

EDWARD L. WALKER ANSWERS SUMMONS

RELEASE COMES EARLY THIS MORNING AFTER MANY WEEKS OF INTENSE SUFFERING.

SKILLED SHOE MAKER BY TRADE.

Funeral Arrangements Pending the Arrival of Son and Daughter from Iola, Kansas.

Edward L. Walker, for more than six years, employed by P. F. Madden as shoe repair man, died at his home on Franklin street early this (Wednesday) morning, following an illness of many years. Mr. Walker was first taken ill on July 3rd, 1919, but soon recovered sufficiently from that illness to resume his work in the shoe repair shop. This improvement in his condition was temporary, his strength gradually falling him, until some time in November, when he was obliged to give up his work. During much of the last few months he suffered intensely. The best of medical skill and the ministrations of a devoted wife could at best only ease this suffering.

Mr. Walker was born in Illinois, on October 1st, 1863, and spent practically all of his life in that state. Some years ago he and his family moved to Oelwein, where he resided for a number of years. About six years ago he came to Manchester to enter the employ of P. F. Madden, and was one of the most diligent and conscientious workmen in the city.

He was united in marriage with Mrs. An Merta of this city on November 15, 1915. He leaves to mourn for him his wife, and step-daughter, Miss A. of this city; and an only son, Vern Walker, and a daughter, Mrs. Mrs. Smith, of Iola, Kansas, and one other, J. H. Walker, of Chicago. Mr. Walker was a member of the Independent Order of Odd Fellows, and a honored and respected by his fellow lodge men and women. He was a man of companionable nature, and as devoted to his home and the members of his family. By trade he was a cobbler and learned the art of shoe making as a boy, and was a thorough-going workman.

Funeral arrangements are pending the arrival of the son and daughter, who reside in Iola, Kansas. His death comes with crushing force to the members of his family, and in the great sorrow, they have the profound sympathy of many friends.

NEWMAN FAMILY TO ARIZONA.

George A. Newman and his family will leave Manchester March 1st, to locate on a farm six miles from Phoenix, Arizona, where they will engage in the growing of staple cotton. Mr. Newman has invested in some irrigated cotton land, and figures on making his home in the southwest in the future. Friends of the family will regret very much to learn that this estimable family has decided to leave Manchester. Mr. Newman has been closely connected with the business interests of Manchester for many years, and is at the present time cashier of the Delaware County State Bank. Both Mr. and Mrs. Newman have been active in the social life of Manchester, and will be greatly missed in the various activities. They have sold their new dwelling house to Mrs. S. Collier, who takes possession of the same on March 1st. The Democrat, in common with sets of friends of the family, regrets the removal of Mr. Newman and his family, but wish them a full measure of success and happiness in their new home and in their new venture.

HOG SALE AT FAIR GROUND FEB. 2.

On another page our readers will find the large advertisement of Howard L. Cook, announcing his sale of pure bred Duroc Jersey hogs, the sale to be held at the fair grounds in Manchester on Tuesday, February 2nd. Mr. Cook will offer 38 head of pure bred hogs, the choicest in his lot. Farmers will be able to purchase choice stock at public sale prices. We would suggest that our farmer readers note carefully what Mr. Cook says in his advertisement this week.

COMMUNITY DANCE FEB. 6TH.

A big dance will be held in the auditorium of the Commercial club rooms in the new Armory building on Friday evening, February 6th. Maree Skeel's Society orchestra will furnish the music. This orchestra furnished the music for the dance held last Friday night, and made a most favorable impression. Tickets to dance, $1.00 plus war tax, and all spectators' tickets will be 25c plus war tax.

WAUGH FAMILY ENJOYING WINTER IN FLORIDA.

Miss Nannie Waugh and her brother and his family are spending the winter months in St. Petersburg, Fla., and according to a letter received at this office Tuesday, they are enjoying themselves immensely.

