

ALEXANDRIA GAZETTE AND VIRGINIA ADVERTISER.

ALEXANDRIA, VA.

FRIDAY EVENING, JUNE 16, 1882.

GENERAL MAHONE'S home organ says: "But the hour and the man alike arrived when William Mahone, of Virginia, took his course in the Senate of the United States."

All of which is, of course, demonstrated by the fact that the President, while refusing to give the South a single representative in his Cabinet and selecting all the members thereof from the North, among them those of the extreme partisans and sectionalists in all that region; by the fact that Messrs. Frye, Edmonds, Dawes, Conger and many other leading republican Senators, both at home and on the floor of the Senate, seek occasion for waving the bloody shirt, reviving the animosity of the war, and exhibiting their implacable hate for the South, its interests and every democrat in it, and that such action is popular with their party; and by the additional fact that when Mr. Camp, republican, from New York said in the House a short time ago that the only rights the Southern people had not forfeited were those to hang as high as Haman and to have their property confiscated, he was applauded by members on his side. To be sure, an hour and a man did arrive when General Mahone entered the Senate, but it was a bad hour and a worse man.

To show the injustice of the Garland substitute for the Tebbis bill it is only necessary to mention the case of the late Col. R. B. Lee, of this city. The Colonel had large pecuniary interests in California and St. Louis. He knew those interests would be sacrificed by resigning his position in the U. S. army and entering the service of the Confederate States, but, having been taught at West Point that his own State had the first claim upon him, he made that sacrifice without a moment's hesitation. It was so with hundreds of other conscientious and honorable men, upon whose memory the Garland bill vainly attempts to cast impossible reproach. The whole of the objectionable statute should be repealed and not a trace of it be left. The most malignant and vindictive hater of the men who fought as men have rarely fought before, and who survived inevitable defeat with a heroism and determination to bear up under crushing evils, not often equaled and never excelled, should be satisfied with the effective expression of his feelings contained in the fourteenth amendment to the Constitution. That amendment cannot be repealed now, and it should suffice for the most inveterate enemy of the South. The irritating and useless statute, however, can be expunged, and that it should be, and that too at the earliest opportunity no right thinking man entertains a doubt.

RUMORS CONTINUE to be flying about concerning a break in the "big four," and a consequent call for an extra session of the Legislature to reapportion the congressional districts of the State so as to give eight of them to the Mahonites. Considering the denunciation to which the "big four" have been treated by the Mahonites and that too so recently as the date of the issuance of the late Mahone address, the break referred to is highly improbable; nor is it probable that Governor Cameron would so outrage decency as to put the State he now says is too poor to pay her honest debts, though he wanted her to pay the last cent a few years ago, to the expense of an extra session for such a partisan purpose. But those familiar with the ways and tricks by which Gen. Mahone accomplishes his purposes will not be surprised even if the rumors alluded to turn out to be correct.

MR. CALKINS, chairman of the Elections Committee of the U. S. House of Representatives, after reporting in favor of ousting six or seven illegally elected democratic members of that House from the South, and giving their seats to illegally elected republican contestants, some of whom are negroes, and one of whom, Lynch, he took by the arm and escorted to the Speaker's desk while the oath of office was administered, has accepted an invitation by the Mahone authorities of the State college at Blacksburg to deliver the commencement address there. There is every reason to believe that if John Brown were to come to life again the Mahonites would exceed the most ultra Northern radical in their efforts to do him honor.

AMONG THE patent signs of friendship exhibited by the North toward the South are the maps which it prints of this country and displays at all the emigration ports of Europe. On them scenes of prosperity and happiness are portrayed throughout the entire North and West, while the South is represented as a parched and dreary waste, with here and there a starving negro fleeing from a bulldozer with a revolver in his hand and a bowie knife in his belt. But after all,

FROM WASHINGTON.

WASHINGTON, D. C., June 16.—The consideration of the River and Harbor bill was resumed at an early hour in the House today, and the way in which all amendments for an increase of the appropriations are voted down indicates that the House intends to stand by the action of its Commerce Committee, and also looks as if the passage of the bill will now not be long delayed. All the appropriation bills are now ready, and if there be no unforeseen obstruction, there is no reason why the session may not adjourn by the 3d of July.

