

NEWS OF THE DAY.

"To show the very age and body of the times."

The City Council of Charleston, South Carolina, with a view to assist in rebuilding the destroyed portions of that city, proposes to issue city bonds, bearing interest at seven per cent., to all who wish to rebuild; the eventual repayment of the city loan to be secured by bond and mortgage on the property. The terms are very liberal, and offer great inducements to property holders.

In North-West Mississippi an officer of the Freedmen's Bureau reports that the planters heartily co-operate with the agents of the Bureau, and treat the latter with courtesy and respect. The negroes there are doing quite well, but not so well as was expected. The cotton crop in that section will be limited, in consequence of bad weather and the scarcity of labor.

Two young men named Singleton and Thornton, had a difficulty in Versailles, Woodford County, Ky., last Wednesday. Singleton slapped Thornton in the face. They separated, armed themselves, and soon after met again and commenced firing at each other. Thornton received a flesh wound, and Singleton got a ball in the breast and lies in a critical condition.

From Texas it is reported that the crops are unusually good; but that owing to the disorganized labor system, it will require to gather the crop in good condition a much larger number of hands than can be obtained. On the Brazos the cotton crop was a very fine one, but on the Trinity it was nearly all drowned out by the floods.

Nine cases of cholera occurred at New York yesterday; but the only deaths were in some of the public institutions, and were not reported. At Brooklyn fourteen fresh cases and four deaths were recorded. Thirty-one deaths by cholera occurred at Cincinnati on Wednesday, and forty two new cases were announced.

Gen. Lee is said to be much bored by invitations from the proprietors of Northern watering places, asking him to spend the Summer at their establishments free of cost. This is a new advertising dodge.

A prisoner in the custody of a policeman from Syracuse, in the 1.05 train east from Rochester, yesterday morning jumped from the car window, near Warner's Station, and was killed.

It is not often that a convention assembles like one that recently assembled in London, "A mass meeting of London Thieves."

The Columbian Hotel at Saratoga was destroyed by fire on Tuesday evening last.

LATEST FROM EUROPE.

ARRIVAL OF THE STEAMER JAV.

By the arrival at New York of the steamer Java, we have advices from Europe to the 29th ult. The excitement growing out of the riots in London had materially subsided. The Reform League had called another meeting to be held in Hyde Park on the 30th, and alleged that the consent of the Government had been obtained. This, however, the Government promptly denied, and warned the League against holding the proposed meeting at the Park. The League officers then admitted that they had been mistaken and resolved to hold the meeting at Agricultural Hall, Islington. The Government had no objection to a meeting being held at Primrose Hill, a fine open commons on the suburbs of London, but would not allow the Royal Parks to be used until it was legally decided that the people had a right to assemble there for political purposes.

After the expiration of the truce in Germany a four weeks armistice was agreed upon. Peace preliminaries had been signed and had been sent to Vienna for ratification. The Bavarians had been defeated by the Prussians near Wurzburg, but subsequently the latter were repulsed in an attack on Wurzburg with a loss of sixteen pieces of artillery. The following is given as the basis of the arrangement by which the armistice has been prolonged: The territorial integrity of Austria will be maintained, except Venetia; Austria accepts the formation of a Northern Confederation under Prussia; Saxony and the Southern States will preserve their territories and be free to group themselves according to their pleasure; Austria pays Prussia an indemnity of 75,000,000 francs; Schleswig is to be added to Prussia. The Italian papers announce that the negotiations have led to a result which has satisfied the dignity and interest of Italy. France has recognized the right of the people of Venetia to dispose of their own destiny.

BREACH-LOADERS.—In the British Parliament, on the 23d, Gen. Peel moved a supplementary army estimate of £245,000 for the conversion of muzzle-loading small arms into breech-loaders, and stated that by the 1st of April next there would be 200,000 converted Enfield for a sum of £145,000, the remainder of the sum being applicable to a supply of the special ammunition required for breech-loaders. After a brisk discussion the motion was agreed to.

Despite the disaster at Konigsgratz, Austrians say that their rifle is far better than the Prussian needle gun. And the Bavarians assert that their Podewitz's musket is much superior to the Prussian arm. Its excellence was shown at Kissingen. An officer who was there in the fight writes:

I confess that I prefer our muskets to the Prussian. The needle gun has only one advantage—quickness of firing. Usually this advantage is not so very important, because of the many bullets flying about comparatively few hit. At first, it is true, the tremendous shower of balls surprises, but one soon gets accustomed to it; and the Prussians will most certainly, as soon as our troops have acquired the necessary experience in presence of such fire, learn bitter lessons.

