

ALEXANDRIA.

FRIDAY EVENING, MAY 6.

THE PLATFORM of the Kentucky democracy, as adopted by their State convention last Wednesday, contains the following civil service reform plank:

"We favor honest civil service reform, by which we mean the enforcement of the faithful performance by persons appointed to office of all public duties entrusted to them, and to this end, as well as to the maintenance of the spirit of our representative form of government, we demand the strictest measures of personal and party responsibility, and are opposed to the substitution, in place of this life-term, a civil pension list, and all other appendages of a bureaucratic system, foreign to the genius of our institutions and people."

To no word of this, can, or does, any right thinking democrat, in any State of the Union, object. But it will be observed that there is nothing in it that even squints at, let alone endorses, that civil service rule, which the President can abolish by a stroke of his pen, which excludes all men over thirty-five years of age from the postal, and all over forty-five, from any other classified federal service—that is, necessarily, all ex-Confederates. Nor does it endorse the rule which Postmaster General Vilas told Representative Gibson was operative in the Postoffice Department, by which no ex-Confederate can be promoted in that department. Neither does it approve the system by which ninety per cent. of the federal offices in Washington, in the latter part of a democratic administration, are filled by Republicans, who being opposed to both the principles and policy of the administration, can not naturally be working for its success. Men who favor the civil service rules, can not, in the nature of things, be true democrats, because those rules are directly contrary to the cardinal principles and to the essential spirit of real democracy.

Gov. Ross, of Texas, very wisely differs from ex-Senator Maxey and Senator Reagan, of his State, on the liquor question, taking the ground that as liquor will be drunk, prohibitory laws only force its sale to be a secret instead of a public traffic, to remove it from proper police supervision and regulation, and to deprive the State of a legitimate and unburdensome source of revenue. The Governor points his moral by a comparison of the condition of affairs in Maine, a prohibitory State, with those in Texas, under a license system, the percentage of divorces, seclusions, pauperism, and labor discontent and trouble being considerably lower in the latter, and that, too, notwithstanding the immense number of tramps the former sends out annually.

GENERAL SHERIDAN must have a pleonasm quantity of gall, to be sure, to take pleasure in revisiting the Valley of Virginia, which he devastated during the civil war, burning the houses of defenseless women and children over their heads, and making the face of the country so bare, that, to use his own words, "a crow flying over it had to carry its rations." But no exhibition of moral abnormality would be strange in a man who drove the bald-headed legislators out of the Louisiana State house at the point of the bayonet, who termed the white people of that State "banditti," and wanted to treat them as such, and who charged a camp of Piegan Indians inhabited only by squaws and papooses.

AN ATTEMPT has been made by the Falls Church Register and the Washington Republican to create the impression that a bull dozing and illegal democratic seizure had been made of the former by the democratic law officers of Fairfax county. The attempt is too near home to be successful. The Register was, it is true, put in the hands of a receiver, but the order for that was issued for the sole purpose of securing the payment of a judgment against its proprietor, and it was executed in strict accordance with all the forms and usages of law; and the whole affair was entirely empty of politics, but full of justice.

AN EX UNION soldier was denied membership of a G. A. R. post in Oregon because of his color, as he is black; but as it was deemed that the publication of that reason would have an injurious effect, another one was substituted for it, the fact that the applicant is a cock. Human nature is the same every where, and race prejudice will manifest itself in the North as well as in the South.

ON THE evening of the day the published account of Mr. Carlisle's interview endorsing the President reached Washington, the day before the meeting of the Kentucky democratic convention, Mr. Carlisle's son was appointed by the President commissioner for a section of the Northern Pacific Railroad. Truly, so far at least, as politics are concerned, there are wheels within wheels.

The Overland Monthly for May has been received from its publishers in San Francisco. Its contents are: A Starvation Resemblance, The Mining Resources of Southern California, The Stranger's Story, The Lake and Harbor of LaBailona, The Mission of the Knights of Labor, California's Lily, The Puntacost Colony, Causes of the Plute and Hancock War, A Phase, Love's Ideal Real, In a Mining Kitchen, To the Wild Mustard of the Santa Ana Valley, Chata and China, An Episode of the Civil War, Young Tiaung, Grandma Bascom's Story of San Jose in '49, Agriculture Along the Rio Grande, Etc., and Books of the Month.

