

THOS. WILSON DIES AT ROCHESTER

SERVED CITY IN IMPORTANT OFFICES DURING PAST TEN YEARS. WIDELY KNOWN IN COUNTY

FUNERAL FRIDAY AT 2:30 P. M.

Held Important Office of City Manager of Manchester at Time of Death.

City Manager Thos. Wilson passed away at St. Mary's hospital in Rochester, Minnesota, Tuesday morning at 9:10, following an illness which dates back to more than a year. A month ago Mr. Wilson went to Rochester for treatment. He had not been a well man for even more than a year, but kept to himself the fact that he was suffering from an insidious ailment, and continued with his work in his office in the City Building, when at times those most closely associated with him felt certain that he was a sick man. Four weeks ago his condition became very serious and he was taken to the hospital at Rochester, where he gradually grew weaker, until death brought release to him on Tuesday morning. Mrs. Wilson and her son, T. D. Wilson, who were with Mr. Wilson constantly during the four weeks, arrived home with the remains early this morning.

Funeral services will be held at the Methodist Episcopal church on Friday afternoon, at 2:30. Rev. A. O. Knapp, pastor of the Presbyterian church, will have charge of the services. Interment will be in Oakland cemetery. The Knights of Pythias Order, of which Mr. Wilson had been an honored member for many years, will assist the services in a body, and will assist with the services at the grave, in Oakland cemetery.

A Native of Scotland.

Thos. Wilson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Wilson, was born in Wishaw, Scotland, December 23rd, 1854. The family came to the United States when he was sixteen years of age. They came directly west and located on a farm east of Oneida, where Mr. Wilson grew to manhood. He was united in marriage with Miss Agnes Davidson, of Colony township on February 25th, 1892. They made their home on the homestead east of Oneida, until 1900, when they came to Manchester, which place has been the home of the family since.

Mr. Wilson leaves to mourn his passing the devoted wife, and the following children: T. D. Wilson, Misses Agnes and Ruth Wilson, and James Wilson, all of Manchester, and Mrs. Archie Le Clerc of Okmulgee, Oklahoma.

Held Positions of Trust.

Mr. Wilson was perhaps as widely known in Delaware County as any man we might mention. Upon coming to Manchester he was appointed to the office of Deputy County Auditor, and served in that capacity for a term of years. He also served Delaware County as surveyor for many years. About ten years ago he entered the employ of the city, at first as superintendent of water works and city clerk, and when the city changed its form of government to the City Manager plan, Mr. Wilson was elected to the position of City Manager by the council. In all of his dealings with people in his official positions he was a courteous, kindly gentleman, and because of his kindly nature he formed many warm friendships in Manchester, and in fact, all over the county. In his home Mr. Wilson fully met the responsibilities which rest on a true husband and father. He was singularly devoted to his home and loved ones, and always found pleasure in being able to do for those in his home. Many young people of this community, always found this home full of good cheer and kindly hospitality. Mr. Wilson had been among the people of this community for twenty-one years, and during those years he won the esteem of our people generally. He was a member of the Presbyterian church of this city, and supported the organization liberally and gladly. Manchester sustains a distinct loss in the death of this upright citizen. His passing away brings a much greater loss to the wife and children, and in this time of affliction the members of the stricken family can find comfort and consolation in the thought that for their loved one suffering has ceased and some day the ties that are now broken, will be reunited.

The sympathy of this community goes out to the members of Mr. Wilson's family.

W. J. DAVIS INJURED.

W. J. Davis, manager of the Farmer's Commission Company, met with painful injuries last Sunday afternoon, while attempting to start his automobile. It appears that Mr. Davis was attempting to crank the engine to his car, and while doing this the crank struck him across the bridge of the nose, breaking the bones. The injury caused Mr. Davis intense pain for some time. On Tuesday morning, however, he was right on his job again, proving that a good man is not to be downed even with so painful an injury as he sustained Sunday.

Delaware County Poultry Association will hold its regular meeting Saturday afternoon at 2:00 o'clock in the County Agents office.

DON A. PREUSSNER.

Whose Appointment as Postmaster of Manchester was Confirmed by the Senate on October 25th, 1921.

Another car will be on track next Thursday, November 10th. These are the North Dakota Kings, at $1.30.

NEGRO BOUND OVER TO GRAND JURY

NEGRO IS CHARGED WITH BREAKING AND ENTERING HUGHES DRY GOODS STORE.

