

ALEXANDRIA, VIRGINIA.

FRIDAY, SEPTEMBER 24

FOLEY'S STATUE OF JACKSON.—Foley's statue of Stonewall Jackson, presented to Virginia by Hon. Berensford Hope, M. P., and other English gentlemen, reached Richmond yesterday, and was received by Governor Kemper. The people turned out en masse to witness the reception, the streets presenting a holiday appearance. The first regiment Virginia volunteers and the veterans of the old first Virginia and the Richmond Howitzers proceeded to the wharf of the Powhatan Steamboat Company where the case containing the statue awaited transportation to the Capitol. It had been placed upon a wagon and covered with the flags of Great Britain and Virginia. Long ropes were attached to the wagon and at the word of command the veterans of the old first, together with a large number of citizens, preceded by a band of music, took hold, and with a portion of the present first regiment at the head of the column, took up the line of march, the remainder of the regiment and Howitzers bringing up the rear.

Upon reaching Capitol Square the wagon was drawn to the foot of the steps of the Capitol, where Col. Bradley T. Johnson, commandant of the first, formally delivered the statue to Governor Kemper in a brief speech, referring to the time twelve years ago, when he commanded the funeral escort of the true and gallant soldier who was now being honored by the people of Great Britain.

Governor Kemper responded, receiving the statue in the name of the people of Virginia, thanking the soldiers and citizens for the spontaneous honor which had been done to as true a hero as ever trod the earth. In doing this they had done much also to testify the gratitude of Virginians to the noble friends on the other side of the world who had sent this great tribute of admiration and sympathy from the old world to the new—from Great Britain to Virginia.

Gov. Kemper then, in the name of Virginia, took possession of the gift, receiving it not more as a great sculptor's work of art than a work of English affection for Virginia and her immortal son.

In response to calls from the immense throng present, Mayor Kelley also made a beautiful and stirring speech. The case was then placed in the basement of the Capitol, where it will remain until the pedestal being prepared for it in Capitol Square is ready. The statue will be unveiled the latter part of October, during the progress of the State fair.

THE STATE DEBT.—In an article upon the State debt, and the bearing of that question upon the next Legislature, the Richmond Whig says:—"The argument that the debt is steadily increasing, and that, sooner or later, it will be too weighty to be borne, is an argument admitting that Virginia has no prospect of improvement in proportion to the increase of the interest on her debt; that if she has a future at all it is a far-off future; that she is expected to continue impoverished as she is impoverished now. We can occur in no such admission. On the contrary we are well satisfied that our State is on the eve of an era of thrift and advancement as we are that she has been subjected to an ordeal that few States could have endured as she has endured it. It is impossible, of course, to say how soon there will be a cessation of all accumulation of interest, but it will be long before it can have increased so much as to have gone beyond the reach of the resources of the State as they are soon and certain to be developed. The State debt, we are satisfied, will never be more burdensome to the people than it is now. And if Virginia shall continue to pay, as she is now paying, all she can spare from the necessities of her government, with a full and free recognition of her obligation and a frank avowal of her intention to pay more when she has more, the world will not distrust her fidelity to her pledges or her ultimate ability to redeem them."

A STRIKING PICTURE.—Maj. James W. Marshall, of Craig county, the Conservative candidate for the State Senate in that district, thus describes the reputationists: "I have observed that all the reputationists with whom I meet have three very striking characteristics. First, they are men who are not willing to pay their own debts; secondly, though great grumblers about the 'burdens of taxation' they pay very little taxes themselves; and, thirdly, they are always in hot pursuit of some office."

The "Legal-Tender Club" in New York held their meeting at Cooper Institute, last night, Hon. Richard Schell presiding. B. F. Butler, W. D. Kelley and others who were announced to speak were not present, but speeches were made by Thomas E. Tompkinson, Edward Crane, of Boston, and J. K. McGee, of Illinois, and others. Resolutions were passed declaring that contraction of the currency has already brought disaster on the country and should be abandoned; that national bank circulation be retired and legal-tenders issued in their place and made receivable for all public dues, "except where respect for the obligation of contracts requires payment in coin," and favoring payment of at least one-half of the customs in legal-tenders; also sending expressions of sympathy and encouragement to the inflationists of Ohio and Pennsylvania.

At a meeting of representatives of the principal coal companies, held in New York on Wednesday, it was resolved to advance the prices of certain sizes of coal ten cents per ton, and the Delaware and Hudson, and Delaware, Lackawanna and Western Companies agreed to suspend shipments to competitive points for two weeks. A shame.