We take the liberty of quoting the following from Miss Waugh's letter, and we believe that the following paragraphs will be of interest to many of her friends in this city:

"St. Petersburg, is full of tourists and it would seem that every state in the Union were represented. You will appreciate an item that appeared in the St. Petersburg paper one evening during the holidays, to the effect that 363 bags of mail had arrived that day. Needless to say that our mail has been somewhat delayed.

"The weather thus far has seemed to us ideal and while writing, I am sitting with the door open and without fire.

"We consider ourselves fortunate in getting a six-room bungalow, with half a dozen orange and grape fruit trees, and a pear-lemon tree thrown in. These, together with the roses and hibiscus, pansies and dobeys blossoms make the place quite desirable. Am sending you a likeness of the place. So you see we shall be 'at home' to our friends whenever they arrive in the city.

"From the time the school is dismissed Eleanor and Alice live out of doors. The schoolers seem in good condition. A new high school building has just been completed at a cost of $80,000. Brother Milton went to New York last week, expecting to return by way of Chicago, and while there will ship the car, such shipment being restricted when we left in December. He will ship the car as far as Jacksonville, and drive the remaining distance coming by way of the east coast."

AUCTION SALE OF FARM MACHINERY

D. F. Young who has decided to discontinue the farm implement business in Manchester, advertises a public sale of farm machinery in this week's issue of the Democrat. The sale to take place at his implement store on Franklin street on Saturday, January 31st, commencing at 1:00 o'clock sharp. Mr. Young will offer for sale a large lot of high grade machinery, repair parts, and blower twine. These will all be sold to the highest bidder for cash. Farmers, here is your chance to get farm machinery at your own figures.

STRAUB-PORTER SALE.

Straub & Porter, who have been operating the farm known as the F. S. Porter farm four and a half miles northwest of Manchester, advertise a closing out sale in this week's issue of the Democrat. They have decided to quit farming and will sell horses, cattle, hogs and poultry, hay and grain, and farm machinery. Their sale will be held on Thursday, February 5. Note carefully what they say in their large advertisement this week.

SUCCESSFUL HOG SALE

Edward Cook of Coffins Grove held a mighty successful Pure Bred Chester White hog sale on the fair grounds on Monday. Mr. Cook offered for sale 34 head of his choice hogs. The sale brought Mr. Cook $2500, and the average price paid for the animals was $73.50. The sale was held in the Floral hall, which was heated and seats placed at each side for the accommodation of the large crowd which attended the sale. Stock men are realizing more and more that the Delaware County Fair grounds are admirably equipped for a sale of this character.

MANCHESTER GIRL IS VICTIM OF "FLU"

MRS. VERNE NICHOLSON DIES IN CHICAGO ON MONDAY MORNING.

ILL ONLY ABOUT TWELVE HOURS.

Deceased Was Only Daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hempstead, and was well Known Here.

The awfulness of the ravages of influenza, raging in Chicago at this time, has been brought home to the A. T. Hempstead family, when word was received here on Monday that their only daughter, Mrs. Verne Nicholson, had died in a hospital in Chicago, at an early hour on Monday morning.

The family here received word from Mrs. Nicholson on Friday stating that she was in good health. Mrs. Nicholson was stricken with influenza on Sunday morning. This rapidly developed into pneumonia, which caused her death.

The remains were brought to Manchester, Tuesday evening, and private services will be held at the home of the deceased's brother, Harvey Hempstead, on Prospective street, on Thursday, and the remains will be placed in the receiving vault in Oakland cemetery, to be interred later in the spring.

Zella Hempstead was born on December 3rd, 1896, on the old homestead two and a half miles west of Manchester, where she spent her girlhood days and grew to womanhood. She was united in marriage with Verne Nicholson on December 21st, 1917, making their home in Chicago until December, 1918, when they came to Manchester and moved on the old homestead and assisted with the work on the farm. On January 1st, 1920, they again moved to Chicago, where this deadly disease claimed her with scarcely a few hours notice.

Mrs. Nicholson is survived by her husband, her parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. T. Hempstead, and three brothers, Harvey E. Hempstead of this city, and Melvin living on a farm near Masonville; and Elmer, on the home farm west of Manchester.