Several other persons confirm this testimony. Indeed, the advantage of a good rifle in the hands of those who can use it and take steady aim, is shown by the sturdy resistance the Bavarian Jagers made against the Prussians, and the difficulty the latter had in forcing them to retreat. A great advantage, not sufficiently dwelt upon, on the Prussian side is, that the men go into action without their knapsacks, etc., while the Austrians fight in heavy marching order.

SUDDEN DEATH.—The Rev. Overton Bernard was found dead on the floor of his room last night, between 11 and 12 o'clock. He lived on the Tarrant farm, about two miles from Norfolk. It appears that in the evening he had eaten watermelon and afterwards complained of feeling badly. He took some medicine and retired.

Mr. Bernard was a minister of the Methodist Episcopal Church, and for some years had been an officer in the Bank of Virginia, in Portsmouth. He was about seventy.—Norfolk Day Book, Monday Evening.

DISARMING NEGROES.—The blacks of New Orleans are being generally disarmed, it is said.

"Why were they allowed to arm themselves in the first instance?" Have the blacks about Richmond been disarmed? This is a duty the authorities owe to our citizens.

It is no fault of the Southern people that the negroes have got themselves into difficulties in various places in the South, by meddling with arms, and by their parades and processions. We all anticipated the results precisely as they have fallen out, and appealed to the authorities to check them in these offensive demonstrations in which they were instigated by low white radical emissaries. Our appeals were unheeded. They were allowed to go on doing as they pleased until rioting has become the order of the day.

It is cruel thus to trifle with the negroes—cruel to both them and the whites. Why delude them with the idea that they may do as they please, when in the end it costs them their lives—and costs the lives of white citizens and soldiers. Better stop them in the beginning, when it costs nothing. The old adage, "an ounce of prevention is worth a pound of cure," an ounce of prevention is worth a pound of cure," can only be consulted with advantage by our legal military authorities.

We hope the tragical fate that befell the white incendiaries at New Orleans, who instigated the negro riots, will be a warning to all such infamous characters everywhere. So surely as they provoke disturbances, so surely will they get their reward. They are greatly more to blame than the ignorant creatures they delude and mislead.—Rich. Whig.

CHOLERA

NEW YORK AND BROOKLYN.

New York, August 8.—Nine new cases of cholera were reported to-day, but no deaths except in the public institutions.

Fourteen cases and four deaths were reported in Brooklyn to-day.

ST. LOUIS.

St. Louis, August 8.—Some twenty cases of cholera were reported at the Board of Health since yesterday, mainly persons from the South. The general sanitary condition of the city is unusually good, and no serious apprehension is felt of the disease becoming epidemic.

CINCINNATI

Cincinnati, August 8.—There were thirty-one deaths by cholera yesterday and forty-two new cases.

COMPENSATION TO LOYAL OWNERS OF SLAVES.—Congress, at its late session, made provision in the miscellaneous appropriation bill to carry out the 24th section of the enrollment act of March 3d, 1863, which provided that all loyal owners of slaves existing in the service of the United States should be paid a sum not exceeding $300 for each slave so enlisted, and the fund derived from commutation money for drafted men was especially set apart for this purpose. Up to the present time the Secretary of War has taken no steps to carry the act into effect. Since its reenactment it is understood that he will soon appoint the commissioners authorized by the law to examine the claims, and there is a fair prospect now for the owners to get the money, which a republican Congressman said, more than three years ago, they were entitled to. There are hundreds of such claims in Delaware, Maryland, Kentucky and Missouri, and they ought to have been paid long ago.—N. Y. Express.

TORNADO IN LOUISA.—Persons from Louisa county represent that, on Friday last, a most terrific tornado passed over that section of the State, doing much damage to the growing crops, besides tearing up trees, blowing down fences, &c. Whole fields of corn were completely rooted up and the stalks scattered for some distance about the woods. Accompanying the gale was a deluging rain, which, in an incredibly short time, overflowed streams and washed away some of the bridges. The force of the rain was so violent, we learn, that about fifty yards of a new-made corduroy road was completely washed down the slope of the road which it was designed to protect.

Near Keysville, in Mecklenburg county, a very heavy hail storm occurred, and our informant says, for four miles not a leaf of tobacco or blade of corn escaped uninjured.—Rich. Times.

The has been a great deal of speculation in Washington, as to the probable selection for presiding officer of the Philadelphia Convention. It is now reduced to almost a certainty that the selection will be made from the following: Hon. Thomas Ewing, of Ohio, General Dix, of New York, or Judge Curtis, of Mass.

By the terms of an order from the War Department, the Provost Marshal General's bureau is to be abolished on the 25th instant, and the business thereof handed over to the Adjutant General's office, in accordance with a law passed at the last session of Congress.

Twenty-nine deaths by cholera, principally among negroes, were reported at New Orleans last week.
