

NEWS OF THE DAY.

"To show the very age and body of the Times."

The new Tax bill in addition to reducing the tax on whiskey sixty cts. per gallon, proposes to make the tax on snuff and tobacco thirty-two cts. per pound, and on cigars as it is at present; and to tax banks and bankers one-twelfth of one per cent. each month on the average amounts of their deposits, one twenty-fourth per cent. each month on their capital beyond the average amount invested in U. S. bonds, one sixth of one per cent. each month on the average amount of circulation, and three per cent. on Government deposits.

A mutual understanding was had between the counsel representing the respective interests of Mr. Edward A. Pollard and his wife, Natalie A. E. Pollard, with reference to the complaint filed by the former charging that lady with threatening to shoot him, before Justice Cornwall, in Brooklyn, on Saturday afternoon. Mrs. Pollard entered into bonds in her own recognizance to preserve the peace by not interfering with Mr. Pollard. Both parties were present in court.

Among the nominations sent to the Senate yesterday were W. M. Farris, of New York, to be Attorney General; Edward C. Johnson (son of Rev. Dr. Johnson), to be Assistant Secretary of the American Legation at London, and Gen. Milford, to be Collector of Internal Revenue at Richmond.

Gen. Emory, in command of the Department of Washington, has issued a circular permitting all troops in the Department to wear straw hats and blouses of the army pattern when off of duty, and when upon all duty except reviews, inspections, dress parades and guard mounting.

The Commissioner of the Freedmen's Bureau has issued an order assigning the following named persons to duty as Superintendents of Education in Maryland: Thaddeus Washington and Cephas Davis, at Budd's Ferry, Charles county; A. T. Johns, at Nanjemoy Stores Charles county.

One of the inmates of the Orphan Girls' Home at New Centre, Massachusetts, is suspected of having set the fire which caused the destruction of that establishment on Sunday afternoon, 14th inst. She is about ten years of age, and is said not to be of sound mind.

The election in Mississippi began yesterday. A vote will be taken on the constitution framed by the late convention, and State officers are to be chosen in case of its adoption.

The new iron steamship Fanita, which sailed from Philadelphia on the 6th instant for Havana, has not been heard from, and it is feared she has been lost.

Alexander H. Stephens and Herschel V. Johnson are mentioned as among the delegates from Georgia to the Democratic National Convention.

Lyon's distillery, with 300 barrels of whiskey, and Weaver's rectifying house have been seized by the Internal Revenue officials in Philadelphia.

A commission to investigate and report upon all claims against the War Department has been ordered to assemble at Washington.

A life-boat, designed to cross the Atlantic, capsized yesterday near Chicago, on her trial trip, and two persons were drowned.

A London banker named George W. Belding, of the firm of Belding, Keith & Co., London, committed suicide in New York, on Sunday.

Several persons have been fined and imprisoned in Boston for illicit distilling.

The Indians are still committing outrages in the West.

Two men were stabbed, one fatally, in Philadelphia yesterday.

Market Gardens in Virginia.

The Norfolk Virginian, in an interesting article on the subject, says that the impression that truck can only be produced early, in the immediate vicinity of Norfolk, is entirely incorrect, and that large shipments are now being made from Burwell's Bay, Chip Oaks, and Hog Island.

Three years ago the farm at Rook wharf, known as Boykin's, was purchased by a gentleman from New Jersey, who has had made it one of the model truck farms in our State. This farm is some four or five hundred acres in extent, and at this time there is not a spot of surface which is destitute of vegetation. Its owner has sent, and is still sending his products to market direct, by the New York and Richmond steamers, which call at his wharf every trip going and coming.

At Hog Island a citizen of Petersburg is engaged in the business on a large scale. He has under cultivation about 1,000 acres, upon which, besides large quantities of all kinds of vegetables, are 4,000 peach and 3,000 apple trees, and he keeps a small steamer employed to carry his various commodities to the Rook wharf and elsewhere for shipment. He has also fine cattle pastures and hog ranges, and in a short time expects to furnish Richmond and Norfolk with butter and beef in large quantities.

The James, from "Day's Point" to Hog Island, makes a deep indentation in the Isle of Wight shores, forming what is called Burwell's Bay; here the river is ten miles broad, and surrounded by its range of hills, like an amphitheatre. It forms one of the most beautiful sheets of water on which the eye ever rested.

Here fish, oysters and crabs are abundant, and add not the least part to the revenue of the wide-awake truck farmer.

The soil in this section of the country, from the river five miles inland, is admirably adapted for trucking, the lands are quick, and will mature fruit and vegetables of as fine quality and as early as any other spot on the globe in the same latitude.