The Senate Whiskey investigating committee had another meeting to-day. Mr. Harris managing editor of the Critic was examined concerning certain reported interviews published in that paper but refused to disclose their authorship, and being told by Mr. Hawley that his paper was placed in a very unenviable light by such refusal, replied that the paper would bear the responsibility. The President of the Whiskey Association testified concerning the organization of that association, and to the effect that no illigittimate means had been used to have the Whiskey bill passed. The defeat of the bill in the Senate yesterday was rather a surprise considering the little opposition it met in the House. Commissioner Raum says the defeat of the bill will not cause the withdrawal of more than a million gallons of Whiskey from bond this year, and that that quantity will not seriously affect the market, but that next year the necessary withdrawal will be much larger.

Senator Davis of West Virginia entertained a select company at dinner last night. Among those present were the Secretary of the Treasury and the Postmaster General. Included in the topics talked about were the re-establishment of the fast mail routes in the South to which Mr. Howe seemed favorably disposed, and the final disposition of the Harper's Ferry property. Should the fast mails be re-established the route by the Virginia Midland Railroad will be benefited.

The postmaster at Herndon, Fairfax county, is a very old man and having gotten tired of his office intends to resign on the 1st proximo. Mr. Laneheart of that village was at the Postoffice Department to-day trying to be appointed to the vacancy. There are several applicants already for the place and more are expected. The bill to pay Southern mail contractors the sums due them for service before the war was again up in the Senate to-day. There is a rule of the Postoffice Department giving contractors one month's pay after notification of the discontinuance of a route. The bill now under consideration excludes the claimants from the benefits of this rule, but as they are entitled to them, Mr. Johnston will move to amend it in that respect, and will support his amendment in a short speech. Mr. Conger has availed himself of the opportunity afforded by the bill for "getting in" several licks upon the "rebels" and the "rebellion."

gentlemen interested in the new Potomac Manufacturing Company of Alexandria say that before the fall the manufacture of steel car wheels and car axels will be in active operation at the company's works, in Alexandria, and that a rolling mill for steel plates will also be at work there, and that the keel of an iron steamship will be laid at their ship yard by the time the wooden vessel now in progress of construction there is completed. They will also commence at an early day the erection of a large brick building on the Union street front of their ship yard lot, for an engine house and a planing and saw mill.

Intelligence from Virginia to-day is to the effect that the straight-out republican movement is spreading rapidly, and that in making common cause with the anti-slavery in the North, and that it will probably include all the white republicans in the State except the few who either hold office or still hang on to the ragged edge of hope of getting one. The stalwarts in the Norfolk district have already called a convention to nominate a candidate for Congress, and have instructed the counties comprising that district to appoint delegates to a State convention, and their example will be followed by those in all the other districts in the State. It is rumored among the few Mahonites here that two of the "big four" have "sold out," but the rumor is not credited, and the hope of it is generally supposed to be the father of the thing.

In the investigation of the coincident increase in the republican vote in the 6th North Carolina, and the expenses of the internal revenue service of the same district, one of the witnesses, a gauger, refused to testify yesterday upon the ground that he would incriminate himself. Jno. M. Cruise has been commissioned postmaster at Howell, Patrick county, Va. Parties interested in the French spoliation claims have strong hopes that the bill for the payment of those claims will be passed by this Congress, but at its next session.

The new postmaster at Fredericksburg was notified recently a democrat. The man who was removed is now and has long been a republican. Virginia republicans "must go" according to the next dispensation and give place to the followers of Gen. Mahone.

The President is very much annoyed at the numerous applicants for positions on the Utah and Alabama Claims Commissions, and also for the two vacancies on the Tariff Commission, and says he will appoint no one on either who is an applicant.

Mrs. Mary Birkby, widow of the late Joseph W. Birkby, died in Leesburg Tuesday morning last, in the 70th year of her age.

Dr. William H. Ruffner, late superintendent of public instruction, has accepted a position as lecturer on field geology and commercial mineralogy at Roanoke College.