YOUNG FARMER IS ROBBED

Lawrence Basquin Is Relieved of $20 Cash While on Way Home From Manchester.

Paul McCloud, the negro from Waterloo who has been held in the county jail and charged with breaking and entering the E. M. Hughes Dry Goods store on the night of October 19th, was arraigned before Justice J. J. Pentony on Tuesday afternoon. M. F. Field, colored attorney of Waterloo, appeared for the defendant.

From the evidence introduced it appears that the Hughes store was entered through a rear window, and some thirty pieces of furs and a dozen or more of children's wearing apparel were taken. Illinois Central freight conductors noticed the bundle of furs in an open car and coal men discovered more furs, and good sized "hootch" bottle in a coal car two days later. Soon after discovering the furs the negro was placed under arrest by the conductor of the freight and held until officers took him in hand.

It has also been learned that the negro's real name is Frank Law, and that he has been going under an assumed name since his arrest here. After hearing the evidence and arguments by the attorneys for the state and the defendant, Justice Pentony bound the defendant over to the grand jury, which meets in March, 1922. Bail bond fixed at $500.

The attorney for the defendant stated that the necessary bail bond would be forthcoming, and that McCloud would be released from the custody of the sheriff as soon as the proper bond is filed with the clerk of the District court.

LAWRENCE BASQUIN IS "HELD UP"

Lawrence Basquin, who lives about four miles northwest of Manchester, knows how it feels to have a couple of hold up men point pistols under his nose and then go through his pockets and take his hard earned cash, for that is just what happened to him last Thursday night, while on his way home from Manchester. It appears that Mr. Basquin had received his milk check that afternoon and had it cashed in Stearns & McCormick's store at about six o'clock. The check was for a little more than $22, but that after cashing the check he purchased a few articles of merchandise, leaving a balance in Mr. Basquin's pockets of approximately $20.00. The men who robbed Mr. Basquin were carefully masked and rushed at him from a thicket of bushes along the roadway. Mr. Basquin was unable to give much of a description of the hold-up men, stating that the masks were very carefully arranged.

The same morning Miss Sevey, daughter of Harry Sevey, had an experience which she does not care to go through again very soon. While on her way to her work at Mrs. C. K. Reading's, Miss Sevey was hailed by two young fellows with shot guns. Instead of stopping the car when told to do so, she stepped on the "gas" and her trusty flivver carried her to safety. Miss Sevey was very much frightened, and feels that she had a narrow escape from a couple of young fellows who no doubt think that the world owes them a living.

FIRST IMPRESSION BEST.

Dealers in phonographs have discovered that when they sell an instrument, they must be careful what kind of records the new user takes home for the first time. If they are all jazz records or mere popular music, the whole family, in a short time, will get so sick of the phonograph that they won't want to hear any record on it. But if the dealer is wise enough to persuade the customer to take along records of one or two selections that have withstood the test of time—really good music, you know, without being offensively highbrow—he makes a permanent customer of him. The family doesn't object to hearing the good music played over and over again. They get interested in worth-while music and buy records from then on.

The same thing is probably true in various other lines of business. If a person starts off using something that has merit, he doesn't sour on it, but comes back some day for more. A tailor told me once that when a new customer comes in he makes every effort to steer him away from too loud a pattern—away from anything that one might quickly tire of. He also tries to guide him toward selecting a piece of goods that will wear well. Certain kinds of goods wear better than others. It isn't a tailor's fault if a customer picks something a bit flimsy. But when the suit wears out, the average man blames the tailor just the same.—Fred Kelly in The Nation's Business.

—Miss Anna Schwager entertained a few of her young girl friends at a Halloween party at her home on North Franklin street, Monday night. Refreshments were served by her mother, Mrs. Jacob Schwager during the evening and those present had a right jolly time.

HIGH SCHOOL NEWS

During the week-end, Miss Johnson attended the Home Coming at Cedar Falls where she attended the football game between Upper Iowa and State Teachers College.

Miss Taylor spent the week-end at her home near Lamont.

Miss Pye spent the week-end at her home at Northfield, Minnesota.

Miss Fordyce spent the week-end at her home at Mt. Vernon and attended the Cornell-Grinnel game.

This week Ray Conklin entered Columbia College, Dubuque. He was a Freshman in our High School.

Helen Tripp came back to school Monday after a week of illness.

Mr. Hilliard is going to Des Moines Wednesday, where he will attend the State Teachers' Convention during the latter part of the week.

