

The DAILY HERALD has nearly DOUBLE the Circulation of either contemporary paper published in Los Angeles. As an advertising medium it is consequently DOUBLE their value.

The Harbor.

The improved tone of the editorial articles of the Herald when they are written outside the office is so marked that we may be pardoned for indulging the hope that a permanent arrangement may be made with the writer of yesterday's leader on the important question of securing proper harbor facilities. Still while commending the courteous tone of the article we can by no means agree that the only thing that we can do is to sit quietly by until the harbor can be extended to Wilmington. Admitting all that is claimed for the breakwater and yet there is much to be done that is not likely to be done soon. All this time the commerce of Los Angeles is crippled by the lighterage tax. If, as the Express article claims, after crossing the bar there is for one mile inward a depth of 25 feet of water and an average width of 850 or 1,000 feet, then let us have our railroad extended to that point, and let Los Angeles put its shoulder to the wheel and either with or without government aid, have that bar dredged away so that good-sized vessels can come up to the wharf. They can then transfer their freight directly to or from the railroad, and if it is important that more room shall be secured there is nothing to hinder the extending of the harbor inward as fast as it is possible to raise the means to do so. If we cannot raise the money to dredge the bar, then either go to Deadman's Island, or wait until the channel cuts its own way through the bar (if it will ever do so), whichever is cheapest. After the point of Rattlesnake Island is passed the width of the channel that can be maintained is 450 feet, and we have grave doubts whether this will prove very attractive to anything larger than small coasting vessels, but even this channel we haven't got, nor is it likely we shall have it soon.

It may be urged that the company will not extend their road to the Breakwater or to Rattlesnake Island. Of course it will not, if we accept the situation, and do nothing to induce it to give us better facilities. But if the company can be forced to bring rail and ship together, by the demands of commerce, or the fear of competition, then let us bring every influence to bear, and our word for it the Southern Pacific Railroad Company is not so stupid as to let its business slip away from it without an effort. How are we to secure competition? In various ways. The question of building a narrow gauge railroad from Los Angeles to Santa Monica, is now agitating the public mind. A wharf can be built at that place at which ships can unload in any weather that freight or passengers can be transferred to the lighter at San Pedro. This road and wharf can be built for a trifling sum, and in a very short time. Owing to the small capital that would be invested, and the light cost of operating such a road, freight can be handled at a cost that will absolutely defy competition on the part of the present clumsy contrivance at Wilmington. This project is now receiving the earnest attention of practical men and it is the interest of every one who trades at Los Angeles to agitate the subject, and to encourage such an enterprise. The object of the HERALD is to hasten the improvement of our harbor facilities by calling attention to their deficiencies, and making up a discussion of the best means of remedying them. It has no friends to reward and no enemies to punish. It has no pet scheme, to the sole advocacy of which it is committed, but will encourage any movement that promises to give relief. The interests of the great territory, the commerce of which centers in Los Angeles are its interest, and single-minded, if necessary, it will fight for their development.

Would it not be well for our twilight contemporary, before making the charge of theft against others, to be sure that its own skirts are clear? It charges us with stealing from a Denver paper. The truth is that we simply used some historical facts, facts that have been published in fifty other papers, either one of which is just as much entitled to credit for them, as the Denver sheet, and no more so, while in the very number of the Express that howls at us, there is an article stolen from our editorial columns. It was mingled, to be sure, but the substance was there, and this is such a common practice with the Express, that we have not thought it worth noticing before.

SENATOR SARGENT who is anxious that the franking privilege shall be restored, is reported as saying that it has cost the government $100,000 to buy scales to weigh mail matter with. This statement of the Hon. Senator is rather thin. It strikes us that scales were needed and used in every post office in the country before the repeal of franking. If members of Congress still sent their trunks home by mail as they used to do when their frank would pass anything through the mails, it might be necessary to buy larger scales than were in use in those days, but happily that kind of business is stopped, and Jim Stewart if he should find it convenient to send a Saratoga from Washington to Nevada, will prefer the express to the post office.

