The Nez Perces.

General Miles telegraphs October 3 from Bear Paw mountain, district of the Yellowstone, that his command marched rapidly to Snake Creek, striking a fresh trail of hostile Nez Perces coming out of Bear Paw mountain at 7 o'clock on the 30th ult. Surprised the camp at 8 o'clock, capturing the larger part of their herd and 600 horses, mules and ponies.

The engagement was quite severe. The Indians lost 17 killed, including Looking Glass and Joseph's brother and three other chiefs, and 40 wounded. Joseph gave up his solemn pledge yesterday that he would surrender, but did not, and they are evidently waiting for aid from other Indians. They say that the Sioux are coming to their aid...

I intend to send my wounded to the Missouri, and captured stock to the Yellowstone. I would respectfully suggest that information be sent to the Nez Perces crossing the line, or to disarm them should they take refuge on English soil. Can supplies be sent up the Milk river road for the second cavalry?

The country where the Nez Perces have taken refuge since their recent fight with General Miles is said to be equal to the famous lava beds where the Modocs fought. It is not believed at the War Department that Gen. Miles has sufficient force to keep the Indians at bay until reinforcements reach him.

Gen. Sheridan says:—I learn from the scout Buckoam, who brought General Miles's dispatch, that a battle took place on Snake Creek, about eight miles above its mouth. He thinks General Miles's force consisted of three companies of the second cavalry, three of the seventh cavalry and eight of the fifth infantry. He also thinks that none of the officers reported wounded are fatally wounded.

Mexican Border Troubles.

A dispatch from Mesilla, New Mexico, October 6th, repeats the reports published in the East relative to the troubles in El Paso county, Texas, and says one hundred of the Mexicans are from the Mexican side of the Rio Grande. It also says:—"A small detachment of the 9th United States cavalry started for the scene of trouble to-day, to protect the United States Custom-house and Government property. The Mexicans claim that El Paso county belongs to Mexico."

Mr. F. B. Foster, of the firm of Foster, Ludlow & Co., of New York, makes the following statement regarding the Greaser insurrection in El Paso:—"Our firm own the salt lakes about which there seems to be so much trouble in El Paso. While I remain in New York conducting our business, Messrs. B. C. Ludlow and George B. Zarnelmann reside in Austin, Texas. Judge Charles H. Howard is son-in-law of Zarnelmann, and has charge of the lakes. As the dispatch from San Antonio indicates, the difficulty has arisen because the Mexicans have recently been required to pay for the salt. Before the claims were located by our representatives the salt was obtained by them free of charge. When a moderate demand was made Louis Cardiz, the mail contractor, instigated the Mexicans to resist payment, upon which Judge Howard refused to further supply them. Hence the uprising. The demand for the salt in that section is about three hundred thousand bushels per year, much of which is sent to Chihuahua, Mexico, for table and mining purposes. The cost price in Chihuahua is four dollars per two and a half bushels. The charge has been only forty cents per bushel at the lakes. Upon the receipt of the intelligence in Chihuahua that one firm had located two claims salt went up to eight dollars per two and a half bushels. The price charged the Mexicans has been very reasonable."

CHAIN BRIDGE ROAD.—The Washington Republicans says an application has been filed with the District Commissioners by a number of the residents on the Virginia side of the Chain bridge, asking that the road leading thereto, in the District, be put in repair. They state that from the time the road was purchased for District purposes by national funds, in 1833, until 1873 or until the consolidation of the old corporation of Washington, Georgetown and the county into one government, Georgetown kept that road in tolerable condition, and as by the consolidation the present District government acquired all the right, they are therefore responsible for all the duties of the abolished corporation of Georgetown. They ask:—"If the District Commissioners fail to keep the road in repair, to who are the people to resort? No other corporation, State, county or township has any rights that extend over the road."

Mothers will grow weary and sigh over the responsibility that Baby places upon them, but they have the high privilege of shaping a character for usefulness. The exercise of patience and the preservation of Baby's health by the proper use of Dr. Bull's Baby Syrup will give them great present comfort and prospective happiness. 25 cents per bottle.

News of the Day.

There were nine cases of yellow fever reported at Fernandina Saturday and three deaths Sunday. Yesterday there were five new cases and one death reported. Dr. T. P. Weidorf, one of the physicians who went to Fernandina from Jacksonville when medical aid was asked, is among the sick, and was reported dying yesterday. There have been two new cases and one death from yellow fever at Port Royal, since Saturday. There have been forty-two cases in all. A dispatch from the Mayor of Port Royal yesterday says:—"We are in a deplorable condition here. There are now forty-eight cases of yellow fever under treatment. One death has occurred since last night. We are in want of food, nourishment and means to procure nurses for the sick. There are not enough convalescents to care for the sick."