The Declamatory Contest held last Wednesday night resulted in the decision to give the first four places to Ruth Atwater, Ora Baskerville, Eva Kephart and Margie Meader, with Ida Boss as Alternate. The four will speak in the final contest and in case of the inability of one of them, Ida Boss will act as substitute. The next contest is to be held November 29.

Avis Dufley gave a Halloween Party at her home last Friday evening. Miss Taylor and Miss Mardsick acting as chaperones. Her friends report a very enjoyable time in spite of the winter evening.

The Manchester high school football team defeated the Hopkinton squad by a score of 14-3 in a close contest on the local field last Friday.

In the first half of the game, neither side gained the ascendancy but the second period proved more interesting. After Dorman, star fullback, who distinguished himself throughout the game by breaking thru the defenses of the invaders, had carried the ball over the opponents goal line, the visitors rallied. They made their downs twice, but were halted in their desperate effort to score by fumbles.

The visitors came back strong in the fourth quarter. A drop kick from the 25 yard line gave them their only score. Whereupon Dorman toted the ball in a spectacular 55 yard run to Hopkinton 7 yard line.

An added feature of the game was the excellent playing of Captain Moore who demonstrated remarkable ability on both offense and defense. Welch of Epworth Seminary officiated in the capacity of referee. The game was clean thruout and there were no injuries of consequence on either side.

A dance will be held in the Armory on Friday evening, November 11th, Armistice Day. The Dubuque orchestra will furnish the music, and inasmuch as this will be Armistice Day, special features will be added for the occasion. During the afternoon an interesting program has been arranged.

NEW PIPE ORGAN ON ROAD.

The Pipe Organ Committee of the First Congregational church is in receipt of the bill of lading for the handsome Estey Pipe organ, and it is expected that the organ will reach Manchester some time this week. An expert from the factory will arrive a day or so after the instrument reaches the city, and the work of installing it will be pushed along as rapidly as possible. While the instrument is being installed the services will be held in the parlor of the church.

GOLDEN ANNIVERSARY PETERSBURG CHURCH

LARGE CROWD ATTENDED GOLDEN JUBILEE. MANY PROMINENT CLERGYMEN PRESENT.

CHURCH HISTORY INTERESTING

Archbishop Keane of Dubuque Delivers Principle Address at Ceremonies Last Tuesday.

October 25th marked another epoch in the history of church events of St. Peter and Paul Parish, the celebration of the golden jubilee, it being fifty years ago, since the foundation of that parish. At the break of day, the weather did not look very promising, but late in the morning the sun broke through the clouds, and the day was a most ideal one.

The festivities of the day began at ten o'clock, when pontifical Solemn Highmass was celebrated by His Grace Archbishop J. J. Keane of Dubuque. A procession was formed and the visiting clergy were escorted from the parochial residence to the church. His Grace Archbishop Keane was assisted at the Mass by Archbishop Monsignor T. G. Brady of Dubuque; Rev. A. Thole, Roseville, Ia., deacon; Rev. A. Woerdhoff, Buffalo Center, sub-deacon; Rev. C. Dougherty, Oelwein, deacon of honor, R. v. Rohlmann and Rev. M. Kerper, master of ceremonies. Rev. N. Cremer of Dorchester, was cross bearer. Rev. Zeyen, Alta Vista and Rev. J. Maier, Balltown acolytes; Rev. H. Dunkel, Dyersville, mikre bearer; Rev. A. Landolt, Dubuque, crosser bearer. Rev. T. Vallaster, St. Donatus, candlebearer; Rev. J. Smith, general bearer; Rev. N. Homan, Hazelton thurifer; Rev. J. Linkmeyer, Lamont, book bearer.

History of St. Peter and Paul Church. The Catholic Church of Petersburg had its beginning in March, 1867, when the few Catholic families organized and appointed a committee of eight men to further the good work of Christianity, by obtaining plans and money for the erection of an edifice of adoration that they might add luster to their lives and prosperity to the little community that was fast forming.

Mr. Adolph Ahman, a man of strong will and determination, was elected president and Mr. Peter Domayer, one of the earliest pioneers of these parts of Bremen township, after whom the village of Petersburg was named, was chosen secretary and treasurer. The other six comprised men of good character and pleasing personality. They were the able Herman Bohnenkamp, Clemens Froehle, Anton Muehlenkamp, Clemens Will-nborg and Henry Schaefer. Mr. Peter Domayer, however, becoming unable to attend to his duties, soon resigned as secretary and Mr. Theo. Althoff, a man who gave his best to see the project accomplished, filled the vacancy.

