

WORSE THAN KLEPTOMANIA.—Mr. and Mrs. John C. Collins, of St. Paul, are astonished, almost dismayed, at a remarkable peculiarity only lately observed in their son, a boy 10 years old. The boy is a healthy one, with nothing odd in his appearance, except that close observers might consider his head disproportionately large. He attends a lower town Catholic school, and in school appears as a rather bright scholar, but without particularly studious habits—just a stout 10 year old boy, with a boy's inclination for play and mischief, but quick to learn when he has to study. The peculiarity is that the boy's left hand is a wonderfully strong magnet. Metal articles of light weight attract themselves to his hand so that considerable force is required to remove them. Knives, pins, needles, buttons, &c., enough to cover his hand, will thus attach themselves so firmly that they cannot be shaken off. Still more, the attraction is so strong that a common coal scuttle can be lifted by it, and heavier implements have been lifted by stronger persons taking hold of his arm. With heavy articles, however, the boy complains of sharp pains darting along his arm. In a less degree his left arm and the whole left side of his body exerts the same power; but it is, not at all manifest on his right side.—Manassas Tribune.

Perry, Ga., April 14, 1879. I have watched the use of the medicine now known as "Swift's Syphilitic Specific" over fifty years, and have never heard of a failure to cure when properly used. I owned this medicine for it on my slaves between 1850 and 1855, as also did a number of my neighbors, and in every case that came within my knowledge it effected a cure. In 1855 Geo. Walker, bought at auction a slave named "Morgan". After the purchase it was discovered that he had had syphilis for twelve years. His head was without a hair on it. He treated him with this remedy, and in four weeks he was sound and well, and in a short time had as fine a head of hair as was ever owned by a negro. He owned this slave many years, and he never had any return of the disease, nor lost a day's work.

ALEXANDRIA GAZETTE.

—1881—

The ALEXANDRIA GAZETTE, begun in 1799, is the oldest newspaper in the State, and the only daily published in Northern Virginia.

It has survived, with few exceptions, all the public presses in America which saw with it the dawn of the nineteenth century. It lives, too, not in decay, but full of life and vigor, giving all the news, telling the truth without fear, favor or affection, trenching on the privacy of no man's home, but full to the brim with all public information, and giving daily honest judgments of public men and public measures.

It furnishes the news telegrams of the New York Associated Press and of Reuters's European agency, being, with but three exceptions, the only paper between Baltimore and Richmond that is thus connected with the great fountains of the world's news.

With the coming year all the long tried and improved methods of making a standard newspaper will be continued, with such additional facilities as past experience justifies the proprietor in believing will add to the capacity of the Gazette to serve its readers. It expects to render faithful service to the city, the state and the country by a candid criticism of man and events in the interest of the people of the Commonwealth of Virginia.

To meet all the demands upon it, the Gazette will be made a WASHINGTON and RICHMOND NEWSPAPER, as well as an ALEXANDRIA JOURNAL. The Richmond and Washington news of past years has left little to improve, but yet greater effort will be made to insure absolute perfection in those departments, which the city of Alexandria will find as usual its daily history in each evening's issue, and the intelligence of that section of the Commonwealth which nature has bound to Alexandria by the curvature of its mountains or the courses of its rivers as well as that portion linked to us by the iron bands of railways, will be assiduously chronicled.

The Business and Commercial columns of the Gazette will be filled with the earliest and most exact commercial news, edited with such painstaking care as will render an error, where even slight errors are dangerous, impossible.

The Cattle Markets of all the leading points of the world whose rates affect this market will be quoted, and regular statements of the Baltimore, Georgetown, Washington and Alexandria sales of cattle will appear.

The Flour, Grain and Produce movements will be noted daily, and the sales of the Alexandria and neighboring markets given with accuracy and dispatch. The Groceries and other markets will receive constant attention, and the money or stock markets of the country epitomized for its columns, full details being given to all stocks, &c., which find investors in this section of the country.

The advertising columns of the Gazette offer inducements which experience has shown to afford greater returns for a small investment than any other which can be made.
