

MONETARY AND COMMERCIAL.

Foreabouts we have no special change to note in the aspect of financial affairs. We hear of no pressing demand for money for business purposes, but a continued complaint of its scarcity among the people generally. We are pleased to note that there is reported a more cheerful feeling in business circles in the Northern cities, and hope the improvement may extend speedily in this direction.

GEORGETOWN CATTLE MARKET, Sept. 6.—The offerings of Beef Cattle this week reached 288 head; the market was quiet, and the supply fully adequate to the demand; and the prices were steady and firm, as to quality. About 800 Sheep and Lambs were offered, for which there was a moderate demand; sales of Sheep at 4 1/2 per lb, and Lambs at 2 1/2 per lb. A few Cows and Calves brought 20 1/2.

CINCINNATI HOG MARKET, Sept. 6.—Hogs active and firm; common 4 5/8 @ 5 1/8; light 5 1/8 @ 5 3/4; packing 5 3/4 @ 5 7/8; butchers' 5 3/4 @ 5 7/8; receipts 660; shipments 1155.

LOCAL MATTERS.

WEATHER PROBABILITIES.—War Department, Office of the Chief Signal Officer, Washington, D. C., Sept. 7, 1877.—10-30 a. m.—For the Middle Atlantic States, northeast, backing to southwest winds, cooler, cloudy and rainy weather, and falling barometer.

WORKINGMEN'S CONVENTION.—The convention of the so-called workingmen's party, to nominate candidates for the House of Delegates, was held at the Friendship exchance-house last night.

It was called to order by J. J. Heisley, chairman of the executive committee. John Calhoun Motter was elected chairman and Joseph Lish, secretary.

After Motter had returned thanks the roll was called, and thirteen out of the twenty-five delegates were found to be present. Two colored men from across the canal afterwards came in, making fifteen in all.

On motion of S. P. Devaughn, Thomas I. Edelin was elected vice president. It was determined to vote by ballot, and that a majority of the whole number of delegates elected be required to nominate.

Nominations for the House of Delegates being in order, George T. Swain nominated Allen C. Harmon; S. P. Devaughn nominated G. W. Henry, and J. M. Young nominated J. W. Greene.

Thomas I. Edelin voted to hear from the county. J. C. Motter said the county had no name to present; they only wanted good men, and would give the ticket from two to three hundred majority.

Peter Brunner called on Henry as a true workman. T. I. Edelin said that everybody knew A. C. Harmon, and that he was a first class man.

J. M. Young spoke as a first class man. S. P. Devaughn did not think Greene well enough known here.

J. M. Young said that all the people out his way wanted Greene because he was not a professional politician. S. P. Devaughn and J. M. Young were then appointed tellers, and the balloting, after much delay, proceeded.

It resulted: Harmon 25, Henry 14, and Greene 11. Motter evinced considerable surprise and consternation at this result, he having cast the three votes of Jefferson district, which he represented, as well as those of Arlington and Washington districts, which he did not represent.

After the figures had not been called, and after much hesitation and some whispered consultations Motter announced the result of the vote, and declared A. C. Harmon and G. W. Henry to be the nominees.

The nominations were subsequently made unanimous, and T. I. Edelin and Joseph Lish were appointed a committee to notify the nominees. The convention then adjourned.

ROSH HASHANA.—The Hebrew New Year, Rosh Hashana, occurs to-morrow, and the celebration attending it is begun in synagogues all over the world this evening. It is the first day of the month Tishri, of the year 5638, and it is believed that on this day the world was created.

A holy convocation was ordered by the law, and no work was to be done. The day is also called Yom Truch, as the sounding of the cornet was ordered, and Yom Hazikoran, the day of the memorial, as it is intended to recall to the remembrance of Hebrews the light in which the Lord regarded the piety of their patriarchs.

and that their children should endeavor to merit this favorable remembrance. The first days of Tishri are called Aasres Yemy Shuva, the ten penitential days, and the Sabbath occurring September 15, is called Sabbath Shuva. This name is derived from the Haphtora, or conclusion, the reading of which is a part of the New Year service in the synagogues.