Everywhere these messengers of the Faith were given a helping hand. Father Weikmann, at that time the zealous pastor of New Vienna, spared nothing that would help so good a cause. He helped to raise funds; he secured Bishop Hennessy's permission to build a church; he untringly toured the country to find a suitable place to build. This, however, was not an easy question. The Catholics to the northwest of Petersburg wished to see the church a mile closer than it is now, while those to the east manifested the same desire. They proposed the Theo. Althoff farm as an ideal spot. A congestion was prevalent. Father Weikmann, the good shepherd, was more urgently pressed to solve this difficulty. The matter could not be rejected, a church was a necessity, yet it could not exist other than in the conjunction of these parties.

During the same year the little hamlet of Petersburg grew to a village. A store and tavern was started directly south of the present church grounds by Peter Domayer, Barney Sassen and Henry Niemann, who came from Quincy, Ill., opened a country store directly east of the present school. In the following spring, 1868, Mr. Philip Hense began a blacksmith shop and Mr. Henry Niemann assumed the making of wagons.

With these improvements and a gradual influx of inhabitants, Petersburg became a trading center for the many farmers residing in Bremen township.

If Petersburg is a trade center, why should it not be a center of worship. The views of Father Weikmann, other able-minded men took the same view, and soon Petersburg was chosen to receive the contemplated church.

Still a shadow of doubt remained as to where this edifice might give grace to the world.

One day as Father Weikmann was out riding with Mr. Althoff, looking for a place to build, he exclaimed when they drew nigh to the site which has since become the church property: "This is the place." His tone was imperative, and as such did every one receive it, for they knew this priest was resolute in his plans and his plans were always good.

The site that was selected is a prominent point in the fertile prairies of Bremen township. Many tall walnut trees populated this tract and are said to have been planted by a certain Mr. Henke's, who came in the early fifties and lived in a log cabin which stood on the east side of the Colesburg Highway, then known as a military road, and which was later used as the first school.

Peter Domayer and Joe Miller each donated two acres of land as a site for the church, and two acres each were given by Anton Honkomp and —Mr. and Mrs. S. A. Steadman had as their guests several days last week, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Clark of Waterloo and Mr. and Mrs. Matt Walker of Chicago. They also had as their guests Mrs. Robert Reilly and daughter of Des Moines.

—Rev. H. F. McDonald, former pastor of the Baptist church of this city, spent last Thursday in Manchester, calling on his former parishioners, and old time friends. Mr. McDonald is the pastor of the Baptist church of Colfax, but retains his home in Des Moines.

—Members of Hyperion Lodge, Knights of Pythias are requested to meet at Castle Hall at two o'clock Friday afternoon, to attend the funeral of Thos. Wilson, who was for many years an honored member of the order. The services at the grave will be in charge of the Order.

The festivities included a dinner at the Park Hotel, and a social evening at cards in the Graham home. The next regular meeting of the club will be held with Miss Ethel Harris on Monday evening, November 7th.

—Mr. and Mrs. Paul Caswell and baby of Ames, were here last week. Mr. Caswell left Saturday morning for Cherokee, where he and his older brother are now operating a semi-weekly newspaper, which they recently purchased. Mrs. Caswell and baby will remain in Manchester until Mr. Caswell can locate a suitable residence for his family.

—Wayne Frizzell, one of the substantial young pure breed hog raisers of the county, and who a few years ago purchased the Frank Lawrence farm north of this city, announces this week that on November 12th, he will hold a sale of full blood Hampshire stock hogs. This sale will be held at the Novelty barns in Manchester and will begin at 2:00 o'clock. Twelve choice stock hogs will be offered for sale at that time. Next week Mr. Frizzell will have more to say about the sale in a display advertisement.

On account of the funeral of City Manager Thos. Wilson, all places of business in Manchester will be closed from two to three o'clock on Friday afternoon, November 4th.

Adolph Ahmann for the cemetery. With this success the committee lost no time in drawing up the plans and securing the material. The rock was hauled from the Goeden farm and the lumber from Guttenberg.

Mr. Gerhard Diers of New Vienna drew the plans and also did the carpenter work.

Vogel & Mertz of Guttenberg contracted for the masonry. With every thing in readiness no time was lost. Petersburg had indeed become a busy little town in the course of one year.