Mrs. Nicholson was a likable young woman. She was devoted to her husband and parents, and was beloved by all of the young people of the neighborhood in which practically all of her life was spent.

The announcement of the death of this young woman came with crushing force to the family, and in this great sorrow they have the profound sympathy of a large circle of friends.

SHORT-HORN BREEDERS HOLD MEETING.

At a meeting of the County Short Horn breeders' association last Saturday, at which County Agent R. T. Lee of Buchanan county was present, many details of the plan for the local club were worked out.

As now planned, the club will be made up of twenty-five boys and girls between the ages of twelve and eighteen years. Each will be provided with a pure bred heifer calf about one year old, the member giving his note with a parent or guardian as surety for the purchase price. All animals will be subjected to the tuberculin test and insured for the period of the club work which will close in the fall of this year. Prizes will be offered based upon the gains made by the calves and upon their finish and showing at time exhibited at the Delaware County fair. Records will be kept by the club members and the feeding and management will be supervised by the representatives of the local association in connection with the extension department of the state college.

The committee is composed of W. E. Robinson, M. C. Fitzpatrick, Geo. S. Banta and the county agent is now desirous of locating the calves to be used. Good, straight, reasonably well developed calves right around one year old are wanted and any breeders in position to furnish such should get in touch at once with any one of the above-named men. These men will also be glad to hear from the boys and girls who would like to undertake the calf club work that arrangements may be made with them at once.

MEETING OF DELAWARE COUNTY AGRICULTURAL SOCIETY

F. L. Durey, president of the Delaware County Agricultural Society, has issued a call for a meeting of all the stock holders of the society, to be held in the auditorium of the Commercial club rooms in the new Armory building on Friday afternoon, February 6th, at 3:00 o'clock. Matters of importance will come up for consideration, and every stockholder is urged to be present. Remember the time and the place, and be present promptly.

COMMERCIAL CLUB MEETING

The next regular meeting of the Manchester Commercial Club will be held at Master's restaurant on next Monday evening, February 2nd, at 6:30. An item of business in which every business man of Manchester is, or should be vitally interested in, will come up for consideration, and every member of the club should put forth an especial effort to be present.

Work on the new store which A. C. Philipp is erecting is progressing nicely and Mr. Philipp expects to move his stock of merchandise from the old store building by February 15th.

ELECTRIC SERVICE INTERRUPTED BY UNAVOIDABLE ACCIDENT.

Perhaps no one felt a keener disappointment in the failure of the local electric light plant to deliver current over one night last week than those in charge of the plant. Where machinery is in continuous operation, 24 hours in every day, repair work is not so easily accomplished. Sensitive as they have a right to be, over false reports that have been sent out charging the break down to neglect, the company has given The Democrat the facts which show that the management was in no way to blame and that it was the result of an accident, which well might have happened to any concern.

In the local steam plant there are two engines, both of which ordinarily are in use. When it is necessary to overhaul or make repairs on one, the other engine and the water power carry the entire load. For about ten days prior to the accident one of the engines had been shut down and was being overhauled by Mr. Veley, traveling mechanic for the Iowa Electric Company. New valves were being placed in the Corliss engine and these had been made and were ready for shipment at six p. m. the day when the accident happened to the other engine.

The castings came up from Cedar Rapids the next morning, but the passenger train on the Illinois Central happened to break down that morning and the train did not reach Manchester until about noon. The Corliss engine was going shortly after the arrival of the train. The report that the water power can not be used is entirely erroneous. It is in fact in excellent working condition and was used on the day of the accident as long as there was any water in the pond. The foregoing statement of the facts will relieve the Electric Company from any charge of neglect, except among those whose proclivity to criticism is more pronounced than their tendency to fairness.

During the past year the load of the local plant has increased about fifty per cent and in order to take care of the increased demand for service the company several months ago started the construction of a high tension line from Monticello to connect with Manchester. When this line is completed the current can be switched on to the local lines at any time and it will take care of the service under the most adverse local operating conditions. The line will be completed not later than May 15th.

MEREDITH TO BE NEW SECRETARY OF AGRICULTURE.

