Stocks in Philadelphia and all the Eastern and Northern markets are light and owing to the high rate of freight and the early closing of navigation the Southern markets will probably be short. Freight from Philadelphia to Boston average for the season 1.35c per ton over the freights from Philadelphia to Alexandria and Washington. Freight to New York from Philadelphia will average about 10c less than to Alexandria and Washington. All coal shipped to New York and east of New York is allowed by the Reading Railroad Company a drawback of from 30 to 40 cts. per ton. This is done to compete with the carrying companies of New York. There is no drawback allowed to any other ports but those mentioned above. Freight from Philadelphia to Washington, Alexandria and Norfolk are about the same, but to Richmond and Petersburg are generally from 15 to 20 cts higher, according to season and demand for vessels.

RIVER NEWS.—The river still continues blockaded to all but steam vessels, and some of them even find considerable difficulty in forcing their way through certain portions of the ice between this city and Washington. The steamer Lady of the Lake for Norfolk arrived this morning, closely followed by the steamship E. C. Knight from New York. She reports the ice as extending down as far as Indian Head, but as broken and floating and affording no serious obstruction to navigation. She also reports two loaded coasters beating up in Nanjemoy Reach, the steamer General Grant as cut through and sunk in Washington's Reach, and the D. B. Wolfe, ashore near Fort Washington. The steamer Georgetown from Baltimore for this city, passed a sunken oyster vessel of St. George's island, took on 61 barrels of oysters, and came on up this morning as far as Nanjemoy, where, a telegram from Quantico stated that she was disabled, but she arrived up about 3 o'clock this evening. The schooner Lydia Hughtell, which has been grounded off Jones Point for some days past was gotten off this morning and towed to a dock here by the tug Atlantic. The tug boats are plying up and down the river, and the Washington ferry boats are making their regular trips, though they don't have much time to remain in their slips, and the City of Alexandria on her 11 o'clock trip down this morning was compelled to stop and back several times before she could force her way through. The schooners A. F. Bailey and Maggie and Lucy, detained here for several days have gone on up in tow of tugs. The schooner Jennie Roskin on her way up arrived here yesterday in tow and the schrs. Oliver Anas, C. S. Grave and Wm. Masou came from above this morning and put in here. The latter ran into the tug Ariel off the city and stove in her stern. As the trips of the steamers Washington and Zaidie have been suspended, several agents of the Northern Neck who were caught here by the freeze, made arrangements for chartering a tug to take them to their homes, but she had not started at 3 o'clock this afternoon.

COUNTY NEWS.—The Board of Supervisors will meet at the Courthouse on Monday next.

The Washington Republican says: A proposition is on foot to call a mass meeting of the residents of Alexandria for the purpose of discussing the question of reannexation of the county to the District. The majority of the tax payers of the county appear to be opposed to annexation.
The religious ceremonies which have been in operation at Arlington during the past two weeks were concluded on Thursday evening by addresses and exhortations from Rev. G. A. Hall and Mr. Scott, of the Y. M. C. A., of Washington. Their remarks were listened to with great attention, and the audience appeared to be very much impressed with them.
At the meeting of Exccolutor Lodge No. 4, I. O. G. T., held last Thursday night, after transacting the regular routine business Mrs. Platt Crocker read a very interesting and instructive address on the rise and progress of the temperance cause.

AQUEDUCT.—The commission appointed at the last session of Congress to examine the harbors of the District of Columbia, and to report means for new improvements, have prepared a report. The commission propose to reclaim the low lands between the channels in front of the city, and it is said favor the removal of the aqueduct across the Potomac at Georgetown. The Washington correspondent of the Baltimore Sun says:—The removal of this structure has been suggested many times, and last year a movement was made in the courts and in the District to obtain its removal, but the court decided that it was placed at its present position in accordance with an act of Congress in the legitimate exercise of its powers, and could not be removed.

FIRE WORKS.—There was a brilliant display of fire works at Green's Notion House, on King street, last night and the whole thoroughfare from Fairfax up, was crowded with people delighted with the exhibition. Caisium lights, Roman candles, mines, serpents, wheels, rockets, fountains, and all sorts of powder illuminations were displayed in profusion from the street in front of the house, and from each story of the building. Mr. Green is one of the most judicious and extensive advertisers in the State, and his free exhibition last night was a new and successful effort in that line. It is understood that the show will be repeated some night next week.
