

LOCAL NEWS.

WEATHER PROBABILITIES.—War Department, Office of the Chief Signal Officer, Washington, D. C., Jan. 16, 1877—10:30 a. m.—In the Middle States rising barometer north-west or westerly winds, decidedly colder and clear or clearing weather.

MAJ. W. D. CORSE.—It is always with regret that a community like Alexandria loses a citizen well deserving of its people, and long identified with its interests, and in the case of Maj. Wilmer D. Corse, who left here a few days ago to make a home in Florida, this regret is intensified by the fact that for nearly a century his family have been noted in the annals of the town for their public spirit and hearty co-operation in all enterprises tending to its benefit. The father of Major Corse was long one of the proprietors of the Alexandria Herald; his brother, Gen. M. D. Corse, commanded the Alexandria company in the Mexican war, and the 17th Virginia (Alexandria's regiment) in the late war between the States, rising to the rank of a brigadier general before the close of the struggle. The Major, who was commissary of the post, during the war, at Charlottesville, has been engaged in the banking business since his boyhood, and has achieved a most enviable reputation for integrity and financial abilities. For twenty years past he has been the Treasurer of the Corporation. He has gone to Florida with the intention of opening a broker's and banker's office in St. Augustine, and he carries with him to his new home the endorsement of an entire community for his diligence, integrity and ability, and their best wishes for his future success.

OVERSEERS OF THE POOR.—The Overseers of the Poor met at the Mayor's office, last night. It was announced that the whole of the two hundred cords of wood purchased by the City Council for the use of the poor had been issued, and the Mayor was thereupon requested to communicate with Council and ask for the purchase of fifty cords more. The statements submitted by the various overseers showed that about six hundred persons had been furnished with wood, including that furnished from the Mayor's office. The only written report was that of Mr. J. W. Nalls of the Fourth ward, which shows the issuance of wood to one hundred and sixteen persons of whom twenty-seven were white and eighty-nine colored. During the period from August 5, to January 15, the same overseer issued orders for provisions, amounting to $47.50. The issuance of provisions has now been suspended, owing to the establishment of the soup house.

THE THAW.—The warm and spring-like weather of to-day has continued and augmented the process of thawing. The streets and sidewalks are now nearly clear of snow and ice, while the gutters and crossings are flooded with water. The city and river were covered this morning with a dense fog, which continued until about ten o'clock. The ice on the river, although still in an unbroken field, has been very much weakened by the fog, rain and soft weather, and should there be no change to decidedly colder weather, it will, doubtless, sink by tomorrow night. Captain Ross left here this morning for Quantico with a view to bringing up the tugboat Kate, which has been ice-bound at that point for some time past. The only advice received here from the upper river is a dispatch from Harper's Ferry last night, which reports heavy rains, but the river rising, very slowly. The ice was still solid at that point.

DEATH OF A FORMER ALEXANDRIA LADY.—The Washington Star says: "The death of Miss Minnie Lathrop, which occurred at her parents' residence, near Chicago, last week, has occasioned a feeling of sincere sympathy for her afflicted parents and relatives. She was barely twenty years of age, and had been in poor health for some time. She returned with her parents last June from a sojourn of nearly two years in Europe. Mrs. Lathrop is the sister of Mr. Thomas Bryan and of the wife of Judge Wylie. As Mr. and Mrs. Lathrop passed their winters for many years at their residence on K street, their children grew up with the young people who sincerely regret the death of one of their favorite companions." The deceased formerly resided with her parents in this city, and the family are well known here.

BOARD OF SUPERVISORS.—The Board of Supervisors of Alexandria county met at the county court-house, in this city, to-day. In the matter of the petition of William A. Rowe, for compensation for a horse crippled in crossing a bridge, a warrant was issued to said Rowe for $100. The account of the Superintendent of Poor was examined and approved. A levy of 2 1/2 cents on the real and personal property in the county was ordered to be collected for school purposes. The following bills were ordered to be paid: Geo. H. Ramo, $2; W. C. Wibert, $65, and James Chatham, $2.

KNIGHTS OF PYTHIAS.—At a regular meeting of Mechanic's Lodge, No. 3, held in their Castle Hall, corner of King and St. Asaph streets, last night, the following named officers were regularly installed by K. Kemper, P. C., assisted by the Past Chancellors: G. M. Germain, C. C.; Jno. J. Proctor, V. C.; J. H. Thompson, Prelate; Job Corson, C. of R. and S.; E. T. Steele, M. of E.; C. T. Ervin, M. of E.; C. Goodrich, M. of A.; O. F. Bargett, I. S.; J. H. Mansfield, O. S.; J. T. Boyd, P. C.; E. E. Padgett, Steward of Hall; K. Kemper, Representative to Grand Lodge, which meets in Petersburg, February 20.

RELIGIOUS.—Among the members of the State Executive Committee of the Young Men's Christian Association, appointed at the recent Convention in Petersburg, was Mr. H. W. Beadle, of this city. At a meeting of the preachers of the M. E. Church, South, residing in Baltimore, held yesterday, a committee was appointed to make the necessary arrangements with the railroad companies for traveling facilities to the annual Conference, which meets in this city on the 7th of March.