The history is that Antiochus Epiphanes, after conquering the Egyptians, made war with the Israelites, and conquering them, gave orders to burn all their books and prohibited the reading of the weekly portion of the Pentateuch. The Israelites then selected certain chapters from the books of the prophets corresponding as nearly as possible to the text of the Pentateuch, and these chapters were read instead, and are called the Haphtora—hence reading on this occasion at the present time. Monday, the 3d of Tishri, is the last of Gedaliah, in remembrance of his assassination. The Orthodox Israelites celebrate two days, Saturday and Sunday, beginning at sunset Friday and ending at sunset Sunday. In the synagogues of this city, however, only one day is kept.

IN TROUBLE AGAIN.—The Washington Republican has the following:—"Hugh Strider, a respectable looking young white man, was in the dock of the Police Court yesterday charged with being a vagrant. He pleaded not guilty, but Officers Andridge and Hobbs, of the Fifth precinct, testified to his being constantly drunk in the streets, and to having waked him from his sound slumbers on the sidewalks upon more than one occasion; that he lives with a woman named Annie Murphy in the 'Division'; that he goes to her and demands money from her to purchase liquor with, and when she does not give it to him, he beats her in such a manner that the blows can be heard in the streets; that he has kept up since the 15th of last May. The court required him to give bond in the sum of $20 for his good behavior, and in default he was sent down for ninety days.

THE LOST BRIDGE.—The Washington Star says:—"The new draw of the Long bridge, which has been in the course of construction at the Virginia end of the bridge, to take the place of the draw at the Virginia channel, for some months past, is now about completed, and it is intended to remove the present draw and put in the new one Saturday, when travel will be less interrupted than it has been during the past few days. It is a Howe truss 195 feet long and 35 feet wide, weighing about 255 tons—and is rigged so as to be worked by steam. From 6 o'clock on Sunday evening to 6 o'clock on Monday morning navigation of the river will have to be suspended, and travel over the bridge will be closed from 10 o'clock Saturday night to 6 o'clock Monday morning, and it is expected that with the aid of tugs and scows the old draw will be safely floated out and the new draw safely put in place during the day of Sunday."

COMMITTEE ON POOR.—The Committee on the Poor of the City Council met at the Auditor's office this morning. The bids for furnishing various supplies to the poor were opened. The contract for groceries was awarded to Schofield & Bro., and that for meats to G. L. Watkins & Bro. After examining the law the committee determined over the disposition of mad dogs would have to be elected by the City Council, and that a contract could not be made as in former years.

CORPORATION COURT.—Judge E. M. Love presiding.—Saunders vs. Edson; in chancery; decree of sale. Saunders vs. Francis et al.; in chancery; do. ore. de sale.

Sundry fiduciary accounts were confirmed, and various accounts were allowed. The court adjourned until Tuesday morning at eleven o'clock.

LUNATIC.—Justices Padgett, Mills and Pendleton held a commission de lunatico inquiring at the jail, this evening, on James Fisher, colored, who resides at Freedman's Village. He was adjudged a lunatic and ordered to be sent to the Central Asylum.

THE W. & O. R. R.—The Richmond Dispatch says:—"In the City Court yesterday, Judge Wellford presiding, three specialties were made on the motion of Henry Lewis, of Philadelphia, and Henry S. McComb, of Wilmington, Del., to appoint a receiver and wind up the affairs of the Washington and Ohio Railroad Company. Colonel John S. Mosby led off in the day's argument on behalf of the company, and was followed by S. Ferguson Beach, of Alexandria, on the same side. The Hon. D. M. Bates, of Delaware, spoke in advocacy of the plaintiff's bill. To day it is expected that Senator Bayard will be heard also for the plaintiff. It is possible that a different arrangement may be made before the opening of the court to day, but that Mr. Bayard will be the next speaker was generally understood yesterday evening. The court room had during the proceedings of yesterday. While the case is of no great public importance in itself, from the attention given, it seemed much satisfaction was derived from looking at and listening to the eminent counsel engaged."