FROM WASHINGTON.

[Special Correspondence of the Alex. Gazette.]

WASHINGTON, D. C., May 6, 1887. In reference to Gen. Sheridan's recent letter respecting him, Gen. Sheridan says Rosser has never gotten over the feeling caused by the "whaling" he gave him in the Valley during the war, where the people, after that, used to advise Rosser's men to substitute for the laurel twigs he had before been wearing, pumpkin vines, to show their running qualities. He says a good deal more to the same effect, all showing that Rosser's letter told the truth, and had therefore hit a vulnerable point.

First Lieutenant Thomas C. Davenport, 4th artillery, died at St. Elizabeth's Insane Asylum this morning. He was brought to this city from Fort Monroe last Sunday, suffering from mental troubles.

At the request of the executive committee of the National Drill, General Sheridan has detailed Col. S. F. Blunt, of his staff, to take charge of the rifle competition during the drill. The competition will be open to any regularly enlisted man or commissioned officer of the volunteer militia, the entries not to exceed two men from any one company, under the army regulations. Eight prizes will be offered, consisting of gold, silver and bronze medals. About one hundred entries have already been received.

Two newspaper correspondents here, Messrs. Towle and Orden, bought the one Patrocles ticket in the race pool that was sold yesterday. They paid $5 for it, and drew $233.

The President has amended the civil service rules so as to make applicants for promotion in the departments stand competitive examinations, as well as applicants for appointment.

The election of Mr. Faulkner, son of the late distinguished Charles James Faulkner, of Virginia, U. S. Senator from West Virginia, seems to be satisfactory to all the West Virginians here. They say that while Mr. Faulkner is not the equal of his father, he is an honest and intelligent gentleman, and will make a safe and reputable Senator, and will discharge the responsible duties of the office properly and with fidelity.

It is understood that the heirs of the late Judge John C. Underwood are to sue Ames, Alley and their partners, of Boston, for certain dues arising out of tax sale transactions in Alexandria during the war.

Rev. W. E. C. Smith, of Emmanuel Church, Boston, informs the Treasury Department that he proposes to import from England an iron church edifice, and requests to be informed whether it will be entitled to free entry. Assistant Secretary Maynard has written him that there is no law which would authorize the free admission of the article mentioned. He says also that the fact that such churches are comparatively inexpensive and are not manufactured in the United States has no bearing on the question of their liability to duty.

Employees in the Executive Department who are members of the Society of the Army of the Cumberland will be excused from attendance on Wednesday and Thursday next to take part in the ceremonies and business meetings of the society. All of the department will be closed at noon on Thursday to enable the employees to witness the ceremonies attending the unveiling of the statue of Gen. Garfield. James and Harry Garfield will be present as representatives of the family, as Mrs. Garfield's health will not permit her to attend.

It is rumored here that Mr. Carlisle's presence at the recent democratic convention of his State was for a purpose, and that the passage of the resolution endorsing the administration was due in no small degree to his personal influence. His speech there is generally commended here by the democrats, as it takes the ground that though protection and anarchism pursue different roads, they both eventually lead to the same end. It is rumored here that ex-Representative Barbour of the Alexandria district will abandon his residence in this city and establish himself permanently in Alexandria. It is understood however, that his arrangements for this contemplated change have not yet been made.

Miss Mildred Lee, daughter of General R. E. Lee, is at present sojourning in this city. There is an absurd rumor afloat here to-day to the effect that Secretary Lamar has not socially recognized Queen Kapiolani on account of her color. The Queen is no more of a negro than the Secretary, but if she were, and the administration recognized her, Mr. Lamar would do likewise. There are things infinitely more disagreeable to Southern men than the recognition of colored people, but as they have been approved by the President, Mr. Lamar has endorsed them heartily.