But, after all, a comparatively small population yet covers its unappropriated wastes; dark, melancholy woods, the oak, the hickory, the poplar, the pine and the gum, yet raise their gigantic heads aloft, and in such profusion do they grow that now, after two centuries of laborious industry in felling them, the spaces cleared appear but as spots amid the immensity of the primal forest; deer and the wild turkey are abundant, the bark of the squirrel is heard, and the leaves rustle at the rabbit's tread.

CASE OF SURRETT.—The Court has directed that during the trial of Surratt, to commence on Monday, in addition to the officers of the court, persons belonging to the following classes may be admitted within the bar, and none others; 1st, members of Congress; 2d, such officers of the executive departments as shall have been furnished with tickets of admission by one of the justices of this court; 3d, the Mayors and members of the Council and Boards of Georgetown, respectively, of Washington and Georgetown, and the judge of the Orphans' Court of Washington county; 4th, such persons connected with the public press as shall have desks assigned them by the Marshal for the purpose of reporting the proceedings of the court; 5th, members of the grand and petit juries in attendance and in actual service at the present time; 6th, strangers, (not residents of this District) to whom tickets of admission may have been issued by some one of the justices of the court.

VIRGINIA NEWS.

Mr. W. P. Davis, living two or three miles south of Petersburg, had an incursion made on his fowls a day or two ago by a band of foxes. They destroyed ninety-three turkeys. Previous to this Mr. Davis had suffered deprivations of the same sort from rats; and being unable to take revenge on the foxes, he determined to make an onslaught on these vermin. With the aid of his laborers on the farm he succeeded in killing 224.

The Radicals in Hanover have nominated Ira Ayer and Gen. Wickham as their candidates for the House of Delegates. "It is said" the majority of the "colored voters" are not pleased, as both the nominees refused to be placed on a ticket with Burwell Toler, colored. "O Gen. Wickham, Gen. Wickham O!"

The blacks in Chesterfield were somewhat surprised yesterday by the arrival of Capt. Leveant, of the Twenty-first U. S. regulars, with a company of twenty-five men, who proceeded to arrest the ring-leaders in the late disturbance at Worham's store.

A gas explosion took place in Richmond yesterday, at the office of the American telegraph company, by which three men employed in arranging the apparatus for a new light, were severely burned.

Two men have been arrested in Richmond, for defrauding several merchants by means of forged notes &c. One of them had formerly been in the penitentiary.

Mr. J. P. Cowardin of the Richmond Dispatch has been delivering his lecture on the Humors of Reconstruction, very acceptably, in several places, recently.

Foreign News.

Dispatches from Belgrade announce that on Saturday last Prince Milan, Fourth, was publicly proclaimed as ruler of Servia.

Rumors from Rome say that E. C. Cushman, U. S. Consul in that city, has been recalled by his Government.

A meeting was called by the Liberals in London last night at Guild Hall, to consider the Irish Church question. The hall was crowded. The Lord Mayor presided. As soon as proceedings commenced a great disturbance was created, mingled with cheers and hisses, which rendered the voices of the speakers on the platform inaudible to all except the reporters. Mr. Lubbeck moved the first resolution, declaring that the Irish Church should cease to exist, and opposing any amendment of the suspensory bill now pending in the House of Lords. A general uproar followed the reading of the resolve. Fights took place in various parts of the hall, and the disturbance threatened to become serious. The Lord Mayor retired from the chair, and, with other gentlemen on the platform, left the hall. The Tories then rushed upon the platform, and held it for a short time. The meeting ended in disorder, without taking any action on the resolve which had been prepared.

In the British House of Commons yesterday Lord Stanley expressed his agreement in general with the recommendations of the neutrality commission, but said it would not be possible to enter upon any legislation on this subject during the present session of Parliament.

The Irish reform bill was agreed to by the House in Committee.

In the French Corps Legislatif last week while the subsidy for the Transatlantic Steamship Company was under consideration, it was announced that M. Derriere had resigned the direction of that line.

A mutiny broke out at Antwerp last night on the American copper ship Neruus, during which her officers were severely handled by the crew, and nearly overpowered. The police was notified and boarded the ship, and the U. S. steamer Ticonderoga sent a boat's crew to assist the police. After a desperate fight the mutiny was suppressed.

The review of the United States squadron under Admiral Farragut took place at Ostend yesterday. The harbor was crowded with crafts of every description, filled with sightseers, and the shores were lined for miles with spectators. The King and Queen of Belgium, accompanied by a brilliant retinue, and by the principal officers and notables of the kingdom, passed the fleet in review. The scene was very fine.

Congress.

In the Senate, yesterday, the bill for the admission of Arkansas was passed over the President's veto by a vote of thirty seven yeas. The Senators and Representatives from that State will probably be sworn into duty. The bill for the admission of Colorado was debated and postponed. The Legislative, Executive and Judicial Appropriation bill was discussed to the time of adjournment.