The following item will be read with interest by all of our readers: Washington, Jan. 27.—Edwin T. Meredith of Iowa, editor of "Successful Farming," will be named secretary of agriculture to succeed Secretary Houston, who is to become secretary of the treasury in the place of Carter Glass.

Mr. Meredith, who is at Miami, Fla., telegraphed the White house today accepting the office. He is 54 years old and his home is in Des Moines. Before starting "Successful Farming," he was the publisher of the Farmers' Tribune. He was a candidate for the United States senate in 1914 and for governor of Iowa in 1916.

President Wilson was expected to send the nominations of both Mr. Houston and Mr. Meredith to the senate today.

Miami, Fla., Jan. 27.—Edwin T. Meredith, who is to be the new secretary of agriculture, said today that he hoped to work out some solution of the problem of getting crops to market "without too much loss motion." In his opinion this is the "basis in fact of all permanent prosperity."

Mr. Meredith was a member of the labor mission sent abroad during the war, of the excess profits board of the treasury department, and of the public group at the industrial conference last October. He has been a director of the federal reserve bank at Chicago since its organization and is president of the Associated Advertising Clubs of the World.

LAUNDRY IS SOLD.

L. Matthews, Jr., who has been conducting the Main street laundry for many years, sold the business to Robt. Hussman and his son, Bernard, who took possession of the same on Friday last week. Mr. Matthews has built up a flourishing business in Manchester, but has decided to locate elsewhere in Iowa to engage in the dry cleaning business exclusively. Friends of Mr. Matthews will regret to learn that he has decided to locate elsewhere, but will wish him success wherever he may decide to locate. Mr. Hussman and his son have come into possession of a profitable business and both are men of integrity and purpose and substantial means and will continue to conduct the business along the same strict business lines as under Mr. Matthews' management. The Democrat wishes Mr. Hussman and his son success in their venture.

Patrick Malone of Minnesota who was here visiting his uncle Mr. Ed Malone and family returned home last Wednesday.

Miss Dorothy Stephens, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harlo Stephens, submitted to an operation for appendicitis last Thursday. We are pleased to learn that she is making a nice recovery from the ordeal.

The Woman's Foreign Missionary Society of the U. B. Church will meet with Mrs. Swanke next Tuesday February 3rd, at 2:00 o'clock. As this is the Thank Offering Service, all those having Thank Offering Boxes please bring them to this service. After the devotional exercises a social hour will be observed.

COL. J. H. PETERS REACHES 91ST YEAR

WILL CELEBRATE THE NOTABLE EVENT ON MONDAY, FEB. SECOND.

BAR GIVES DINNER IN HIS HONOR.

Last Surviving Member of Constitutional Convention of 1857, Has Brilliant Army Record.

The last surviving member of the Constitutional Convention of 1857 will celebrate his ninety first birthday on Monday, February 2nd. Col. John H. Peters, who represented Delaware county in the historic convention at Iowa City in the winter of 1857 which gave the state its first real constitution and authorized the removal of the capitol from Iowa City to Des Moines, is living at Manchester in full possession of his unusual mental faculties though enfeebled in body.

No other man in Iowa can look back on a longer record of public service and though in the last few years he has retired from active life his interest in public affairs is no less keen and he is able to judge present events by personal knowledge of Iowa's history since February, 1853, when he came to Delhi and began the practice of law.

Col. Peters was born in Kent, Litchfield county, Connecticut, February 2, 1829, the son of Eber S. and Harriet Peters, both natives of Connecticut, with ancestry running back to the earliest colonists. As a young man, Col. Peters' health was not good, and he went to Cuba when eighteen years old and remained there two years, during which time he studied law. In 1852 he came to Freeport, Ill., and engaged in the practice of his profession, but in February of 1853 he removed to the new state which has ever since been his home.

When Col. Peters came to Delhi, there was only one other attorney located in Delaware county. This man died many years ago, and the county seat was changed from Delhi to Manchester more than a generation ago, and still Col. Peters is able to relate the coming and passing of lawyers and judges with whom he labored, who have preceded him.

