

LOCAL NEWS.

WEATHER PROBABILITIES, May 22, 1879. For the Middle States, rising and higher barometer, northerly winds, cooler and generally clear weather, with winds generally veering to northeasterly.

SPEAKING LAST NIGHT.—According to an announcement, Dr. J. B. Johnson, Independent candidate for Mayor, addressed the people at the corner of King and Columbus streets last night. The crowd was quite a large one and about equally divided between whites and negroes.

Dr. Johnson began by saying that the Mayor of the city should be a man capable of thinking and not a mere automaton. He declared loudly against the use of whiskey in scouring voters and contended that no man elected by such means could afterwards, with any consistency, properly administer the laws against intoxication and disorder.

The Doctor then took up the debt question. He opposed re-funding, but wanted the interest reduced to three per cent. He claimed that in order to pay that sum, it was necessary to exercise rigid economy in municipal affairs. He favored a consolidation of offices to preference to a reduction of salaries, and believed that several thousand dollars could be saved thereby. He then enlarged on the necessities contained in his card already published in the Gazette.

He favored one term of office, in order to prevent corruption in office. In conclusion he promised, if elected, to faithfully perform the duties of the office.

During the course of his remarks, Dr. Johnson was interrupted by Robert Hopkins, colored, whom he warned not to interrupt him saying, "Robert you have been hired; I don't hire you." At this the crowd yelled, and Hopkins wanted to reply, but was threatened by the Doctor with ejection by the police. The speech then went on with frequent interruptions, most of which the speaker treated with contempt, but occasionally gave the interrupters a striking rejoinder, to the apparent delight of the crowd.

Upon the conclusion of Dr. Johnson's remarks, he retired from the stand, whereupon Hopkins jumped upon it. He was met with violence by the colored men present, and finally prevented from saying a word. The excitement continued for some minutes, when a brother of Hopkins became disorderly and was arrested. The noise then became louder, and as Hopkins had a crowd of friends near him, there was imminent danger of a row. Officer James Smith approached Hopkins and ordered him off the stand, on the ground that he was creating a disturbance, but he, asserting his right to speak, refused to come down. Officer Smith then arrested him and started for the Station House, when he was set upon by a number of men and struck over the eye. By a vigorous use of his billy, however, he cleared a way and conveyed his prisoner to the Station House.

Both of the prisoners were released on their recognizance to appear this morning. After hearing the evidence this day, Mayor Kemper reprimanded the parties and discharged them. He also complimented the officers for their efficient and prompt services in this disturbance. Geo. H. Nowland, who was struck with a billy during the melee, swore out a warrant before Justice Thompson this morning against Officer Smith, charging him with assault and battery. The case will be heard to-morrow morning.

On the other hand the Mayor has issued a warrant against Mr. Noland for interfering with an officer in the discharge of his duty.

MISS AGNES HERRON.—Miss Herndon has recently returned to Virginia, her native State, from an extensive professional tour through the Southern States and will make her first appearance before the Alexandria audience, at Saxepta Hall, Friday evening, the 23rd inst. We cordially welcome her back to the Old Dominion, and feel a Virginian pride in pronouncing a splendid career for her in histrionic art of which her performances throughout the South give certain assurance. It will not be out of place in this connection (and we trust we may be pardoned for doing so) to draw aside the professional curtain which veils her in her personal relations as a Virginia lady of whom every Virginian must feel proud and who will be warmly welcomed in Virginia socially as well as professionally. With this view, therefore, we may mention that she was born in Great Britain county, nine miles from the White Sulphur, and when but a child attended school at Charlottesville, at the celebrated seminary of which Prof. Hart was principal. She is now only 24 years of age, but in art culture is the peeress of such famous artists as Charlotte Cushman, Julia Deane and Charlotte Thompson, and in some passages of her performance she almost rises to the height of Jeanne de Lorraine. Her family history is full of honorable names, among which is that of her brother, Col. Philip Farrar (her family name is Farrer) who was killed at the head of the "Stonewall Brigade" at the battle of the Wilderness, and now lies buried at Richmond—ad Capt. Herndon, of the ill-fated "Central America" was her uncle.

THE ELECTION.—The office of the City Treasurer was crowded until about midnight last night by voters paying their capitation tax, and the Treasurer and his assistants were hard at work the rest of the night in preparing the certified lists for the different polling places. Only about 1300 persons have paid the tax about 250 or 300 of them being colored. It will be seen from this fact that the vote must necessarily be a light one. Today the election has been progressing slowly and quietly, very little excitement being manifested. In fact there are no signs of an election being in progress, except in the immediate vicinity of the polls.