In the House of Representatives, Mr. Kellogg introduced a bill relative to consolidating the national debt. The report of the Committee on Elections in the contested election case from Kentucky, declaring Mr. McKee elected a member from the Ninth District, was adopted, and Mr. McKee sworn in. Mr. Loughridge, of Iowa, introduced a resolution, which was adopted, declaring that in the opinion of the House of Representatives the interests of the country require that the public debt should be reorganized and reduced to a simple and uniform system, more easily understood by the people of the country, and that the interest on the debt should be reduced, and directing a bill Ways and Means Committee to report a bill for the funding of the National debt, and to equalize and reduce the interest as far as possible, consistent with the claims of creditors and in justice to the people. The bill for the removal of the political disabilities from certain persons in North and South Carolina was passed. The amended Tax bill was then taken up and explained by Mr. Schenck, chairman of the Committee of Ways and Means. On the conclusion of his remarks, an amendment was offered to make the tax on whiskey fifty cents instead of sixty, pending the consideration of which the House adjourned.

A JOYFUL OLD MAN.—Berlin is a pleasant place—abounds with pleasant people, who are very fond of pleasant tales. It would seem that the American Minister (Bancroft) is the principal theme of a great many amusing stories among these merry people. The last one of these which the Berliners have put in circulation is to the following effect: as we find it recorded in the Courrier des Etats-Unis: "The venerable diplomat has become very much smitten with the only unmarried daughter of the great Meyerbeer, who is quite a belle, and resides in a suburban villa with her mother and sisters. There the Ambassador is an assiduous visitor. Recently, when strolling with Mlle. Meyerbeer, two horsemen and a lady on horseback galloped by them. "Those are happy," said Mlle. M., "those are happy who can promenade on horseback." "Who prevents you (said the diplomat) from taking the same pleasure?" "I have no cavalier to attend me." "Mademoiselle," (replied Mr. B.) I do not know how to mount a horse, but I am going to learn, and in less than a month I will solicit the honor of serving you as cavalier." The gallant old fellow kept his word, he betook himself to the schools of equestrian art, and he got more than one fall finally succeeded in forking his horse with safety, [sic] and now he is daily taking an equestrian excursion with the fair Meyerbeer, to the infinite amusement of all Berlin.

Minister Burlingame and a portion of the Chinese Embassy arrived in New York yesterday.

Letter from Loudoun County.

(Correspondence of the Alexandria Gazette.) LEESBURG, VA., June 22.—You may remember that the "military authorities" (so-called) which are now lordling it over the State, have been in partition over the municipal offices of Leesburg, and the full time having come, the appointee for Mayor, on Saturday, sent a written notice to Jno. M. Orr, the old Mayor, and to the Recorder, Councilmen and Town-Sergeant, that he assumed the duties under appointment from Gen. Jno. M. Schofield, &c., &c., dated May 29, 1868.

This scheme has been incubating for more than two months, and the egg was "pipped" for about three weeks. Why the delay, I know not, unless the difficulty of swallowing the iron-clad oath, experienced by a person, who had subscribed $25 to the uniforming of the Loudoun Guards, a company belonging to the 17th Virginia Infantry, be the reason.

The pay of the Mayor is $100 per annum, that of the Recorder $50 per annum, that of the Council, honor and glory per annum, and the highest price only can command the offices. Does it not strike you that this indicates "very small potatoes," and especially, "few in a field." The Council, while perfectly willing to yield to forcible ejection, and to the new Council, when appointed and qualified, are indisposed to co-operate with any new members; it must be a clear sweep or none.

Col. Lee has been here two or three times, but has been unable to find men with steel-clad souls, who can take the iron-clad oath. The appointees named by him who are understood to have been willing to serve, had been guilty of the small peccadilloes of running the blockade in the interest of themselves and the Confederates, being mail carriers under the Confederates, filers in the 17th Virginia, aforesaid, or utterers of fervent and well accomplished prayers in the interest of the Confederates before the battle of Manassas, in which the Lord was besought, "if this Lincoln horde shall invade the soil of Virginia, may they be driven back, baptized in their own blood." There are living witnesses to the utterance of this prayer, and many dead evidences of its fulfillment.

Well, let the hammer fly more and more rapidly, the anvil will sustain the blows, and finally the instrument will fly to pieces. There is a good time in prospect, and as time passes on, may the view be more clear, until the happy day shall come when civil liberty shall be re-established in our goodly land. I have made inquiries, and I think I may say definitely, that so far the wheat crop is promising; the worst injured field will make "good paying wheat." The white wheat is the crop about which most apprehension is felt. The corn stands well, and is clean, and mainly thinned and well worked. Towards the latter part of the week it will be laid aside, clean and thrifty, and we shall next week hear "the joyous rattle of the reaper, or the cheering 'whit a whif' of the cradler, as the golden grain is severed for the binder.

