WOMAN'S WIT.
LEGEND OF AN IRISH GIANT.

Once upon a time, a long time ago, when giants were as plenty in Ireland as mites in cheese, there lived on the borders of the County Antrim one Barney McConnell, who lawfully came under the above appellation, being seven feet high and made in proportion. His prowess was well known, and there was one thing that annoyed Barney not a little, namely, that he could get nobody who was able to stand before him in his own county. Now report spoke of a certain giant in Scotland who was laboring under the like grief and from precisely the same cause. Therefore Barney, after consulting the friends on the subject, set a challenge to the Scotch giant, "to come over to Ireland and get the concert taken out of himself." After due time the bearer of the challenge returned with word that it had been accepted, and further stated that he was advised to inform Barney that he had better make his will, get his coffin made etc., as he that he was to encounter never left his work undone.

"Do you see him?" asked Barney.
"Faith no I did," said the messenger.
"What is he like?" interrogated the giant.
"Faith, Barney, avie! he's like anything at all but a mortal being."
"How big is he?" said Barney, looking but pleased at the description of his rival.
"How big he, did you say? Faith! he's as big as the otter tower foremast the door, an' a head an' shoulders on him like Father McGurney's bull. By all accounts he'll ate you avie!"
Barney began to feel rather uncomfortable at the prospect before him, and straightway went to consult his wife as to what should be done in the event of his rival proving to be such as his messenger had represented. While they were thus engaged, one of the children came running in and exclaimed: "Daddy! come to the door an' see the great man that's coming up the hill!" Barney peered through the chinks of the door, and, to his great terror, saw the monster.

One look was enough to satisfy him that his messenger had not exaggerated his account of him, and, turning to his wife, he said:
"Shelah, jee! I'm eat up alive, for sartin! Here comes the Scotch laist to drum your Barny."

When Shelah heard of the approach of the coming foe, and saw her lord's inability to wage war with one so far superior in strength and size, she concluded that it was only by some piece of woman's wit that her husband could escape from the affair without dishonor. Accordingly, she gently lifted the child out of the cradle, and, depositing it in the inner room, made the father get in its place, and covering him up with a quilt, gently seated herself and resumed her work. After a few moments, in walked the cause of all the disturbance, and demanded an interview with the giant. Shelah, after motioning with her hand for him to keep quiet, walked gently across the floor to where he stood, and in an undertone told him Barney had gone out to the woods. The giant told her that he intended waiting his return.

"Very well," said Shelah. "Oaly don't make a word of noise for the life that's in you, for there's nothing makes him more furious than to hear the child crying when he comes home."
By this time the giant had seated himself on a bench, and was quietly surveying the apartment, but when his eyes rested on the cradle, with a look of unutterable astonishment, he asked what it was.
"It is!" cried Shelah. "Don't you see it's the child that's in it? Ah! heaven help you if you wake him! The creature didn't get a wink of sleep last night with the two back teeth he's cutting."
The giant, with a look of terror and astonishment, asked what size the father was.
"Faith an' I can't tell you!" said Shelah, "cause I never measured him. But that gossamer," pointing to the cradle, "when the father is angry, runs and hides himself in one of his boots!"
"Laird, save us!" exclaimed the giant. "I wina mind waitin' the noo, lassie! I maun be gann! Good morning!"
So saying, he took to his heels, and never thought himself safe until he got among the hills of his own country.

NOVELTY IN HATS.—A new and beautiful style of ladies' hat is the latest fruit of New York modish ingenuity. It is surpassed by nothing which has yet appeared in simplicity and neatness. It consists of a Panama hat with a brim slightly turned up all the way round, in the style most common in hats of that material, and for trimming has a silk handkerchief, either plain or patterned. The latter is folded in such a way, and laid upon the hat, so as to cover the entire crown and brim at the back with two short ends. A lady's wing at the side completes the trimming. When a handkerchief similar to that worn upon the hat is used round the neck, a divided time is given to an entire costume. The simplicity with which the handkerchief encircles the crown renders it capable of being changed as often as the most capricious fancy can dictate.

The hundredth anniversary of the battle of Bunker's Hill, on June 17th, is to receive due recognition. But two days earlier there will occur the centennial anniversary of an event which had even more influence than Bunker Hill upon the war, yet which has as yet scarcely received mention. On the 15th of June, 1775, the Continental Congress in session at Philadelphia elected George Washington "Commander in Chief of all the forces raised, or to be raised, for the defense of the colonies." A little before this it had voted to enlist an army of 20,000 men, of which the militia and minute men of New England were made the nucleus. The decisive movements which before then were only local received a national endorsement, and the colonies were solidified into a combined resistance to Great Britain.