The dwelling and three outhouses of Mr. Peyton Taylor, who lives on the "Fox Neck" farm belonging to Mrs. Margaret Wallace, Culpeper county, was destroyed by fire last Thursday week.

A company has been organized at Norfolk for the construction of a railroad from Christiansburg, Montgomery county, on the Norfolk and Western Road, to the great iron and coal fields of Brush Mountain.

Information from a number of counties on the south side of the James river is to the effect that the oat crop is completely ruined by insects, entailing heavy losses upon the farmers. Wheat is looking splendidly.

The United States Court at Richmond Judge Hughes presiding, was engaged yesterday in the consideration of a case involving the constitutionality of the Virginia sample-merchant law. The decision of the court will probably be announced to-day.

NEWS OF THE DAY

"To show the very age and body of the Times."

Julius Porges, a Hungarian Jew, committed suicide by hanging himself yesterday afternoon in a Hebrew school in New York, of which he was principal. Dread of exposure of financial irregularities was his motive.

During the registration of voters in Charleston, S. C., yesterday, nine colored men were arrested by a State magistrate for obstructing voters. Later the superintendent of registration was arrested on a United States warrant for obstructing registration several days ago.

Major A. E. Burke, managing editor of the New Orleans Times-Democrat, who was recently wounded in a duel with Mr. C. H. Parker, editor of the Picayune, is improving beyond expectation, with every probability that he will in the course of eight or ten days be able to resume his duties.

Senator H. G. Davis, of West Virginia, gave a most elegant dinner at the Arlington Hotel, Washington, yesterday. Among the guests were John W. Garrett, president Baltimore and Ohio Railroad; Postmaster General Howe; Secretary Folger, Mayor Whyte, of Baltimore, and Senators Sherman, Bayard, and others.

FOREIGN NEWS.

It is rumored that an autumn session of Parliament will be held.

The evictions in Ireland continue at the rate of 4,000 weekly. An arrest has been made of a man suspected of being one of Lord Cavendish's assassins.

Anarchy still prevails in Egypt. The Khedive's government has moved from Cairo to Alexandria. All the foreign residents have left Cairo, and those that have not fled from the country are seeking safety under the guns of the English and French fleets in the harbor of Alexandria. The Eastern Cable Company closed its Cairo office yesterday afternoon. A call has been made on the Sultan of Turkey for 18,000 troops to preserve the peace in Egypt. The English channel fleet has sailed for the East, and all the vessels of the Mediterranean squadron of the United States navy are en route for Alexandria. A German gunboat has been ordered to proceed to the same destination. The number of Europeans killed in Sunday's riot at Alexandria is now estimated at 250. Many were thrown into the sea, and their bodies are being daily washed ashore.

The Yeaton Litigation Case.

To the editor of the Alexandria Gazette: In your local columns of Wednesday last under the head of "Alexandria Litigants in Chicago" there appear two extracts, one from the Chicago Times, the other from the Washington Star. Both are so grossly untrue, and unjust to the parties litigant, that I feel called upon to deny their accuracy, believing that these papers have been imposed upon by parties interested, and in that litigation, and not very scrupulous in their use of words. I have only to say, and the records are in my possession to show that I am correct as follows: 1st. The history of the litigation and the reasons therefor are not correctly stated. 2nd. Except a first decision by a lower court or judge, every decision was in favor of the heirs or plaintiffs. 3rd. The Supreme Court did not reverse the decision of the lower court except as to the interest of one party, but as to the other five affirmed it, and upon a petition for a rehearing refused to grant it. 4th. No new evidence was discovered nor did "complaints" feel their position growing daily "more untenable" in the contrary they had in their favor the unanimous decision of the Supreme Court of Illinois. 5th. The terms of the settlement stated in these articles are not true; but being purely private matters I do not state them.

THE ARMY WORM has made its appearance at several places in Culpeper county, and has done an immense amount of damage to the growing crops. Ten acres of corn, several inches high and growing beautifully on the farm of Col. S. S. Bradford, was entirely destroyed by them a few days ago. They also attacked his wheat fields and stripped all the blades from the wheat, besides eating up the young clover and timothy. Every means has been tried to stay them in their destructive course, but all of no avail. Mr. D. Gray's wheat field, near town, has been ravaged by these pests, but fortunately the heads have become tough and they can effect little damage to the grain. They are about an inch long and somewhat resemble the caterpillar. —Culpeper Times.

