A Lesson in Gambling.

The Chicago Republic of Friday last says: First Lieutenant D. G. Fenno, of the Seventeenth Infantry, United States Army, and Acting Post Commissary at Grand River Agency, Dakota Territory, with his wife and sister, arrived on Monday in this city, and engaged rooms at the Sherman. After partaking of his dinner, Fenno requested a bank check, and filling it out for $500, asked the clerk to send it to the depository for collection. The clerk did as requested, and the messenger soon returned with the check and a note requesting the Lieutenant to call at the depository. Fenno did so at once, and found that his neglect to present in person his check and authority for drawing it, was the reason payment was refused. Setting the preliminaries to the satisfaction of the cashier, he received the $500 and departed.

About 8 o'clock on the same evening he visited a house on Randolph street to try his luck at cards. He was in a highly intoxicated condition. He sat down at the dealing table and invested a ten dollar greenback. He won. Again and again did the X go in and yield a rich harvest. He won upwards of $150 and then his luck changed. He came out loser in several deals, and his pile was reduced to sixty dollars. On the following morning (Wednesday) his sister departed for home, and her bill was charged up to her brother's account. It would appear that Fenno remembered his previous night's debacle, for with an evident intention to win back all he had lost at the Dearborn street establishment, he revisited that place shortly after dinner, having several hundred dollars in his possession.

He was perfectly sober at the time, and drank but sparingly during the entire afternoon. His first venture was ten dollars. He won and next time lost. In a few moments his losses amounted to upward of $100. He then doubled the stake and the same luck attended him. He would win occasionally but not often. In an hour he had lost all the ready money he had with him, $400. Calling for a bank check he filled it out for $1,000 on the United States Depository. The check was given to an attendant, who shortly afterwards returned with the money.

Fenno now went in with "big" money—as high as $300 on a deal. His losses continued, and by 4 o'clock every dollar of the $1,000 was lost.

Becoming desperate, Fenno finally filled out a check on the depository for $2,000, and being too late to draw it then, it was taken for its full value by the dealer, who was satisfied of its worth by Fenno's statement of the position he held. At 7 o'clock Fenno arose from the table without a dollar, the loser of $3,400.

Major General Hartsuff, commandant of the department in General Sheridan's absence, sent for Fenno yesterday morning, and ordered him to immediately report himself under arrest to the commanding General at St. Paul, Minn., that being the headquarters of his department.

Comical Coincidences.

Dr. Doran tells of a comical coincidence of which the rector, curate and congregation of a western village were the victims. The rector and curate both returned to their duty, after a long absence, upon the same day. The curate took the morning service and preached so well as to astonish his hearers. In the evening the rector, who had officiated in a neighboring parish in the morning, ascended the pulpit and rather surprised his flock by giving out the forenoon text. The curate had chosen in the forenoon when they found it was not only the same text, but the same sermon, and one can imagine the horror of the listening curate. The fact was, rector and curate had each purchased some lithographed sermons, and were so unlucky as to inaugurate their return home with the same one. Good as this story is, it is capped by the misadventure attending three young candidates for a Scotch ministry. The first one put upon his trial, while putting on his robes, happened to desecrate an ancient-looking, well-worn roll of paper, which proved to be a sermon upon the text, "Jacob was a plain man, dwelling in tents." Seeing that the old sermon was much better than his new one, the aspirant to pulpit honors took possession of it delivered it as his own, and returned it to its old resting place. The sermon was a good one, and pleased the hearers, although they would have preferred one delivered without book. Great was their astonishment the following Sunday when preacher number two treated them with the same sermon from the same text; but it was too much for Scottish patience when a third minister, falling into the same trap, commenced his sermon by announcing that "Jacob was a plain man dwelling in tents," and one old woman relieved the feelings of her fellow sufferers by exclaiming, "Deil dwell um! Is he never gaun to fit?"

There was a deacon in New Hampshire by the name of Day, by trade a cooper. One Sunday he heard a number of boys playing in front of his house, and went to stop their Sabbath-breaking. Assuming a grave countenance, he said to them, "Boys, do you know what day is this?" "Yes sir," immediately replied one of the boys, "Deacon Day, the cooper."

DRUGS AND CHEMICALS.

The symptoms of Liver Complaint are uneasiness and pain in the side. Sometimes the pain is in the shoulder, and is mistaken for rheumatism. The stomach is affected with loss of appetite and sickness, bowels in general constive, sometimes alternating with lax. The head is troubled with pain, and dull, heavy sensation, considerable loss of memory, accompanied with partial insensibility of having left undone something which ought to have been done. Often complaining of weakness, debility and low spirits. Sometimes many of the above symptoms attend the disease, and at other times very few of them; but the liver is generally the organ most involved. Cure the Liver with

7-30 GOLD LOAN

Northern Pacific Railroad Co. RAPID PROGRESS OF THE WORK.

The building of the Northern Pacific Railroad (begun July last) is being pushed forward with great energy from both extremities of the line. Several thousand men are employed in Minnesota and on the Pacific coast. The grade nearly completed 266 miles westward from Lake Superior; trains are running over 130 miles of finished road, and track-laying is rapidly progressing toward the eastern border of Dakota. The Northern Pacific Company now has 413 miles of completed road, and by September next this will be increased to at least 500.

A GOOD INVESTMENT.

They are now selling an unobtainably good investment, the First Mortgage Land Grant Gold Bonds of the Northern Pacific Railroad Company. They have 30 years to run, bear seven and three-fourths per cent. interest (more than 8 per cent. currency) and are secured by first and only mortgage on the ENTIRE ROAD AND ITS EQUIPMENTS, and also, as fast as the Road is completed, on 23,000 ACRES OF LAND to every mile of track, or 500 Acres for each $1,000 Bond. They are exempt from U. S. Tax; Principal and Interest are payable in Gold; Denominations: Coupons, $100 to $1,000; Registered, $100 to $10,000.

LANDS FOR BONDS.

—Northern Pacific Bonds are at all times receivable at TEN PER CENT. ABOVE PAR, in exchange for the Company's Lands, at their lowest cash price. This renders them practically INTEREST BEARING LAND WARRANTS.

SINKING FUND.

The proceeds of all sales of Lands are required to be devoted to the redemption and cancellation of the First Mortgage Bonds of the Company. The Land Grant of the Road exceeds Fifty Million Acres. This immense Sinking Fund will undoubtedly enable the principal of the Company's bonded debt before it falls due. With their ample security and high rate of interest, there is no investment, accessible to the people, which is more PROFITABLE OR SAFE.

EXCHANGING U. S. FIVE-TWENTIES.

The success of the New Government 5 per cent. Loan will compel the early surrender of United States 6 per cents. Many holders of Five-Twenties are now exchanging them for Northern Pacific Seven-Thirties, thus realizing a handsome profit, and greatly increasing their yearly income.
