

DR. J. J. LINDSAY ANSWERS SUMMONS

RELEASE COMES TO WELL KNOWN PHYSICIAN AFTER ILLNESS OF THREE YEARS.

FUNERAL THURSDAY AFTERNOON

Burial to be made in Zion Cemetery Near Coleburg, Where Parents Sleep.

Dr. John J. Lindsay, for many years a well known physician in this city, passed away Monday evening, following an illness of about three years. Funeral services will be held from the home of his sister, Mrs. George Klaus on East Fayette street Thursday afternoon, at 1:30 o'clock. The services will be conducted by Rev. S. R. Beatty, pastor of the Methodist church, and the Masonic order, of which he was an honored member. Interment will be made in Zion cemetery near Coleburg.

John J. Lindsay was born on the old homestead in Elk township, near Coleburg, July 24th, 1858. He was a son of John and Mary Lindsay. He received his early education in the public schools of the county, and later entered Lenox College. He took a business course in Bayless Business college at Dubuque, and took two years of work at the State University at Iowa City, and later entered Bellevue Medical Hospital to prepare himself for the profession of a physician. He graduated from the medical school in 1883, and immediately started in the practice of medicine, locating first at Strawberry Point and later in Greeley. In 1889 Dr. Lindsay formed a partnership with Dr. N. S. Craig and for many years practiced his profession with his partner in Manchester. Some years ago Dr. Lindsay purchased his partner's interest and continued in his work until he suffered a complete nervous breakdown some three years ago.

Dr. Lindsay was united in marriage with Miss Ella Cole of Greeley in 1887, and to them was born one daughter, Miss Florence Lindsay. He is survived by the wife and daughter, and two brothers—Thomas Lindsay of Spokane, Washington; Dr. E. S. Lindsay of Dubuque; four sisters, Mrs. George Dittmer and Mrs. Alex Prentice of Earlville; Mrs. George Klaus, and Miss Margaret Lindsay of this city. One brother, Edw. Lindsay, died in the west two years ago.

During the years that Dr. Lindsay practiced medicine in Manchester he formed a wide acquaintance with the people of this part of the county. He was an able physician and ministered to the sick with singular devotion and never spared himself where he could bring relief. Scores and scores of families in Manchester and vicinity recall Dr. Lindsay's noble work in years past. He always had a friendly word with his patients, and no doubt many times his sympathetic manner and words of cheer to the sick did as much as medicine to bring healing. Notwithstanding the heavy demands that his practice made upon his strength the doctor took a lively interest in public affairs of Manchester. He served as a member of the school board for several terms, and it was during his term of office as president of the board that the Central School building was enlarged and improved and the high school erected, and the grounds adjacent to these buildings beautified. Dr. Lindsay took keen delight in the progress that was being made in school affairs here.

Dr. Lindsay's death comes as a gracious release from hopeless suffering and those who are called upon to mourn his passing can find consolation in the thought that he spent the years of his active life in kindly ministrations for those who suffered, and his spirit has at last entered that land where suffering is unknown.

Sincere sympathy is felt for those who were attached to Dr. Lindsay by family ties, and who mourn his passing.

HUTSON SALE OCT. 16TH.

M. D. Hutson, the melon man, advertises his public sale in this week's issue of the Democrat to take place on Thursday, October 16th. Mr. Hutson has sold his farm and has purchased a home on Liberty street in Manchester. Mr. Hutson and his good wife have farmed for a great many years and have decided to take life a little easier. He will sell all of his stock, farm machinery, hay and grain. His sale begins at 10 o'clock, and in as much as he is located on one of the finest highways in Delaware county, no doubt a large crowd will be there.

SAND SPRING MAN IN JUSTICE COURT.

James Gearhart of Sand Spring, was hauled before Justice J. J. Pentony Tuesday afternoon to answer to a charge of attempting to kill and beat Mrs. Anna Schaefer, also of Sand Spring. It appears that the trouble is the outgrowth of old neighborhood feuds, and after Mr. Gearhart appeared here the Justice placed him under a peace bond, to appear before the district court at some future date.

BURGEN-STAMP.

Married, at the Methodist parsonage on Wednesday, Oct. 1, 1919, Miss Ethel F. Burgen, and Mr. Harry M. Stamp, both of Strawberry Point, Iowa. S. R. Beatty officiated. Mr. and Mrs. Stamp will make their home on a farm near Strawberry Point.