Gov. Lee has returned from Washington. Work on the dry dock at Newport News is in active progress. A resolution was introduced in the State Senate yesterday to donate to the Lee Monument Association a space of ground on the south side of the Capitol Square in Richmond for the erection of a monument to Gen. R. E. Lee. On Wednesday night two colored children were so badly burned by the upsetting of a kerosene lamp in Charlottesville that they will probably die. Much excitement was occasioned by one of them, a girl 15 years old, running through the streets with her clothing blazing. The democratic legislative caucus last night decided it inexpedient to adopt a constitutional amendment changing the time for holding the election for Governor, other general officers and members of the Legislature. The objection to the change is that it would mingle federal with state politics.

In the Prince George County Circuit Court yesterday, Judge Hancock sentenced Holmes R. Puryear to be hanged July 15 next for the murder of his wife by poison. The crime was committed in Dinwiddie county nearly two years ago. By a change of venue, Puryear was tried in Prince George county and convicted. The case was taken to the Court of Appeals, but that tribunal affirmed the judgment of the court below.

T. B. Carruthers and T. W. Morehead, traders in wheat at New York, failed yesterday. Application to the courts for a dissolution of partnership has been made by two of the three owners of the National Hotel, in Washington. The civil service commission yesterday submitted to the President amendments to certain of the civil service rules, and they were approved. The Reading Railroad receivers have declined an offer of $2,500,000 for the leases of the North Penn and Bound Brook Railroad, to be used as a New York connection for the B. & O.

There is a Jewish sect in Galicia called the Caraites who acknowledge only the first book of Moses as their religious guide. Their lives are said to be virtuous, and they consider it not allowable to discuss the fundamental bases of revelation. They number in all about forty thousand.

The hotel at Fairfax C. H. has been reopened under the management of Mr. J. W. Burke.

LICENSES.—In this State licenses for the transaction of any business expire on the 30th of April each year, and in strict accordance with law, a license for the ensuing year, if it is desired to continue business, should be issued by that time or on the 1st day of May. In other words, the 1st of May is the time for issuing licenses; but it is often the case that they are not taken out for several days after that time. Soon after the General Assembly reassembled on the 27th of April a joint resolution was adopted, which was approved by the Governor, providing that "no license shall be granted for a longer period than from the date of the issuance of such licenses to the 1st day of June, 1887; but this shall not affect any license already actually granted which is to take effect from the 1st day of May, 1887. In all other respects licenses shall be required under the same penalties, and granted as now provided by law."

All licenses granted since then have therefore been issued under this provision.

It is said the beavers are increasing largely in Charlotte county.

LETTER FROM RICHMOND.

[Special Cor. of the Alexandria Gazette.]

RICHMOND, Va., May 5, 1887.—When the Gazette correspondent interviewed members of the General Assembly some time ago upon the coming presidential ticket Mr. Lightner, one of the delegates from Augusta, gave as his answer to an interrogatory propounded to him, "I'll be doggone if I know who is my choice for President." Delegate Lightner's original answer came to the notice of the people of Augusta and I am told that they have teased him no little for giving that sort of answer. Mr. Lightner would like to put his answer in a better shape but is a little timid about it now as he has been teased so much since he declared "I'll be doggone if I know."

The special committee appointed to investigate Judge Thomas Blakey, of Essex county, for embezzlement and drunkenness, will begin taking evidence Monday next. Among the witnesses that have been summoned is Hon. Thomas Croxton, of Essex. The investigation will be concluded in less than three days.

The bill to incorporate the Mineral Railroad Co., which Alexandria people have been so interested in, passed the Senate to-day, and will be taken to the Governor to-morrow for his signature. Mr. Meredith, of Prince William, had to do some talk in the Senate to-day. But for the strong light made by him for the bill without the amendment to compel the road to go by Winchester, the amendment would certainly have been adopted. In the course of his remarks he said, "Are we here to vote down an enterprise like this, which will increase the taxable property of the State, just because a few people in Winchester want the road to tap that city?" He then called attention to the fact that the delegate from Frederick was in favor of the bill as it passed the House, and closed by replying to Senator McCormick in these words: "It is our duty to foster and encourage enterprises of this kind. Let me say to my friend (Mr. McCormick), if he defeats this bill the city of Alexandria may well say to him in the language of the Psalmist: 'For it was not an enemy that reproached me; then I could have borne it. Neither was it he that hated me that did magnify himself against me; then I would have hid myself from him. But it was thou, a man mine equal, my guide, and mine acquaintance.'" The bill was passed by a decided majority.