LAND SALES.—Messrs. Nichols and Harrison, commissioners, last week, sold at private sale, to Wm. Keys, 80 acres of the "Buzze" farm for $31 25 per acre. Mr. N. B. Peacock, as trustee, sold on Saturday last, the farm of Mr. Andrew H. Baker near Bollington, 137 acres, for thirty three dollars and forty cents per acre, Thomas Kalb, purchaser; also a mountain lot at four dollars and forty cents per acre, Wm. Cooper, purchaser.—Loudoun Mirror.

Cotton is at a very low price now. New middling sold yesterday as low as 13 and 13 1/2 cts.

Details of the recent cyclone on the Texas coast confirm the reports heretofore received of the extent of the terrible visitation. Out of three hundred houses at Indianola but five are left standing. The loss of life is now estimated at fully four hundred. The stench from the putrifying bodies buried beneath the ruins is said to be intolerable. To add to the horror of the story, it is stated that a party of Mexicans on Sunday began robbing the bodies that had been swept into the plain back of the city, and chopped off the fingers, hands and ears of men and women to obtain jewelry. A party of citizens went in search of the horrible ghouls and killed five of them whom they caught at their abominable work.

A Madrid dispatch to the London Times says the new Ministry belongs to the Union or Liberal party, which is composed of the best elements of the Conservative party formed by O'Donnell, and they come into office with clean hands and a reputation for honesty and integrity. The majority of the officers of the army are said to support the present regime, and it is also reported that Castellar and his adherents will become supporters of the monarchy. The state of feeling in the provinces is said to be one of utter weariness and indifference.

The foreign Powers have been notified by Serbia and Montenegro of their intention to remain neutral in the struggle now going on in the Northwestern Provinces. In consequence of the concentration of Turkish troops on the Serbian frontier, the Serbian Minister of War has ordered several battalions of infantry and artillery to the border, and the Serbians are reported to be throwing up extensive earthworks. A thousand refugees are at Grahovo in a state of destitution, and the flocks are reported to be dying of drought.

On Wednesday in the Circuit Court for Howard county, Md., the jury in the case of Mrs. Hogan and children vs. the Cumberland and Pennsylvania Railroad Company rendered a verdict for the plaintiff, assessing the damages at eight thousand dollars. The suit, in which the damages asked were $20,000, was brought against the company by Mrs. Hogan for the killing of her husband, Michael Hogan, by the explosion of an engine of the Cumberland and Pennsylvania Railroad at Westernport.

A dispatch received at Memphis last night from Jackson, Miss., says that one company of whites was mustered into the service of the State yesterday. Two companies of negroes presented themselves, but were not accepted. An injunction was granted by Chief Justice Peyton to restrain the State Auditor from paying the militia that Governor Ames proposes to call out, on the ground that perfect order prevails, and that the Governor was endeavoring to create a standing army, in violation of the constitution of the State.

Senator Morton delivered a speech at Pittsburgh, Pa., last night, on the financial and currency question. He claimed that the original issue of paper money was a necessary war measure, and that the war being over, the limitation act of Congress was now the only safeguard the people had against unlimited paper money, the repeal of which, he said, would be disastrous to national industries.

Green, who was arrested in Baltimore last week charged with poisoning Mr. Edes, of Georgetown, and thus securing the release of the burglar Snyder, was brought up yesterday for a preliminary hearing in Washington, but the counsel on both sides being unprepared, the prisoner was remanded until Monday.

The Richmond, Fredericksburg and Potomac Railroad Company have transferred their machinery and other material from the shops on Broad street, Richmond, to their new workshops near the State Agricultural Fair Grounds.

The report that the French Government will make a cabinet question of the adoption of the system of voting by arrondissements instead of departments is confirmed.

Coffee made a further advance yesterday of 1/4 of a cent, a cargo of 5,000 bags selling in New York, grade ordinary, at 19 cents per pound.

William L. Cochran, esq., for six years past Mayor of Charlottesville, died on Wednesday evening. He had been ill for about two weeks.

Gen. William B. Taliaferro, of Gloucester, has been nominated for re-election to the House of Delegates in that county.

A NEW WONDER IN CALIFORNIA.—John Muir, well known to the visitors of the Yosemite valley, announces the discovery of a rival to that wonderful scenery. It is a valley in the south fork of King's river, forty-five miles from Visalia in a right line. This valley is nine miles in length from east to west, and has an average width at the bottom of about half a mile. It lies 5,000 feet above the level of the sea, and its walls are about 3,000 feet high. They are precipitous, and some of the striking features of the Yosemite, like El Capitan, and the Sentinel and the Cathedral rocks, have their counterparts. The falls of the new valley have more water, but are less picturesque than those of the Yosemite. Access is from Visalia, the great part of the way by a good wagon road, through groves of oaks and forests of fir and pine. The trail can be extended, Muir says, over the Keamsburg Pass, which is 12,000 feet in height, and is located in the midst of a perfect wilderness of peaks, from 1,300 to 4,000 feet in height, rising from rare glacial meadows and lakes, and adorned around their bases by a multitude of the very dearest of Alpine flowers. A company of drivers have entered a claim to the valley for the purpose of raising stock.—N. Y. Herald, 22d.

