congress on Thursday.

Note Will Be Flat Refusal.

The official text of the Mexican government's note is expected to reach the state department at any moment. In the meantime Eliseo Arredondo, Mexican ambassador designate, has received word from Mexico City that his government's reply to the two American notes will be a flat refusal of President Wilson's demands. He was advised that the note had been started on its way to Washington, and informed several Latin-American diplomats that he expected to receive it soon.

Mr. Arredondo's statement is susceptible of only one interpretation, say officials; this is that Carranza has deliberately chosen war.

President Wilson and the cabinet considered at length the contents of the president's address to congress. At the same time house leaders, convinced that congressional sanction for a break with Mexico will be asked of them, framed a tentative draft of a resolution to accomplish this purpose.

Latin-America has failed in its efforts to influence General Carranza to take steps to placate the United States. Its ministers have received word that, instead, the reply of Carranza to the ultimatum of the United States is a "direct challenge to this government to do its worst."

"Mob Spirit Prevails."

Don Ignacio Calderon, Bolivian minister and leader in the movement to prevent open hostilities, admitted to the International News Service that the situation looks hopeless. He said that he had received authentic information that the Carranza reply is complete and that it is in no way responsible to the American demand.

"The mob spirit seems to be influencing General Carranza and his advisers," said the veteran diplomat. "While I have no details of the note, I am assured through Latin-American diplomatic sources that the reply, instead of being conciliatory, will declare that the United States is to blame and will adopt a position which, I fear, will leave no alternative to the United States but to use force. We of the Latin-American diplomatic corps are gravely disappointed."

It is understood that Secretary of War Baker presented to the cabinet all of the latest reports from Generals Funston and Pershing, which show the details of the present troop dispositions and the plans for placing the National Guardsmen as they arrive at the border. In addition, all of the reports from General Pershing dealing with the Carrizal battle were considered.

They showed conclusively, it is understood, that the allegations of the Mexicans that the American troop commander was the aggressor are absolutely without foundation. These reports have been published in the accounts from the border.

Secretary Lansing reported that practically all of the American refugees have succeeded in getting out of Mexico.

Meanwhile some 12,000 National Guardsmen are on their way to the border. Fully that number will go forward each day for the remainder of this week. They will fill the gaps in Funston's line and replace the regulars who already have been selected to support and co-operate with Pershing's expedition now on Mexican soil.
