

MID-TOWN BREAK-DOWNS

When you have taken a party of friends out for an afternoon's trip, are the most exasperating things in the world.

If you will bring your car to us, and let us look it over, and then be sure that each new part you buy is the best part for the place, you wouldn't have anymore break-downs anywhere.

James M. Beal was born November 5, 1854, in Natick, Massachusetts and died at his home near Delhi on Saturday morning, June 23, 1917, after a lingering illness. James Beal was a son of Louis and Elizabeth Beal, both natives of the Bay state. He came with his parents to Delaware county in August, 1855, so practically his whole life has been spent in Delhi and vicinity, where he has been noted as being one of the most successful farmers of the county. He won not only the material property but the high regard and esteem of his fellow men. He is survived by several sisters: Mrs. Rosina Keith, of Delhi; Mrs. Mary E. Gleason, of Ames; Miss Hattie Beal, who resides on the old homestead, "Oak Grove" near Delhi, and Mrs. Emma Holden, of Porterville, California; a niece, Miss Sarah Clough, has been one of the family at "Oak Grove" all her life. He is also survived by several other nephews and nieces. The funeral services were held at the home on Tuesday afternoon, conducted by Rev. C. W. Skinner. Burial was in Evergreen cemetery.

On Wednesday, June 20, 1917, a small company of old time friends and neighbors assembled at the home of Mrs. Kate Galpin Perkins in Delhi to witness the marriage of her daughter, Hazel Elizabeth, to William Gerald Koppels, of Painesdale, Michigan. The home was decorated with white syringa blossoms and pink roses, the same color scheme being used throughout. Just before the ceremony, Miss Kathryn Brown, a cousin of the bride, accompanied by Mrs. Mae Howard, sang Cadman's beautiful song "At Dawning." At high noon, to the strains of the wedding march, little Miss Ethel Buntz and Master Wayne Stone stretched the pink and white ribbons, marking a pathway for the bridal pair. The words which united the young couple were spoken by the Rev. Carl W. Skinner, the pretty ring ceremony being used. The bride was attired in a gown of white taffeta and georgette crepe and carried a sheaf of pink and white roses. After congratulations a dainty four-course luncheon was served by Misses Hazel Erisman and Hattie Britt. Mr. and Mrs. Koppels will spend a couple of weeks camping near the Maquoketa. The groom expects to report at the officers training camp at Fort Snelling in the near future.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is catarrh. Catarrh being greatly influenced by constitutional conditions requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally and acts thru the Blood on the Mucous Surfaces of the System thereby destroying the foundation of the disease. Giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in the curative powers of Hall's Catarrh Cure that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials.