When the Civil war broke out, Mr. Peters enlisted in the Union army and was made captain, winning his promotion to the rank of colonel of cavalry, and he is now said to be the only ranking officer of cavalry of the Union army in all the United States.

When the Civil war broke out, Company B of the Fourth Cavalry was mainly recruited at Delhi and the young lawyer was commissioned captain. He served four years and eight days, was wounded on November 8, 1862; promoted major, June 20, 1863 and promoted to lieutenant colonel on September 2, 1863. In July, 1865, he was injured by a fall of his horse and was brought home on a stretcher and for two years was compelled to use crutches. This injury still troubles him and prevents his walking to any great extent.

The Fourth Cavalry saw much active service in the war and made an enviable record especially in the campaign before Vicksburg in 1863. The exploits of Company B under the command of Col. Peters would make a book of most interesting reading.

After the war, Colonel Peters returned to Delhi to the practice of law and successfully conducted many cases through various courts including the United States Supreme Court. In 1900 he retired from active life but still watches current events and enjoys meeting his friends.

He is a democrat in politics and belongs to the Masonic order and the I. O. O. F.

The members of the Delaware County Bar Association will give a dinner

SCHOOL NEWS.

"The true test of civilization is not the Census nor the size of the cities—nor the crops; but the kind of citizens the Community turns out."—Emerson.

The first National Conference on Rural School Consolidation will be held at Cedar Falls, Iowa from February 17-19 inclusive. It is hoped to make the proceedings of this conference the last word on the solution of the rural school problem and hence everyone interested in the rural school problem is invited to attend. Governors of States, State Superintendents of Public Instruction, Members of the National Bureau of Education, Professors in the State Universities, Editors of farm and school papers and many others will participate in the wonderful program that has been planned.

The Northeastern Iowa Teacher's Association will meet at Cedar Rapids April 1, 2, 3, 1920. Dr. Stanley Krebs of New York City, Dr. W. A. Evans, of Chicago, Professor C. C. Swain, Inspector of rural schools for Minnesota, H. A. Miller Prin. University High School, Madison Wis., and other leading educators will be heard on the program. The officers of the association are as follows: President, Geo. H. Sawyer, Osage; Secretary, County Superintendent Mary Korine, Charles City; Treasurer, T. M. Cleveland, Waverly; Chairman Executive Committee, J. S. Hillard, Manchester.

TEACHERS AND UNIONS

Iowans will hope that the Iowa State Teachers' Association will be able to increase its membership and do what it hopes to do in the way of securing better pay for the teachers in Iowa. Undoubtedly there is an element in the labor unions that would like to unionize the teachers. But if they realize how much more eager the radical elements were to secure a hold on the teaching forces of the country so as to make them teachers of their various "isms," the more conservative of them, and the fathers of families, would be well content to help the teachers to better pay and greater efficiency without involving them in movements which are being used by those who would promote class consciousness.—Davenport Democrat.

If the rising generation is to be safeguarded against bolshevism or even to be fitted to become useful and self-helpful citizens, the teaching profession cannot be allowed to retrograde. The competent and trained teachers must be held in the work, and others must be trained to take up their burdens when they lay them down. Iowa City Press.

Reconstruction is a problem of individuals before it is one of nations; of character before it is one of credits. Crooked thinking begets crooked ethics and crooked business, until finally we have a nation on the loose.—Saturday Evening Post.

The Department of Superintendence of the National Education Association will meet at Cleveland, O., February 23-25. A large number of Iowa superintendents and supervisors are planning to attend. The party will be under the immediate direction of Supt. L. H. Minkie of Ft. Dodge, National Education Association Director of Iowa.—CHAS. F. PYE, Sec'y. I. S. T. A.

Dr. A. B. Curran, District Supt., will preach in the Methodist Church next Sunday morning.

Miss Ruth Marolf of Hopkinton was a guest several days last week of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Cox.

Miss Katherine Behrens had as her guest several days last week, Mr. R. W. Farrell, of Bancroft, Iowa. Mr. Farrell left for his home the first of the week.

at the Clarence House on Monday, in honor of Col. Peters.