E. W. WILLIAMS ELECTED COMMERCIAL CLUB SECRETARY.

At the regular meeting of the Manchester Commercial club Monday evening, E. W. Williams was elected secretary of the club for the coming year. C. G. Yoran, who has been the efficient secretary, tendered his resignation some weeks ago, and at a recent meeting of the executive committee his resignation was accepted. A committee was at that time appointed to cast about for a new secretary, and this committee recommended Mr. Williams for the place. As soon as Mr. Williams can be relieved from his duties in the American Railway Express office he will take up the duties of his new office. Mr. Williams will devote his entire time to the duties of the Commercial Club and the Delaware County Fair society. A movement is now on foot for the leasing of the Armory, where the Commercial club would have its headquarters and offices. If this arrangement materializes the Commercial club would have a suitable place for meetings of all kinds, and it would afford a place for the American Legion to hold its meetings.

Mr. Williams has been secretary of the Delaware County Fair Society for a number of years, and it is largely due to his untiring efforts that the fair has made money each year for at least three years. The Commercial club is fortunate in securing the services of Mr. Williams, for secretary. He is a hard worker and has the interests of Manchester at heart, and will give to the club and the fair society the best service possible.

MANCHESTER CONCERT ORCHESTRA.

Manchester has at last an orchestra of which towns much larger might boast. Superintendent W. A. O'Neil has labored faithfully for nearly a year with a company of young people, and now he has an orchestra which is able to do concert work with much credit to itself and its director. The young people who are in the orchestra have applied themselves diligently and all play their parts well. The audience, which completely filled the auditorium of the Presbyterian church at the teachers meeting last Thursday night was astonished at the manner in which the orchestra handled the following selections:

- March—"Stars and Stripes Forever"— Sousa.
- Selection—"Barcarolle" from the "Tales of Hoffman".
- Selection—"Humoresque"—Dvorak.
- "Cocle Waltz"—Frank W. McKee.
- "Largo"—Handel.
- March—"Liberty Bell"—Sousa.
- The following is the personnel of the Manchester Concert Orchestra: Violins—Dorothy Montgomery, Edgar Van Barriger, Theodocia Doolittle, Harry Kelly, Mrs. Geo. Siddell, Doris Davis Elizabeth Baumgartner. Cello—Eleanor Montgomery. Bass—Earl Le Clerc.
- Flutes—Ruth Montgomery, William Durey, Loraine Bradley.
- Clarinets—Ruby Montgomery, Geo. Roberts, Lyle Reis.
- Cornets—Ronald Prida, John Montgomery.
- Saxophones—Roberta Davis, Mariel Fletcher, Vera Phillip.
- Ballad Horns—Ray Thompson, Emogene Davis.
- Drums and Bells—Vernon Orcutt and Katherine Orcutt.
- Accompanist—Mrs. Ralph Milroy.
- Conductor—W. A. O'Neil.

KING ALBERT AND HIS QUEEN VISIT IOWA.

Davenport, Oct. 8.—(Special.) When King Albert and Queen Elizabeth of Belgium entered Iowa at Davenport late yesterday afternoon, they were met by the state officers of the Greater Iowa Association and presented with a brochure of thirty-two pages, setting forth Iowa's pre-eminence in many of the arts of peace. The booklet told of Iowa's holding first place in America as a breeder of Belgian horses and that she holds the world's championship in all classes of Belgian horses. The royal visitors' attention was called to the fact that Herbert Hoover, first administrator of the Belgian Relief Fund, was a native of Iowa, Iowa's record in the Liberty Loan campaigns was not forgotten. Iowa's products—both of farm and factory—were described and the hope expressed that in the years to come, closer commercial relations may be established between Belgium and Iowa.

RHODES-HOLBERT.

Miss Gladys M. Rhodes of Portland, Oregon, and Mr. Louis Holbert, son of Mrs. Alma D. Holbert of this city, were united in marriage at the home of the bride's parents, on Sunday, October 5th, 1919. The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Rhodes, and is a graduate of West Lake School for Girls at Los Angeles, California. The bride's father is the manager of several large fruit canning and packing institutions in California. The groom is a son of Mrs. Alma D. Holbert, formerly of Greeley, and is well known in the county. Mr. and Mrs. Holbert are expected in Manchester the latter part of the week for a visit with their relatives. Their Manchester friends extend to them the heartiest good wishes for a long and happy married life.

