EXTRAORDINARY VERSATILITY OF WESTERN "DUSTERS."—A day or two ago a motherly looking woman of forty-five entered a Woodward avenue clothing store having a man's linen duster on her arm, and when approached by a salesman she said: "Some one in here sold this duster to my son yesterday."

"Yes, ma'am, I sold it myself," replied the clerk, as he looked at the garment.

"Did you tell my son that this duster could be worn either to a picnic, funeral, bridal party or quarterly meeting?"

"I did, madam, and so it can."

"Did you tell him that it made a good fly blanket when not otherwise needed?"

"I did."

"That it could be used as a boat sail, a stretcher, a cover for a bed spread?"

"Yes, ma'am, I did."

"And that a good many people used them as table covers?"

"I did."

"And that they would last for years and then make excellent stuff for a rag carpet?"

"I did."

"And you charged only a dollar?"

"Only a dollar, ma'am."

"Well, when John came home last night and brought the duster, and told me what you said, I made up my mind that he must have been drunk, and I was a little afraid he stole the garment. I am glad it's all right."

"It certainly is all right, ma'am, and since he was here yesterday we have discovered that the duster is a great conductor of sound, a preventive of sunstroke, and that no man with one on his back ever dropped dead of heart disease."

"Lord save us?" she gasped, as she waited for the bundle; "but who knows that they won't fix 'em so long that they'll raise a mortgage on the farm?"—Detroit Free Press.
