RADICAL CONVENTION—NO NOMINATION FOR DELEGATE TO THE STATE CONVENTION.—STORMY SESSION.—The executive committee of the Radical party of the four wards of the city and the county district, met in convention last night, in the colored school house on Wolfe, between Royal and Pitt streets, known as Sloughby's School House, its permanent President, L. D. Harmon, white, in the Chair, and R. D. Beckley, colored, Secretary.

The President, on assuming the chair, stated that as he considered it always proper to open the proceedings of deliberative assemblies by invoking the aid of Divine assistance, he would call upon the Rev. Robert Jenkins for a prayer. Robert Jenkins, a colored preacher, having, in response to this invitation, besought the blessing of the Almighty upon all the purposes and plans of the Radical party, and its immediate Congress, R. C. Armstrong, white, offered the following resolution;

Resolved, That each person whose name is offered before the Convention as a candidate for the Constitutional Convention shall be pledged by its friends to abide by the action of this Convention when ratified by the majority of the Magisterial Districts:

And urged its adoption in a speech in which he severely denounced the course of John Hawxhurst, white, "to circumvent those trickery" he stated was the object of the resolution, for, said the speaker, "if John Hawxhurst receives the nomination of this convention its members will in his estimation rank higher than the archangels, but should he be rejected of which there is no doubt, he will not abide by its decision, but endeavor by means of a Mass Convention, which he could pack, to secure another nomination and thus distract the party and render probable the success of the Democracy, to defeat which and its faithful ally, the military, was the main purpose of the Radical Republican" party. Considerable discussion here ensued between C. W. DeWitt, J. T. Burnett and R. C. Armstrong, white, and R. D. Beckley, colored, upon the question of the proper powers of the general executive committee, and from whence those powers were derived; and as some members did not comprehend R. C. Armstrong's resolution its proposer was requested to commit it to writing and have it read by the Secretary. While Mr. Armstrong was complying with this request, R. D. Beckley, colored, arose and stated that he pronounced the rumor prevalent that he, Beckley, had said that he did not want any Northern man to represent Alexandria in the proposed State Constitutional Convention, a malicious lie concocted by an enemy to do him harm. The resolution having been prepared and read, W. W. White, white, to avoid the confusion that was likely to ensue from the different action of the five Magisterial Districts, moved to amend, by striking out "majority of the Magisterial Districts," and inserting "Mass meeting."

This amendment being opposed by R. C. Armstrong, C. W. DeWitt, white, in a speech in which he said that though he favored the claims of John Hawxhurst, he was no man's man, but belonged solely and entirely to C. W. DeWitt—poor but not proud—supported the adoption of an amendment to the amendment that the action of the Convention should be first referred to the Wards, and subsequently to a Mass Meeting.

During his speech he was interrupted by R. D. Beckley, colored, and in response to a question asked by the latter, if he, DeWitt, had not said during the day just closing, that he would not vote for Hawxhurst, stated that he had never even imagined such a thing, and the man who said he had heard him say so, had more ears behind than before him.

There then being no probability of an election, after the rejection of a resolution introduced by R. C. Armstrong, white, that the different Magisterial districts reappoint the number of the executive committee according to representation, allowing one member for every one hundred voters in each district, a motion to adjourn, to re-assemble next Wednesday night, at the same time and place, was put and carried.

POTOMAC TRANSPORTATION COMPANY.—The committee appointed at a recent meeting of the Potomac Transportation Company to confer with the business men of Washington and solicit stock subscriptions to the same have reported a success. It is stated that already there is enough money in the hands of the treasurer to purchase two steamers, and it was decided at a recent meeting of the committee that forty per cent. of the capital stock required ($200,000) would be sufficient to carry out the project. A meeting of the subscribers will be held in a few days, and the company will permanently organize.

