

ALEXANDRIA GAZETTE AND VIRGINIA ADVERTISER.

ALEXANDRIA, VIRGINIA. FRIDAY, OCTOBER 1.

There is one issue standing out boldly between the Democratic party and the Radical party. We refer to the legitimate limit of the powers of the Federal Government within the several States—an issue involving the vital principle which induced differences among the original authors of the Government, and which in a variety of aspects and on a variety of questions has manifested itself more or less in almost every serious political crisis that has come upon the country.

The Philadelphia North American says:—"With peace and general courtesy and good will—with a paramount determination to observe the spirit of reconstruction, under whatever administration is fairly chosen—the south can prosecute those industries that enrich, and plan and organize more as it has been doing, with signal success. It can thereby gain new capital and more population, and increase its political with its other powers; retain the present population, for which it has so much use, and achieve the position it formerly occupied in the nation."

Packard, the Chairman of the Louisiana Republican State Committee, and A. H. Leonard, editor of the Shreveport Times, have been having a correspondence, in which Packard claims that the Republican party can get as good men as they want, owing to the fact that they would be "ostracized by the whites for associating, even politically, with the freedmen." Packard proposes that the "liberal white element properly outside of the democracy" should consolidate with the colored voters in order to defeat the democracy and, by giving the negroes the benefit of their services, "insure wise and honest government in the parishes."

The act of Congress providing for the redemption of specie payments also authorized the Secretary of the Treasury, as rapidly as practicable, to cause to be coined silver pieces of the denominations of ten, twenty five and fifty cents, and measures are being now perfected by the Director of the Mint to carry out the provisions of the act. It is said that it will take two years, however, to coin sufficient silver to retire the fractional currency now outstanding, which amounts to $40,783,575. It is believed that at least $8,000,000 of the fractional currency has been worn out while in circulation, and will never be presented for redemption.

The Board of Health of the District of Columbia, in speaking of the wood pavements, of which Washington has sixty miles, says that their broken surface has allowed the lodgment of animal and vegetable filth, impossible even to calculate, between and under the blocks of wood, not only greatly increasing the putrefying process, but adding to the rapidity of its decomposition. That from the decomposition gases arise, fungi and infusoria develop, which, entering the atmosphere, must be breathed, are poisonous, engendering zymotic diseases, such as typhoid, malaria and intermittent fevers, dysentery, diphtheria, &c.

An opinion is said to prevail in Madrid that Señor Canovas del Castillo will return to the Premiership. A band of Communists has been marauding in Andalusia, and has endeavored to cut railway and telegraphic communication. Owing to the movements of the Alfonsist troops the Carlists have been compelled to withdraw their artillery from before San Sebastian. A Republican rising in the Sierra Morena has failed for want of support, and those engaged in it have dispersed to avoid pursuit.

The tobacco buyers of Lynchburg, Va., and the grangers of that section have formed an alliance, by which the latter are to open two warehouses in that city for the sale of leaf tobacco, the buyers pledging themselves to give these warehouses the preference. This action was taken because of the refusal of the owners of private warehouses to reduce their charges for handling the weed. The contract entered into is for twelve months.

Wm. S. Wood, President of the Greenfield Manufacturing Company, at Greenfield, Indiana, committed suicide at Indianapolis yesterday. Financial troubles are alleged to be the cause. The deceased had his life heavily insured. A note was found in his room stating that he had forged the names of some of his relatives on notes for $5,000.

The State Sunday-School Convention, representing all denominations, meets in Richmond on the 6th of October. The committee charged with the duty of preparing for the reception and entertainment of the delegates report that they will be enabled to provide accommodations for all who may apply.

This week's number of Littell's Living Age has been received, and is, as usual, full of the best selections from the best foreign magazines. The Penn Monthly, published by the Penn Monthly Association, 233 south Eighth street, Philadelphia, for October, has been received. It contains a number of very interesting and well written articles, and is, as usual, very well printed.

In 1866 the first working Atlantic Cable was brought into operation. At present there are six cables, without including the one which failed in 1858, and a single Company, the "Anglo American," has no less than 12,000 miles of cable between the coasts of Ireland and France and the shores of America.

Vice-President Wilson, has been read out of the Republican party, by the Washington Republican, which paper allows no dissent from Grant or opposition to his third-term scheme. Editorial Notes. There will be five Sundays in October. Hunting for Charley Ross has cost already, it is said, $18,000.

Mayor Keiley and all the city officers and employees of Richmond have subscribed a day's pay each toward the erection of the proposed equestrian statue of Lee in the Capitol Square. Who next?

The City Hall rotunda, in Baltimore, has been completed and is one of the most striking features of the new building. It is two hundred feet in height, and the marble and other work is finished in the highest style of art. The assessments made by the Radical party on the employees of the Baltimore Customhouse and Postoffice, for means to carry on the campaign in that State, has created considerable feeling among those officials. A member of the Texas Constitutional Convention has proposed a clause forbidding judges, prosecuting attorneys and jurors from officiating while intoxicated. The provision might with great propriety be extended.

The Princess Mercedes, the probable fiancée of King Alfonso, is said to seem unaware of the royal destinies that await her. She plays croquet with her brother and sister, and concentrates her mind rather on getting through a hoop than mounting a throne. The immense volume of mail matter brought to New York by the fast trains every morning has increased so rapidly that redoubled exertions on the part of the Postoffice officials are required. On account of the many weekly and semi-weekly newspapers published on Wednesday, the mails on that day are the heaviest of the week.