"Legislation!" exclaimed a Republican Representative, when somebody asked him what legislation was likely to be had at the coming session of Congress; "we've got no time to fool away on legislation; much as we can do to dig holes to hide things away where the Democratic House can't dig 'em up again."

DRUGS AND CHEMICALS.

TAKE SIMMONS' Liver Regulator,

FOR ALL DISEASES OF THE LIVER, STOMACH AND SPLEEN.

It is eminently a Family Medicine; and by being kept ready for immediate resort will save many an hour of suffering and many a dollar in time and doctors' bills.

After over Forty Years' trial it is still receiving the most unqualified testimonials of the virtues from persons of the highest character and responsibility. Eminent physicians commend it as the most EFFECTUAL SPECIFIC for Constipation, Headache, Pain in the Shoulders, Dizziness, Sour Stomach, bad taste in the mouth, bilious attacks, Palpitation of the Heart, Pain in the region of the Kidneys, despondency, gloom and forebodings of evil, all of which are the offspring of a diseased Liver.

If you feel Dull, Drowsy, Debilitated, have frequent Headache, Mouth Tastes badly, poor Appetite, and Tongue Coated, you are suffering from Torpid Liver or "Biliousness," and nothing will cure you so speedily and permanently.

The Liver, the largest organ in the body, is generally the seat of the disease, and if not regulated in time, great suffering, wretchedness and DEATH will ensue.

Armed with this ANTIDOTE, all climates and changes of water and food may be faced without fear. As a Remedy in MALARIOUS FEVERS, BOWEL COMPLAINTS, RESTLESSNESS, JAUNDICE, NAUSEA, the Cheapest, Purest and Best Family Medicine in the World!

"I have never seen or tried such a simple, efficacious, satisfactory and pleasant remedy in my life."—H. Hainner, St. Louis, Mo.

"Hon. Alex. H. Stephens. My condition requires it. Dr. Simmons' Liver Regulator, with good effect."—Hon. Alex. H. Stephens.

Governor of Alabama. "Your Regulator has been in use in my family for some time, and I am persuaded it is a valuable addition to the medical science."—Gov. J. Gill Shorter, Ala.

"I have used the Regulator in my family for the past seventeen years. I can safely recommend it to the world as the best medicine I have ever used for that class of diseases it purports to cure."—H. F. Thigpen.

President of City Bank. "Simmons' Liver Regulator has proved a good and efficacious medicine."—C. A. Nutting.

Druggist. "We have been acquainted with Dr. Simmons' Liver Medicine for more than twenty years, and know it to be the best Liver Regulator offered to the public."—R. Lyon and H. L. Lyon, Bellefontaine, Ga.

By no powders or PREPARED SIMMONS' LIVER REGULATOR unless in our engraved wrapper, with Trade mark, Stamp and Signature unbroken. None other is genuine.

J. H. ZEILIN & CO.,
Macon, Ga., and Philadelphia.

The symptoms of Liver Complaint are uneasiness and pain in the side. Sometimes the pain is in the shoulder, and is mistaken for rheumatism. The stomach is affected with loss of appetite and sickness, bowels in general constive, sometimes alternating with lax. The head is troubled with pain, and dull, heavy sensation, considerable loss of memory, accompanied with painful sensation of having left undone something which ought to have been done. Often complaint of weakness, debility, and low spirits. Sometimes many of the above symptoms attend the disease, and at other times very few of them; but the liver is generally the organ most involved.

Nearly all diseases originate from Indigestion and Torpidity of the Liver, and relief is always anxiously sought after. If the Liver is regulated in its action, health is almost invariably secured. Want of action in the Liver causes Headache, Constipation, Jaundice, Pain in the Shoulders, Cough, Chills, Dizziness, Sour Stomach, bad taste in the mouth, bilious attacks, pain, and all the other symptoms, for which SIMMONS' LIVER REGULATOR is the best remedy that has ever been discovered. It acts mildly, effectually, and being a simple vegetable compound, can do no injury in any quantities it may be taken. It is harmless in every way; it has been used for years, and hundreds of good and great men, of all parts of the country, will vouch for its being the purest and best.

"My wife and self have used the Regulator for years, and testify to its great virtues."—Rev. J. R. Felder, Perry Ga.

Ladies' Endorsement. "I have given your medicine thorough trial, and in no case has it failed to give full satisfaction."—Ellen Mescham, Chhattahoochee, Fla.
