

ALEXANDRIA, VA. TUESDAY, OCTOBER 22, 1872.

The Campaign in the Valley.

The Valley of Virginia is thoroughly aroused and meetings are being daily held in every county. Yesterday there was a great mass meeting at Front Royal, in Warren county, which lasted until a late hour at night.

The mass meeting at Alum, in Page, on Thursday was the greatest success yet witnessed in this canvass in all that region. There were nearly 2,000 persons present, including nearly every man of influence in this stronghold of Democracy.

On Saturday there was a fine meeting at Forresterville, Shenandoah, when the people were addressed by Col. Gilman, Gen. Moen and Geo. R. Calvert, editor of the Shenandoah Valley.

There was a brass band at each place, and all of the leading citizens attended.

Gen. Kemper and others spoke at Harrisonburg yesterday in an immense crowd, and were received with great enthusiasm.

Messrs. Riddlebarger, Stickley and others, valley speakers, are filling appointments daily, and we hear of fine meetings wherever they go.

JAMES RIVER AND KANAWHA CANAL.—The Washington correspondent of the Baltimore Sun says: "There is said to be a disposition on the part of the friends of the James River and Kanawha canal to solicit Congress for government aid in behalf of that enterprise the coming winter."

The Washington correspondent of the Baltimore Sun of to-day says: "The Cuban sympathizers here, continue to develop in force. This interest now seems eager to bring the Cuban question fully before the administration, especially favoring such a decisive policy with regard to Cuba as shall ensure immunity to American citizens there in both life and property."

The Maryland Radical State Executive Committee have issued an address urging an earnest support of Gen. Grant. Let the Conservatives put forth additional exertions.

It is stated from Madrid that the insurgents who escaped from Ferrol during the late attack upon them by the Government forces, fled in all directions. They were pursued by the troops, and about five hundred captured, without the shedding of blood, as they made no resistance.

Mrs. Lloyd, whose trial in Leesburg is set for Wednesday, is to be defended by Messrs. Matthew & Powell Harrison and Hutton & Foster, while Messrs. J. M. Kilgour and John M. Orr will represent the Commonwealth. It is "reported" that the plea of insanity is to be set up.

A dispatch from New York says: "President Grant and wife, Jesse Grant, General and Mrs. Porter, and Hon. Henry Wilson, arrived here to-day, and are staying at the Fifth Avenue Hotel, awaiting the arrival, from Europe, of Miss Nellie Grant."

The London papers generally praise the efforts of the National Board of Trade of the United States to procure reciprocity trade with Canada, and are of opinion that the success of the Treaty of Washington has led to this action.

The difficulties between Brazil and the Argentine Republic cannot, it is now feared, be settled without foreign arbitration. Trouble is also brewing between Bolivia and the Argentine States, and a resort to arms seems not improbable.

At a meeting of the Chamber of Commerce in Chicago, yesterday, a resolution was passed requesting Secretary Boutwell to adhere to his present policy and continue the sale of gold and purchase of greenbacks.

The Richmond, Fredericksburg and Potomac Railroad Company are erecting buildings two miles above Richmond city, on their lines, for carpenter shops and car sheds, to be finished by the 1st of December.

The schedule submitting the New Constitution of West Virginia to a vote of the people, makes the election of Congressmen at large, at the August election, of doubtful legality.

NEWS OF THE DAY.

"To show the very age and body of the Times"

A run was made on the German Savings Bank of Wheeling on Saturday last, which caused some excitement for the time being. Some misunderstanding about the endorsement of a check occasioned the panic.

A Washington dispatch says that it is generally believed that another change in the Indian policy of this Government is impending. So many officials are broaching new theories of Indian management that it is thought there is dissatisfaction with the system now in practice.

SIR WALTER SCOTT'S LAST YEARS.—Even now, when he has been so long at rest, and a new generation has arisen, and new fables fill the world, it is impossible to think of the tragedy of Scott's last years without a poignant and personal sorrow as over the fate of a dear friend. Suddenly the misfortune came—the enormous losses and debts—and he put the great heart and the great shoulders to the tremendous struggle.

Another circumstance conducive to longevity on the part of great lawyers is, that they usually enjoy a golden mean in point of income, and are free from money troubles. A fine constitution, a profession which, if very arduous and exacting, is congenial, a healthy ambition, and joyous social intercourse, seem to be ingredients which conduce to their vigorous old age.

The story of Alice Oswald.—The Star is moralizing on the sad story of Alice Oswald, an American girl, who recently committed suicide by jumping from London bridge into the Thames.

Alice (it seems) had been brought from the United States by an individual styling herself a lady, to serve her as nursery governess in a house at Wick, in Scotland. They went to Scotland together, a few weeks elapsed, and, without a reason assigned, the new governess was discharged, receiving the exact dote due—a paltry sum, barely sufficient for her return to London.