APPROPOS with the resignation of Sickles, the Indianapolis Journal stated that ex-Congressman Samuel Shellabarger, of Ohio, will be appointed Minister to Spain in case of the resignation of General Sickles. On the other hand, the Chicago Times avers that Governor Washburn, defeated candidate for Governor of Wisconsin at the late election, will be the lucky man. According to these arrangements it would seem that a Western contemporary thinks the administration really knows "No North, no South, no East!"—no nothing but the West—in making its foreign appointments.

Honor Among Thieves.

New York papers assert that if Tweed were to tell what he knows, the reputation of many of the leading men who have occupied high positions in the State of New York for years, would fall to the ground. The old thief is chewing the bitter cud of reflection behind the prison bars, and keeping quiet now, but if partners in crime who are yet free from the clutches of the law do not find some means of shortening his term of imprisonment, the hardened sinner will conclude that even the principle of honor among thieves does not require him to longer hold his tongue, and such revelations will be made as will astonish the world. It is doubtful though whether the occasion for such a confession will ever arrive. Oakes Ames saved himself from expulsion by holding that fearful memorandum book of his over the heads of his fellow members, and Tweed will in like manner burst his prison doors. The honor that obtains among thieves, though it could not save him from conviction, will yet release him from punishment.

Bunker Hill. A little over a year more, and the 100th anniversary of the Battle of Bunker Hill will take place. A little band of heroes, then inaugurated a struggle, which brought untold results. It is very fitting that their deeds should be commemorated. The nation at large is very justly arranging for a celebration on an extensive scale, of the centennial anniversary of this event. This will instill patriotic impulse into the souls of those of the coming generations, and prepare them for the struggles, which they, in life, must undergo. Overhanging Los Angeles is a hill similar to Bunker Hill—may, it is larger. From it all the city can be seen and the country for miles around. On this hill also, are military marks, the remains of a fort, which was built for the protection of liberty in this State. This hill has an avenue running along its crest, and our friend Beaudry, through whose influence chiefly it has been opened, has very appropriately named it Bunker Hill avenue. The City Surveyor has been ordered to define the grades and lines of Olive, Charity, and Bunker Hill avenue, from Hill to Hope; Second street, and Temple street, from Hill to Hope. This will bring these lands within easy reach of the business part of the city. The distance from the Hill House is less than it is from the Turners Hall.

Mr. Beaudry being the owner, by perfect and indisputable title, offers the following scheme, believing that it supplies a felt want.

He proposes that the lands have been surveyed, and platted in lots of convenient size for residences, upwards of two hundred in number, and the maps, together with abstracts of title, are kept for public inspection at his office, opposite the Pico House.

Any person desiring to purchase can inspect the land, select his lot or lots, and acquire the same, if not previously taken up by another, upon the following terms: Purchasers not being restricted to a single lot.

The purchaser or his successor to pay the price of the lands selected by him, in equal monthly installments, as follows: On lots valued at $400 and upwards, but not to exceed $500, $15 per month; on those valued at $300 and upwards, and less than $400, $10 per month. Payments in gold or currency, and no interest demanded. For cash in hand a reduction of fifteen per cent. will be made.

The purchaser to have immediate possession upon payment of the first installment and on execution and delivery of contract.

The right of the purchasers may be assigned to him, and his assigns to succeed to all his privileges and liabilities; standing in all respects towards the vendor as an original obligor. Purchasers shall not be restricted to the payment of the installments as above shown, but may make payments in advance, and on all such payments he will allow one per cent. per month, from the date of payment until said payment would become due.

Upon selection of a lot or lots by a purchaser, and payment of the first installment of five dollars, in U. S. gold coin, as expenses on the document, Mr. Beaudry with the purchaser, will execute and acknowledge a sealed agreement, embodying the above conditions; and, upon full payment, according thereto, the undersigned will execute and deliver to the purchaser, or his lawful representatives, on demand, a good and sufficient and absolute deed of conveyance of the contracted lands, in form of warranty against grantor, the grantee paying the cost of such deed.

The location is very desirable. All that has heretofore been lacking is water, and that want is now fulfilled. Anywhere else, in an desirable location, lots readily command from $500 to $1,000, and at higher rates. This property is put at the astonishing low price of from $300 to $400. But this is not all. This may be paid in currency and a reduction of fifteen per cent will be made for cash in hand.
