

GOETHALS, WHITE, DENMAN LET OUT

President Wilson Cleans House in the Shipping Board to End Dispute.

THREE NEW MEN APPOINTED

Edward N. Hurley of Chicago Made Chairman—Bainbridge Colby of New York and Rear Admiral Capps Get Other Places.

Washington, July 25.—President Wilson has cleaned house in the shipping board. He eliminated Major General Goethals, William Denman and John B. White from the board and the emergency fleet corporation, accepting the proffered resignations of Goethals and White and requesting the resignation of Mr. Denman.

The president then appointed: Edward M. Hurley of Chicago, former member of the federal trade commission, to succeed Mr. Denman. Bainbridge Colby of New York to succeed Mr. White.

Rear Admiral Washington L. Capps, to succeed General Goethals.

Will Insist on Quick Work.

With the changes in the board will come a complete reorganization of methods. It was stated officially that the president now will insist that the work of building a merchant fleet by the United States proceed without any delay.

It is certain that every possible class of construction will be resorted to in order that the German submarine menace shall be checked. In naming Admiral Capps to succeed General Goethals the president has selected one of the best known and most expert marine constructors in the United States.

The president, after going over all of the papers, in the case, is understood to have come to the conclusion that it was impossible to get General Goethals and Mr. Denman to reconcile their differences. He also is understood to have been impressed with the fact that it would be impossible to divide the work that the retention of either or both men in the service of the government could be arranged. In consequence the president took occasion to write General Goethals and Mr. Denman that he would accept their resignations. He then wrote to Mr. Denman explaining that under the circumstances the latter could not longer be retained on the shipping board.

Trust to Their Public Spirit.

In concluding his letter to Chairman Denman, explaining his action, President Wilson said:

"I am taking the liberty of telling you this in the confidence that you will be glad to take the same disinterested and self-forgetting view that General Goethals has taken."

"When you have done as he has done, I am sure that you may count with the utmost confidence upon the ultimate verdict of the people of the country with regard to your magnanimous and unselfish view of public duty and upon winning, in the retrospect, the same admiration and confidence that I have learned to feel for you."

Denman Replies Promptly.

Chairman Denman, as soon as he heard of the action of the president, tendered his resignation from the board, to take effect immediately.

Mr. Denman would make no statement or comment other than to say "It is the president's action. He has to fight the war. I will stand behind him to the best of my ability. He has selected three cracking good men to fill the vacancies. The main thing is that the work has to go on."

CASH EXTORTED FROM SERBIA

Formal Charges Made Against Austria and Bulgaria, as Basis for After-War Claims.

Washington, July 25.—Serbia, in a formal note made public at the state department, charges Austria and Bulgaria with an illegal economic exploitation of occupied provinces, and gives notice that it "reserves the right of claiming at the time of the peace negotiations an indemnity corresponding to the damage inflicted on both the Serbian state and its subjects by these flagrant violations of public international law."

The note giving the first official glimpse behind the scenes in occupied Serbia claims that over $50,000,000 has been illegally extorted, as well as $1,200,000 in the form of forced subscriptions to Austrian war loans and the Austrian and Bulgarian Red Cross.

Serbian trade is stated to have been ruined by the abolition of the Serbian moratorium for the purpose of allowing enemy merchants to collect immediately with six per cent interest debts, estimated at $24,000,000.

Carranzista Train Robber Caught.

Nogales, Ariz., July 25.—After a pitched battle in which ten Mexicans were killed, a posse captured Gen. Fernando Espinosa of the Carranzista army, who held up and robbed a Wells-Fargo express car on the Southern Pacific 500 miles south of here Friday, and escaped with $20,000 in gold.

UNITED STATES NEEDS LEADERS.

Dr. James E. Clarke, of the Presbyterian College Board, acting not only for Presbyterians, but also representing other religious bodies, and the national organization known as the council of church boards of education, is co-operating with U. S. Commissioner of Education, Dr. P. P. Claxton, Secretary of War Baker and other government officials, in a campaign to arouse the American people to the nation's pressing need of a trained leadership.

"Perhaps the greatest mistake made by some of the nations across the sea," said Dr. Clarke, "has been the failure to make provision for replacing the trained leaders who have gone to the front, many never to return. Large numbers of teachers and undergraduates are in the trenches or lie buried on fields of battle; schools and colleges are closed or running with greatly reduced attendance, and now, after three years of war, thoughtful men are asking, 'What are we going to do for a trained leadership for the future?'"