THE CHESAPEAKE AND OHIO CANAL COMPANY.—The new Board of Directors of the Chesapeake and Ohio Canal Company were in session in Washington, on Thursday afternoon and yesterday morning. The sessions have been held with closed doors, and the business transacted has not yet been made public. It is understood that the new Board is a unit as to the projects suggested for the improvement of the canal. The official management is also understood to be acceptable to the majority of the Board. No changes of officers have as yet been decided upon.

RETURN OF THE MAYOR.—Mayor Latham, returned from his visit to the North, last night, and this morning held his court as usual.

SERENADING PARTY.—Cooks' Band, from Washington, was in this city last night, having been engaged by a serenading party.

POLICE REPORT.—MAYOR'S OFFICE.—Two boys, for stealing money, were discharged after having received a severe admonition.

MAGISTRATES' OFFICE.—Frank Turner, colored, for stealing iron from the junk store of Julian Driford, and offering the same for sale at the store from which it had been stolen, was arrested this morning by officers Aubinoe and Sipple, and committed to jail to await a further examination to be held next Tuesday.

CHOICE SUGAR-CURED HAMS, just received and for sale by HARRIE BOUGH, cor. Pitt and Prince streets.

motion to adjourn was, after considerable debate put and lost.

Larkin Patton then addressed the Convention in favor of its action being referred to the different clubs for ratification.

The amendment to the amendment was then voted upon and carried, but some of the members, among whom was Robert Williams, colored, having voted without understanding the question, a reconsideration was effected, and R. C. Armstrong having put his resolution in a different form, it was adopted. W. W. White guaranteeing that John Hawxhurst would abide by the decision of the Convention, which guarantee C. W. DeWitt was unwilling to make.

Robert Williams, colored, then attempted to address the Convention, asserting that R. C. Armstrong voted not only to rule the Convention, but also, in his opinion, desired to rule the whole city, but was called to order, as his remarks were too personal. The whole discussion was then brought to a sudden termination by J. T. Burnett, white, on whose motion the resolutions and amendments were laid upon the table.

I. C. O'Neal, white, then moved that nominations for a candidate to represent Alexandria county in the State Constitutional Convention be in order. The motion was carried, but a suggestion from J. Millard, white, that an informal ballot be proceeded with was not favorably received.

On motion the chair appointed three tellers, I. C. O'Neal, J. Millard, and W. W. White, white, to supervise the election, which was conducted by calling the roll of the members present, and placing opposite the name of each the name of the candidate voted for.

R. D. Beckley, colored, nominated Lewis McKenzie; C. W. DeWitt, white, nominated John Hawxhurst; I. C. O'Neal, white, nominated Charles Whittlesey; J. W. Bryant, colored, nominated Lysander Hill, white, who, however, declined being a candidate upon the ground of having other business more important on hand.

I. C. O'Neal, white, then read the following letter:

ALEXANDRIA, September 27th, 1867.

To the Republican Nominating Convention for the city and county of Alexandria:

GENTLEMEN: Understanding that I have been spoken of as a candidate for nomination to the Constitutional Convention, I desire respectfully to request that my name may not be used in that Convention, as I should feel compelled to decline the nomination.

The duties of that Convention will be very responsible; the liberties, well-being and prosperity of all the people will be greatly influenced by its action. The forming of the organic law of a great State, should be committed to the truest, best and wisest men of the Commonwealth.

Hoping that you may select as your nominee, a man who is true to the great principles of a man, honest enough to stand by his faith, and wise enough to frame a bill of rights for this people that will bear the test of coming events, the scrutiny of the broad light now dawning, as well as the perils now threatening, and that your proceedings may be characterized by such harmony as can alone secure success, I remain Gentlemen, your obedient servant.

H. H. WELLS.

The voting then commenced, and the first calling of the roll resulted as follows:

For Hawxhurst—W. W. White, (white), Robt. Jenkins, (colored) J. Thomas, (colored) C. W. DeWitt, (white) J. T. Burnett, (white) A. White, (colored) Thomas Carroll, (colored) Henry Marshall, (colored) G. S. Lumpkin, (colored) R. P. Thomson, (colored) R. H. Lyles, (colored) Robt. Williams, (colored) A. Syphax, (colored) G. W. Jackson, (colored) and W. A. Rowe, (colored)—15.