M. E. Church.—Notwithstanding the unfavorable weather yesterday, the special services were well attended. In the afternoon Mr. Webb gave an exposition of I Sam. ix. Several went forward as enquirers. At night the pastor preached to a large congregation from Ps. 27, S: "When Thou shalt seek my face, my heart shall unto thee, thy face Lord will I seek." In the course of the exercises that followed the sermon two persons professed conversion. The meetings will be continued to-night.

NOT HEARD FROM.—A letter was received this morning by Mr. F. A. Reed, from Harry de Grace, which states that the wife of Captain Cochran of the schooner R. Rhodes, mentioned in yesterday's Gazette, had not heard from him since he sailed from Hampton Roads on the 19th ultimo, and that she was in much trouble and feared the worst. The only hope felt by the shippers who loaded the vessel is that she has been blown off the coast and may yet come in all right.

ADVERTISE.—A letter was received at this office yesterday from a business man in Petersburg, which says: "I see your paper regularly, but don't see any advertisements of dealers of fish. Can you give me any names of such?" Hence see the value of advertising your business, so that people away from home may know of you.

LIBRARY BALL.—The advertisement of a grand ball for the benefit of the Alexandria Library will be found in another column. It should be the pride of the people to aid in sustaining this time-honored institution, and if that be not a sufficient motive, the attractions of the ball itself, which will no doubt be as grand a success as the former ones under the same auspices, will prove an additional incentive.

COUNTY COURT.—The January term of the County Court, Judge James Sangster to preside, will commence on Monday next. The criminal docket is as follows: Commonwealth vs. John Diamond, burglary; Commonwealth vs. Jno. R. Bowen, breaking and entering; Commonwealth vs. Addison Spillman, burglary; Commonwealth vs. James T. Washington, breaking and entering.

BANK DIRECTORS.—The following named gentlemen were to-day re-elected directors of the First National Bank of this city for the ensuing year: S. F. Beach, Wm. J. Booth, J. M. Stewart, Allen C. Harmon, S. F. Gregory, Joseph Broders, R. H. Stabler and E. S. Laidbatter.

ENJOINED.—The sale of the farm of T. L. Sanborn, known as Warwick, and situated near this city, which was advertised to take place to-day, was stopped by an injunction from Judge Lowe of the Corporation Court, issued in the suit of Rishell & Hooge vs. T. L. Sanborn.

Special Dispatches to the Gazette.

The Situation.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 16.—The action of the President in recognizing the Packard usurpation in Louisiana is severely criticised here, and is having a bad effect, in that it is rendering desperate men who have heretofore been inclined to moderation and who have been counseling forbearance. It is considered that this is but an indication of the purpose of the administration to put Hayes in the White House vi et armis, and while some of the Northern democrats have weakened somewhat under the blow, the West seems to be inspired with renewed spirit, and will more strenuously urge resistance.

It is certain that the situation is more alarming than it has been for some time, and that it but needs a spark now to ignite the magazine.

The joint committee on counting the electoral vote has as yet reached no definite conclusion, though it is whispered that the "draw game"—the arbitration scheme—will most likely be agreed upon.

Prominent men of sound judgment now shake their heads and do not hesitate to express a fear that the imbroglia will eventuate in a back down on the part of the democrats or a fight—that is the way it is put in plain English. That such an issue is the object of the President, backed up by Morton, Chandler & Co., is certain, and it is their aim to throw the onus upon the democrats, and the question is whether they will assume the responsibility.

Mr. Pelton, Mr. Tilden's private secretary, was before the Senate Oregon Investigating Committee to-day, and completely exonerated himself, and Mr. Tilden from the charge of bribery in Oregon.

The Police Board investigation was continued this morning by Mr. LeMoynes' committee. Detective McDevitt, Mr. Seibold, and A. Shepherd were examined, but nothing of importance was developed.

Congress.

THE SENATE.—WASHINGTON, January 16, 1877.—In the Senate, to-day, a considerable portion of the morning hour was occupied in the reading of a memorial of the radical usurpation in South Carolina in reply to the memorial of Wade Hampton.

At the closing of the morning hour the President's message relative to the occupation of Petersburg, Va., was taken up.

Mr. Johnson, of Va., addressed the Senate at length on the subject, making a most able and interesting legal argument as to the powers of the United States Marshals, and the right to summon the posse comitatus. He combated the views of the Attorney General in relation to the powers of these Marshals. Mr. J. detailed the operations of the two hundred and fifty Deputy Marshals in Petersburg on election day, each of whom had received a commission as an officer of the Grand Army of the Republic; each was made leader of a squad of ten negroes whom they led first to the custom house where the U. S. soldiers were posted, and where the negroes were sworn to vote the republican ticket, and then marched to the polls where they voted and afterwards fell into lines by which white voters were impeded in reaching the polls. There was no authority in law for U. S. Deputy Marshals in towns of less than 20,000, and the population of Petersburg was less than twenty thousand. The President and the General of the Army seemed never to have thought of the law on the subject.