To-day was a lucky day for the Senator from Prince William. He won a case in the Supreme Court involving $7,000. It was the suit of Morris' administrators vs. Davis.

DAMAGES REFUSED.—In the Court of Appeals at Richmond yesterday, in the case of Darracott against the Chesapeake and Ohio Railway Company, from the Circuit Court of Hanover county, the decision of the lower court was affirmed, Judge Lewis delivering the opinion. Darracott was a brakeman on the Chesapeake and Ohio railway, and had his left hand crushed in coupling a car near Hanover Junction. On the first trial Darracott got a verdict for $4,500. That the judge set aside. On the second trial (without a jury) there was a judgment for the defendant. From this Darracott appealed. It appeared that the car which injured Darracott started from Hinton in good order. At Staunton it was found necessary to work it with the "three-link coupling," an arrangement in general use for such emergencies. Near Hanover Junction the train was divided into three sections to go down a heavy grade. Darracott using his left hand—not a stick as the rules required—attempted to make the coupling and received the injury stated. It is charged that he was warned to be careful of the car in question but this he denies. The court held that in neglecting to use a stick, and in failing to observe the character of the coupling of the car as it approached him, he was guilty of contributory negligence and could not recover.

RICHMOND JUDGES AND COURTS.—The bill to establish an equity court in the city of Richmond was taken up in the House of Delegates yesterday and defeated by a vote of 23 to 41. During the debate Mr. Stuart, of Alexandria, said it was with regret that he had to oppose this bill. That city, in his judgment, had all the courts it needed. It had a police court for minor offenders, a hustings court for criminal cases, a common-law court for common-law cases, and a court of chancery for equity cases alone. Before we give to a city of 80,000 people a fifth court we should pause and consider. So long as the judge of his circuit had to do the immense business brought before him on the pittance of $1,600 per year he would never vote to increase the judges of Richmond with large salaries. The circuit judges have to travel over rugged roads in all kinds of weather, and be absent from their families weeks and months. The city judges are always at home, except when absent for pleasure. He reiterated his regret at having to oppose the bill. Let the rich and prosperous city of Richmond assume the burden. One county circuit judge has just resigned his position because the salary was not sufficient to support him.

THE MINERAL BELT RAILWAY.—In the State Senate yesterday the bill to incorporate the Mineral-Belt Railway Company, from Strasburg to Moorefield, in West Virginia, was taken up. An amendment offered that the route of the road be changed by Winchester, was strongly urged by Mr. McCormick, of Clarke.

Mr. Meredith, of Prince William, opposed the amendment on the ground that it would kill the bill. Senator Heaton also spoke at length in favor of the amendment. Mr. Rhea, of Washington, spoke in opposition to the amendment, as did Senator Koener, of Augusta. The previous question was then called and the call sustained, and the amendment was lost. A second amendment was also lost, and the question recurred on the passage of the bill, and it was carried, Messrs. McCormick and Heaton only voting in the negative.

JUDGE FAULKNER, who was elected by the West Virginia Legislature yesterday U. S. Senator, is a son of the late Hon. Charles James Faulkner, who represented Virginia and West Virginia in the Congress of the United States before and after the late war, and served as Minister to France under the administration of President Buchanan. Judge Faulkner was born in Martinsburg, Va., where he now resides, and is about forty years old. He was elected Judge of the Thirteenth circuit, and has held the office up to the present time, and is considered one of the ablest judges in the State. His election was peculiarly gratifying to Senator Camden's friends, as he has been a lifelong friend of Camden, and on the tariff, currency and all other great questions of the day, his views and Camden's accord. The vote which decided his election was cast by the delegate from Camden's home, and the election was brought about on an agreement entered into by Camden friends last year.