NEWS OF THE DAY.

"To show the very age and body of the Times."

The taxes levied in New York last year averaged $35 for every man, woman and child. This exceeds the tax levied in Paris in the last year of the Empire, when taxes were heaviest to meet the vast improvements then executed. The taxes in Paris that year averaged only $24 50 per head.

Dr. Norton, a dentist of Amesburg, Mass., was called out of his house yesterday morning to attend a patient, when he was shot at twice and wounded, and was afterwards chloroformed and robbed of a gold watch and $165. The chances are in favor of his recovery.

In the Court of Common Pleas of Baltimore, yesterday, suit was instituted against the Northern Central Railway Company, to recover $20,000, by the widow of John W. Kelly, driver of a team, and lately in the employ of the company, who was recently killed.

The school question in Indiana culminated yesterday in a fight at Fort Wayne between the Catholic and Protestant boys, one of the latter being fatally beaten, and having his skull fractured, and he will probably die. Great excitement exists over the affair.

It is rumored that an entire change in the freight schedule of the Baltimore and Ohio and Pennsylvania Railway Companies is in course of preparation, in which higher rates will be charged.

The Commissioner of Internal Revenue gives notice that documentary stamps of a denomination greater than two cents must be presented for redemption before the 1st proximo.

Judge N. A. Harrison died in Denver, Colorado, Wednesday night. He formerly resided in West Virginia, and was at one time prominently identified with the politics of that State.

Attorney General Pierpont says that Chas. G. Fisher, now in jail for purloining the records of the Criminal Court of Washington, will be prosecuted to the full extent of the law.

The Georgia State Fair, to be held at Macon on the 8th of October, promises to be the largest and best attended of any held in the South since the war.

It is shown by the Insurance Convention now being held in New York that the losses from fire in this country are six times as great as those of Europe.

The Peckskill Mining and Iron Company of New York has passed into the hands of a receiver. The liabilities of the company, it is understood, amount to $150,000.

Preparations are being made to check the horse disease now prevailing in various parts of the country, in the event of its reaching Baltimore.

Gen. Burt yesterday filed his bond as Postmaster of Boston, thus ending the controversy in regard to his case.

The National Agricultural Congress met at Cincinnati yesterday, and passed resolutions asking Congress to repeal the tax on tobacco.

A new 13,000-pound Centennial bell for Independence Hall is being made at Troy. Nothing chime-critical about that.

The Cab and Omnibus News is the name of a new London periodical.

The new postal card will go into circulation on the 1st of October.

WASHINGTON PRODUCE EXCHANGE.—At a meeting of the Produce Exchange of Washington city, held last night, Mr. Ream, chairman of the committee appointed to investigate the publishing of a card by Messrs. Biedler & Barrett in a Loudoun county paper, in which they claim to have compelled a reduction of commission rates, reported:

"That Messrs. Biedler & Barrett were given due notice to meet the committee in conference and compare their rates with those of the Exchange, then determine whether the rates had or had not been reduced."

The following is the card referred to: "We would call the attention of the farmers of Loudoun county to the following card issued from our house on August 2, 1875, and to our subsequent action in the Board of Trade on August 5, so that they may see for themselves and be satisfied as to whom they are indebted for a return to lower rates of commission. "BIEDLER & BARRETT."

Mr. Ream said that the card published by this firm had misrepresented the facts, and he requested gentlemen to see for themselves the difference between the Exchange rates and those of Biedler & Barrett, and they would find that no reduction had been made whatever, except on calves. He therefore hoped some action in the matter would be taken.

Mr. Jones thought that these gentlemen had a right to advertise as they saw fit, but he did not think they had acted in the Exchange as gentlemen should do, and, as it was generally understood they were to charge the Exchange rates or resin, no action was necessary, and he moved to lay the report on the table.

The motion to lay on the table was then put and carried.

Mr. Janney stated that he opposed the laying of this report on the table, for the reason that the committee had requested these gentlemen to meet and confer with them, but their request had been ignored entirely. Therefore, he hoped something would be done.

Mr. Hove stated that he had last Thursday made the motion that as these gentlemen were out of the way the matter be postponed, but since another week had passed, and they had had ample time to send to the committee some reply, but had failed to do so, he wanted something done.

