

ALEXANDRIA. MONDAY EVENING, SEPTEMBER 30.

The Washington Chronicle says: "General Grant has recently received a number of anonymous communications from different sections of the country warning him that his recent bold avowals of support of the Congressional policy of reconstruction, endanger his personal safety. The writers state that Wilkes Booths are to be found in the South to-day as well as immediately after the close of the war, and implore the general to be careful how he appears in public gatherings, and to take every precaution against assassination." This, of course, is all "sensational."

The Department of Agriculture furnishes statistics of the crops up to the latest advice. The returns from the different States of the yield of wheat, whilst they indicate in some sections a smaller product than was anticipated, show at the same time a large increase as compared with the previous year. The corn crop it is thought does not promise so well, generally, but if frosts holds off it is believed that the general crop will be a fair one. The cotton crop has experienced serious damage.

The "Radical Convention," composed of white and colored men, held at Brentsville, nominated J. P. Baldwin as the Radical candidate for the county, for the Convention. The meeting was addressed by L. H. Chandler, of Norfolk; R. D. Beckley, of Alexandria; John Hawkhurst, of Alexandria, and others; and letters were read from Major M. S. Hopkins and Geo. Tucker.

The New York Times suggests that the committee having General Sheridan in charge in New York "strictly prohibit people from placing him or their shoulders and carrying him through the streets, as was done in Baltimore on Wednesday." It adds: "There can be no doubt that it was very disgusting and mortifying to Gen. S. to be treated in this way."

The doctors disagree as to the nature of the disease on board the steamship Minnesota, at quarantine, below New York. Some think it is cholera, others an aggravated typhoid, and others the black typhus or blue disease which lately appeared in Ireland, and created so much alarm. The well passengers in the Minnesota have been allowed to pass quarantine.

Judge Blatchford, of the U. S. Court for the Southern District of the State of New York, has delivered an exhaustive and important opinion on the subject of enlisting minors, in which he decides that the only power to discharge minors enlisted as soldiers, is vested in the Secretary of War.

The Richmond Whig says: "We heard a merchant say Saturday, who is a heavy creditor of a country merchant who has taken the bankrupt law, that if he had only known that he kept a buggy and a pair of fast horses, a double barrel gun and a pointer dog, he never would have got his goods without the cash."

There begins to be more talk about "Impachment," than there was a month ago. The "leaders," it is thought, want to throw out a new card, in the game they have on hand.

Jenny Lind (Madame Goldschmidt) is now singing in London, but she is said to be failing in her voice, and to have lost much of the attraction of her younger days.

Gen. Schofield still continues quite sick with fever, contracted at Old Point.

STERLING'S SOUTHERN SCHOOL BOOKS.—We have had an opportunity of examining a series of school books, from a primer to the "Fifth Reader," prepared by Mr. Richard Sterling, an accomplished scholar, and an experienced teacher, at Greensboro', N. C. They were first issued during the war, and met with great favor all through the Southern States, but have since been revised, improved, and republished. There is in this whole series, we believe, nothing sectarian or even sectional, but proper care has been taken in the excellent selections for readings, to quote Southern orators and writers, as well as those from the North, and other countries. The plan and arrangement of these books, in the lessons for spelling and reading are admirable; and altogether their merits are so decided, that we cordially recommend them to the attention of our teachers. They have been introduced into most of the schools of the South, already, and are gaining more and more commendation every day. In addition to their merits in other respects, they are handsomely illustrated, and beautifully printed, and substantially bound. Copies of the works can be seen at Mr. Geo. E. French's bookstore, and it is probable that Mr. Sterling himself will wait upon our teachers and show them specimens.

GEN. CHARLES P. STONE, whose case attracted so much attention during the war, has written a letter contradicting a statement that he ever sued for mercy, to Senator Sumner. He says that the only letter or message he ever wrote or sent to Sumner was the following, whilst he was in command of the right flank division of the Army of the Potomac, and to which he never received any reply: "POOLESVILLE, Md., December 23, 1861. Sir, Charles Sumner, U. S. Senate: Hon. Sir: If the National Intelligencer newspaper of the 14th instant, quotes you correctly, you have uttered, on the floor of the Senate, a falsehood and a slander.

Permit me to thank you for the speech in which you use my name. There can be no higher proof, in my opinion, that a soldier in the field is faithfully performing his duty, than the fact that while he is receiving the shot of the public enemy in front, he is receiving the vituperation of a well known coward from a safe distance in the rear. Very respectfully, your obedient servant. CHAS. P. STONE.

NEWS OF THE DAY.

The colored people at Buffalo, New York, have shown a determination to force their children into the public schools in that city, for the education of white children. The City Council having refused to grant permission, they sent their children, nevertheless. The latter were ejected by the Superintendent, who is now threatened with arrest, and a suit at law under the Civil Rights bill.