At four o'clock this evening the vote in the several wards was as follows:

Table with 2 columns: Ward, White, Colored. Rows include 1st ward, 2nd ward, 3rd ward, 4th ward, and Totals.

There seems to be no doubt of the election of the entire conservative ticket.

PERSONAL.—The Richmond State says:—"Among the delegates to the annual convention recently assembled in Odd Fellows' Hall, in this city, was Rev. Fields Cook, who has been pastor for several years past of a Baptist church in Alexandria. Twenty years ago, when his Royal Highness the Prince of Wales visited it and spent with the Duke of New Orleans, and had apartments at the Ballad House, Dr. Cook was employed there. Dr. Cook's escape from the South during the late unpleasantness, from the dramatic incidents attending it, made some stir at the time. At the conclusion of the war, after dipping briefly into politics during reconstruction times, he subsided into a teacher of the Gospel, and has since maintained the character of a consistent Christian with credit to himself. Ago seems to sit very lightly on the revered gentleman's head, who has many friends in this community."

THE BAPTIST GENERAL ASSOCIATION.—The Baptist General Association meets in Charlottesville next week. The First Baptist Church, in this city, adopted a motion last night allowing any member of that church who may be present to act as their delegate, in connection with the pastor, Rev. W. S. Penick.

A valuable remedy for Dyspepsia, Sick Headache, Torpid Liver, and such like diseases we can recommend Dr. Bull's Baltimore Pills. They are for sale by all druggists. Price only 25 cents.

INTERESTING CASE.—The case of Fowler, Snowden & Co., vs. the A. & W. R. R. Co., which was in progress in the Circuit Court for the county, when the Gazette's report closed yesterday, was submitted to the Court at a late hour. The first issue involved is as to the right of the Alexandria and Fredericksburg Railway Company to condemn a portion of the roadway of the Alexandria and Washington Railroad Company. Another point is as to whether the lien creditors of the A. & W. R. Co., having failed to appeal at the time of the condemnation, are not now debarred from making such an appeal. The case is of considerable interest among the lawyers.

ILLUSTRATED.—Among the illustrations in one of the late Northern papers, two representing the arrest and trial of two gentlemen, near the Long Bridge, for alleged trespassing, as mentioned in the Gazette some time since, it will be recalled that the gentlemen were arrested by negro constables and fined by a negro justice, who is represented to have been crooked. The fine was afterwards divided between the officials.

JUDGE LOWE.—The condition of Judge E. M. Lowe, whose illness has excited such general regret, was considered to be further improved this evening. Rev. Father Kitzing at the 10 o'clock mass, in St. Mary's church, this morning, solicited the prayers of the congregation for the recovery of the Judge.

ASCENSION DAY.—To-day was known in the calendars of the Catholic and Episcopal churches as Ascension Day, in commemoration of the ascension of Christ into heaven forty days after His resurrection. It was observed in the Catholic Church as a holiday of obligation, services being held at 10 A. M.

DR. J. F. MASON, of Loudoun county, formerly of this city, had the misfortune, one day last week, in jumping from his porch, to fall and break his leg.

CONGRESSIONAL.

Reported for the Alexandria Gazette. WASHINGTON, May 22.

SENATE. Mr. Mc Donald asked leave to introduce the bill regulating the use of the army, of which he gave notice on Tuesday. Mr. Edmunds asked whether the bill was intended to enlarge or diminish the existing constitutional powers of the executive in the use of the army.

Mr. Mc Donald said it properly regulated the President's powers under the constitution. The bill would show for itself whether it enlarged or restricted those powers. Mr. Edmunds wished to know if Mr. Mc Donald's opinion is his effect was to repeal or only to define existing laws, and if he thought any legislation on the subject necessary.

Mr. Mc Donald said the first three sections under the title, "Insurrection," as they appear in the revised statutes, were in his mind in offering the bill. He desired to give his views at least on Monday.

Mr. Edmunds thought no such legislation necessary. It did not look to the abatement of any fault in existing laws, but he would not object to the bill's introduction. The bill was received and laid on the table and Mr. Mc Donald gave notice that he would call it up on Monday and speak thereon.

Mr. Wallace gave notice that he intended to speak on the same subject after the Senator from Indiana. Mr. Edmunds gave notice that he would speak on the same subject when he could get the floor under the rules. [Laughter.] The Senate then took up the bill to prevent the introduction and spread of contagious and infectious diseases.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES. Mr. Goode, of Va., introduced a bill authorizing the Secretary of the Navy to place vessels and hulks at the disposal of commissioners of quarantine or other proper persons at the ports of the U. S. Referred to the Committee on Naval Affairs.