At Columbia, S. C., yesterday, the colored ex-Congressman Smalls had a preliminary examination of the charges against him. Woodruff testified that he paid Smalls $5,000 as a bribe to vote for a measure before the Legislature in 1873. Smalls was held to bail to answer the indictment in the Circuit Court, which meets on the fourth Monday in October. Mr. Maxwell, Senator from Marlboro' county, in default of bail was imprisoned on a similar charge. These charges of bribery are connected with the printing swindles by the Republican Printing Company, of which Woodruff was the head center. His testimony is based upon a memorandum book he kept in short hand.

Philadelphia Commandery No. 2, Knights Templars, which is making arrangements to attend the Paris Exposition of 1878, is in receipt of a letter from E. W. Seward, Acting Secretary of State, which answers the question whether the commandery would be permitted to wear their side arms in France. The Acting Secretary informs the commandery that the French Government will accord them permission to wear their insignia in the meetings of their various corporations while in France, but that they should abstain from wearing them in public.

The report of the commission to investigate the origin of the Patent Office fire declares that there is no foundation for the supposition that the fire was from an incendiary origin, or from spontaneous combustion, but are inclined to attribute it to a fire kindled of dry pine on the morning that the fire occurred in the ladies' copying room in the basement, and that the sparks communicated to the roof through some defect in the flue. The temporary roof of the west wing was completed yesterday in time to shield that portion from the rain storm.

Funeral of Archbishop Bayley.

BALTIMORE, Oct. 9.—The obsequies of the late Archbishop Bayley took place this morning at the Cathedral, and were attended by thousands of persons. It had been announced that no person would be admitted to the church until 7:30 o'clock, but it was nearly 8 o'clock before the doors were opened. The pew-holders were supplied with tickets, and the crowd at the north gate was so large that the press was almost as great as that on the day of the arrival of the remains in this city. The throne and high and side altars were draped in mourning, as were also the galleries and organ loft. About half past eight o'clock the Young Catholic Friendly Society and the members of the Catholic Literary Association assembled at the archiepiscopal residence, and a line of procession was formed in the following order: Censor bearer, cross bearer and acolytes, sanatory b. y. reverend clergy, insignia bearer of the late Most Rev. Archbishop and Crozier, bier, Vicar General of the archdiocese, clergy of the Cathedral, Right Rev. Bishops. When the line of procession moved the bell of the Cathedral tolled until it had passed from the archiepiscopal residence through Charles, Mulberry and Cathedral streets to the principal aisle of the cathedral. The casket was placed on a catafalque immediately in front of the altar. The day was of black, with silver fringe. Four canopies, each containing 18 lights, were placed over the head and foot of the casket. The procession entered at 8:45 a. m., the clergy singing a dirge. Upon the casket were placed a floral cross, and at the head a floral design, while at the feet was a pillow of flowers. After the beginning of the service additional flowers were placed upon the casket, entirely covering the lid. The office for the dead was sung by the entire clergy, numbering upwards of one hundred, with the benediction by Cardinal McCloskey. The prelates present were: Cardinal McCloskey; Archbishops Wood of Philadelphia, and Williams of Boston; Bishops Gibbons, of Richmond and Coadjutor of Baltimore; Loughlin, of Brooklyn; O'Reilly, of Springfield, Mass.; O'Hara, of Scranton; D. Goltsbriand, of Burlington, Vt.; Becker, of Wilmington; Shanahan, of Harrisburg; McNiery, of Albany; Gross, of Savannah; Foley, of Chicago; Lynch, of Charleston.

Among the prominent citizens present were His Excellency, Gov. Carroll, Attorney General Gwynn and Mayor Latrobe. The requiem mass followed with Rt. Rev. Bishop Wood, of Philadelphia, as celebrant with Rev. Father Dougherty, of Elkton city, as deacon and Rev. Father Lyman, of Govans town, sub deacon. The mass was the Gregorian. After the services at the cathedral the body was sent to Emmetsburg according to the programme published yesterday.

ROY A MILLIONAIRE BANKER'S DAUGHTER BOYDED INTO SOCIETY.—The California fashionable world had a brilliant sensation recently in a grand entertainment at the country mansion of D. O. Mills, the millionaire banker, to celebrate the betrothal society of his only daughter. Over one hundred millions' worth of property was represented at the party, and diamonds to the value of over two millions flashed from the ornaments of the women. The betrothal was presided at by "Diamonds sparkled like dew, and the treasures of the Nile and of Golconda were there in all their dazzling glory." Our millionaire, explains a local paper, are without exception, unostentatious. With fortunes which European princes would be proud of possessing, their every day life is as plain as an American citizen's; and it is only when some event like the betrothal of Miss Mills into the fashionable world calls them together, that there is any glimpse at the splendor of their riches. Just as the Queen's levee at St. James calls forth the reigning jewels and tiaras of her subjects, so an event of this nature in our own country brings out the magnificent equipages and diamonds of our ordinarily plain but enormously wealthy families. The host of this countless wealth were a poor one aside from the fact that the reigning generation represents as much refinement, taste and delicacy as riches. Our educational advantages are equal to those enjoyed by any State in the Union, and Californians are the first people in the world to add foreign travel to their home advantages. The gathering at Millbrae will long be remembered by those who had the honor to be there. While it represents incalculable wealth, it was equally conspicuous for beauty, grace, learning and refinement. Looking back twenty-eight years in the history of our State, and comparing 1849 with 1877, we may include in proof of the stride we have made, and look forward to California as the future home of all that is good, great, and beautiful.