CONTRACT IS LET.

The Board of Supervisors let the contract for grading and draining the Hawkeye Highway from Manchester to Dyersville to the Russell Condon Company of Omaha, Neb., and it is hoped that work will be commenced possibly the last of this week. The total cost of the work will be about $27,000.

TEACHERS HOLD SUCCESSFUL INSTITUTE

OVER TWO HUNDRED TEACHERS ATTEND ANNUAL MEETING IN MANCHESTER LAST WEEK.

ABLE ADDRESSES WERE GIVEN.

Manchester Teachers Entertain Visiting Teachers at Social Gathering Thursday Evening.

The Inspirational Institute for Delaware county teachers convened at the Manchester high school building last Thursday morning. The enrollment surpassed all previous records. Better than two hundred teachers were in regular attendance at all the sessions. Many visitors also took advantage of the opportunity to hear some fine addresses along educational lines. While it would be impractical to go into detail, for the benefit of any reader who may feel interested in the work of our teachers, we shall give a very brief outline of the work that was done. The program opened with a community sing, led by Miss Hilda Muddick, Mrs. Charlotte Davis at the piano. The response was hearty and it started things off nicely. The address by Dr. A. E. Winship of Boston, Mass., on the subject of "Danger Signals" came fully up to expectations. Dr. Winship stands recognized as one of the highest authorities in the field of education and his extensive travels and wide experience on the lecture platform make him an effective force in the Institute work. His address was followed by brief remarks from Prof. Chas. F. Pye, Secretary of the Iowa State Teachers Association. Mr. Pye briefly recapitulated the work of the association during the past year and solicited the further cooperation of Delaware county teachers. The response was very satisfactory and it speaks well for the professional spirit of Delaware county teachers.

In the afternoon the Manchester high school Girls' Glee Club entertained the teachers with several very beautiful selections which were enthusiastically received by the audience. Dr. Winship gave the principal address on the subject, "Democracy and the Public School." He pointed out very clearly that the public school is the corner stone of democracy and through it we must solve the gigantic problems that are facing the nation now and will continue to face us for years to come. Following this splendid address the teachers divided into sections. Miss Gannon, Home Demonstration Agent of Delaware county, gave a very helpful talk to the rural teachers on "Community Activities." Supt. Fauber of Greeley took charge of the grade teachers section and Supt. Hilliard of the high school teachers. Both report enthusiastic and profitable meetings. Following these meetings Capt. Waterman of Iowa City, representing the Child Welfare Work, addressed the session and gave a helpful and enlightening talk on the needs of our schools along these lines.

In the evening the Manchester Concert orchestra gave a forty-five minute concert which followed by a recital of James Whitcomb Riley's poems by Co. Supt. David Riley Earl. It was the unanimous opinion of all present that they had never heard such a splendid interpretation of the great Hoosier poet's works. Mr. Earl is an artist in his work and all went away with a much deeper appreciation of James Whitcomb Riley. After the entertainment the teachers went to the parlors of the Congregational church where the hospitality of Manchester teachers, a fine program, and dainty refreshments combined to put the finishing touches to a most enjoyable and profitable day.

Friday morning the children of the third and fourth grades of the Central School entertained the teachers with two songs which reflected great credit on them and their teachers. The address by Prof. G. W. Sampson on "The Measure of a Teacher" was decidedly helpful and inspiring. It gave all much to think about and caused many good resolutions to be made. Following the address Miss Theodocia Doolittle of the Delhi Consolidated School delighted her fellow teachers with two charming violin solos, very artistically played. Dr. J. F. Hinkhouse, president of Lenox college, then gave a brief but clearly outlined address on "The Moral Responsibility of the Teacher." He had an attentive and sympathetic audience who fully appreciated the words of counsel and encouragement that he offered. Co. Supt. H. C. Moeller of Black Hawk county next presented the Reading Circle Work and spoke briefly on professional requirements of Black Hawk county teachers.