President only made one inquiry, and that was where he could get the troops to send. Mr. Johnson examined the U. S. statute on the subject in the light of English precedents with much power. Mr. Withers, of Va., next addressed the Senate. He said that for weeks Congress had been engaged in a discussion of the question how the electoral vote should be counted, and high as popular interest in this question had mounted, it was of less importance than another question which was involved in the sending of U. S. troops to an interior town in Virginia. That question was whether the Executive Department of the government shall be permitted to control the ballots of the country? If this is permitted, it can be of very little importance how the votes are counted. The liberties of every people have fallen from a soldierly dominating the popular elections under the control of ambitious executive officers. And this made the occupation of Petersburg in time the usurpation of the United States, without warrant of law, a grave matter, to the discussion of which he invited the attention of the Senate. Mr. W. then quoted the section of the Constitution, which alone gave authority for the movement of United States troops into any State. That was on the application of the Legislature or the Governor. There was no exception in this case. The Legislature was not in session and the Governor met the invasion by a proclamation that will live to all time as a manly vindication of the rights of the States. He vindicated Gov. Kemper from the assaults of Mr. Morton some time since. He continued discussing the subject with great ability, and at the conclusion of his speech, the subject was laid aside.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES.

In the House of Representatives, Mr. Daughlas of Virginia, reported back from the Committee on the Freedman's Bank, a bill providing for the sale of the banking house of that concern to the government, and had it referred to the Committee on Public Buildings and Grounds.

The bill making an appropriation to pay the claims passed upon by the Court of Claims, was reported and ordered to be printed.

A bill removing the political disabilities of F. S. Armistead, of West Virginia, was passed. A bill was introduced and referred, to remove the political disabilities of women.

A bill removing the political disabilities of C. H. Barrow, of Alabama, was passed. A large number of bills, generally of a private character, were introduced or reported, and variously acted upon, some few being passed.

A petition from Dr. Mary E. Walker, asking for the right of franchise, was referred. The morning hour having arrived the House took up the bill for the appointment of a commission to attend a convention of the nation to determine the value of silver, which was discussed in short speeches, after which the House refused to reconsider the vote by which the bill was originally rejected ayes 125—noes 104.

The Legislative, Executive and Judicial appropriation bill was reported by Mr. Holman. A bill to provide for the payment of the interest on the District bonds, guaranteed by the Government, was reported by Mr. Wood but ruled out on a point of order.

A resolution authorizing the House Committee on counting the electoral vote to send for persons and papers and to sit during the session of the House, was objected to on the radical side but the objection was overruled, when the radicals commenced to filibuster and prevent the adoption of the resolution, but failed and it was adopted by a party vote.

A portion of the testimony in the Louisiana State case was reported and ordered to be printed.

The Judiciary Committee reported a resolution ordering the Sergeant-at-Arms to arrest and bring to the bar of the House J. Madison Wells, Anderson, Casenave and Kenca, the two latter negroes, the Louisiana Returning Board, on the charge of contempt in refusing to furnish the original returns of the election in that State. The radicals are opposing the resolution in a debate that will continue till six o'clock when it will be adopted. When the Board arrives and are committed it is suggested that they be confined in the same room.

Louisiana.

NEW ORLEANS, January 16—10:30 a. m.—There is no change in the political situation since last evening. The democrats have recovered from the depression, caused by the President's telegram to Gen. Augur, and are again hopeful, while the republicans maintain that the telegram foreshadows an early and complete recognition of their government.

Potomac Fishing.

HARPER'S FERRY, Jan. 16—1:30 p. m.—Both the Shenandoah and Potomac rivers are rising rapidly above here, and the ice is expected to break soon.

Local Brevities.

Mr. Joseph W. White, formerly of this city, is now the energetic, efficient and popular passenger agent of the Georgia Railroad, and Southern passenger agent of that whole line of roads known as the Magnolia Route.

Attention is called to the advertisement of the sale of silver plated ware by Harrison & O'Neal, auctioneers.

A marriage license was granted in Washington, yesterday, to Henry H. Reector and Lillie M. V. Hall, both of Fauquier county, Va.

Andrew Hanlon, charged with highway robbery, in biting diamonds from a ring on the hand of James Colgan, in Central Park, New York, at night, pleaded guilty to-day, and was sentenced to State's prison for ten years.

Look out for cold weather and don't catch cold, but if you do, nothing will meet the requirements of your situation as well as Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup.

Wells' Eureka makes a splendid lather, which assists in removing all impurities. It has the largest sale of any dentifrice in Washington city—costs only 25 cents.

Y. M. C. A.—The regular monthly meeting of the Young Men's Christian Association of this city will be held in their room, to-night, at half past seven o'clock. The members are notified that some important changes in the constitution will be presented for consideration, and are requested to be prompt in their attendance.