METEOROLOGICAL.—September, 1877, has been warmer than the average for the past seven years, and warmer than any September in that time, with the exception of September, 1874, which was about the same as this year, viz: September, 1871, the mean temperature was 64.15; 1872, 68.66; 1873, 68.67; 1874, 70.34; 1875, 65.52; 1876, 67.85; 1877, 70.25. The warmest day was the first day of the month, 88°; the next warmest was the 26th, 86°. The coldest mornings were the 22d and 23d, 51° each. The amount of rain fall for this month was 6.80 inches, which is above the average for the past five years, that being only 4.82 inches; September, 1873, had only 1.60 inches of rain; 1874, 5.30; 1875, 1.70; 1876, 8.70; 1877, 6.80 inches. The rain fall for the year ending at this place from 33.25 to 55.00 inches. In 1872 we had only 38.50 inches; 1873, 52.75; 1874, 40.90; 1875, 33.25; 1876, 36.50 inches. We have in this region the average rain fall of the whole United States. In some of the Northern States they have less than one foot of rain during the year, while in some of the Southern States over 50 inches. C. GREENHAM, Accotick, Va.

Fairfax Delegate. PROVIDENCE DISTRICT, FAIRFAX CO., October 9, 1877. To the editor of the Alexandria Gazette: Will you permit me through your columns to endorse the nomination by "Mount Vernon" of Mr. N. W. Pearson, our late member of the House of Delegates, for re-election. Last elected by republicans, we have seen nothing in his Legislative career to impair our confidence, and we have it from high conservative authority that on every question before the Legislature affecting the honor and welfare of Virginia he was invariably found on the right side, demonstrating that upon all practical questions of State interests the true republican and true conservative may not differ. His influence and efficiency in the body of which he was a member is apparent in the acts of both State and local importance, due to his exertion, and with the experience he has gained we may expect a still larger influence and efficiency in the future. He is presented now by no party organization, but while this leaves him free from any partisan pledges or bias, republicans have nothing to fear from any departure from those fundamental principles upon which our party was constructed, for these being part of his own nature, and he an honest man, can never be false.

At this time, when the decay of partisanship promises so much for peace and good will, not only between South and North, but also in the South itself, between hitherto antagonistic parties, held back from open war only by the strong arm of federal power, and now unrestrained dwelling peacefully together, it would seem eminently fitting in all that we do for our country, to select men for public position who are free from party obligations, and whose character as to integrity and ability and identity of interests with the masses of the people are the best guarantees for honest, capable and true representation and for good government in the interests of all the people. REPUBLICAN.

Wheat is higher, and receipts have increased; sales of 3414 bushels at 142 1/4 for white, and 1084 1/2 for red. Corn is coming in more freely, and 1220 bushels were offered, and sold at 74 and 75 for mixed, and 70 for yellow. 150 bushels Rye brought 60 and 62, and 450 of oats remaining over unsold.

BALTIMORE CATTLE MARKET, October 9.—Beef Cattle.—Prices to-day ranged as follows: Best Heaves..... 60 1/2 to 65 1/2 Medium or good fair quality..... 55 1/2 to 60 1/2 Ordinary thin Steers, Oxen and Cows..... 40 1/2 to 50 1/2 Most of the sales were from..... 40 1/2 to 50 1/2 Total receipts for the week 3011 head. The market for Bees has been fairly active, and this week it improved in price as compared with those of last week, quality being taken into consideration; for while there were some very good Cattle here, the tops were not so good as those of last week. The improvement on head butchers' Cattle was 1 1/2 per lb., while before the close the common grades in some cases had advanced obtained in the beginning of the week. We quote at 32 1/2 per 100 lbs.

Milk Cows.—The trade has been very active, and sales have been made as high as $20 per head, and as low as $12, at retail in both a and b grades.

Sheep and Lambs.—The supply of good sheep has been much more limited this week than was last week, as also good lambs, both of which have been in demand. The receipts consisted almost entirely of common to medium, and but few fine sheep, and good ones were scarce. We quote as follows: Good Sheep at 4 1/2 per lb. gross. Stock Sheep at 3 1/2 per head, and in very light demand. Lambs at 5 1/2 per lb. gross. Receipts this week 4023 head.

Hogs.—With a rapidly diminished number in the receipts the market has been fairly active, and quotations very lively different from those of last week, in view of the scarcity. The week's receipts were no Hogs equal to those tops which were sold last week at $12, nor were there quite so many or as light grades among the receipts. We quote at 17 1/2 for common to best grades, and at 15 1/2 per lb. for good to best grades, and at 12 1/2 for the latter price. Receipts this week 657 head.