The death of D'Aubigne.—A cable dispatch from Geneva, Switzerland, announces the death of the eminent theologian and author, J. H. Merle d'Aubigne. He was born at Geneva August 16th, 1794, and was the third son of Louis Merle, a merchant of that city, whose father married the daughter of a French nobleman, D'Aubigne. From his paternal grandmother, according to a Swiss custom, Merle derives his surname, D'Aubigne. He was educated at Geneva and Berlin. He was pastor of a French church at Hamburg, and afterwards the favorite court preacher of the King of Holland.

A principal of a fashionable private school in New York city, which is attended only by the children of the elite of that metropolis, writes to the bureau of education that there are over $30,000 due the institution under his charge for tuition, and that not one cent can be collected, although the money is owed by persons in high standing, but who refuse to pay school bills, but recognize all others. This state of things also exists in other cities to an alarming extent, it is reported.

Letter from Leesburg.

LEESBURG, VA., Oct. 21.—Judge Keith arrived to-day and opened his Court, fixed the Lloyd case for Wednesday, and adjourned to give the Republican speakers an opportunity to have their say.

Mr. William Williams opened the speaking and made, as he can do, a specious argument for his side.

Mr. Clinton Lloyd followed and made quite an ingenious speech, appealing to the prejudices of the Southern people against Greeley, and lauding Gen. Grant as one who had never done or said a harsh thing against the South, and appealing to the people to get on the strong side at once, as he had done, who after voting for Buchanan, when the tide of Radicalism swept over the country, had uncontentiously gone along with the crowd for his share of the spoils.

Mr. Edward Daniels, candidate for Congress, next made a speech, in which he urged Virginia to vote for him, as he belonged to the dominant party, and could do so much for the material interests of Virginia, which a Democrat could not do.

These people can look at nothing in which the sheen of the filthy lucre does not obscure all that is noble and manly in human thought and action. Because a party is successful forsooth, there must never be any opposition to it, but it must go on reeking in its foulness of corruption until it falls to pieces by its own rottenness.

The Hamilton corned had played very well indeed. There were probably 200 white men in the Court House, one half Republicans, and one hundred negroes.

HEALTHY LAWYERS.—Sir Alexander Cockburn seems to have happily sustained at Geneva the reputation of eminent English lawyers for endurance at an advanced period of life. His unremitting assiduity is reported to have excited admiring comment on every side.

Probably the lawyers have very fine constitutions to begin with, and outlast a host who fall by the way. Again, their lives are, after the first cherry, there's nothing joshier than a bar-mess on a holiday night, or an impromptu supper in Lincoln's Inn or the Temple.

Another circumstance conducive to longevity on the part of great lawyers is, that they usually enjoy a golden mean in point of income, and are free from money troubles. A fine constitution, a profession which, if very arduous and exacting, is congenial, a healthy ambition, and joyous social intercourse, seem to be ingredients which conduce to their vigorous old age.

This state of things also exists in other cities to an alarming extent, it is reported.

THE JAPANESE GIRLS.—Two of the oldest Japanese girls, who came here with the embassy, recently left Washington for San Francisco, on their return to Japan, one of them because of injury to the eyesight, which threatens blindness. They were eight months in this country, during which they learned to speak English. Twenty of the girls will go to New Haven, the 1st of November, to be educated, and the youngest will remain with Mr. Lunman, in Georgetown, for a year.—Washington Star.

BAPTISM BY IMMERSION.—Mr. Peter Fisher, of this city, a young man who recently professed conversion to the doctrines of the Methodist Episcopal Church, was baptized by immersion, in the Potomac river, at Bell's Island, South Cumberland, at three o'clock, yesterday afternoon, by Rev. A. J. Gill, of Kingsley Chapel, in the presence of about two hundred persons.—Cumberland News.

A DANGEROUS COUNTERFEIT.—A dangerous counterfeit of a $50 United States Treasury note is now in circulation, the general appearance of which is darker, but the engraving apparently as fine as the genuine. The words "Fifty Dollars," however, have a blurred appearance and the paper is stiffer and more oily than the bona fide article.—N. Y. Commercial.

AUCTION SALES.

SALE OF VALUABLE VIRGINIA LANDS.—By virtue of a decree of the County Court of Loudoun, made in the chancery suit of Hon. John Hull & Co., vs. Berkeley, the undersigned, commissioners of said court, will offer at public sale, in front of the Court House, in Leesburg, Loudoun county, Virginia, on TUESDAY, SEPTEMBER 10, 1872, the following REAL ESTATE, viz: A valuable TRACT OF TIMBER LAND, containing 480 acres, in Part of the County of Loudoun, and adjoining the lands of Edmund Berkeley, Esq., Bayley and others, about six miles from Thoroughfare station, on the O. & A. M. R. R., and four miles from Aldie, on the Piedmont and Potomac R. R.—over firm roads of easy grade. This land is heavily timbered with Chestnut, Hickory, Oak, and live oaks, with a variety of iron ore running through its entire length.