POLICE ITEMS.—The following cases have been tried since yesterday:—James Henderson, colored, for assaulting Priscilla Voss, colored, on the 9th of July last, with a "black jack," was fined and in default of payment, sent to the chain gang for 30 days. Two boys for fighting were fined and discharged. Ann Mason, for stealing sundry articles from Wm. Curtis, was sent to jail for 30 days.

POLITICAL.—The nominations made by the workingmen's convention last night, leaves three party tickets in the field for the Legislature, besides one independent candidate. They are as follows:—Conservative, Geo. A. Muehbach and Alexander Hunter. Workingmen, Allen C. Harmon and Geo. W. Henry. Radical, John B. Syphax and J. B. Johnson. Independent, George H. Ramey.

BURNED.—Intelligence has been received here that the smelter of Barco & Co., at Beaver City, Utah, was burned about two weeks since, involving a loss of about $20,000, on which there was no insurance. The senior member of the firm owning the smelter is Mr. John M. Burke, formerly of this city.

PERSONAL.—Rev. Dr. Sprigg, rector of Grace Church, has returned from his summer vacation very much improved in health, and will hold regular services in that church on Sunday next.

Local Briefs. Marriage licenses have been granted, in Washington, to T. W. Lanckton, of Alexandria Co., Va., and Martha J. Ellett, of Fairfax county, Va.; Edward Crumbaugh and Ella M. Walker, of Alexandria county, Va.

A man employed on Board the steamer Arlington, which was lying at Road's wharf, fell overboard while trying to get on board last night, and was rescued with some difficulty.

The rain of the past two days continued during last night and to-day, with some signs of clearing off this evening.

Forty-six boats, carrying 4,922 tons of coal, left Cumberland on Wednesday.

BELLE HAVEN INSTITUTE.—The patrons and friends of the Belle Haven Institute will be pleased to learn that the ensuing session promises to open with the most encouraging prospects. Quite an acquisition has been made to the able and efficient faculty of the past session in the person of Prof. F. J. Hahr, who is to take the position of musical director in the Institute. His attainments in the science of music, and his proficiency in the art of teaching it, have won for him an enviable reputation. We bespeak for this school that patronage its merits so richly deserve. The advertisement appears in another column of to-day's paper.

HEALTH ON A SURE BASIS.—In order to establish health on a sure basis, the inflexible system must acquire additional vigor. And yet, patent as this fact is, and widely known as it is, too many people neglect this vital point in the self-treatment of disease, and physicians are eventually equally remiss, resorting to the use of palliatives which affect symptoms only, and fail to accomplish the chief end in view, which is, or should be, the removal of the morbid cause. We rely on Hostler's Stomach Bitters as so successful in overcoming disease is that they impart vitality where it is deficient, and thus build up a superstructure for exhausted nature to recuperate upon. The Bitters also improve the appetite, soothe the nervous system when overstrained, and are a genial and agreeable medicinal stimulant, with a basis of pure spirits holding in solution botanic elements of the greatest efficacy.

We can confidently recommend Speer's Port Grape as a superior article of wine for the sick and debilitated, and all those who require tonic stimulation and invigoration. We rely on it to take the place of the noxious imitations so much in use. Physicians continue to employ the Port Grape Wine in their practice in all cases where a pure article of wine is called for, and do all in their power to foster and encourage its production.

W. & O. R. R.—Illness of R. H. Lee.

RICHMOND, VA., September 7.—The argument in the case of Lewis McComb and others vs. the Washington and Ohio Railroad Company, in which the petitioners pray for the appointment of a receiver, was resumed in the City Circuit Court this morning.

