

OTTAWA CLAY WORKS.

The Great Work of Transforming the Stark Works into a Fire Brick Works.—Stoneware in Ottawa.—Other Clay Works Possible Here.

Few people, we apprehend, are aware of the magnitude of the work being done by the Pioneer Fire-proof Construction Company on their premises south of the hydraulic basin. For weeks past a small army of men have been at work removing the rear of the old Stark Works, involving an immense amount of work; while to support that part of the building yet remaining, an enormous wall has been built on the north side, running from the hard pan to the workwork above the basement of the building. Workmen are now arching the tail race from the building to the river, several hundred feet, which will be an immense piece of work. One week ago a dozen or more teams were at work filling in a grade for a railway switch from the C, B. & Q. tracks on the bank of the basin to run down into and through the yards themselves, to do away with the expense of having coal down to the kilns, and finished wares up from them to the tracks which now run only on the high bank above the yards. The laying of the track for the tramway from the clay-pits in East Ottawa has reached the city west of Fox river, and in a short time now will be completed.

All this work is still but preliminary to the real object in view: the overhauling of the old Stark Works and its reconstruction into a monster fire-brick works. The Company has recently increased its capital stock from $100,000 to $250,000, a large part of which will be expended in the erection of the new works, making the total plant by far the largest in Illinois or west of the Ohio river; and one of the largest in the United States.

The course of this Company since locating at Ottawa shows what can be done by enterprise and push, working on raw materials which lie at our feet in inexhaustible profusion, and which, until the advent of this Company, were unheard of and unknown. Twelve years ago the site was occupied by a little drain tile factory, whose owners threw away a fortune, because their "practical" man, after failing with one kiln of surface clay tile, told them there were no clays in Ottawa that would make tile! And they believed him! And yet the country within a few miles of the city in nearly every direction is rich—very rich, in clay for common red brick and high grade front pressed and ornamented bricks, stoneware, sewer-pipe, fire-proofing, low grade and, no doubt, by proper system of manufacture, high grade fire-brick, furnace blocks, &c. Indeed, the city has clays enough to run factories enough to make it a large city through those industries alone.

STONWARE.

The stoneware pottery of Jacobi & Simon is now "under a cloud" and closed; but the fault must have been in the management and not in the business itself. Stoneware can be made here, as that pottery clearly demonstrated, that is as good in quality as any made at Macomb, the leading centre of the industry of the west, or at Peoria, or in the Ohio stoneware pottery districts, and at as low a cost of production. But the business needs the business management of men trained in the business, which this pottery did not have.

To compare Ottawa with Macomb we publish in advance the following, which will appear in the next number of The Brick, Tile and Pottery Gazette of this city, showing what trained business management has done for the Macomb Pottery Company, whose success has been very great in spite of the fact that in obtaining clay, coal, &c., that pottery labors under an expense much greater than would be required here. The article was prepared for The Brick, Tile and Pottery Gazette by Mr. C. D. Jacobi:

MACOMB, ILL., Oct. 20, 1886. Messrs. Editors:—Having promised to give you an excellent paper a description of the Macomb stoneware industry, I send you the following: There are three stoneware manufacturers in this place, all in first-class running order, the larger one of the three employing about sixty men, and the remaining two employing about the same number together. The men are all practical workmen, and the greater part are men of families which adds largely to the population of the city.

I write at this time in particular of the larger shop, which is known under the name of the Macomb Pottery Company. This shop was first founded about eight years ago by a gentleman of the name of Albert Eldy. He was formerly from the state of Ohio, and was one of the best practical potters in the west, as well as a splendid financier. He was, therefore, very successful in the stoneware business.

This shop was built by a stock company, with a capital of $20,000, with Mr. Eldy at the head. They now have under their control at least $70,000. They have always made the very best quality of goods in the west, and at the present time their ware cannot be surpassed by any from any state in the Union. Mr. Eldy, a gentleman in every respect and a first class workman and the successor to the firmship formerly held by Mr. Eldy before his death, was kind enough to give me the description and dimensions of their factory. It consists of two brick buildings, each two stories high, one being 130 feet long by 66 feet wide, and the other 60 feet long by 58 feet wide. Each of these buildings has an engine of about 50-horse power, with all the machinery and attachments for the making of stoneware. There are 12 steam turning wheels and three jollies. There is six kilns, each having a capacity of 5,000 gallons each, which makes their manufacturing capacity 200 car loads per year.