TRACTOR SCHOOL FEBRUARY 4 AND 5

CHANCE FOR ALL OPERATORS OF TRACTORS TO LEARN MORE ABOUT MACHINES.

TRACTOR OWNERS BENEFITED.

Tractor School to Help All Who are Interested in Better Farming. No Admission Fee is Charged.

A tractor and soil school is to be held in the County Court house at Manchester on February 4th and 5th. Mr. J. A. Krall, the County Agent, has made arrangements with the W. D. Hoyt Company and the International Harvester Company to co-operate with him in putting on a school for all tractor owners and those interested in soil fertility and improvement.

This is a rare opportunity for tractor owners and all who are interested in better farming. A tractor is not a complicated machine but there are a great many more things to know about tractors than the ordinary farm machines. If the owner is to keep the tractor running properly he should understand it thoroughly. It is very important that all tractors are kept in good condition in order to get the best service. The instruction offered will not only enable a tractor operator to overcome the small difficulties of inexperienced tractor operation, but will also teach how to get more power from fuel and how to keep the tractor running the maximum number of hours without injury to the engine.

It is to the advantage of all tractor owners to attend this school and learn about the underlying principles of tractor construction and tractor care. The tractor school will be practical in every way. The instructors are men who have been handling tractors for a number of years and not only know tractors from a standpoint of theory but have operated them and can give you the benefit of their experience.

Come prepared to ask questions. You are invited to put your problems up to the instructors and we assure you that they will be in a position to be of help to you. It might be a good plan for you to make a list of things you want to know about your tractor and have them ready for the tractor school. Time may not permit to answer all of your questions but they will be answered by correspondence, or the information will be given you in the form of a book. Every possible effort will be made to give the tractor owners the information they desire. The International Harvester Company has prepared a book covering the principles of construction, care and operation of tractors, and all who attend the school may have a copy of this book free of charge. It deals with the points of discussion which will be brought up at the school and will be of special advantage to the men who attend, because they can study it when they have gone back home. Authorities say that this is the best book on tractors in print.

Part of the time on each of the two days will be spent on explaining the different soils and how to keep them fertile and productive. This is a subject that every farmer should be interested in, and the soil of his capital stock—when its gone, his business is gone. The conservation of the fertility of the soil is of much more importance than is commonly supposed. A book on soil, how to take care of it, and its relation to crops will be given to all who care for a crop.

This school will be absolutely free to all. There will be no fees or charges for instruction. All material will be furnished free. There will be nothing offered for sale and no selling talks. The school is conducted purely for those interested in better methods of farming.

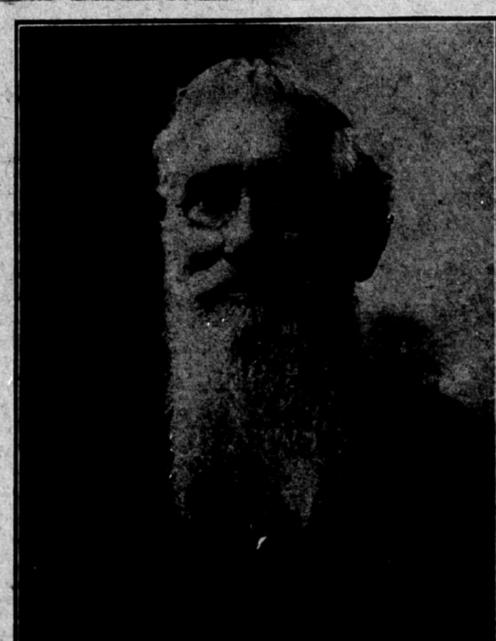

If you cannot attend, be sure to have the man or boy attend who operates your tractor. Every owner or prospective owner of a tractor or engine and every one who is interested in better farming is invited to attend this school. Make your plans now so that you can spare the time to come. It will be worth your while. Don't forget the date!

Come and learn more about tractors and engines as well as valuable facts about your soil. The school opens promptly at 8 A. M. on both days.