The afternoon session opened with a pleasant surprise in the nature of several beautifully rendered selections by a girls' quartette from the Greeley high school. Their voices were well balanced and their singing far above the average. They are a credit to their school and teacher. Prof. Sampson followed with another fine address on the subject, "A New Day in Education." It was a look into the future and in the nature of an admonition to the teachers to keep abreast of the times and to give their very best efforts to promote the interest of their pupils and the schools. The teachers then divided into two sections. Miss Anna Maud Earhart addressed the grade and high school teachers on the subject of "The English Teacher and the Community." It was a helpful talk

JAY LILLIBRIDGE.

Jay LillibrIDGE died at his home at Columbia, South Dakota, September 29th, 1919, after an illness of about two weeks. Mr. LillibrIDGE had not been in the best of health for some time, but his condition was not considered serious until about two weeks before his death, when complications developed which soon took his strength. Funeral services were held in the Congregational church at Columbia, South Dakota, Thursday, Oct. 2nd, and were conducted under the auspices of the Masonic lodge, of which he was an honored member. He was also a member of the M. W. A. lodge, and affiliated with the Congregational church.

Mr. LillibrIDGE was born on the old homestead near Bailey's Ford, in this county, July 24th, 1871, and spent all of his early life in this county. He was united in marriage with Miss Cora Given of this city in November, 1898. He is survived by the wife, one daughter, Miss Doris; the aged mother, Mrs. Addie LillibrIDGE, who makes her home with a son, Bradley LillibrIDGE, of Mitchell, South Dakota; another brother, Clair LillibrIDGE of this city, and one sister, Mrs. George E. Packer of Annandale, Minnesota. All of the brothers and sister, and Mrs. LillibrIDGE mother and brother, Mrs. T. T. Given, and Barette Given of this city, were in attendance at the funeral.

Mr. LillibrIDGE's death brings peculiar sadness to the family. He was an industrious man, just in the best of years, and had only a short time ago completed a fine country home on his farm of 640 acres. He was a kind and devoted husband and father and in his passing his family suffers an irreparable loss.

The sympathy of many friends is extended to the stricken family.

D. B. TOWNER, HYMN COMPOSER, IS DEAD.

Dr. Daniel B. Towner, one of America's best known revival hymn composers and for twenty years director of music at the Moody Bible Institute, died at Longwood, Mo., suddenly yesterday. He was engaged in a series of evangelistic meetings there. He composed more than 3,000 hymns since he started his career as music teacher and church director in Blightman, N. Y., in 1873. In 1884 he succeeded Ira D. Sankey as soloist and musical director for Dwight L. Moody.

ANES ENROLLMENT LARGE.

The total enrollment at Iowa State College has reached 3,700, President R. A. Pearson announced and exceeds by 1,000 the highest enrollment of any previous year in the school's history. New students number 1,800. Two hundred ex-service men has registered about 200 of this number under federal aid provisions. Attendance at Iowa State, said President Pearson, has doubled in the last seven years.

Altho the attendance is very large all students are well taken care of, with many fine suggestions and a display of concrete and helpful material. During this hour the rural teachers were in conference with Co. Supt. Moeller. Among other things he explained the program of the State Department in connection with standardization of rural schools. Following his talk there was a half-hour of general discussion during which the county superintendent called on Representative S. W. Klaus of Earlville to address the teachers. On the preceding day one of the speakers had pointed out to the teachers the remarkable service that Representative Klaus has rendered his state with his staunch support of all progressive school legislation, and when he addressed the gathering with an emphatic declaration of his convictions on better schools and higher ideals in the field of education he concluded his remarks among a thunder of applause.

The primary purpose of the Teachers' Institute is to give inspiration. We feel assured that the teachers in attendance were given a larger vision of their work with higher ideals and a firm resolve to prove themselves worthy of the high trust which society has placed upon them.

CLOCKS BACK OCTOBER 26.

The reversion to sun time will be ordered for the last time Sunday, October 26, according to Waterloo railroad officials.

The law governing the changing of the clocks, approved by the President Wilson, on March 19, 1918, orders clocks set ahead one hour at 2 a. m. on the last Sunday of March and set back one hour at 2 a. m. on the last Sunday in October. The law was recently repealed so it will not be necessary to do any more setting back or ahead.

In some manner the public gained the impression that the change was to become effective October 1, and many inquiries have been received.

No definite instructions have been received by Waterloo railroads. It is regarded as certain that the railroads will receive at least a week's notice from the railroad administration. Change of time will involve an immense amount of work of a clerical nature and in the preparation of time tables.