Mr. Baker, the President, thought that it was nothing more than common courtesy to their committee that some action be taken upon their report.

Mr. Jones moved that the report be received and the committee discharged.

Mr. Janney said that it was for the reason that no notice whatever had been taken of the request of the committee that he moved to reconsider the vote by which the report was laid upon the table.

The President then asked if there was any objection to reconsidering, and objection being made, the motion was lost, and the report lies upon the table.

HORRORS OF A LOUISIANA PENITENTIARY.—A convict in the Louisiana state penitentiary has sent to the New Orleans Picayune a long letter, in which he details at length his grievances. He says that when prisoners are sent from New Orleans they are always dirty and full of vermin, and yet the convicts are compelled to eat and sleep with them; that the provisions are always sent up several days after the supply on hand has been exhausted, and that the prisoners inside the walls who are either sick or convalescing have not had any fresh meat for half fifteen or sixteen months. He says he will no longer that fresh is sent to the institution by the institution, but that it is used by the officers of the prison, who dole out a little of it to a few of the sick men at the point of death. The ordinary fare, he states, is salt meat and bread, without any vegetables, and that the men therefore contract scurvy and die like sheep.

A HORSE KILLED BY A STONE.—A difficult grower out of a misunderstanding about a drill, occurred on last Friday near Greenview between Stuart McClung and W. A. Humphreys, in which McClung threw a stone at Humphreys, who was sitting on his horse, missed the man and struck the horse back of his head, killing him instantly. McClung was bailed in the sum of $500.—Stanton Virg.

CLARKE COUNTY ITEMS.—Recently Mr.

Warden, living in Long Marsh district, observed that his peach trees were being depredated upon by unknown parties, so he concluded to watch for them. Armed with a loaded gun he took a position where he was concealed from nocturnal visitors, and awaited events. He was not long kept in suspense, when three colored men put in their appearance—two of them mounted a tree while the other kept watch. Springing from under cover Mr. Warden advanced on them, at the same time endeavoring to discharge his gun, but the cap failed to burst. Another effort burst the cap, but the gun did not discharge. Appreciating their position the colored men in the tree thought it was best to get out of there as quickly as possible, and to do this they themselves fell, after which they got to their feet and scampered off. By this time a new cap was put on the gun, and its contents were sent after the negroes, who, whether hurt or not, will steer clear of that orchard hereafter.

On Sunday evening, after dark, as Messrs. Ransom Pulliam and A. Sampson, of Berryville, were returning from Newtown, they were beset, when two miles this side of Wuechester, by four or five colored men. They tried to seize the horse's reins, but the horse prevented it by throwing up his head; at the same time one of the highwaymen struck at the young man with a club, but they plied the whip to their horse and got out of harm's way. Who the men were they did not know, but the motive of this unexpected attack was, no doubt, robbery.

Last Monday evening, between eight and nine o'clock, some one forced open the door of the building occupied by Dick Stevenson, colored, situated in the rear of Mr. T. Newnam's premises, and set fire to the bed-clothing. When discovered they were almost entirely consumed. The incendiary is unknown. Isaac Mitchell, colored, was brought before Justice McCallan on Monday charged with stealing a saddle from Mr. Chas. Dinkle. He was convicted, sentenced to confinement in the jail for thirty days, and to receive fifteen stripes, "well laid on."

Last Friday night the granary of Mr. D. C. Snyder, living near Berryville, was visited by thieves, and between fifteen and twenty bushels of wheat were carried off.—Clarke Courier.

PARSONAGE.—The purchase, a few weeks ago, by the trustees of the M. E. Church, South, of the Dr. Cross property for a parsonage, having been abandoned, the Messrs. Norris have purchased from the heirs of the late Dr. Clagett, the property on Market street, known as the Harding house, and are already engaged in tearing down the old buildings, preparatory to erecting in their stead, a handsome double dwelling, one of which has been purchased by the congregation above alluded to. The new building is to be of brick, three stories high, and each house will contain seven rooms besides the kitchen. The buildings will be put under roof this fall, and when finished will be a decided improvement to that section of the town.—Loudoun Mirror.

The head waiter at the new Palace Hotel, San Francisco, it is said, will wear a purple velvet suit, powdered wig, silk hose, and pumps. He will receive guests at the dining-room door to the sound of operatic music, and gently assign them seats by a slight inclination of the hand and a graceful wave of his hand. On Sunday he will walk on rosewood stilts. As his fine clothes are thrown in with his idea of feeling him must never be entertained.

The air-ship being constructed by Frederick F. Schroeder and others of Baltimore, it is expected, to be completed in about three weeks.