CATTLE.—Whatever may be said about the profits of farming generally, nobody will dispute the fact that cattle grazing this season, at least, has paid well. In addition to the sales already mentioned, Mr. Samuel Orison last week sold 20 head, weighing 1,200 lbs. each, at 7 1/2 cts., gross, heavy sold to Mr. Joshua P. Frazier, of Fauquier, a beautiful bunch of forty averaging 1,250 lbs. each, at 7 cents, per pound, and about $85 a head. They cost him last fall about $40 apiece. Mr. H. C. Selman on Saturday, received from Dr. Sanderson, of Maryland, nine head of registered Jerseys, two fresh cows and seven calves and yearlings, for which he paid $1,000.—Loudoun Mirror.

THE Warrenton Virginian regrets to see General Fitz Lee lending his countenance to the call for a State convention, and says that nothing could more unwise just now. It thinks Massey should be left a free field and a fair fight with Mahone. "The quarrel," says the Virginian, "is lovely and it stands, and it would be a pity to spoil it by a diversion. When the time comes we may turn in and help the dottom dog, but until then we say 'silence and watch the game!'"

Major Bellamy, who once was one of Georgia's most prominent slaveholders, now employs 1,000 negroes on his large plantation, and each family has a neat cabin, a vegetable garden and some fruit trees; a plantation church and a school are also maintained at the Major's expense. The New York Herald says: "Some Northern employers should take a trip to Georgia and learn how to treat white workmen."

A four year old son of Rev. W. M. Dame, of Baltimore, formerly rector of Christ Church, this city, fell yesterday morning from the steps of an ice-wagon on which he was riding, severely bruising himself and cutting his head.

Mothers! Mothers!! Mothers!!! Are you disturbed at night and broken of your rest by a sick child suffering and crying with the excruciating pain of cutting teeth? If so, go at once and get a bottle of Mrs. WINSLOW'S SOOTHING SYRUP. It will relieve the poor little sufferer immediately—depend upon it; there is no mistake about it. There is not a mother on earth who has ever used it, who will not tell you at once that it will regulate the bowels, and give rest to the mother, and relief and healing to the child, operating like magic. It is perfectly safe in all cases, and pleasant to the taste, and is the prescription of one of the oldest and best female physicians and nurses in the United States. Sold everywhere. 25 cents a bottle.

TO-DAY'S TELEGRAPHIC DISPATCHES.

To-day's Congressional Proceedings, SENATE. Mr. Hoar introduced a bill to provide for the performance of the duties of the office of President in the case of removal, resignation, inability or death, both of the President and Vice-President. It vests the succession to the presidency in the members of the Cabinet in the order in which they were named in Washington's Cabinet, beginning with the Secretary of State. The bill was referred to the Judiciary Committee. Mr. Blair introduced a bill for the erection in Washington of a statue of Benjamin Franklin. The Senate took up the calendar and consumed the remainder of the morning hour upon the bill to reappropriate $375,000 to pay southern mail contractors for service prior to the secession of their States. After further discussion, participated in by Messrs. Cameron, of Wis., and Macey, the bill went over without action. The Senate then took up the House bill to enable national banking associations to extend their corporate existence. HOUSE. After transacting some miscellaneous and private business, the House, at 12:10, went into Committee of the Whole on the river and harbor appropriation bill. From Egypt. LONDON, June 15.—The correspondent of the Times at Alexandria says the real and only serious danger is from the native troops, who are thoroughly in sympathy with the rabble and will tire of guarding the Europeans and take part against them. PARIS, June 16.—It is semi-officially stated that all the powers have agreed to request Turkey's immediate acceptance of the conference on the Egyptian question. Failing her assent, the conference will meet elsewhere than at Constantinople without Turkey's participation. Cabinet Meeting. WASHINGTON, June 16.—A meeting of the Cabinet was held to-day. All the members were present except Secretary Chandler. The session was short. The list of Tariff Commissioners was completed by the selection of Wm. H. McMahon, of New York, and Alexander R. Boteler, of W. Va., to fill the vacancies in the list caused by the declination of Messrs. Wheeler, of New York, and Phelps, of Missouri. The commission was also reorganized by the selection of John L. Hayes, of Mass., as chairman. Boat Race. LONDON, June 16.—A race was rowed to-day between Langan and Pearce, the Australian sculler, over the Thames championship course for 100 pounds a side. Langan won by two and one-half lengths. Acquitted. PETERSBURG, Va., June 16.—Richard Wallace, a prominent citizen of Lunenburg county, who killed George Clark, colored, some weeks ago, has been tried in the County Court and acquitted. Sergeant Mason's Case. WASHINGTON, June 16.—Mr. J. G. Bigelow, counsel for Sergeant Mason visited the White House to-day and submitted for the President's inspection a review of the case of his client and his reasons for believing that the sentence of the court martial is void. Financial. NEW YORK, June 16.—The stock market opened irregular, but the changes from yesterday's closing quotations were small, except for Richmond and Danville, which was 1 per cent higher. In the early trade the market was generally strong, and sold up 1/4 to 1/2 per cent. Subsequently prices receded, a decline ranging from 1/4 to 1/2 per cent. taking place. At 11 o'clock there was a fractional recovery in the general list.

