

Alexandria Gazette

FRIDAY EVENING, SEPT. 23

How to Spoil a Husband - Vow vengeance on all his relations.

Pay no attention to household expenses. Make a fuss about cigar smoke in the house.

Give as much as he can earn in a month for a new bonnet.

Tell him as plainly as you can you married him for a piece.

Raise a row if he dares to bow politely to a lady friend.

Tell him the child can inherit all their mean traits of character from his side of the family.

Keep the tailor for company and don't let him put his foot in it.

Provide your share of a picked up meal when you don't expect strangers.

Get everything the next door woman gets, whether you can afford it or not.

Get some work on the table and let the servants do the house-thrifty way.

Let it be some time when you are quite mad that you wish you had married some other fellow you used to go with.

When he gives you ten dollars to lay aside for a "sore foot," give it to the first pair of shoes that comes along for a pair of plaster of Paris shoes.

Give him to understand, as soon as possible after the honeymoon, that kissing is well enough for spooney lovers, but that for married folks it is confoundedly silly.

If he takes to kissing the cook or chambermaid after that, don't be too hard on him.

Ask your druggist for a copy of "Young Men's Friend" - and read it!