The House then, at 12:30, resumed, as the business of the morning hour, the bill to repeal and amend the laws relating to the transfer of cases from State to Federal Courts.

The republicans refused to vote on the demand for the previous question, thereby blocking up business. Various propositions were thereupon suggested on both sides of the House but were not considered.

Mr. Payne, of Maine, wanted the bill referred to the Judiciary Committee; and Mr. Harris, of Va., wanted the republicans, in case that motion was voted down, to withdraw dilatory motions and filibustering. Mr. Conger, of Mich., took exception to the use of offensive epithets and objected to any further statement by Mr. Harris.

Mr. Garfield, of Ohio, declared that all that was wanted on the republican side was to have a fair chance for debate, but that was out of the question. He thought it better to have time used in debate than wasted in such attempts. Mr. F. Wood, of N. Y., suggested that there were other committees that desired to make reports in the morning hour, and that they were prevented from doing so by this bill blocking up the way.

He was willing that there should be a full debate, and wanted to know how much time would satisfy the other side. To that Mr. Garfield replied that he could not fix any time. Mr. Harris: Name the time and you shall have it. Mr. Conger: I will name the third Tuesday of January. [Laughter.] Mr. Frye remarked that the bill effected every large corporation in the country, and should be considered by the Judiciary Committee.

Mr. Cox, of New York, was willing to have a vote taken on that motion, but with an understanding in case of its being voted down that there should be no more dilatory proceedings. The republicans declined to enter into any such arrangement, and Mr. Cox exclaimed, "then we cannot trust you." Finally, as all efforts at a compromise failed, and as the republicans declined to vote, a call of the House was proceeded with.

The call consumed the morning hour, and the bill went over without action until Saturday next. The House then resumed the consideration of the Werner silver bill.

From the present prospect, Warrenton it has had a long record this summer than it has had since the war. All of the available space in the hotel is engaged, and over 1000 that will take boarders will be filled.

The bill of exceptions taken to the ruling of Judge Gaines in the case of Commonwealth vs. Winter Payne, has not yet been presented to Judge Keith to be signed. There is little prospect of a new trial being granted—Warrenton Solid South.

On the night of the 15th inst., Chas. Kenay, colored, was knocked down near Capt. Edmunds' residence on Batted road, while going home from Warrenton, by an unknown negro, and robbed of several five cents, all the money he had upon his person. He was insensible for a while, but managed to reach a neighbor's house about midnight.

Strike Ended. NEW CASTLE ON TYNE, May 22.—After considerable difficulty the obstinate section of the striking coal miners has been induced to accept the award of wages made by the judge of the Durham County Court last week and all the pits in the Durham Miner's Union will be working to-day. The coal owners in Germany have taken advantage of the miner's strike here to push German coals into all the Baltic ports, and it is feared that a considerable portion of the ordinary summer trade in coals from the Tyne may have been forestalled.

Political. ALBANY, N. Y., May 22.—At a meeting of the Assembly Republican caucus last night, Mr. Alfred announced that in compliance with the action of the Senate caucus, the party had been called together for the purpose of discussing the propriety of issuing an address to the people of the State calling attention to the superior work of the present Legislature. After a spirited discussion, the caucus adjourned, refusing to entertain the proposition.

HON. BEVERLY DOUGLAS' DEATH.—There was a rumor about the City Hall yesterday that the detectives employed by the family of the late Beverly B. Douglas to investigate the cause of his death had made a report and that this had been laid before the grand jury. The talk at the time of Mr. Douglas' death last winter as to his having had a difficulty with an ex-Congressman from the same State in a house of ill fame two or three days before his death, is said to be confirmed by the investigation, and that the grand jury will proceed to the consideration of the matter at the first opportunity.—Washington Post.

THE TRAMP LAW, which has passed both branches of the New York Legislature, imposes not less than a year's imprisonment on "all transient persons who rove about from place to place." The act is so drawn as to put the burden of proof on the accused person, and under it any stroller can be required to show that he is not a tramp. Trespass, finding a fire on the highway or on any premises without consent, carrying firearms, or threatening to do any injury to any one, are made punishable by this law with two years' imprisonment in the case of tramps, while any resident of a town where an offense is committed is empowered to make arrests.

TO THE PUBLIC.—Notwithstanding the strong pressure for "cheap" goods to which most manufacturers have yielded by lowering both quality and price, I have maintained the highest standard of our product while reducing prices by every legitimate means. The people are tired of "shoddy" clothing, bought only from necessity, and the country's improvement is evidenced by the growing demand for better goods. For the spring of 1879 I have prepared one of the choicest stocks of stylish clothing I ever produced, and my prices are as low as the cost of labor and material will permit. Terms cash. S.