To the editor of the Alexandria Gazette: It is said the agents of the foreign bond holders claim $31,000,000 as the amount honestly due by the State. If this be so, and it is also true, that a final settlement can be secured by the issue of new bonds to run forty years for that amount, paying 3 per cent. interest, without the offensive tax-receivable coupon, I respectfully submit the State can pay this interest without increased taxation, and it will be a great political blunder to take no higher view of the subject, for the committee to fail to report favorably the offer and the party in power to accept it, and thus end finally this issue so damaging to the State. Mark the prediction—the republicans are only waiting for the democrats to reject this offer, to close with it themselves and win the fall elections.

AN OLD READJUSTER.

A MAGICIAN IN HOT WATER.

—Hermann, the magician, occupied a cell at the York street police station, Brooklyn, a night or two ago, the result of some comical pranks in a street car. After the performance at Sinn's theatre, he accompanied by his wife, boarded a street car, with the intention of going to New York, where he lives. The car contained a number of passengers, and the temptation to amuse himself led to his arrest. Among the party on the car were two ladies and four gentlemen. One of the former wore a handsome gold watch and chain and her escort a diamond pin. The latter, Theodore Clifford, discovered that his pin was missing, and at about the same time the young lady found her watch and chain was gone. Charles Otto said he had lost a watch also, and remembering that Hermann had asked him the time, openly accused him of the theft. The conductor called a policeman, who arrested Hermann and conveyed him to the station house where he was registered on a charge of robbery. He immediately revealed his identity and requested that the complainants be subjected to a search, which was done. Otto's watch was discovered in Clifford's pocket, while the latter's diamond was found under the lapel of his own coat. The young lady's watch was in the coat pocket of the policeman who made the arrest. Hermann protested the entire affair was simply a practical joke, and no harm was intended, but the sergeant held that he was guilty of disorderly conduct, and ordered him locked up on that charge as the charges of robbery had been withdrawn. A messenger was dispatched for Harry Kennedy, and that gentleman went security for the prisoner's appearance before the Justice next morning.

NEGRO BARBER KILLED. EL PASO, Tex., May 6.—Edgar Boulinguy, of New Orleans, recently a resident of the City of Mexico, shot and killed a negro barber named Alfred Kenard here yesterday. Kenard was called to the Vendome Hotel to shave a friend of Boulinguy's named Marcotte, also from New Orleans, who is too lame to leave his room. The barber charged a dollar for his services. He was offered 75 cents, but refused to accept. He went away and a little later met Boulinguy outside of the hotel. Kenard picked up a stone and threw it at Boulinguy, who fired at him as the stone left his hand. Boulinguy, who is a member of one of the oldest and best known Creole families of New Orleans, was arrested and lodged in jail. His father was a member of Congress and a Judge.

ANTI-GERMAN DEMONSTRATIONS. LONDON, May 6.—A Paris dispatch to the Standard says: "On Wednesday night a crowd numbering about 1,000 persons marched down the Rue Royale, shouting 'A Berlin!' The mob moved rapidly across the Place de la Concorde, evidently intending to reach the German Embassy. The police charged upon and dispersed the crowd, which soon reformed, however, and started for the Elysee. Another charge was made by the police and the mob scattered in all directions."

HORRIBLE DEATH. PITTSBURG, May 6.—A special to the Chronicle Telegraph from Youngstown, O., says a terrible accident occurred in the rolling mill of the Hubbard Iron Company, at Hubbard, shortly after 2 o'clock this morning. Engineer Griffith Phillips, aged 29 years, in passing around an ore crusher, oiling the bearings, was caught in the cog wheels and dragged into the crusher. He was mangled out of all semblance of humanity, the flesh adhering to the cogs. Mr. Phillips leaves a wife and three children.

EXECUTION. GUAYMAS, Mex., May 6.—At sunrise yesterday the judgment of the court martial in the cases of Col. Arvisu, Lieut. Gutierrez and Louis Rencon was executed. The trio faced death bravely, all refusing at first to have their eyes bandaged, but finally, on the appeal of Col. Yarrati, the men allowed themselves to be blindfolded. A volley was then fired on the condemned men, and the examining surgeon a few minutes later pronounced all three dead.