Two men entered the cars of the Ohio and Marietta railroad at Seymour, Indiana, last night, and making their way to the Adams' Express car, secured the messenger, and robbed the safe of about ten thousand dollars.—The robbers escaped.

The municipal election at Nashville was conducted under the General Franchise law of the State, and passed off without disturbance.—The Radical nominees were elected. Their opponents talk about contesting the matter in the Courts.

A few cases of yellow fever have occurred at Green Point, Long Island, the disease having been communicated from the sick on an Italian bark lying at the wharf there. Three persons have died, but is thought the danger is now over.

The cause of the money panic just passed is still occupying attention at the North. Speculators are always benefited by these temporary convulsions, to the prejudice of the entire community, of commerce, and legitimate dealers.

Gen. Scott's will, just probated, bequeaths all his property to his daughter, the wife of Col. Scott, his Pulaski sword to the West Point Academy, and his sword worn in Mexico to his grand-son Winfield Scott Hoyt.

Judge Wilson, of the Superior Court of Chicago, has rendered a decision adverse to the widow of Stephen A. Douglass, who claims dower in real estate worth $100,000, in the southern part of Chicago.

The North American Steamship Company of San Francisco, is about to enter into vigorous competition with the Pacific Mail Steamship Company for the freight and passenger business via Panama.

Mrs. Fanny Kemble came passenger in the Java, and has gone to Philadelphia to see her children. Her former husband, Pierce Butler, died a few months since in Georgia.

From Charleston we learn that great injury has been done to the crop of Sea Island cotton, partly by the caterpillar and partly by the late rains.

Tar is said to be a speedy cure for the disease now prevailing among hogs. The tar should be mixed with the corn, and thus fed to the hogs.

A cable telegram announces the death of Professor Charles King, in Italy. He was president of Columbia College, in N. York.

Gen. Sterling Price, late of the Confederate army, and for the last six months doing business at St. Louis, Missouri, is dangerously ill. Lieut. Com. Fleming, of the U. S. Navy, died at his residence in Mount Holly, N. J., on the 26th instant.

Several foxes kept in Fredericksburg, as pets, have made their escape, and commenced depredations upon the hen houses.

Capt. Ralph S. Fritz, of California, who recently died, left $20,000 to be applied towards paying off the national debt of the U. S. Admiral Semmes, who tried "newspapering" in Memphis, has quit and withdrawn.

FOREIGN NEWS.—The dispatches by the Atlantic cable from Italy are conflicting. The official announcement asserts that the disorders consequent upon the arrest of Garibaldi have been suppressed, and that the country is tranquil. Other accounts assert the continuance of serious riots in the cities. The Pope has sent a message to Napoleon thanking him for the arrest of Garibaldi. From his prison Garibaldi has issued a letter declaring that the Romans have the right of slaves to rise against their oppressors, and urging his fellow patriots not to be discouraged, but to march on to the liberation of Rome. The Turkish Government having refused to accede to the demands of Russia for a cession of Crete to Greece, and the Emperor is staying, to obtain fresh instructions. Ignatieff has now returned, and declares that his Government insists on the demand formerly made. The Sultan has, however, at length appointed a Commission to inquire into the complaints of the Cretans. The Fenian excitement in England continues, and numerous arrests were being made at Manchester.

THE OLD COLONIAL CHURCH IN NEW KENT. There is a venerable colonial Episcopal church in New Kent county, around which many interesting associations cluster. This church was the scene of the marriage of General George Washington and Martha Custis. In it many of the leading Revolutionary characters worshipped. It is at present so much out of repair that it cannot be used for divine service, and the small congregation is too poor to have it put in order. The surviving members of the vestry in the county of New Kent have, in a written paper, authorized Dr. John Mayo, in his own way and in his own discretion, to proceed where he may choose to make collections or receive contributions to aid in the renovation of the church; the paper, drawn by the surviving vestrymen, has also the recommendation of the leading Episcopal ministers of this city. It is Dr. Mayo's purpose to visit leading cities, with the view of raising the necessary means. Dr. Mayo is universally known in this city and State, and no one, perhaps, could have been selected as well fitted as he to excite an interest in behalf of this interesting relic of colonial times.—Rich. Whig.

VIRGINIA NEWS.

One thousand pounds of manufactured tobacco were detained by the revenue officers at Richmond on Friday. The tobacco belonged to a party of "blockade-runners," and was seized at a point on Deep Run about two miles below Richmond. It has since, it is said been returned to the owners.