Syddn Williams' farm, near the Point of Rocks, but west of the "Catocton" mountains, was sold, under order of Court, in three parcels; one parcel brought $50.75, another $50, and the third (a wood lot) $24 per acre. The whole sale amounted to upwards of $19,000.

There are no buildings on any part of it except a corn house.

It rents this year for $1,700, money rent; the tenant pays in proportion to the time, to the purchaser, and the former owners.

There was a meeting held at Red Hill, near Noland's Ferry, on Saturday evening, which was addressed by R. H. Lee (son of Edmund J. Lee.) Powell Harrison, late of Augusta, now of Loudoun, and son of Burr W. Harrison, and by J. William Foster, late of Fauquier. I was not present, but have heard them highly spoken of. When the election is ordered, then you may look out for stirring times in old Loudoun.

WASHINGTON ITEMS.—Both wings of both boards of the City Council met last night, and then adjourned. The "embroglio" continues yet awhile.

Wm. W. Moore has been nominated as Post Master vice Bowen.

The annual exhibition of the first class of the preparatory department of Columbian College took place last evening at the First Baptist Church.

Cards are out for a fashionable wedding next week. The parties are Senator Henderson, of Missouri, and Miss Mary Foote, daughter of Judge Foote, formerly of New York, and niece of the late ex-Senator Foote, of Vermont.

Quite a number of Senators on Saturday, at the invitation of Senator Cameron, took a trip on the Northern Central railroad.

DISCHARGED.—A young man holding an office under the State Government in this city received his "walking papers" under peculiar circumstances last week. He was engaged to a lovely girl, belonging to one of our best families, and the wedding day was appointed, when the lady heard that her lover was going to vote the Radical ticket. She wrote him a note inquiring about the matter. He answered that he had to do it to keep his place. She rejoined in one brief sentence: "Never let me see your face again." He hasn't yet, but still holds his commission in the Public Guard.—Richmond Dispatch.

We have heretofore noticed Mr. Pomeroy's bill introduced into the Senate, "for a continuous and direct line of railroad from Washington city to Mobile. The bill provides that "the Georgia and South Carolina air-line railroad, and the Alexandria and Fredericksburg railroad, when completed, together with the Richmond, Fredericksburg and Potomac railroad, the Richmond and Darville railroad, the Piedmont railroad, the North Carolina railroad, the West Point and Montgomery railroad, the Montgomery and Mobile railroad, and the Washington, Alexandria and Georgetown railroad shall be the general post route and military road from Washington city to Mobile."

[COMMUNICATED.] STATE STOCK.—Will some one, better informed, tell us the meaning of these letters and telegraph dispatches concerning the debt of the State of Virginia, and the improbability of her paying her July interest as expected. Great anxiety seems to be particularly excited in Richmond, more than ever before, and as we presume less stock is held in Richmond than for many years, the cry must come from those who have no stock, for those who have would regret in silence our poor old mother's poverty as heretofore. Who has been selling short and exciting the sympathy of our officials to expose our State secrets? It is quite time enough to know when the time arrives, particularly when the return for licenses could not be made before the month of June. At any rate the damaging announcement has had its effect, and still the stock keeps up. The gentlemen who have sold short, had better pay up; the stock will not get lower, we think. We have it from good authority that orders have been sent to the country for some time for Virginia State stock from England. Stock jobbing is a new thing in Virginia. ONE OF THE PEOPLE.

The closing exercises of the Episcopal High School will take place on Wednesday, the 24th, (to-morrow) at 4 p. m. The citizens of Alexandria and vicinity are respectfully invited to attend.

LIME—100 bbls Lime for sale by GEO. WASHINGTON, June 25

DEAR MOTHER.

BY O. C. WHITTESEY. Dear mother, sweet mother, I'm thinking of thee, With fondest affection and tear-streaming eyes, And, oh I believe thou art thinking of me. Away, mid the brightness and bliss of the skies! I love thee, sweet mother, I love thee how well. He only can fathom who fashioned the heart; This tongue cannot utter, nor angels can tell The depth of the sorrow that thrust us apart!

But soon we shall be reunited again— Our band, now so broken, will gather once more, Away from earth's sorrow and sighing and pain, On that bright, peaceful, happy and heavenly shore!

We hoped to have held thee awhile with us, To cheer us along through life's varying way, But the ache of the heart, and the fall of the tear, O'er that fondest of hopes, is our portion to-day!

With longings, dear mother, so restless and strong, The wings of my spirit are flapping within, I look to the time we'll be marching along, To join thee afar from earth's sighing and sin!

I'll try to be patient till Heaven shall call My spirit away to thy blissful abode; With father and you, sister, brother and all, Repose evermore on the bosom of God!

ALEXANDRIA, June 23d, 1868.
