DOUGLAS MAY HAS A CLOSE CALL. Douglas May, son of Dr. and Mrs. J. A. May, a member of the crew on the U. S. S. Michigan, had an experience last week which he does not care to pass through again. While the sailors were engaged in target practice one of the twelve inch guns exploded, throwing tons of steel and iron all over the deck. One of the gunners had both arms broken in several places and was otherwise bruised. Douglas happened to be on the bow of the boat at the time of the explosion. He writes to his mother that several tons of armor plate steel were thrown within a few feet of him. New style shells were being tried out, and in some unaccountable manner the shell exploded before it was properly loaded into the breach plowed their way through the heavy steel plates which protect the guns and gunners from enemy fire. The Michigan will be sent to dry-dock at Hampton roads for repairs, and Douglas may be given a leave of absence for a short time, during which time he hopes to be able to come home.

How to Protect Children Against Paralysis.

Don't buy fruit, meat or vegetables that have been exposed to flies.
Don't let them drink soda-pop out of a bottle.
Don't pick up a lost handkerchief.
Don't use a handkerchief that has been used by another.
Doil all soiled handkerchiefs when washing them.
Keep well children away from sick children, no matter what the nature of the disease, since infantile paralysis is a hard disease to diagnose in its first stages and since children might have the disease for some time before the best physicians could diagnose the case.
Keep pen holders and pencils out of mouth.
Keep hands away from mouth and nose.
Screen your house against flies; keep flies away from all food.
Keep out all mosquitos.
Wash your hands before eating.
Keep all children out of badly ventilated theatres.
Keep streets sprinkled or oiled, as the germ of infection may be carried in the dust.

Do not allow children to have animals as pets. The disease is often contracted first by the pet dog and spread to the children of the family.

Prevent the use of public drinking cups.

Take your child to a good diagnostician whenever he shows fever, intestinal trouble or the muscular infection which are symptoms of the disease.

SOLDIERS TO VOTE

Provision Being Made for Iowa Guardsmen on Border.

MAY CALL SPECIAL SESSION

Gov. Clarke Will Be Asked to Call Special Session of Legislature in October if Ruling is Not Favorable to Soldiers.

Des Moines.—If the law passed in 1862 permitting civil war soldiers to vote in the field, cannot be used to permit the members of the Iowa National guard now on the Mexican border, to vote Nov. 7, Adj. Gen. Guy E. Logan, will suggest to Governor Clarke that a special session of the Iowa legislature be called in October to enact a law granting Iowa soldiers the right to vote in the field.

The governor of Connecticut has called a special session of the Connecticut legislature to adopt a law for the benefit of the soldiers from that state who are on the border, in order that they may vote. Massachusetts already has held such a session. Other states are considering similar moves.

The adjutant general is putting his faith in the law passed by the legislature in 1862 permitting the Iowa soldiers to vote on the battlefield of the civil war.

C. A. Robbins, assistant attorney general, who is examining the law in question with a view of determining whether it is still operative, is not yet ready to make a ruling. The civil war voting law was dropped from the code and supplement after the close of the war.

The Iowa soldiers could vote by mail under the terms of the absent voters law, were it not for the provision in the law which calls for new registration every presidential election year in cities having a population of 3,500 and over.

Some of the Iowa guard organizations come from cities having less than 3,500 population, hence the members are not required to register.

These organizations come from the following cities: Corning, Glenwood, Ida Grove, Lons Tree, Manchester, North English, Oxford, Riverside, Sheldon Tipton, Villisca, West Branch, Williamsburg and Winterset.

Thirty-two of the Iowa organizations come from cities where registration is required. They are from the following points: Ames, Boone, Burlington, Cedar Falls, Centerville, Cedar Rapids, Creston, Charles City, Cherokee, Clarinda, Clinton, Council Bluffs, Davenport, Des Moines, Dubuque, Eagle Grove, Fairfield, Fort Dodge, Grinnell, Iowa City, Keokuk, Le Mars, Mason City, Muscatine, Okaloosa, Ottumwa, Red Oak, Shenandoah, Sioux City, Washington, Waterloo, Webster City.

ACCEPTS CALL FROM WISCONSIN.

Rev. Miss Lulu Hinds, who has been pastor of the United Brethren church of Manchester during the past two years, has accepted the pastorate of the church of Cascade, Wisconsin, and begins her work there October first.

Miss Hinds has given of her best energy to the work of the church in Manchester, and her influence as a high-minded Christian woman has been felt far beyond the circle of her church constituency. During the two years of her residence in Manchester Miss Hinds made many friends, all of whom regret to see her leave. We wish Miss Hinds success in her new field.

A Distinctive Reason

What is the chief reason for the superiority of Royal Baking Powder?

There are several good reasons, but there is one which distinguishes Royal from other baking powders.

This reason, which every woman should know, is that Royal Baking Powder is made from cream of tartar, which comes from grapes. This means a healthful fruit origin. It means natural food as distinguished from mineral substitutes used in other baking powders.

There is no alum nor phosphate in Royal Baking Powder.
