She was seventy-two years of age, and is survived by her husband, one daughter, "Mrs. E. J. Krueple of Greeley, and four sons, George, of Greeley, Fred, Benjamin, and Joseph, all of this place. The funeral services were held from the Emmanuel church, Wednesday, afternoon, conducted by Rev. A. C. Panfili, and interment was made at Oak Hill. Sympathy is extended to the husband and the children in the loss of a good wife and mother.

The following obituary was read at the funeral services of John C. Brown: John C. Brown, eldest of the five children born to James and Elizabeth Brown, was born in Green County, Penn., August 9th, 1845, and died at his home at Colesburg, Iowa, May 16, 1920, aged 74 years and 7 days. While but a baby, he was brought by his parents to Iowa, settling on a farm, on a part of which his body will be laid for its long rest. Some years ago, after his mother's death, his father was again married, and to this union were born eight children. The surviving brothers and sisters are: George Brown of Monticello, Joseph and Linn Moreland of this place, Charles, Jacob, James, Bruce, Frank, and Mrs. Ida Kneel of this place, and Mrs. S. J. Beddow, of Belmont, South Dakota in 1864, following his 19th birthday, he enlisted as a soldier in the Civil War, and was assigned to the 6th Iowa Cavalry, Co. G., under command of Capt. A. B. Moreland. This regiment, composed largely of northeastern Iowa men, while on the road to the south, had been stopped at Burlington and rushed by forced marches to the northwest territory, to protect the small settlements there, from Indian attacks. They served nearly four years on the frontier, suffering all the privations of soldier life, along with the perils of the frontier, and the blizzards and extreme cold of the northwestern winters. They acquitted themselves with glory in several pitched battles with the Indians, their war being mostly Indian warfare and guard duty. Mr. Brown was honorably discharged at Sioux City, Iowa, November 1st, 1865, after just a year's service with the regiment, and returned to his home here. On March 12th, 1874, he was united in marriage with Charlotte Bowman. To this union 11 children were born, six of whom, with the wife and mother, mourn the loss of the loved companion and loving father. Five of the children are already resting in the beautiful Brown cemetery, where the father's tired body will soon be laid to rest. The children surviving are: Mrs. Mary Cropp, of Litchfield, Minnesota, Mrs. Kate Welsh of Colesburg, Mrs. Linn Correll, of Greeley, Mrs. Maggie Hyde, of Strawberry Point, Mrs. Amy Powell, of Earlville, and John E. Brown of Manchester. These with the fifteen grand-children, are left sorrowing. For forty years this home was established on different farms in the farming territory around Colesburg. About six years ago, the home in town was purchased, and here the death angel brought his discharge from life's warfare. For 46 years he and his loved wife have walked together, sharing the mutual woes, bearing each other's sorrow, and bringing comfort and cheer to one another. Now the wife is left to meet the remaining years of life's pilgrimage alone, without that comfort and help, which the dear companion could bring. She, with his loved ones, are comforted in their sorrow by the love that the father had
