

The DAILY HERALD has nearly DOUBLE the Circulation of either contemporary paper published in Los Angeles.

Copies of the WEEKLY HERALD containing full FAIR REPORTS besides other matters of interest can be had for TEN CENTS each; One Dollar a Dozen.

This Herald jumps to very hasty conclusions relative to the success of the Fair. This may be fair, but it is scarcely in keeping with the many protestations of that journal relative to its support of Los Angeles interests.

The Herald has jumped to the same conclusion, be it hasty or not, that every one engaged in agricultural interests has formed—and it has jumped to a correct conclusion—as time will demonstrate.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 14.—The evening session of the Cabinet to-day was continued over two hours, and was the most important which has taken place under President Grant's administration.

Various rumors are circulated tonight as to the determination of the Cabinet, one of which is that the Government will demand of Spain the immediate arrest and punishment of the parties mainly instrumental in conducting the outrage.

The Treasury Department, upon a requisition from the Secretary of the Navy, shipped $200,000 to Norfolk, the headquarters of the North Atlantic fleet, in order that there might be no delay in fitting out the ships to leave with the least possible delay for Cuba.

Vict-Consul Hall, at Havana, writes to the Secretary of State that he entered an instant protest against the action of the Cuban authorities, in the case of the Virginias, but his communications were cut off, so that his protest did not reach Santiago in time to effect any good.

Young, wherein the former proposes that the latter shall organize an expedition to the United States, composed of Cubans, to embark on board a slow steamer and then give such information as would lead to the sure capture of the expedition.

The Brooklyn Union says that at a business meeting held in Plymouth Church last October, it will be remembered that Beecher made a remarkable speech on the occasion of the trial, his name being dropped from the Church rolls, and that some of his statements were held to be so at variance with opinions of orthodox people that no inconsiderable trouble resulted therefrom.

By 12 o'clock the grand rush had fairly begun, and a dense column of horses and carriages and people on foot, resembling the march of a great army, streamed steadily over the hill and across the avenue leading to the Park.

Within the Park the scene was fairly suggestive of the day on the Derby Down. Hundreds of aristocratic carriages crowded in, occupied by gay votaries of the fashion, who discussed the probabilities of the approaching race with animation.