Also the one undivided half of one of the most valuable and productive estates in Virginia, known as "GOOSE POND," lying on the south bank of the Mattaponi river, in Caroline county, containing 650 acres, of which about 500 is timber of original growth, and the rest productive, arable, land under cultivation.

The arable land has heretofore been cultivated by intelligent and liberal agriculturists, and until the war with extraordinary remunerative results. The estate was somewhat neglected during the war, and the owners have not had the means of caring it to its former condition. 200 acres of this land have been cropped continuously for nearly a century, and will now produce from 50 to 75 bushels of corn to the acre. Marl is abundant on the place, and has been liberally applied. The Mattaponi is a beautiful stream. Its navigation was obstructed during the war, but at a slight expense it can be made navigable for vessels of 100 tons to the landing on the estate. "GOOSE POND" adjoins the famous Corbin estate, "The Woods," and "Hay's," the latter celebrated estate of Major John N. Berkeley, and is situated from "GOOSE POND" only by the Mattaponi river.

The other half of "GOOSE POND" is held for sale by Gen. Epps Hutton, Warrenton, who will unite in a sale of the whole tract containing 650 acres, will be offered for sale, to the satisfaction of the parties, by J. P. Noland, Trustee, under a deed of trust from Major Berkeley.

These two estates, forming a compact body of about 800 ACRES OF SPLENDID LAND, offer the most desirable location in Virginia for a country seat.

The attention of capitalists, of agriculturists, and owners in timber and lumber is invited to these lands. None more reliable in quality or price are now in the market.

Terms of Sale: So much of the purchase money to be paid in one cash, as the parties will pay the costs of suit and expenses of sale; the residue upon a credit of one, two, three and four years, in equal instalments, bearing interest from the day of sale; the purchaser to execute his bonds for the deferred instalments, and the title to be retained till the purchase money is all paid.

MATTHEW HARRISON, J. P. NOLAND, JOHN W. ALEXANDER, Commissioners of Sale.

BY AUTHORITY OF A DEED OF TRUST.—I, the undersigned, do hereby certify that the following is a true and correct copy of the deed of trust, made by the late Major John N. Berkeley, Esq., in favor of the undersigned, J. P. Noland, Trustee, under a deed of trust from Major Berkeley, containing 650 acres of land, situated on the south bank of the Mattaponi river, in Caroline county, Virginia, and known as "GOOSE POND," and also the one undivided half of one of the most valuable and productive estates in Virginia, known as "GOOSE POND," lying on the south bank of the Mattaponi river, in Caroline county, Virginia, containing 650 acres, of which about 500 is timber of original growth, and the rest productive, arable, land under cultivation.

ADJOURNED.—The sale of the above property has been adjourned until MONDAY, the 28th day of OCTOBER, 1872, in front of the Court House in Leesburg, oct 16-21w

COMMISSIONERS' SALE OF REAL ESTATE.—By virtue of a decree of the County Court of Loudoun, made at the August term, 1872, in the case of H. Hopkins, Hull & Co. vs. Berkeley, the undersigned, commissioners of said court, will offer at public sale, in front of the Court House, in Leesburg, Va., on TUESDAY, the 14th day of October, 1872, TWO VALUABLE TRACTS OF LAND, of which Charles F. Berkeley died seized and possessed, viz:

1st. "ENDFIELD," situated on the edge of Prince William county, 3 miles southeast of Aldie, containing about 250 acres of unusually fine timber land—mostly chestnut. About the same quantity of land was recently sold off of "Endfield" to Mr. Leitch, of Baltimore, who now owns it. There is a stream well near this tract, which makes the timber very valuable.

2d. A BEAUTIFUL FARM in Caroline county, known as "RED LIFFE," containing 512 acres. This farm lies on the Pamunky river, 2 miles from Huttons, and is a valuable spot on the Chesapeake & Ohio R. R., and adjoins "North Valley," the splendid estate of the late William Carter. The neighborhood is a most desirable one, the land is of good quality, and easily cultivated. The DWELLING HOUSE, garden and orchard attached, and is altogether a most beautiful and desirable farm.

Terms of Sale: So much of the purchase money to be paid in cash on the day of sale, as will pay the costs of suit and expenses of sale; the residue upon a credit of one, two, three and four years, in equal instalments, bearing interest from the day of sale; the purchaser to execute his bonds for the deferred instalments, and the title to be retained till the purchase money is all paid.