For McKenzie—Geo. C. Hewes, (white) Edward Evans, (colored) Geo. Creveling, (white) H. Malden, (colored) Larkin Patton, (white) R. D. Beckley, (colored) R. C. Armstrong, (white) J. W. Bryant, (colored) Geo. Seaton, (colored) Thornton Hoyle, (colored) Richard Miles, (colored) Lewis Murphy, (colored) Wade Thornton, (colored)—13.

For Whittlesey—L. D. Harmon, (white) I. C. O'Neal, (white) John Moore, (white) Josiah Millard, (white) and Lysander Hill, (white)—5.

A majority of the thirty-three—the number of delegates present—being required for an election, there was no nomination, and on the conclusion of another ballot, the result was: For Hawxhurst, 14; for McKenzie, 15; for Whittlesey, 4—no choice.

The third ballot resulted as follows:

For Hawxhurst—W. W. White, Jenkins, Thomas, DeWitt, A. White, Carroll, Marshall, Lumpkin, Thomson, Lyles, Williams, Syphax, Jackson and Rowe—14.

For McKenzie—Hewes, Evans, Creveling, Harmon, Malden, Patton, Beckley, Armstrong, Bryant, Seaton, Haggitt, Miles, Murphy, and Thornton—14.

For Whittlesey—Burnett, O'Neal, Moore, Millard, and Hill—5. No nomination.

R. D. Beckley, colored, moved that the name of the candidate having the lowest number of votes be dropped, but Lysander Hill, white, stating that he did not suppose the majority had as yet determined to ignore all the rights of the minority, the motion was lost.

There then being no probability of an election, after the rejection of a resolution introduced by R. C. Armstrong, white, that the different Magisterial districts reappoint the number of the executive committee according to representation, allowing one member for every one hundred voters in each district, a motion to adjourn, to re-assemble next Wednesday night, at the same time and place, was put and carried.

It is understood that the new Board is a unit as to the projects suggested for the improvement of the canal. The official management is also understood to be acceptable to the majority of the Board. Dogs.—Many more dogs, it is believed, inhabit a single ward, than are assessed in the entire city. The mid-night air is vocal with their howlings, diversified by an occasional canine "riot," in which curs of all degrees participate, and where no policeman has access to "riotous conduct." It is truly hoped that "the days" of the many canines that infest this city, and roam the streets, seeking a precarious living, may be few. The multitude in some parts of the city is astonishing. A few nights since, the writer, while wending his way homeward, suddenly found himself in the midst of, though not a participant, in a "dog riot," and only saved his person from injury by a rapid flight from the scene, the pack at his heels fighting in a manner that recalled stories of early settlers chased by wolves.—Invalids and persons who are ill, and those who are so constituted as to require comparative quiet to induce sleep, are often kept awake for hours by the yelping, howling, barking, growling, singly, in duet, quartette and grand chorus of dogs! Without quarrels, at least, so far as the assessors' books show, they are a nuisance that should be abated. It is proposed by some citizens to go hunting of nights in the streets, with shot guns, and thus reduce the number. The plan has its merits and dangers also.—Others propose the free use of strychnine, a plan not much less dangerous than shooting. The man who would propose a feasible and certain scheme to rid our city of its superabundant curs, should be hailed as benefactor, and would be justly entitled to the public gratitude.