MONETARY AND COMMERCIAL.

Business is quiet in all branches and it will be until after harvest that there can be any decided improvement. The reports of the crop prospects, with occasional local exceptions, are most flattering, and it is generally conceded that the yield of wheat in the State this year will be greater than for many previous seasons. The crop has been seriously damaged in several localities by vermin and corn is backward but promises well generally. In money matters there is but little change to note. The Baltimore papers note money easy, and for round amounts or regular business the rates for loans are 4 1/2 per cent. The banks report a good demand from their discount customers. In New York the money market continues very easy at 2 1/2 per cent for call loans, 4 1/2 per cent for time loans, and 4 1/2 per cent for prime mercantile paper. Government bonds are less active and somewhat unsettled. State securities are quiet generally. Virginia consols were offered yesterday freely and sold lower, closing 59 1/2 against 60 yesterday. Wednesday, the 10-40s, were comparatively more steady, but very quiet. Consol coupons sold at 62 and 61, a decline, and 10-10 coupons sold at 60, a full price. Railroad stocks do not attract much attention and bonds are fairly active only.

Flour is steady at quotations. But little wheat is coming in and prices are unchanged, the only sales reported to-day being at 136 for Fultz. Corn is scarce and wanted and sales were made today at 96 for white. No Rye or Oats reported. Country produce is lower. Bacon has further advanced.

RICHMOND MARKET, June 15.—The market is inactive with very light receipts of produce. Corn 96a98 for Southern and 93a95 for Western white. Rye 80a90 and Oats 60a62.

LYNCHBURG MARKET, June 15.—There is no change in the prices of Flour and very little doing. The receipts of Wheat continue very light and quotations are nominal. Tobacco more active and prices are stiffer. Fine and extra export leaf sold as high as 15 cts. Wrappers are scarce and wanted.

FREDERICKSBURG MARKET, June 15.—The market is very quiet and the receipts of produce are so light that quotations are nominal. Flour dull with fair stocks on hand. Scarcely any Wheat coming in and the millers are awaiting the new crop. Corn firmer but scarce.

BALTIMORE SUGAR AND COFFEE MARKET, June 15.—Sugar.—The inquiry for raw sugar in New York is slow; the market is dull at 7 1/2 cts for No. 12, and the market is moderate and the inquiry is generally lower. We quote hards at 10 1/2 for cut loaf, 10 1/4 for crushed, 10 1/2 for powdered, 9 1/2 for granulated, and soft A 9 1/2, and yellow 7 1/2 to 8 cts per lb.

CATTLE MARKETS. BALTIMORE CATTLE MARKET, June 15.—Beef Cattle.—For thorough Cattle the New York market on Monday was firm at an advance of 1/4 lb, but not active, and yesterday the market was slow, but advanced upon middle and fair grades.