"The United States must not make this mistake, but there is grave danger that it will be made. Against such a blunder Secretary Baker and Commissioner Claxton and other national leaders are issuing earnest words of warning. The danger is that many undergraduates will think that conditions demand a curtailment of their preparation for their life work and that parents will think that with prevailing high prices and the uncertainty of the immediate future, they would better use money for other purposes than the higher education of their boys and girls. The very opposite is true. The needs of the nation and of the world require that no sacrifice be counted too great in order that they may be thoroughly prepared for the leadership which the nation now needs and will need more than ever when the war is over."

"Commissioner Claxton has issued an appeal which should be heeded by every citizen, urging that the number of students taking higher courses should be larger than usual in the immediate future. He says: 'This appeal is made on the basis of patriotic duty' and he shows that while there will be an abundance of men for ordinary purposes, there will be a dearth of officers, engineers, and men of scientific skill in all the industries, in transportation, and in many other places where skill and daring are just as necessary for success as in the trenches.' He points out at some length the pressing need of the near future for highly trained leaders, and shows that young men and women never had before them such a great opportunity, provided only that they secure adequate training."

The Honorable Newton D. Baker, Secretary of War, said at a conference of national leaders held in Washington in May: "The nation will be needing educated men even more than ever before as a result of this war for the coming years, and the colleges must supply them." At the same time he mentioned the three things which he considered most important for the successful prosecution of the war: first, munitions; second, food; third, educated men.

General Leonard Wood in a letter to President Hibben of Princeton College recently advised that all students continue their work until such time as their services might be needed by the government, and similar advice has been given by Adjutant General W. T. Johnson.

Commissioner Claxton shows that the 350,000 students in colleges, normal, technical and vocational schools of high grade constitute only about one-half of one per cent of the population, and that the continuance of this number of young people in college cannot lower the productive capacity of the country to any appreciable degree. On the other hand, the need of trained leadership is so great that every effort should be made to increase the percentage of those who take training for such leadership.

BERLIN REPORTS RUSS IN FLIGHT

Claims Advance on 155-Mile Front With Capture of Prisoners.

KERENSKY TO KILL TRAITORS

Blood and Iron Policy is Adopted by the New Premier—Constitution of the New Provisional Government is Completed.

Berlin, July 25.—The German forces in Galicia are advancing from the River Sereth to the wooded Carpathians over a front 155 miles long, says the official statement issued by the German army headquarters staff.

Several German divisions, the statement adds, report that they have each taken 3,000 prisoners. Numerous heavy Russian guns have been captured and also much booty has been taken by the Germans. Over the entire eastern front, from the Baltic to the Black sea, bitter fighting is proceeding. The statement says great successes have been obtained by the German and allied arms.

The Germans have advanced beyond Podhajce, Hallez and the Bysertitz-Solovina river, and have crossed the Sereth south of Tarnopol, the war office reports.

The Russians have taken the offensive on both ends of the front in the regions of Jacobstadt and Drinsk, and on the Roumanian line. The announcement says that offensive operations by Russian and Roumanian troops in the Tretus and Putna valleys were defeated almost everywhere. Fresh fights have developed.

Announce New Cabinet.

Petrograd, July 25.—Russia will shoot down as traitors the mutineers in her armies and the German spies in her cities.

Premier Kerensky has completed the constitution of the new provisional government. Like the ministry of his predecessor, Prince Lvoff, the cabinet is a coalition, but it is limited to ten members. Five of the ministers belong to the socialist group, and five are members of non-socialist parties. The other offices of state will be directed not by ministers, but by unpolitical directors of departments who are not members of the cabinet. Following is the list:

Socialists—Alexander Kerensky, minister president and minister of war and marine; M. Tseretelli, minister of posts and telegraphs; M. Skobelev, minister of labor; M. Tcherloff, minister of agriculture; M. Pieschelonoff, minister of supplies.

Non-socialists—N. V. Nekrasoff, vice minister president without portfolio; M. Terestchenko, minister of foreign affairs; I. N. Efremoff, minister of justice (M. Frenoff is a member of the duma's temporary committee); Nicholas Lvoff, procurator of the holy synod; M. Gudneff, controller of state.

