VIRGINIA NEWS.

An attempt is being made to reorganize the Clarke county...

Pendleton T. Moore, a popular young lawyer of Norfolk, died yesterday of diphtheria.

The Shenandoah Valley Railroad Company have purchased in Germany six thousand tons of steel rails, which will be sufficient to complete their road to its southern terminus.

Not only is scarlet fever prevalent in Clarke county, but in some of the counties adjoining. The disease has generally appeared in a mild form, though there have been several fatal cases since its appearance.

The stable of Mr. Rolt, T. Eiler, in Frederick county, with one horse, was burned on Tuesday morning. Another horse was seriously injured, and a quantity of harness destroyed.

It seems to be generally conceded that Mr. Massey will be the choice of the readjusters for the office of First Auditor, in place of that old, capable, and well tried public servant, Wm. F. Taylor.

On Wednesday night, at Bristol, Mrs. Wilson, a well to do resident, aged 55 years, in a fit of temporary insanity, endeavored to cut her throat and breast with a pair of scissors, surviving but a few minutes.

On Wednesday evening, at Wytheville, Robt. Wood, a highly respectable citizen of Wythe county, while intoxicated, refusing to go home with his brother William, a mutual friend, named Matthews, offered to aid in taking him. The engineer corps of the Shenandoah Valley Railroad have been surveying a route to intersect the Chesapeake and Ohio, and it is reported that the route to Fishersville pronounced the best that has yet been run. The company has received $65,000 of the new bonds of Clarke county, issued to retire the old bonds of 1872 and accumulated interest. The remaining $25,000 is held by the county until Mr. J. D. Bruce, the engineer appointed to inspect the road, has completed his work and reported thereon.

The Legislature will meet next Wednesday. The House of Delegates will be organized by the present clerk, J. Bell Bigler, who holds over until his successor is chosen. A conference of the leading debt payers and of the readjusters will probably be held on Monday night, as many of the members are expected to be there at that time. The indications at present are that most of the colored members of the two houses, who were elected as such, will go into caucus with the readjusters and probably vote with them for the officers, &c.

A. Eilers, the German who was arrested in Richmond, with a number of supposed fraudulent foreign drafts for large amounts, with which he had endeavored to effect the purchase of a large quantity of tobacco for shipment to Germany, was examined in the police court yesterday, and sent to the Hustings Court for indictment for attempting to obtain goods under false pretenses. His companion, Wm. Schneider, was held until Saturday with a view of hearing from New York as to his identity. He says he has a wife in that city, and claims to have been duped by Eilers, of whom he knows nothing, and that he was employed to travel with him on account of his Eilers' blindness.

Letters from Fauquier.

CARTER'S RUN VALLEY, Nov. 26.—It is not my purpose to give the readers of the Gazette a description of this portion of Upper Fauquier, for if I attempted to do such a thing I would doubtless fail in the attempt. It has been my good fortune to spend several days in this favored section, where a protracted meeting has been in progress for several days. Twelve months ago, passing from Salem down this valley, immediately on the road leading from Salem to Cliff Mills, could be seen an old church in a very dilapidated state, looking as though it had been long ago, and the half century, and judging of the religious status of the people by said church, one would have naturally concluded that everybody in this section were heathens instead of worshippers of the true and living God. Lo! what a change!

