F. A. REED, ap 21 JANEY'S WHARF.

THE ALEXANDRIA GAZETTE AND VIRGINIA ADVERTISER will soon celebrate its centennial year. More than three quarters of a century ago it grew into life a creation of wants and needs of the people of this section of Virginia.

During all this period its prominent object has been to advance the interests of the people of whose life it is the daily chronicle. Its fortunes have been their fortunes; it has shared their prosperity and shared in their disasters. Its inspiration has been the desire to forward the best interests of the community in which it is located, and its own prosperity is, as it has been purposely made, inseparable from that of the community it aims to represent.

When they grow rich it hopes to grow rich with them, and when they are poor it expects to work with them and for them, expecting to make their success the measure of its own.

The past of the Gazette is offered as an index to its future. It has never failed to avail itself promptly of all the improvements which come with the greatest care and most extended experience of journalism. Every year NEW FEATURES will be added.

THE GAZETTE MEANS TO BE THE NEWSPAPER OF VIRGINIA. It will furnish only a complete and up-to-date account of all the current news of the world.

As the interests of the people mainly centre at home, no pains will be spared to chronicle all matters occurring in the city and neighborhood, carefully excluding unnecessary expenses and gross narratives as unfit for a journal that is frequented at many thousand hearthstones of Virginia.

Special attention will be devoted to presenting, as well from original sources of information as from its exchanges, the news of Virginia, especially such as relate to the development of the resources of the State.

Its continuity to Washington gives the Gazette an early precedence over all the journals of the State in intelligence of the operations of the General Government, and of such vital importance to the people of the South. The proceedings of Congress, seldom so interesting as now, will be regularly reported in succinct form for its columns, but all matters of special interest in Virginia will be given in detail, and the full text of all bills of local importance.

From the State Gazette, it will copy all the news and accurate accounts of the proceedings of the General Assembly and of all the operations of the State government likely to interest the people.

In its Commercial columns the special feature will be promptness and accuracy. It will be the greatest glory and most extended benefit of the State show they MAY DEPEND upon the Gazette.

Early and reliable reports of the Grain, Cattle, Grocery and other Markets will be furnished, and the prices and position of the stocks, which are the subjects of business transactions in this section of the country, carefully quoted.
