

THE DAILY INTERIOR JOURNAL

STANFORD, KY., AUGUST 30, '73.

THE DAILY INTERIOR JOURNAL

Is Published Every Day at 12 o'clock, at the Weekly Journal Office,
STANFORD, KENTUCKY.

HILTON & CAMPBELL, Proprietors.

WE STILL HAVE IT!

Five Deaths Since 3 O'clock Yesterday.

Two Cases Now in a Collapsed
State.

Hilliard Dooley, Caroline Withers,
Garland Givens, Moses
McRoberts and Son
Dead.

Disease Confined to one Locality—Maxville.

ALL the persons attacked with cholera and reported yesterday, have died. Hilliard Dooley, Caroline Withers and Garland Givens, all colored, and all died within 10 hours after being attacked. Four other cases are reported this morning, two cases of which, Moses McRoberts, colored, and his son, have proved fatal. Thus far, we have had five deaths from the disease, not a single person has as yet recovered from it in our town. The physicians complain that they have in no case been summoned until the disease had so far progressed as to be beyond the reach of medical skill. This suggests to every one the necessity of asking for medical assistance upon the very first symptoms.

MAXVILLE is a negro settlement within the corporate limits of Stanford, on the railroad, north of the female college.

It is estimated that at least seven hundred persons have left town.

HYMNICAL.

A license was issued this morning by our County Clerk for the marriage of Mr. Jos. H. McAllister to Miss Ettie Cobb, on to-morrow.—Joe proposes to take something better than the cholera.

Dastardly.

The negroes took the corpse of Hilery Dooley, colored, the first victim of the cholera, to the potters-field, where it was left unburied and unattended all night. Some of the young gentlemen of the town went out this morning and buried it. The negroes are shamefully neglecting their sick.

Jno. Blain, Esq., Clerk of the County Court, Thos. Buford, Esq., Jailor, W. G. Saunders, Esq., Sheriff, and W. H. Miller, Esq., Clerk of the Circuit Court, are at their posts and will brave the pestilence. Hon. M. C. Sautley, Judge of the County Court, left with his family yesterday, but expects to return this evening.

Good Advice.

Use freely a solution of chloride of lime and copperas about your premises. Live on your usual diet—leaving off all fruits and vegetables—drink as little water as possible—use no ice—take no cholera drops unless you have diarrhea or looseness of bowels.—If stimulants are used, French brandy or blackberry wine is recommended. Keep out of the sun and night air as much as possible, and away from excited crowds. Have bedrooms well ventilated. Disinfect stables, chicken-houses, pig-pens, privies, around windows where vines or bushes make shade and dampness. Copperas without lime or chloride of lime is worthless as a disinfectant.

Will We Live or Die?

Out of a population of 1,200 at Lancaster, only 39 have died of cholera. Only one out of every 40 persons. So that the citizens had 39 chances in favor of 1 against taking the cholera. The disease here prevails no more fatally than at Lancaster, and we ought to have hearts stout enough to be willing to take the chances, and not be scared more than hurt.

The Town Trustees have deserted us.

Our Physicians.

Our physicians, Logan, Peyton, Bailey, Craig and McRoberts, have announced their intention to remain with us and render all assistance in their power to the afflicted. Hon. Thos. B. Montgomery, our Representative elect, and L. R. Yates, both retired physicians, have announced their intention to render medical assistance if needed. A letter from Dr. Grinstead, of Shelby City, assures us of his assistance if needed.

From Lancaster.

From reliable sources, we learn that there were five deaths from cholera in Lancaster yesterday (Friday), three soldiers and two citizens; and two new cases reported. Very few of the run-away citizens are returning home.

Stampeding.

It is estimated that at least seven hundred people have left the town.

A serious difficulty occurred at the fair grounds at Lebanon, last Wednesday, between a Mr. Fogle and Mr. Sparks. Eight or ten shots were exchanged and one man, a bystander, shot and dangerously wounded.

DOCTOR S. P. CRAIG, assisted by O. H. McRoberts, have treated all the cholera patients up to this time, and have used the most approved remedies known to the profession.

SEVERAL associations have been formed of citizens pledged to stand by each other in every emergency. This is the proper course.

Where did it Come From?

Des. Craig, Montgomery and McRoberts, have prohibited the use of water from a well in Macksville, which they regard as foul and unwholesome. They believe it to be a breeder of cholera. It is the general opinion of our physicians that the disease is infectious and comes from the filth and foul places of the locality where it prevails.

Our druggists, E. R. Chennault and W. H. Anderson, with their assistants, are with us, and will remain at their post prepared to furnish medicine at all hours.