In the place of an old forsaken house, we find one of the neatest, best kept churches in the land. This church has for its pastor Rev. S. M. Athey, who, with his push and the aid of all the people, has succeeded in bringing about this wonderful transformation. Ebon Church was once presided over by men who will ever be held in high esteem by the Baptists of Virginia. Among the rest was Col. Love. After his resignation the church remained without a pastor for many years, and became almost extinct. In 1861, if I mistake not, Rev. A. M. Grimsey began preaching here and continued so to do until the war, when the Olden Baptist Church dismissed some fifteen or twenty members from that body for the purpose of organizing a church at this place. After the organization was completed Rev. A. M. Grimsey was called to be pastor of the church, which he continued to serve until 1878, at which time he resigned his care, to take charge of another church. Rev. S. M. Athey then received a call to be pastor, which he accepted. Although the men preaching Mr. Athey filled the pulpit with acceptance to the people, none of them have filled it with more ability than he. We never heard of a minister of the Gospel held in higher esteem or beloved more than he is. The protracted meeting began here on the third Sabbath in November and has continued with unabated interest, day and night. The pastor was aided by Rev. T. B. Lake, whose eloquent discourses will long be remembered by those who heard them. Mr. Lake left on Thursday. Mr. Athey continued preaching morning and night of each day. Sabbath morning he baptized twenty in the pool, near to Salem, 'because there was much water there.' The meeting still continues, and, up to the present, five others have been received for baptism. Mr. Athey had to go to River-ton on yesterday to fill an appointment, but will be present again to night. The house has been literally packed during the meeting. I shall never forget the scene we witnessed on Friday night. At one time there was scarcely a dry eye in the house. Men unused to weeping, wept aloud. This church is prospering spiritually and financially. It is entirely free from debt, and has before it a glorious future.

ORLEAN, Nov. 25.—The wind of last Thursday did considerable damage to the fields of fodder, stacks of straw, hay, &c. Mr. Wallace Philip, near this place, estimates his loss at $150, the destruction of fencing not included in the bill. Rev. S. M. Athey's loss is between $30 and $40. Out of three hundred fodder sheaves there are fifteen left; the larger portion is scattered to the four winds. Others have suffered equally as much. One in passing along the road would hardly suppose that some of the fields ever had any fodder in them. Blessed is the man who does not husk his corn, though in many instances corn shocks have been blown to pieces. One of our farmers went to the trouble of tying his fodder in bundles with spits. The field contained one hundred and fifty shocks. We suppose it the field was raked with a horse rake two shocks could not be found. These who did not feel and witness the result of the storm of that day can not form an idea of the losses inflicted on our farmers. Many of them will be forced to sell their stock at a sacrifice owing to the scarcity of food, made as by the wind. Other sections of the country have suffered equally as much as this. We are not in the habit of cooking, but if the winter should prove a long and severe one provender will be scarce, very scarce indeed, ere another spring dawns upon us. Still we hope for the best.

Rev. A. M. Grimsey held a meeting of several days' duration at the Olden Baptist Church recently, the result of which was sixteen added to the church. He was aided by Rev. S. M. Athey, who preached with great acceptance to the people.

TRANSFER OF STOCK.—The sales of the enormous 'block' of New York Central railroad stock to a 'syndicate' consisting of the most solid New York bankers and London banking houses doing business in New York has at last been consummated. Mr. Vanderbilt has disposed, in fact and in option, so it appears, of a little less than one half of his entire stock in the great railroad which has long been in his control and that of his father, Mr. Van derbilt was reputed to own about $52,000,000 of the total $99,000,000 stock of this road, which has over 2,432 miles of track and third. Of this he has sold absolutely nearly one third, and agreed to sell what will amount altogether to very nearly one half. Mr. Vanderbilt has announced publicly that he has made this sale in order to divide his great responsibilities with other persons. He was tired, and perhaps afraid of being the single object of all the shafts of obliquity and reproach lately launched at his head and himself, especially since the astounding developments made by the committee of the Legislature of New York of the great and numerous discriminations of his road in freight rates.

A SAUCY PRINCESS.—It is said that the late Lord Russell did his very best to make himself disagreeable to his sovereign. 'Mamma says you're such a saucy man,' quoth the little Princess Royal one day to the shortest Liberal statesman of the age. Pleasant to relate is the story of a certain distinguished physician, and how he would frequently call at Windsor Castle, and how the princess would always familiarly address him as 'Papa,' for he was a famous physician and she a merry child. Remonstrances from a most august personage failed to induce the princess to cease 'Papa's' name with some sort of prefix. At length she was peremptorily informed that, if she ever again ventured to make use of this unbecomingly styled address, the punishment would be an instant dismissal (vulgar, 'packing off') to bed. The physician reappeared in a day or two and was greeted by the young lady with these words: 'Good morning, Brown, and good night, too, to Brown, for I'm off to bed,' and she sat out 'that a treat.'