SENTENCED. CHICAGO, May 6.—Col. W. H. Bolton, ex-superintendent of second-class matter in the Chicago postoffice, who was convicted of the embezzlement of about $25,000, was this morning sentenced by Judge Blodgett to four years' imprisonment in the penitentiary. Col. Bolton has been at the county hospital since his conviction, it being alleged that his health was poor.

SENTENCED COMMUTED. ST. PETERSBURG, May 6.—It is reported that the Czar has decided that the sentences of death pronounced against the nihilists convicted of complicity in the attempt to assassinate him, shall be commuted to imprisonment at hard labor for life in the cases of all but two of the condemned.

QUIETING DOWN. CONSTANTINOPLE, May 6.—The threatened insurrection by the Greek population of Crete against the Porte's authority has quieted down, and the French and English men-of-war sent to the harbor to be present in case of emergency are departing.

FLORIDA SENATORSHIP. TALLAHASSEE, Fla., May 6.—In the Legislature the vote for U. S. Senator to-day was as follows: Perry, 25; Pasco, 16; Bloxham, 24; Goodrich, republican, 17; scattering, (all democrats), 8.

DEATH OF A NOVELIST. LONDON, May 6.—James Grant, the novelist, is dead. He was 64 years of age.

THE democratic legislative caucus last night nominated Randall M. Brown, of Carroll, for circuit judge.

CANDIDATES. RESPECTFULLY announces myself an independent candidate for the office of Superintendent of Police at the general election, May 26, 1876 to EDWARD HUGHES.

THE HOLMES DIVORCE CASE.—The Code. (Special Dispatch to the Alexandria Gazette.) RICHMOND, Va., May 6.—The House Committee for Courts of Justice to-day reported with a recommendation that it do not pass, Senate bill to validate and make effectual the proceedings in, and the decree of divorce pronounced in, the Corporation Court of the city of Alexandria, January 14, 1887, in the chancery suit of Mary E. Holmes, by next friend, vs. E. C. Holmes. The committee on the Code reported to-day. They recommend the adoption of the Code as a whole. The report was passed by in order to be printed. B. P. O.

ABOUT $100,000 SHORT. JOULET, Ill., May 6.—Seventy-five to one hundred thousand dollars of the funds of the Will County National bank are missing. The officials of the concern admit that there is a cash shortage, but say that was caused by cashier Knowlton's bad financial management and his peculiar methods of handling the funds of the old Will County Savings bank. The latter was a private concern, but Knowlton was manager as well as cashier of the National, and both banks were until recently in the same building. The cashier has resigned and is now in Canada with his wife, but Captain G. P. Phelps, a brother of the American minister to England, who is his counsel, denies that he is a defaulter, and states that Calvin Knowlton, his father, has made arrangements to make good the shortage. An investigation is now in progress.

KILLED.—News has reached Culpeper of the killing of Alfred Lee, on the farm of Mr. W. P. Nelson, about nine miles from the town, by one Peter Slaughter by striking Lee on the head twice, with the eye of an axe. Slaughter coolly walked up to Lee and without threats delivered the two fatal blows. On Tuesday night, Slaughter upon entering his house found Lee in his room. He then told Lee that he would fix him Wednesday, which purpose he carried out. The murdered and the murderer are both colored, and are married. The murderer immediately after the killing, came to town and gave himself up to the authorities. He was lodged in jail to await his trial. He talked freely of the killing, and if he was asked, he would not hesitate to say he committed the deed.—Culpeper Express.

IN MEMORIAM. ALEXANDRIA, April 16, 1887. A Tribute to George Wilmer Brown. While mourning parents and sorrowing friends were bending o'er and weeping round the suffering one, its gentle spirit passed away to Him who said, "Suffer little children to come unto me, for such is the kingdom of heaven."

We love thee, Wilmer; thou art laid to rest And lovely as the evening star, Thy holy radiance oft beguile Our wilder thoughts to heaven afar. Dear Wilmer, in our earthly home Thou wear the chief of all our joys. Now dearest in the silent tomb From thence we hear thy pure voice. "Come, father, mother, I am pure— Come sing with me redeeming love." Farewell, our chaste and honest adorer. We come, sustain us, God of love.