The public will be given ample notification of the change in time tables so that little confusion will result.

- John J. Chase vs. Unknown Claimants et al., Petition in equity.
- E. B. Sawyer vs. James Lally and Mrs. James Lally, Petition in equity.
- E. E. Sawyer vs. Cad Jones and Sarah Jones, Petition in equity.

TERRIFIC STORM LAST FRIDAY MORNING

MUCH DAMAGE TO FRUIT TREES, TELEPHONE AND TELEGRAPH LINES.

FLOOD DAMAGES FISH HATCHERY

Hall Covered Ground Several Inches South of Manchester, Many Washouts Caused by Rain.

One of the severest electric storms, accompanied by hail which literally covered the ground, visited this section of Iowa early last Friday morning, doing an immense amount of damage to fruit trees, orchards and trees and telephone lines. The storm struck this part of the state at about two o'clock in the morning, and for more than an hour the heavens were a mass of fire, with a veritable down-pour of water and hail. A strip about a mile wide, three miles south of Manchester was hit the hardest. The hail there covered the ground on the level to a depth of several inches, and in places where flood water carried it together it was piled up four and five feet high. Dr. Morgan, who was called to a farm three miles south of Manchester Friday forenoon had to use a shovel to work his way through the road, and when he came home he brought with him sufficient evidence in the form of ice to convince us of the truth of his statement. Later in the afternoon Rev. W. A. Montgomery and his family took a drive several miles south and they returned home with a quantity of hail nearly tacked away in their luggage carrier on the side of their car. Fruit trees were damaged severely. The leaves were hammered off the trees, and the bark bruised to such an extent that many trees will no doubt die.

Farmers who had their horses and cattle in the pasture that night came in for a goodly amount of damage. Geo. S. Banta, who had several horses in the pasture, found that all of the animals had gone through barbed wire fences and one horse was so badly cut that it required several stitches to close up the wound. In some places window lights were broken and trees, large and small, were uprooted by the wind, which was next to a cyclone.

During the past few days an immense amount of water has fallen, making roads almost impassable for travel by automobile. In several places more or less damage was also done to roads and bridges, and will require some time to repair all of the damage.

Fish Hatchery is Flooded.

A heavy storm struck this section Saturday afternoon and for an hour or more an immense amount of water fell. The storm seems to have struck its hardest blow in this part of Iowa just east of Manchester and at Dubuque. At the Fish Hatchery several thousand dollars worth of damage was done to the government property. The creek coming into the hatchery grounds from the east went out of its banks and overflowed the lower half of the grounds, filling the ponds in which were the big stock fish, with mud and dirty water. Naturally when the ponds were flooded the big fish went down stream, and very few will ever be captured, except as fishermen are lucky in catching them with hook and line. Mr. Hare, the superintendent, stated on Monday that it was impossible to determine just what the exact loss will figure up to, but the loss of the big fish means more to the industry than people generally realize.

Dubuque is Hit Again.

The city of Dubuque came in for a share of genuine hard luck, as we call it, last week. The merchants were back of a big celebration and spent money freely in advertising the event and bringing to the city a large line of free attractions. The celebration was on all last week, and every day of the week more or less unfavorable weather conditions prevailed, and as far as the country roads were concerned it was impossible to venture out, consequently the attendance at the celebration was greatly cut down. This was all bad enough, but the cap sheave was put on when Saturday afternoon at about four o'clock a veritable cloudburst visited the city and literally flooded the lower part and played havoc with streets in the hill section. According to reports the estimated damage is conservatively placed at $25,000. Last July the city was visited by a flood which did a large amount of damage, but the storm of last Saturday is said to have left greater wreckage in its wake. Fortunately this time there were no lives lost, like in the July 9th flood.

MISS MCGEE TO WED CEDAR FALLS MAN.

Miss Mildred McGee of this city, and Mr. Arthur F. Brown of Cedar Falls will be united in marriage at St. Mary's church in this city Thursday morning, October 9th. Rev. Father T. Rooney will perform the ceremony, in the presence of immediate relatives and friends. Miss McGee is a daughter of Mrs. L. A. McGee, and is a charming young woman. Mr. Brown is a well known young man from Cedar Falls, and is to be congratulated upon winning for a bride a young woman of so much charm.

TURNER-KELLEY.