TRINITY vs. Gravelor. From the Circuit Court of Loudoun county. Reversed, Judge Bishop delivering the opinion. Judge Moncure dissenting. Hoskinson vs. Percy and Als., and White, &c. vs. King, &c. From the Circuit Court of Loudoun county. Both affirmed, Judge Burks delivering the opinion. In these cases Judge Anderson did not concur in the opinion delivered by Judge Moncure. In the opinion delivered by Judge Moncure he holds that the executor of a will is not liable for the costs of a petition for a mandamus. Rule nisi discharged and petition dismissed. Opinion delivered by Judge Christian.

SINGING QUADRILES.—At the birthday anniversary of the young millionaire, C. H. Cook, at Hartford, on Monday evening, a number of young ladies and gentlemen introduced a novelty in the way of double quadriles. The ladies taking part in these were dressed in white and the gentlemen in full evening dress, their costs being faced with red or blue silk and cutouts.

WIT AND DEPENDENCE.—When the Scotch Professor Aytoun was courting the daughter of Professor Wilson ('Christopher North'), he told her he did not mention the subject to her father. She therefore went to the old man herself, asking: 'Shall I accept his offer?' He says he is too stupid to name the subject to either. 'Then,' she said, 'I thought, "I had better write my reply and pin it to your back." He did so, and the answer was: "With the author's compliments."

The old ale taster's method of 'analyzing' beer for the purpose of detecting the addition of sugar to the liquor was rather primitive. Like most men in those times he wore leather breeches, and when he went to taste the ale for the presence of sugar, a pint of fluid was spilt on a well cleaned bench and the taster sat upon it till it dried. If, on rising, the seat of the breeches stuck to the bench then sugar was present, but if not the beer was pure.

ATTEMPTED SUICIDE.—CINCINNATI, Ohio, Nov. 25.—About 1:30 this morning a bal masque, at Robinson's Opera House, a variety actress giving her name as Ada Clifton and her home as Columbus, O., attempted suicide by shooting herself in the region of the heart with a small pistol. She had been drinking freely and was so stupefied as to be unable to give a correct account of herself. She was removed to the hospital and the wound was examined. At the present writing the location of the bullet has not been ascertained.

BODY SNATCHER.—CHATTANOOGA, TENN., Nov. 25.—A white man named Bennett Jackson was arrested here this morning for 'stealing' the body of Tennessee Keith, who died on Wednesday night. The body was packed in a shoe box, addressed to Atlanta, and marked as containing fresh fish. Last night it was attempted to send the same box to Cincinnati, the contents this time being cotton seed, but it was retained by the express company as being of no value. The change of contents aroused suspicion, which led this morning to the discovery of the body.

NOT GUILTY.—NEW YORK, Nov. 25.—A special from Charlotte, N. C., announces that the trial of Miss Amelia Linkhaver, of Lumberton, who last spring shot Edward Hartman, a Baltimore 'drummer,' for alleged seduction, was concluded Wednesday evening, and that the jury after a few hours absence rendered a verdict of not guilty.

FROM WASHINGTON.

Special Correspondence of the Alex. Gazette. WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 28, 1879.

A well known Virginia republican, an old politician, and one who has held office under this Administration, now on a short visit to this city, says that not only Mr. Mahone has elected U. S. Senator, but that every baser officer will be removed. He says the replacement of the latter would not occur if the vote in the State had resulted in a decisive victory for the readjusters, but as the war has to be continued, the readjusters can not afford to be magnanimous yet awhile.

Members of Congress are dropping into Washington by twos and threes and single on all the trains, and a full quorum is expected by Monday. Senator Thurman is one of the latest arrivals. He says he was defeated in consequence of the Thurman bill, recently sustained by the Supreme Court, and that he is a monument of railroad vengeance. Senator Bayard is expected to arrive to-night or to-morrow. The democratic mobs already here are holding informal caucuses to determine upon their line of action during the coming session, but have arrived at no definite conclusions as yet, and the probability is that they will be much at sea and so divided during the next as they were at the last session.