Richard Henry Lee, of Clarke county, addressed the court in behalf of the company and Judge Meredith, of Richmond, on the part of the State, opposing the appointment of a receiver.

During his speech, Mr. Lee was taken suddenly ill, the attack, partaking in its character, of a paralytic stroke.

Senator Bayard, of counsel for McComb and others, will probably speak to-morrow.

Letter from Fairfax. [Correspondence of the Alexandria Gazette.] FAIRFAX, C. H., Sept. 3, 1877.—Traveling through the adjoining counties during the past few weeks, and finding everywhere a copy of your widely read journal, your correspondent could scarcely ever glance at its columns without observing these familiar words, "the Fairfax Delegate." Who that fortunate individual may be the future only knows, but the interest displayed in the question by the valiant five, or their friends, is, doubtless, highly creditable to the county—and may be delicately whispered—rather amusing to some citizens outside of it. Fairfax, whose hand is so warmly sought in political alliance, is in an embarrassing position, and may well say—

"How happy I would be with either, Were't other dear charmer away."

But for a few days, at least, the inhabitants of this venerable, widely-known and highly-respectable village will proclaim a truce in political affairs, and turn their attention to matters religious. On Tuesday the 4th of the District Conference of the M. E. Church, South, will commence its sittings. Soon the village will be full of clerical gentlemen, clad in orthodox black, who, with "solemn step and slow" will gather at the handsome new church to enter upon their deliberations and preach the Gospel to the people. The Methodist Church is noted for its preaching power, and the people like to hear good sermons, so we may expect a "feast of fat things." So many ministers of one church in a small place like this will be a rare thing, although no single character is more familiar in country places than the Methodist preacher. Earnestly working in his Master's cause, perfectly at home wherever he goes, always on the move, an odd mixture of piety and worldly wisdom, a keen observer of human nature, a good judge of a horse and ever ready in the social circle, with jokes or repartee, there is no mistaking him, and the good he has done and is doing no one can estimate. How is it that a never-failing vein of humor is always found in his composition? The reporter would not be thought disrespectful. He only relates his own perceptions. He has known many and now and then one without it. Twenty years ago, in the west of England, from the lips of a venerable man, now, doubtless, gone to his rest, he heard a sermon on Idolatry. The preacher made a vigorous onslaught on all forms of it, love of wealth, of children, personal indulgence and so on. Now the old gentleman was an inveterate smoker, and after dinner retired to enjoy a pipe. A brother minister, noticing him at it, remarked, "Brother O'iver, you are worshipping your pipe!" "I am burning it, sir," was the instant reply uttered with imperious brevity.

The District Conference occupies an intermediate position between the more familiar Quarterly and Annual Conferences, and is probably of less importance than either. It is made up of the ministers itinerant and local, recording stewards and delegates from the circuits in the Washington District, which extends from Washington to Fredericksburg, up the Rappahannock, and includes Loudoun and Fauquier. What the business of the Conference will be seen when they proceed with it.

ANGELO V. The Fairfax Delegate. To the editor of the Alexandria Gazette: An anxious inquirer signing himself "Providence," in your paper of Tuesday last, wishes to know whether or not Mr. D. M. Chichester voted for Mr. Pierson two years ago, and calls upon Mr. C. to rise and explain. It occurs to your present correspondent that while in this order of business it would be well to hear from some of the other candidates also. For instance the gentleman from "Texas" might explain his proposition to certain radical leaders at the time referred to, to become an independent candidate against Cockerille, provided he would be sustained by the radical party, and at the same time declared publicly he had severed his connection with the conservative party forever, notwithstanding his generous offer was declined by the radicals. To say now he voted for Judge Cockerille is too high; Cockerille and his friends understand now this case. CENTREVILLE, FAIRFAX CO., VA., Sept. 6, 1877.