"THE NATIVE VIRGINIAN."—The Orange Examiner is to be enlarged and its name changed to The Native Virginian, with Dr. G. W. Bagby as editor, who promises to make it a popular and humorous sheet, different from country papers generally. Among other attractions contained in the prospectus is a "History of the War" by Mozis Addemus, to be followed by the "Morrill and Fizkykal Jogley v. Virginyer," by the same author. "John M. Daniel's Latch-key," an original sketch of the remarkable man who first edited the Examiner, will appear in The Native Virginian. Dr. Bagby is now in the city, and will receive subscriptions and advertisements for his paper at the Mansion House. Our citizens should give him all the encouragement they can, as his paper represents a fertile section which trades largely with Alexandria.

ALEXANDRIA, LOUDOUN AND HAMPSHIRE RAILROAD.—Messrs. Lewis McKenzie and Reuben Johnston, returned from Richmond yesterday, having on the day before, in that city, completed the arrangements with the Board of Public Works, for the transfer of the State's interest in the Alexandria, Loudoun and Hampshire Railroad to the Company owning that road for $50,000. Payments will be made in instalments as the road progresses to completion. The sale was made in accordance with an act of the last Legislature authorizing the sale of the State's interest in all internal improvements.

STOLEN HORSES RECOVERED.—On Thursday evening last, in Washington, Mr. J. J. Knoxvile, of Dumfries, Va., owner of two valuable horses seized by Detectives Allen and Kirby, at the stables of Messrs. Hutchesin & Boyd, identified the horses as his property, and they were delivered over to him. He stated that they were stolen from his pastures by a colored man who has recently served out a term in the Prince William county jail.

THE MARKET, this morning, was tolerably well supplied with country produce, and a number of market carts were ranged along Royal street, and in Market alley. The prices of vegetables and fruits are the same as quoted last Saturday. There is a tendency to a decline in butchers' meats—veal 15 cts.; beef 20 cts., &c.; butter (fresh) 35 to 40 cts. per pound; eggs 20 cts. per dozen. The supply of fresh fish was not large.

THE REGATTA.—The regatta will take place, if there is favorable weather, on Tuesday next. Eight boats have already been entered, and it is expected that there will be at least three more. Those entered are the Grayhound, by Dr. Roekenberg; Augusta, by Mr. Teppard; Mionie Clark, Captain Laffory; Brunette, by Mr. Vernon; Kate, by Captain Miller; Geo. Harrison, —; Robert E. Lee, —; and Perseverance, Captain Miller.

ELECTION OF OFFICERS.—The following young gentlemen were, yesterday evening, elected officers of the Demosthenic Society of St. John's Academy, for the ensuing quarter, viz: Thos. G. Brent, President; J. Marriott Hill and John D. Harrison, Vice Presidents; Richard Collins, Secretary; Willie L. Allen and Solomon Genzberger, Assistant Secretaries; Alban T. Will, Treasurer.

PERSONAL.—Colonel Morton Myrre, the gallant commander of the 17th Virginia regiment, who lost his leg at the second battle of Manassas, was in this city today, looking as "gay and happy" as he did when he used to have charge of the pickets at Munson's Hill.

REMOVED FROM OFFICE.—P. A. Breen, for a short time past a resident of this city, who introduced, at a Radical meeting here, two or three weeks since, a set of anti-Administration resolutions, was yesterday removed from the office he held in the U. S. War Department.

UNFOUNDED REPORT.—It is stated on what is considered reliable authority, that the rumor prevalent that the Rev. W. E. Munsey will not return to this city, is without justifiable foundation.

RETURN OF THE MAYOR.—Mayor Latham, returned from his visit to the North, last night, and this morning held his court as usual.

SERENADING PARTY.—Cooks' Band, from Washington, was in this city last night, having been engaged by a serenading party.

POLICE REPORT.—MAYOR'S OFFICE.—Two boys, for stealing money, were discharged after having received a severe admonition.

MAGISTRATES' OFFICE.—Frank Turner, colored, for stealing iron from the junk store of Julian Driford, and offering the same for sale at the store from which it had been stolen, was arrested this morning by officers Aubinoe and Sipple, and committed to jail to await a further examination to be held next Tuesday.