Have "Unlimited Power."

The directors of departments so far named are: M. Prokopoff, progressive member of the duma, department of trade and agriculture; A. A. Barshinkoff, a member of the duma, and a Moscow manufacturer, department of social tutelage. The headquarters of the provisional government has been transferred from the Marinsky palace to the winter palace.

Clothed with "unlimited powers," the new people's cabinet was prepared to invoke measures of bloodshed to stop the rout of the southeast army and to clean out the nests of German provocateurs scattered throughout the nation.

Premier Kerensky, arriving at the front, was expected to order loyal troops without mercy to shoot down such of their fellow soldiers who yielded to German propaganda and started a mutiny.

Blood and Iron Policy.

In an interview the premier said: "Relying upon the confidence of the masses and the army, the government will save Russia and Russian unity by blood and iron, if argument and reason, honor and conscience are not sufficient."

"The situation at the front is very serious and demands heroic measures. But I am convinced the organism of the state is sufficiently vigorous to be cured without a partial amputation." Premier Kerensky announced that he would return to the front when the constitution of his government had been completed.

SIXTH ANNUAL DAIRY DAY.

The advertising programs have been issued for the sixth annual Dairy Day celebration, to be held on Wednesday, August 1. The outline as usual forecasts a very interesting and profitable day for those who attend, whether their personal interest tends toward the acquisition of valuable information along the line of the community's greatest industry, or whether it be just to go and have a jolly day with friends. It goes without saying that there will be a monster crowd. That has been the record of past years, and year by year the fame of the Dairy Day has spread until it attracts many people from long distances. Delhi hospitality is proverbial, but it goes the limit on Dairy Day. Nowhere in this section of Iowa is there another such day held. Dairy Day was originated by the Silver Spring Creamery company, one of the most prosperous and best known institutions of the kind in Iowa. With the cooperation of the community it has become an event to be looked forward to. The program in detail is as follows:

Among the entertainment features of the day will be a merry-go-round, a bovery dance rain or shine, with Carpenter's orchestra, and a base ball game at 3:30 between Ryan and Worthington. In addition there will be the multiplicity of refreshment booths and exhibits which have always added to the gaiety. Ample provision has been made to feed the multitude. Those who desire are invited to bring baskets and have a picnic dinner under the trees in the park. Hot coffee and cold buttermilk will be served free by the creamery company. The hotel and restaurants will also make extra provision for the day, and the Ladies' Aid of the M. E. church will serve one of their famous dinners in the basement of the church.

D. J. Schmittler is president and T. M. Barnes secretary of the association, and they will be glad to hand out any information connected with the program.

Mrs. R. W. Fishel of Manchester, was with friends here over the Sabbath.

Mrs. W. W. Franks of Guttenburg, is a guest at the home of her daughter, Mrs. L. J. Krumpel.

Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Walters and two little daughters of Boise, Idaho, visited their parental home north of town during the week. Mr. Walters was born and grew to young manhood in this vicinity and graduated from the Upper Iowa University where he studied law, and about twenty years ago went west to practice his profession. He has been highly successful and is now attorney general of Idaho. Just prior to his visit here, he, in company with the governor of Idaho had been to Washington, D. C., to attend the christening of the new battleship "Idaho." Friends at the old home were pleased to see him again and learn of the prominence to which he has attained in his chosen profession. He gave an address at the close of the regular Chautauqua program Wednesday evening which was well received by the large audience present.

Two lads from Earlville were the principals in a mix-up with a Ford in this vicinity late Wednesday afternoon. While going at a good rate of speed, when turning the corner near the John McDowell farm, the car left the road and ran into the bank, then turned over and struck the opposite bank. The car was damaged somewhat, as was also one of the boys, though fortunately, not seriously. Both boys had the fright of their lives.

On Wednesday, July 18th, death came to Henry Hartke, Sr., releasing him from a long period of ill health, due to creeping paralysis. For the last few weeks of his life he was entirely helpless and he suffered intensely. Mr. Hartke was born in Lonnerbecke, Hanover, Germany, March 23, 1842, and came to America as a young man. His aged wife survives him, also an adopted daughter, Mrs. William Krans. The funeral services were conducted from the Zion church Friday afternoon, Rev. A. C. Panzlau officiating. Interment was made at Zion cemetery.