Their clay beds are situated about six miles from the factory, and the clay is hauled by wagons to the factory. The expense of digging and hauling the clay is $1.85 a ton. Wood, delivered at the factory, costs $3.25 per cord. The price for turning and shipping the ware is governed by the prices paid in the Ohio potteries, which are from 65c to 80c per day's work, a day's work averaging about 72 gallons. [A day's work is not the actual wages per day, but a technical method of measurement of piece work. Potters make pretty high wages.—E.S.] The milk crocks are made on a steam jolly, for which they pay from 40c to 50c per 100. The shipping is also done by piece work, the price being 10 cents per hundred gallons.

The market this fall has been very satisfactory. In this connection we may as well state the cost of raw materials at the Ottawa pottery: Covel Creek potter's clay costs $1.15 per ton delivered at the factory; Vermillion potter's clay, of which about one ton in three is mixed with Covel Creek clay to make the best ware, cost $2.25 per ton at the pottery, making the clay cost about $1.60 per ton on the average. First-class dry wood costs $3.25 per cord delivered; Streater coal on the track $1.75 per ton.

OTHER WORKS.

An earthenware pottery for the manufacture of flower-pots, terra cotta wares, such as lawn vases, ornamental flower pots, hanging baskets, umbrella-holders, and such like could be made to pay here.

A sewer-pipe works could make ware here; and there might be a field for it. The pipe works of the county are now very busy; and as the growing tendency in constructing sewers is to discard the old time brick work and substitute salt-glazed pipes of a smaller diameter, the demand for good pipe must constantly increase, as the sanitary thought of the times is toward the more thorough drainage of all cities, both large and small.

Why could not chinawares, &c., be made here? It is a notable fact that china and porcelain is not made where china clays exist, those materials are hauled to those works—but where the fire clay for saggars is abundant! The conditions here are as favorable as at Trenton or East Liverpool; and surely it will cost no more to haul china clays from Pope county, Illinois, to Ottawa than it does to East Liverpool.

The fact is there are possibilities for Ottawa in working clays successfully on a large scale in a variety of lines; but candidly we don't expect to see Ottawa capital put into it for years to come; because Ottawa men too frequently wait for some outsider to come in and get rich out of what Ottawa men consider worthless!

The Courts.

Circuit Court.

The Circuit Court has fairly commenced business since the excitement of the late elections and is making quite a good progress. The new cases are:

- Gray v Theurer. Assumpsit; $200 damages.
- Meisenburgh v Agricultural Insurance Company. Appeal; amount, $25.
- People v Black & Johnson. Same v Hicks. Quigley v Coffee et al. All recognizance.

County Court.

JUDGE GILBERT.

In the county court Thursday and yesterday Mr. Ralph Buchanan was heard on a charge of insanity. A large number of witnesses were examined as to his insanity, and the jury found difficulty in reaching a conclusion, being out for several hours, and finally disagreed, causing a new trial which will begin this morning.

From Munster.

MUNSTER, Nov. 9.—Quite a number of the farmers of this vicinity are through husking corn. They report the quality as very good but the yield per acre is much lighter than was anticipated. Elevator men at this place are paying the following prices for grain: Corn, 27c; oats, 22c.

The railroad company at this place have been making some improvements that have long been needed, viz., new stockyards, and Munster now has the best facilities for handling stock of any station on the Dwight branch.

At a turkey raffle in this place last Saturday evening, thirteen turkeys were raffled for. Did not learn who were the lucky winners.

The base ball club is now out, and it is to be hoped will not be revived until they become imbued with a proper regard for the Sabbath day.

It is with regret that we chronicle the departure of Mayor Penfield from our midst, and may fortune smile on him in his new abode.

The election passed off very quietly and Mr. Egler's candidate was defeated. But his friends should find consolation in the fact that the blood of martyrs is the seed of the church and is equally applicable to the Democratic party just now.

