

THE GAZETTE.

FRIDAY EVENING, APRIL 3.

The political excitement over the approaching vote on the Constitution has become intense throughout North Carolina.

In the New York House of Assembly at Albany yesterday, Mr. Glenn, one of the Delegates, made stirring charges of corruption in the Legislature in regard to the recent vote on the Erie Railroad bill.

The commercial exchange of Philadelphia has passed a series of resolutions in reference to the proposition supposed to be entertained by Congress for the taxation of flour and bread-stuffs.

The immigration convention in Mississippi has resolved to form a stock company to purchase, lease, and improve lands and borrow money to stimulate immigration to the State.

There were 31 American mercantile sea-going craft and 19 foreigners (bound to or from United States ports) reported during the past month as either totally lost or missing.

Idlewild, the famed country residence of the late N. P. Willis, is now occupied as a boarding school for young ladies.

It is stated that the constitution of Arkansas has been carried by a majority of 1,649.
