

Alexandria Gazette

FRIDAY EVENING, JUNE 23.

A few days since several families of emigrants, traveling to Oregon by wagon, camped for the night near Point of Rocks, a station on the Union Pacific, mountain division. In the dusk of the evening the children were playing at a short distance from the wagons, when a piercing scream proceeding from the eldest of the juveniles alarmed the camp and led the men to the rescue. They were met by the affrighted and youngsters, who said that one of their number—a year old girl—had been carried off by a mountain lion. A frantic and exciting search for the child was kept up until midnight, but unavailingly. At dawn Thursday morning the search was resumed. The tracks of the lion were traced a distance of five miles from camp, when, wading to rocks, they became too indistinct to be followed further. The search was continued the same, however, and at one o'clock to the afternoon one of the searching party found the child on top of a huge up-aval of rocks, rising 200 feet above the level of the surrounding sand plain. The child, nearly denuded of clothing, and the face several ugly-looking scratches about the face and breast, was lying on its back, perfectly quiet and its eyes dazing under the sunlight. With the exception of the scratches or claw marks, the little thing was unharmed.

THE ALEXANDRIA GAZETTE AND VIRGINIA ADVERTISER will soon celebrate its centennial year. More than three quarters of a century ago it grew into life a creation of wants and needs of the people of this section of Virginia. Its prominent object has been to advance the interests of the people of whose life it is the daily chronicler. Its fortunes have been their fortunes; it has shared their prosperity and suffered in their distress. Its inspiration has been their desire to forward the best interests of the community in which it is located, and its own prosperity is, as it has been purposely made, inseparable from that of the community it aims to represent. When they grow rich it hopes to grow rich commensurate with its labors. While they are poor it expects to work with them and for them, expecting to make their success the measure of its own.

The past of the Gazette is offered as an index of its future. It has never failed to give all the news of the day, and to do so with the greater vigor and more extended experience of journalism. Every year NEW FEATURES will be added.

THE GAZETTE WANTS TO BE THE NEWS PAPER OF VIRGINIA. It will furnish daily a complete account, with superlatives only lopped away, of all the current news of the world.

As the interests of the people mainly center at home, no pains will be spared to make it accurate in its reports on the city and neighborhood, carefully excluding unseemly expressions or coarse narrative as unfit for a journal that is treasured at many thousand hearthstones of Virginia.

Special attention will be devoted to presenting news from original sources of information as well as from its exchanges, the news of Virginia, especially such as relate to the development of the resources of the State.

Its congeniality to Washington gives the Gazette an early precedence over all the journals of the State in intelligence of the operations of the General Government, now of such vital importance to the people of the South. The proceedings of Congress, seldom so interesting as now, will be regularly reported in succinct State columns, but all matters of especial interest in Virginia will be given in detail, and the full text of all bills of local interest will be given.

From the State Capital it will receive early and accurate accounts of the proceedings of the General Assembly, and of all the operations of the State government likely to interest the people.

In its Commercial columns the special feature will be promptness and accuracy. The farmers, drovers and commercial people who know they MAY DEPEND upon the Gazette.

Early and reliable reports of the Grain, Cattle, Grocery and other Markets will be furnished, and the prices and position of the stocks, which are the subjects of business, carefully noted in this column of the country, carefully noted.

The continual labors of those who have once used the Gazette as an advertising medium is a warrant for saying that it pays to advertise in its columns. Never before did it pay so well to tell the public what is for sale.

ENCOURAGE HOME MANUFACTURE. I am now manufacturing a good and cheap PAINT, of several colors, the body of which is equal to Lead and Oil, which for tin roofs, barns, stables, fences, &c., will be found very superior to any other paint now in the market. For brick walls with a northern exposure it will act as a preventive to dampness. For iron it makes a solid and lasting coating, impervious to moisture and a preventive of rust. Being of various shades of color, the cornice and trimmings can be painted to suit. This Paint has been used by one railroad company and by many of the farmers in this vicinity, and is highly recommended by all who have tried it. Price, single gallon, 75c; and we propose to sell in bulk at 50c per gallon, 60c per gal. Call and examine samples at 85 King st., under Sarepta Hall, mh 31 W. F. CRIGHTON.

THE BALTIMORE READY MIXED PAINT—the best and cheapest ready mixed Paint extant. In color it is a rich, dark, reddish brown. It is especially adapted for painting railroad buildings and station houses, brick walls, weather boarding, iron or wood fences, barns, stables, dairies or other out-houses. It is also a capital roofing Paint for either wood or metal. Price per gallon $1.20; in 10 gallon tins $1 per gallon, or in 40 gallon bins, single gallon, 75c; and we propose to sell in any quantity desired. This Paint has been in use in Baltimore for over four years and with entire satisfaction to all who have tried it. We have secured the exclusive agency for this section of Virginia. JANNEY & CO.

FLOOR STAIN—We have just prepared by our new recipe a large and useful and popular article. It renders the floor slightly and attractive in appearance, being of a rich, dark walnut color. For stairways, halls or the floors of rooms it is desired to keep uncarpeted during the summer season it is especially adapted. It is prepared ready for immediate use, will dry hard and firm in the course of a few hours, and can be applied by any one with a brush or sponge. We are permitted to refer to a number of our customers who have used it with entire satisfaction. Shipped to any country in any quantity desired. Sold by the pint or gallon. JANNEY & CO.