The Fredericksburg Herald says: "The Ladies of Spotsylvania have taken Bill Arrp's advice, and are going it strong on the boy crop. A gentleman from the county informs us that within the limited range of his acquaintance, he can name five ladies, all of whom have recently had twins."

At the last county court of King William, the justices appointed one of their number to deliver to Gen. Schofield their complaint of illegal organizations in that county. The negroes although admonished by the agent of the Bureau to disband, have contemptuously disregarded his orders.

A colored man, named Hudson, was killed by Mr. W. G. Taliaferro, in Caroline county, last Thursday. The man was drunk, and very insolent, when he was struck on the head with a billet of wood, and killed. Mr. Taliaferro gave himself up, and was bailed by a magistrate in the sum of $500 for his appearance at Court.

William F. Gordon, Jr., is a candidate for the Convention from the district composed of Louisa, Albemarle and Augusta.

Gov. Peipoint will address the people of Albemarle on their next court day.

THE TRIAL OF JEFFERSON DAVIS.—Mr. L. H. Chandler, U. S. District Attorney for Virginia, is now in this city, as is also Judge Underwood. This fact has given rise to the conjecture that a consultation has been held, or is in contemplation, with the authorities here in respect to the trial of Mr. Davis, which has been set down for the November term of the U. S. Circuit Court at Richmond. With this trial the Administration has nothing whatever to do. It is wholly in the hands of the judiciary. The only point upon which even the Attorney General could be properly consulted would be as to the necessity of employing counsel additional to that already provided by law, and we have heard it nowhere suggested that Mr. Chandler has expressed any distrust of his ability to conduct the prosecution.—Nat. Int.

General Canby, commanding in South Carolina, has issued an order that illegal and oppressive taxes have been imposed in North and South Carolina, and directing their suspension in the following cases: "First, whenever the taxes are imposed otherwise than under the authority of the United States. Second, whenever the taxes impugn the power of Congress to regulate commerce among the States, and discriminate in commercial transactions in favor of resident citizens, and against the citizens of foreign nations and the citizens of other States of the United States. Third, whenever any tax is imposed for the purpose of discharging any obligation in aid of the rebellion, or to reimburse the public treasury or any local or public officer or any person for any expenditure on account of any such pretended obligation."

RADICAL DISTRICT CONVENTION.—The "faithful" of Caroline, Spotsylvania and King George, are called upon to send two delegates from each Magisterial District to meet in Fredericksburg on the 5th of October, to select three candidates for the State Convention.

The call is signed by Charles Williams, Peter Couse and Benj. Peyton, who also announce that Hon. A. G. Riddle and other eminent speakers from Washington will be present.

Large numbers of these advertisements have been sent abroad under the frank of Robert C. Schenck, M. C.—Fredericksburg Herald.

[COMMUNICATED.]

I hope the people of Alexandria and Fairfax will imitate Fauquier and other counties in calling a general Mass Meeting for the purpose of making suitable nominations for the approaching Convention.

It is very distasteful, or will be to me, and many loyal men, to give our votes for such candidates as are now prowling up and down, seeking the unwary colored and new settlers to assist them in making laws to govern us for all time to come. It is a position that will prove a trying ordeal to the most learned, and talented, and a position of honor, trust and dignity, and men who seek to obtain it, by the mode just described, should be proscribed by posterity.

FRIENDSHIP FIRE COMPANY. At a meeting of the above company, held on Wednesday night last, the following preamble and resolutions were unanimously adopted, viz: Whereas, at a regular meeting of the Committee of Public Property and the Fire Wardens of Alexandria recommended an appropriation of $800 to purchase hose for the Hydrant and Sun Companies, thereby ignoring the Friendship, (that being more in need of hose than either of the others) and,

Resolved, That as this company has always tried to do its duty, and by the judgment of the public and property-holders of this city, have succeeded in doing so, though the fact may have escaped the notice of the City Council, therefore,

Resolved, That although the City Council did not appropriate any hose to our company, we are still determined to do our duty, and will do the best we can to help our brother firemen when any occasion arises requiring our services.

Resolved, That as this company has only cost the Corporation of Alexandria since January 1, 1867, to the present time, a very small amount, paying most of its own expenses for repairs, &c., we feel that we have been treated unjustly and harshly by the City Council.

Resolved, That we shall always hold in appreciative remembrance the Committee on Public Property, and more particularly the Fire Wardens, for their generous and questioning kindness, on all occasions, so far as keeping us well supplied with hose and other proper equipments is concerned.

Resolved, That a trial of the engine be had on Monday afternoon next, at 4 o'clock, to let the property-holders of the city see for themselves our eminent ability to cope with fire, so far as engine, hose and other like appurtenances are concerned.

Resolved, That the above be published in the Alexandria Gazette and State Journal.
