Brutes in Battle.

John Connolly, better known as "Butcher" Connolly, who was employed on the Monticello and Port Jervis Railway during its construction a few years since, and who obtained considerable notoriety about the country by matching himself to kill rats by a terrier, and to fight with dogs, recently died from injuries received in a fight with a bull dog in St. Clairsville, Pa., the details of which brutal affair are given in a private letter from that place to a gentleman in Port Jervis:

Connolly had been hostler at a tavern in St. Clairsville for some time previous to the affair mentioned above. On the 8th of July he got drunk and went into Way's saloon. Lying on the floor asleep was a large hound, old and harmless, belonging to the proprietor of the saloon. Connolly walked deliberately up to the sleeping dog, and stooping down, seized it with his teeth by the ear, and raising to his feet lifted the hound clear off the floor, and in spite of his piteous cries shook him a moment, and then bit off the portion of the year that was in his mouth and let the dog fall to the floor, and it ran bleeding and howling from the saloon. Several men witnessed the sickening sight, but were afraid to interfere. Connolly spat the piece of ear upon the floor, and offered to bet $10 that he could whip any dog in the place in ten minutes.

Who out paying any attention to him he finally went out and proceeded to a place kept by a man named Bryan F. Gary. F. Gary owned a full-blooded English bulldog, which usually lounged about the saloon, and which, despite its savage appearance, never offered to interfere with any one. When Connolly entered the saloon this dog was lying under a small table in the room, with its eyes half closed. Connolly got on his hands and knees and put his head under the table. The dog looked lazily up at his face and wagged his tail good naturedly. The human brute, however, by a sudden movement, seized one of the dog's ears, which were half propped, in his teeth, and dragging him from under the table, commenced shaking him. The bulldog, true to his nature, did not utter a sound, although the blood streamed down from his ear over his face. After two or three shakes given by Connolly his short hold on the dog's ear tore loose and the dog fell to the floor. He did not run away, as the hound had done, but, with a savage growl, rushed upon his inhuman assailant. Connolly dropped on his hands and knees and met the dog with a blow of his fist, which staggered him back; but he at once renewed the onslaught.

At this juncture two men who were in the place offered to interfere, but F. Gary exclaimed, "Let me alone! And I hope to God the dog will kill him!" The second rush of the dog was more successful, and he seized Connolly in the fore arm that was raised to knock him off. Connolly clutched the dog by the throat and choked him loose, and remained on his knees to receive his attack.

The dog made another rush, this time for the throat of Connolly, but was again foiled, and caught the man in the muscle of the left arm, biting it clear through, and tearing out a large piece of flesh. Still Connolly remained on the floor, apparently awaiting to seize the dog in some unapparent spot. The latter, to the left shoulder of Connolly, and the man could not shake nor choke him off. The dog shook his head, and sank his teeth to their full length into Connolly's flesh, but the man's emerald possessed of the very nature of the brute, and gave no sign that he was suffering or of surrender. By a peculiar movement, he seized the fore-shoulder of the dog—the most vulnerable point—on his mouth, and then the two brutes rolled about on the floor, tearing each other's flesh. The blood ran in streams from each, and mingling with the dust that rose from the floor, gave them both the appearance of demons. This lasted about five minutes, when the three spectators were sickened at the sight, and an attempt was made to separate the combatants. The dog was seized, but all the beating, twisting and burning that was inflicted upon him failed to loosen his hold a particle. Finally, Fogarty drew a pistol, and with the remark, "It's a shame that the best of the two has to die to save the worst," placed it to the dog's side and shot him through the heart. Even after he was dead his jaws had to be pried loose from Connolly's flesh.

Connolly attempted to get upon his feet, but he fell back, exhausted and weak from loss of blood. He was given a glass of brandy, and a doctor was called in to see him. Half of the large muscle of his left arm was bitten away, and his forearm was torn frightfully, the bone being exposed in one place. His shoulder was literally a pulpy mass, both bones and flesh being ground together by the teeth of the dog. There were other severe injuries on Connolly's person, and the doctor at once gave it as his opinion that the condition of the man was critical. Three days afterward he was seized with most violent convulsions, in one of which he died in his bed in the tavern barn. Although the fate of the man was fearful, the general opinion is that the disgraceful inhuman affair was caused entirely by him, and there is little sympathy manifested for him; and there is no disputing the truth that more regret is expressed over the death of the dog than that of his brutal assailant.—N. Y. Herald.

SIMMONS' LIVER REGULATOR

For all Diseases of the Liver, Stomach and Spleen.

After Forty Years' trial it still receives the most unqualified testimonials of its virtues from persons of the highest character and responsibility.

It is eminently a Family Medicine, and by being kept ready for immediate resort will save many an hour of suffering and many a dollar in time and money.

DOCTORS' BILLS.
Your Regulator is one of the best family medicines I ever used. I have not spent one dollar for my family for five years, only for your Regulator, and must say it does all it says it will. You can also recommend it in Colic for Stock, it having cured a fine mule of mine worth five hundred dollars.—(J. A. Nelson, Macon, Ga.)

The Liver, the largest organ in the body, is generally the seat of the disease, and if not regulated in time great suffering, wretchedness and DEATH will ensue.

If you feel DULL, DROXY, DEBILITATED, have frequent Headache, Mouth Taste badly, poor Appetite and Tongue Coated, you are suffering from Torpid Liver or "Biliousness," and nothing will cure you so speedily and permanently.

Hon. Alexander H. Stephens.
"I occasionally use, when my condition requires it, Dr. Simmons' Liver Regulator, with good effect."—(Hon. Alex. H. Stephens, Governor of Alabama.)

"Your Regulator has been in use in my family for some time, and I am persuaded it is a valuable addition to the medical science."—(Gov. J. Gill Shorter, Ala.)

"I have used the Regulator in my family for the past seventeen years. I can safely recommend it to the world as the best medicine I have ever used for that class of diseases it purports to cure."—(H. F. Thigpen.)

Baltimore Episcopal Methodist.
This medicine is acknowledged to have no equal as a Liver Medicine, containing those Southern Roots and Herbs which an all-wise Providence has placed in countries where Liver Diseases most prevail.

Lady's Endorsement.
"I have given your medicine a thorough trial, and in no case has it failed to give full satisfaction."—(Ellen Meacham, Chatham, Fla.)

Professional.
"From actual experience in the use of this medicine to use and prescribe it as a purgative medicine."—(Dr. J. W. Mason.)

Florida M. E. Conference.
"I have used Dr. Simmons' Liver Regulator in my family for Dyspepsia and Sick Headache, and regard it an invaluable remedy. It has not failed to give relief in any instance."—(Rev. W. P. Esterling.)

President Oglethorpe College.
"Simmons' Liver Regulator is certainly a specific for that class of complaints which it claims to cure."—(Rev. David Willis, my 11)