Madam Humor informs us of a couple of weddings in this vicinity in the near future. Rev. Father Egan, pastor of Eagle church, spent a couple of days in Chicago last week.

Miss Mary Hopper returned home Saturday evening from Chicago where she had been visiting her brothers, Frank and John, Mr. and Mrs. Thurry, of Wenzou, were guests of Mr. and Mrs. J. Bowlin last Monday.

An alarm of fire was sounded on Monday afternoon; but the blaze proved to be inconsequential. The fire was at the residence of Thomas White, near the City Hotel, and was extinguished by a few pails of water.

FROM LIFE TO DEATH

Is but a moment if rheumatism or neuralgia strikes the heart. These diseases are the most painful and the most dangerous of any to which human kind is liable. They fly from one part to another without a moment's warning, and in themselves dangerous because they are liable to drive the disease to some vital organ and cause instant death. Rheumatism and neuralgia are diseases of the blood, and can only be reached by a remedy which will drive from the blood the dangerous acids. Such a remedy is Athlophoros. It has been thoroughly tested and is a safe, sure cure.

J. M. Powell, clerk for F. P. Yerkin, druggist, Paris, Ill., says: "Coming from Chicago I was suddenly stricken with acute rheumatism. It spread all through me so rapidly that in a few hours I was entirely helpless. We were obliged to stop off and made every effort to get something that would relieve me from this agony. I had to be carried off the train. No words could describe the pain I endured for the next five days. Finally a gentleman advised me to get a bottle of Athlophoros, and I at once commenced using it. Although it may seem a very improbable circumstance, yet is nevertheless a fact, after I had taken five or six doses I had complete relief, and we continued on our journey. Since that time my father, who had been more or less a sufferer from rheumatism for six years, has also used Athlophoros with the same satisfactory results.

Chicago, Ill., July 25, 1885.

With pleasure I inform you there has been no return of the disease—sure perfect. Yours gratefully, REV. C. HARTLEY.

Every druggist should keep Athlophoros and Athlophoros Pills, but where they cannot be bought of the druggist the Athlophoros Co., 112 Wall St., New York, will send either (carriage paid) on receipt of regular price, which is $1.00 per bottle for Athlophoros and 50c for Pills.

For other and kidney diseases, dyspepsia, indigestion, weakness, nervous debility, diseases of women, constipation, headache, impure blood, &c., Athlophoros Pills are unequaled.

Our Family Physician

Best Medical Work for Home Use Ever Printed.

Give the Allopathic, Homeopathic and Eclectic treatments—all three—for each and every disease and ailment.

Has classified "Table of Symptoms," by which any ordinary intelligent person can determine as well as a physician what disease a patient is suffering from or threatened with.

This is a feature of the book worthy of special attention—a feature peculiar to this work. Any good medical work will tell you what to do, if you know what the disease is, but the difficulty is, you cannot tell the book what it is. To find out, you are obliged to send for a physician. The books are written with this view, written generally in the language of the professor. With "Our Family Physician," you can tell, yourself, what the matter is, just as unerringly as a doctor could. In this respect the book differs from all others; and even if you have others, you need this book also.

It is a book that, after using six months, no parent would part with for $50.

It will save from $5 to $50 every year in any family. We have had a special edition of this standard and well known work, elegantly bound, 54 pages—the same size in which in book stores it sells for $3—printed for us by this paper as a premium. During the coming four months we shall offer this valuable book, together with a year's subscription to the FREE TRADER, for $2.00!

In other words, we will sell you the book for about one-half its regular established price, and give you a YEAR'S SUBSCRIPTION TO THE FREE TRADER FOR NOTHING!

We do this, of course, to build up the circulation of our paper, which we are determined shall go regularly into 5,000 families before January 1, 1887.

If you want the best medical work there is for home use and the best weekly paper published in La Salle county, now is your opportunity! You can get yours for $2.00! Where this book is to be sent out of Ottawa, 5 cents extra must accompany the order, to pay postage and express charges.

If the book ever crosses a doctor only ONE TIME, that saving will amount to more than both book and paper cost you!
