A NOVEL MARRIAGE.—A few evenings since, just as Justice Evans was leaving his office, he was confronted by two charming young ladies, who requested a private interview. Conducting them back into his office, the bland magistrate inquired in what way he could oblige them. "You are a justice of the Peace, are you not?" the eldest and by far the prettiest of them inquired. "Yes," he said. "And can marry people—that is, can marry a lady?" "Well, yes, if the lady brings a bridegroom along with her—I'm not a marrying man myself," rejoined the trembling magistrate, fearing lest his own freedom was involved in the issue. "Oh, not at all," said the damsel, and turning to her companion, continued: "I reckon, Willie, you can strip off those togs." "No sooner said than done," the young lady's companion commenced to tear off her dress with a haste that promised a speedy nudity. Inexpressibly shocked (for the Judge was a very modest man), he turned to escape from the room, when a second glance, he could not restrain, revealed to him the fact that the supposed young lady in process of stripping off her female gear was not a girl, but a stripping boy, who had used the disguise to get his duties in the presence of a magistrate. Of course this explained the situation, and without more ado the Judge proceeded to join them in holy bonds "until death or the divorce courts should sever." In remuneration for his trouble the bride gave him a smacking kiss, and went on her way rejoicing. To use the Judge's own expressive phraseology, that kiss was beautiful.—N. O. Phycus.

LADIES INTRODUCED TO A SIDE DEGREE OF MASONRY.—The Richmond Dispatch says there was a brilliant gathering at St. Alban's Hall last night, the occasion being the conferring of the side degree known as that of the Master Mason's Daughter upon about fifty members of the Masonic fraternity, and as many wives, daughters, and sisters of Masons. The work of the degree is novel and beautiful, and it was most impressively exemplified by M. E. John E. Little, G. H. P. of the Grand Chapter of Virginia. Among those present were Gov. Walker, Col. Thomas F. Owens, Col. Peyton Wise; J. R. Dowell, master of No. 19; and many other well-known Masons, most of them accompanied by some female relative. After the degree had been conferred and exemplified the company was called from labor to refreshment, and spent nearly an hour in the enjoyment of ice-cream, strawberries, and other delicacies. The ladies generally were well pleased with the glimpse of Masonry thus afforded them, and all present expressed their gratitude to Dr. Little, who kindly came from Williamsburg here for the sole purpose of officiating on this occasion.

MEN AS COOKS.—Mrs. Jane Swishelm, in favor of men as cooks, and by way of illustration, relates the following: "I never knew the significance of the impulse which leads all boys to want to bake griddle-cakes, until I saw a French half-breed from Selkirk, beside his ironless cart, on the open prairie, preparing his evening meal. He had a large fire broiling on the coals without any intervention of a gridiron. His butter and grasses in a long-handled sheet-iron frying-pan, poured in enough butter to cover the bottom, sat it over the fire, kept on serenely attending to other matters, as though no 'flapjacks' were in danger of being burned, as it would have been if any woman had sat to bake; but just at the right moment he came up, looked into the pan, took hold of the handle, shook it gently, then with a sudden jerk sent the cake spinning into the air, caught it as it came down square in the center, with the other side up. The cake was turned as no woman could have turned it, and with an ease which showed that the man was in his proper sphere."

NILSSON.—The Hartford Times prints an amusing catalogue of Nilsson's troubles in that vicinity a short time since. She had parlor words with her manager, Strakosch; she dropped her beautiful watch, the gift of the Emperor and accidentally put her heel on it; she disliked the cooking at the Alynn House and wanted the cook to bring a chicken to her room and cook it over the grate, which the cook utterly and contemptuously refused to do. But her smiles and sweetness returned, as by magic, when a lovely bouquet with Governor Jewell's compliments arrived, and would have continued had not a subsequent message announced the bouquet as intended for Cary; the story then grew fearful, her brow knitted, her cheek flushed, and as her dress of white satin was defaced by some burnt cork left by the negro ministrals who preceded her in the hall where the performance took place, there was a culmination of wrath which obliged those about her to look for shelter. The papers, nevertheless, said she sang "I know that my Redeemer liveth" in angelic style.

HONEY DEW.—Those who arose early last Sunday morning, saw the leaves covered with that translucent substance known as "honey dew." The deposit appeared to be of the consistency of diluted honey, and the leaves which branched together adhered to each other.—Branville Enterprise.

The same thing was observed at St. Clairsville. The leaves were covered with what looked like ordinary dew, but what proved to be a substance with the consistency and sweetness of clear honey.—Wheeling (W. Va.) Int.

WEST VIRGINIA.—The census of this State, born in sin and iniquity, has a total population of 406,951, of which number 364,951, were born in the State or in Virginia proper. Ohio has contributed 12,000, Pennsylvania, 15,000, New York 13,559; and there has been a large immigration from Maryland, amounting to 7,100. It is an interesting point in the statistics of the foreign element that the numbers of the Germans and Irish in West Virginia are nearly equal—Germans 6,232, Irish 6,822—and 2,557 are natives of England and Scotland.

Mr. Anthony Trollope is coming over sea to take a few sketches in life and character, and the Athenaeum is of the opinion that "American literature will be richer by at least one good novel." We confess that we are not so sure about this.

The New York hospital for sunstroke persons, fitted up during the past year, has been renovated and placed in readiness for the reception of patients. Five cases of sunstroke, one of which terminated fatally, have already been treated this season.

DRUGS AND CHEMICALS.

SIMMONS' LIVER REGULATOR.
The symptoms of Liver Complaint are uneasiness and pain in the side. Sometimes the pain is in the shoulder, and is mistaken for rheumatism. The stomach is affected with loss of appetite and sickness, bowels in general constive, sometimes alternating with laxity.

The head is troubled with pain, and full heavy sensation, considerable loss of memory, accompanied with painful sensation of having left undone something which ought to have been done. Often complaining of weakness, debility and low spirits. Sometimes many of the above symptoms attend the disease, and at other times very few of them; but the liver is generally the organ most involved. Cure the liver with
