

PUBLISHED DAILY & TRI-WEEKLY BY EDGAR SNOWDEN.

THURSDAY EVENING, JULY 14, 1861.

Some of the Northern and so-called independent press are endeavoring to make it appear that the failure of the Senate to elect a president...

The spontaneous and sincere expressions of regret for the late attempt upon the life of the President, that were heard in all quarters of the South, induced many people in the North...

The Secretary of the central committee of the Virginia republicans does not agree with the chairman thereof. The latter is a straight-out republican, while the former is a Mahonian...

General Mahone's Washington organ calls those people in the North who believe that the South is sincere in its expressed regrets for the assassination of the President...

It seems that our Washington correspondent gets his information about Ohio affairs from as trustworthy sources as those which supply him with his Virginia news...

Complaints are urged in many cities of the country of the impure quality of the water with which they are supplied.

SNAKES IN THE STREETS.—During the street parade of a circus in Salem, Mass., recently the horses drawing the glass cage containing a miscellaneous assortment of reptiles became unmanageable...

FROM WASHINGTON. Special Correspondence of the Alexandria Gazette.

WASHINGTON, D. C., July 14, 1861. The President's wound is improving daily, and the unswerving friends, sincere or simulated, that were occasioned by the slight excitement in his pulse and temperate Tuesday night, have been entirely dissipated.

The prevailing opinion among the Virginians now here as regards Mahonism is that the very fact of the President having given the "race track" and that the probability of their getting the money in the North with which to pay the capitation tax of the negroes has been reduced to the condition of a remote possibility.

Mr. C. W. Fletcher, Superintendent of the House of Representatives, has a great deal to say about the President's late attempt upon his life.

FOREIGN NEWS.

A gang of counterfeiters has been caught at Lyons. They are reported to have shipped an immense quantity of base coin to Egypt.

Reports have been received of incendiary fires and assassinations in various places in the district of the Tell, Algeria.

A memorial, signed by 100 operatives of Sheffield, was presented in the British House of Commons yesterday, protesting against "a one-sided free trade."

It is stated in official circles at Constantinople that Michael Basha attempted to cut his throat, but was prevented by the warden of the prison.

The Paris newspaper which is supposed to represent Mr. Gambetta's views attributes the insurrection in northern Africa to Turkish fanaticism, who have gone over from Constantinople to stir up a "holy war" against France.

Rev. Father Sheehy, recently arrested in Ireland under the Coercion act, has written to his friends to request them to discontinue any petition to the Crown.

An immense number of members of Catholic associations followed the procession with torches when the body of Pope Pius IX. was removed from St. Peter's to the Church of San Lorezo, Rome, at 12 o'clock Tuesday night.

DEATH OF GEN. PEMBERTON.—Gen. John C. Pemberton died at Penly, near Philadelphia, yesterday afternoon, about five o'clock.

At that time captain of artillery. Esposing the body of the deceased, he was appointed a colonel of cavalry and attached to the staff of Gen. Joseph E. Johnston. He rose to the rank of lieutenant general, and in 1863 commanded in Mississippi, where he was defeated May 16, at Champion Hill, and at Big Black May 17. Falling back on Vicksburg he defended that place against the Federal assaults, but being besieged was compelled to surrender the city and garrison July 4, 1863.

Railroad Matters.

At the monthly meeting of the board of directors of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad Company held yesterday the resignations of Messrs. John King and Wm. Keyser, first and second vice presidents, were received and accepted.

THE VIRGINIA MIDLAND EXTENSION.

At the meeting of the directors of the B. & O. R. R. held yesterday, President Garrett announced that "in view of the large interest held by this company in the Virginia Midland Railway, and not unobservant of the marked progress and improvement which the Southern States have made in their material condition for several years past, and of the importance of establishing better facilities of traffic and communication between the city of Baltimore and the section of country referred to, we have heretofore regarded it as sound policy to favor either the extension of that railway south of Danville into the Carolinas, or to encourage the construction of new lines of railway indicated by the local communities to accomplish the same object and connect with the Virginia Midland at or near Danville.

At this stage of the proceedings a motion to adjourn was arrested and Mr. C. H. Ashton, who had returned to the chair, suggested the propriety of some expression by this meeting of its satisfaction at the selection of the committee to investigate the route via Norfolk, or Statesville, through North and South Carolina, to connect directly with the city of Augusta, Ga., and ultimately through North and South Carolina, to connect with the city of Atlanta.

The committee reported the following resolutions which were unanimously adopted: 1. Resolved that we the members of the democratic party of King George county in convention do hereby express our deep regret, and our earnest condemnation and protest against the recent attempt made to assassinate the Hon. James A. Garfield, President of the United States.

ELIZABETH, N. J., July 14.—The lightning last night struck the house of Thomas B. Clark, 530, in Rahway, badly damaging it and taking off a piece of Orville Campbell's ear without further injury.

trouge and influence of the federal administration, necked by the moral and material support of the professed debt-paying party of the republic, threaten the serious injury if not the destruction of our domestic institutions, the peace, happiness and welfare of our people, the material prosperity of our State, and indeed its very life itself; therefore be it

Resolved, that who will still cherish unwavering devotion the spotless honor and untarnished name of our beloved State, and our zeal in this regard shall know no abatement, yet in view of the great danger which threatens the institutions of our State and the very life of our civilization, we thought about by her enemies with and without, we recognize the preservation of these to be a duty paramount to the single issue of the maintenance of the credit of the State.

Resolved, that we deem this to be the true and only safe policy to be pursued by our party in the coming campaign, and every effort should be put forth to redeem the State from the blight of Mahonism which is now the embodiment of all that is detestable in politics from our standpoint and then we will be in better position to press the unshaken her pledged faith.

James A. Garfield, President of the United States.

2. That we desire to express to the President the earnest assurances that our people will offer their best efforts to aid in the recovery of the State from the blight of Mahonism, and to do so in the most efficient manner possible.

3. That our condemnation of an act so terrible as the attempt to assassinate our President, and to do so in the most efficient manner possible, is deeply felt by our people, and that we are deeply sympathetic with the tender and heartfelt sympathies and sincere hopes that God in his mercy may spare to them their affectionate husband and father.

4. That our Secretary forward a copy of these resolutions to Secretary Blinn with a request that he communicate them to the President and his family.