The Southern Republican Association, composed entirely of persons who either being unable to care a living in the South are trying to obtain federal office by making loud professions of their loyalty, or having obtained office are trying to retain it by the same means, will hold another one of their meetings to-night, when Third Auditor of the Treasury Reynolds will be installed as president, and a secretary and treasurer be elected and a committee be appointed to revise the constitution and by laws. The election of vice presidents will be postponed until a future meeting.

Cleaves now being considered one of the necessities of life, army commissaries in the West have been ordered to keep supplies of them for the use of the officers. As no provision is made for issuing them to privates it is thought the War Department does not consider them a necessary article of private soldiers' life.

The receipts at the Treasury from internal revenue to day amounted to $159,545, from customs, $693,824. The national bank notes received for redemption to day amounted to $500,000.

Among the callers at the White House to day were Messrs. S. P. Bailey and W. A. Patton, of Fauquier county, Va. They sent their cards in, and hearing that it was Cabinet day, left immediately, so that when Mr. Hayes came out in the ante room to see them, they had gone.

Local politicians here say that the commission of the District to be made vacant by the resignation of Capt. Phelps, will be filled by either ex-Sergeant at Arms of the Senate French or Superintendent of Police Morgan, with chances in favor of the former. Gen. H. H. Wells will make a virtue of necessity and resign the District attorneyship, but his successor has not yet been designated.

A new postoffice has been established at Shiner, Plinny county, Va., and J. D. Smalley appointed postmaster.

The dozen Washingtonians who spent yesterday at the newly purchased residence of Mr. Frank Hume, the old Lippert place near Alexandria, speak in the highest terms of the hospitality they received, and of the delightful time they enjoyed. Mr. Hume is a Virginian who came here after the war with little money but a great deal of pluck and mercantile talent, and by strict attention to business has acquired a large fortune. He will make handsome improvements at his new home, and will commence them at an early day, and there is no place in Virginia that possesses more natural attractions.

It is reported here that the true reason for the removal of one of the two trains that formerly ran on the Alexandria and Washington railroad is that a suit for heavy damages has recently been decided against the railroad company for its use of Maryland Ave. and 6th street, and that as that part of the road will be sold to pay judgment, it is the object of the company to make the receipts as light as possible, so as to drive off competitors for its purchase. Per contra it is stated by others that the receipts of the road did not pay for the running of two trains, and the steamboat people confirm this by saying that if the trains carried no more passengers than their own receipts show since the removal of the train, the wender is the removal did not take place long ago.

Nineteen loaded boats arrived at Georgetown this morning, and twenty four light ones departed.

Explosion of a Powder Mill. SYRACUSE, N. Y., Nov. 25.—The Marcellus powder mill, about twelve miles southwest of Syracuse, exploded on Thursday morning, destroying three buildings and 3,000 pounds of powder. The report was heard a distance of twenty miles. No persons were injured.

Asphyxiated. PETROLIA, O., Nov. 25.—To-day while a man was employed in cleaning a car tank with benzine he became overpowered by gas, and was rescued by the foreman of the works, Geo. Cook, at the cost of his own life. Mr. Cook being asphyxiated while in the tank.

THERE WILL BE A RABBIT LUNCH, From 10 to 2 o'clock to-morrow, AT H. HERBERT'S RESTAURANT, No. 149 King st., Alex., Va.

MONETARY AND COMMERCIAL.

Financial and commercial affairs have been quiet this week, and we have nothing of special interest to note. The funding of the city debt goes on as rapidly as the old bonds can be converted into the new, and the financial condition of the city is considered much more favorable than for a long time past. Money hereabouts is in statu quo, without any pressing demand or superabundant supply. In Baltimore there has been a better demand for money at 6 per cent, for usual business accommodations. The supply of money is abundant. In New York the rates on gold collaterals are from 7 1/2 to 10 per cent. U. S. securities are steady and strong. State securities generally quiet, but steady. Very little doing in local railroad shares, but we give Thursday's quotations:
