

ALEXANDRIA. FRIDAY EVENING JANUARY 27.

From Washington.

(Special Correspondence of the ALEX. GAZETTE.) WASHINGTON, D. C., Jan. 27, 1888.

A Virginia republican who was present at the recent organization of the State republican league at Richmond says he saw enough there to make him know that General Mahone has the republican party of Virginia in his control and can manage it at will. He says the mere fact that the man whom the league had practically agreed to elect secretary expressed a doubt about the General's supremacy was sufficient to defeat him almost unanimously. He also says there will be a State convention next spring, but that arrangements will be made by which a large majority of the delegates will be provided that the delegates to the national convention shall be elected in the respective congressional districts, in Virginia they will be elected at the State convention. He says the Blaine men in Virginia have heretofore opposed Mahone, but that as it seems Blaine will be the nominee, he doesn't see why Mahone should offer resistance, but that whatever the General may do will be endorsed by the republican party of his State.

During Mr. Blair's speech on his educational bill in the Senate yesterday he read letters in favor of it which had been received by Representative Yost, of Virginia, from the following named county school superintendents in Virginia: W. C. Corson, of Cumberland co.; V. T. Jordan, of Augusta co.; G. E. McCorkle, of Allegheny co., and G. E. Caskey, of Nelson county. He stated that if the bill be passed $15,000,000, the highest sum to be distributed by it in one year, would give $3.04 towards the education of every child in Virginia.

The Richmond delegation here yesterday came to ask Mr. Barbour to use his influence with the Richmond and Danville management to have the general office of that system moved back to Richmond. Mr. Barbour informed them that his position in the railroad company entitled him to no influence in its operative management, and that if it did he would feel compelled to use it in behalf of Alexandria as the place for the office referred to.

Mr. Speaker Carlisle was prevented by the inclement weather from going to Old Point on the day mentioned in the GAZETTE, but, accompanied by his wife and one or two personal friends, left this morning for Baltimore, where the party took a government tug for Old Point. They will probably return on Tuesday next. Mr. Carlisle is improving, but is still a little weak.

It is said here to day by New York democrats that the fight in the State Committee of that State yesterday over the election to fill a vacancy in that committee was a square one between President Cleveland and Governor Hill, and the fact that it was a drawn battle shows that the latter will be in the ascendant, as the Cleveland men expended their utmost force then, and will not be as strong when the fight is renewed.

The House Commerce Committee, in order to relieve its members of any possible injury that might result from a report on the subject of the Reading Railroad strike, agreed to-day to ask the House to refer that matter to the Inter-State Commerce Committee.

The removal of Col. Ludlow from the Board of Commissioners of the District of Columbia seems to be anything else than satisfactory to many people here, especially the democrats, who say that the Colonel was the only one of the board who entertained the idea of a possible change in any of the numerous offices at that city.

In the House yesterday by Virginia members. Mr. Bowen, resolutions telegraphed by the town of Pocahontas and citizens of East Tazewell county, Va., protesting against the removal of the duty on coal and iron. Mr. Brown, of the 1st district, of Gloucester county, Va., for the improvement of Ware river, also bills for the survey and improvement of certain rivers and creeks in the 1st Virginia district. Mr. Lee, petition for the relief of Dowham and Strauss, of Alexandria, from surety liabilities. Mr. O'Ferrall, petition of Rebecca L. Boggs, of Frederick county, Va. Mr. Brown, of the 5th district, petition of T. J. Reynolds and other citizens of Viola, Pittsylvania county, and John Phelps and others, of Buchanan, Carroll county, Va., for increasing the pay of 31 and 4th class postmasters. Mr. Yost, similar petitions from citizens of New Hope, Augusta county, and Wildway, Appomattox county, Va. Mr. Bowen, a bill to pay Wadley T. James and others for horses killed in the service of the United States. Mr. Bowen, a bill to regulate the payment of watchmen in the executive departments of the government.

Senators Daniel, of Virginia, and Butler, of South Carolina, and Representatives Wise and Lee, two representatives of the navy department, and others, left here this morning to inspect the Trigg locomotive works in Richmond, upon the invitation of the proprietors of those works, whose object it is to have as much government work done there as possible.

Among the late removals at the Government printing office was that of Mr. Bishop, said here to be a good deal of a democrat from Alexandria. Representative Brown, of the 1st Virginia district, has received a letter from Surgeon General Hamilton, of the Marine Hospital Service, favoring his bill for a permanent quarantine station at Cape Charles, Virginia.

W. E. Bibb, of Louisiana county, Virginia, a member of the Virginia State Senate, will, it is reported, be appointed U. S. consul at Port Hope, Canada.

VIRGINIA NEWS.

James H. Lunsford died at his residence, in Stafford, on the 21st instant in the 78 year of his age. Chincoteague bay has been frozen over for fully a week, the sheet of ice being the hardest and clearest ever seen there on a body of salt water. Mrs. M. S. Brunley, fell and broke two bones of her leg immediately after the funeral of her son, which took place in Charlottesville yesterday. Robert Harrison Hooper, an employe of the Tredegar Works, at Richmond, died yesterday from an overdose of chloral taken to alleviate heart disease.

A bill to authorize the officers of the counties and Winchester to deposit State funds in the Union Bank of Winchester passed the State Senate yesterday. Gen. J. L. Kemper received a painful wound on the back of his head by falling from the porch of the Union House, at Madison C. H., on Wednesday night. The Chamber of Commerce of Richmond have appointed a committee of five to ask the Legislature for the repeal of the law allowing compulsory pilotage in James river.

The State Senate yesterday passed the House bill repealing the compulsory inspection of fish and fowl, and the House defeated the bill to establish a labor bureau. Mrs. Emily Smith of Charlottesville was fatally burned on Wednesday by fire communicated to her clothing from a grate. She lived but a few hours, and was buried yesterday.

Passed Assistant Thomas J. W. Cooper, in charge of the machinery of the ironclads at City Point, was taken to Naval Hospital yesterday, suffering from concussion of the brain, having fallen from the hurricane deck to the lower hold of one of the monitors.

Letter from Richmond.

(Special Cor. of the ALEXANDRIA GAZETTE.) RICHMOND, Va., Jan. 26.—Mr. Saunders, the young delegate from the county of Franklin, introduced a resolution in the House to-day which evoked severe criticism on the part of Senators. Mr. Saunders thought the Senate was having too many bills printed, and so he offered a joint resolution looking to the curtailment of the expenses in so far as they relate to the printing of bills by the Senate. The House adopted the resolution, but when it went over to the Senate the ire of the members of that body was unanimously roused. Senator Heaton was not loth to say that the House ought to attend to its own business and let the Senate alone, and Senator Williams, of Brand, expressed a similar opinion in a substitute to the House joint resolution, which he withdrew at the instance of Mr. Wickham, who thought it was biting the House a little too hard. Senator Heaton was pitching into the House with gloves off for sending such a resolution to the Senate, and declared that if the House would be better off in understanding the bills passed by that branch. While this debate was going on Mr. Saunders, whose position in the Senate doubtless misunderstood, was in the Senate chamber, and heard the vote unanimously recorded against his proposition.

Mr. Dabney, chairman of the House Committee on Roads and Internal Navigation, told me to-day that his committee would by Saturday report a bill for a general regulation of transportation by railroads within the State. A meeting of this committee was called for last night but on account of the inclement weather there was not a quorum present. The committee are holding a meeting to-night and will have one or two more meetings before Saturday. A resolution introduced in the Senate by Mr. Moore involving an inquiry into the expediency of passing a general law providing for charters of incorporation of railroad companies without application to the Legislature, passed the Senate to-day. If the matter of granting charters to railroad corporations is left exclusively with the courts it will doubtless take away no little work from future legislation and cripple the lobbying business.

Mr. Pedigo, rep. of Henry, stands a chance of being read out of his party, and all on account of the position he has taken upon the labor statistical bill. Mr. Elam, the recognized republican leader in the House, reminded Mr. Pedigo to-day that he (Mr. Pedigo) was not sticking closely to the national republican platform and to the platform of the State republican party when he opposed the Labor Bureau bill. Mr. Elam did not use these exact words but he doubtless meant the same thing. Not only has Pedigo misconstrued the platform of his party according to Mr. Elam's interpretation of it but Delegate Harris, of Dinwiddie, has flown the track and so have other republicans.

Rocky Mount, in Franklin county, is a mighty small place but it takes eighteen closely written pages of foolscap paper to ask the General Assembly to amend its charter. Rocky Mount is aiming to be a city and she will get there when more railroads run through Franklin.

The bill introduced by Senator Moore to incorporate the Alexandria Gentlemen's Driving Club, which I briefly telegraphed to the GAZETTE, provides for the establishment of a driving park and race course in the county of Alexandria for pleasure riding and driving, racing and other entertainments. The corporators shall have power to acquire by purchase, lease or otherwise so much land as may be deemed necessary for its purposes, to lease and let booths, stables and other privileges on the premises, and to appoint police officers for their said driving park and race course, with power to make arrests, in preserving peace and good order. The capital stock of the company shall not be less than $1,000 nor more than $20,000, to be divided into shares of $25 each.

How to Grow Stout.—In the first place a thin man to grow stout must keep regular hours and eat his meals regularly. He should bathe in water from which the oil has been taken, every morning, wipe the water off his body with a sponge, and then rub every part of his body briskly with a rough towel. He should then take a brisk walk before breakfast, the length of which should be proportioned to his strength. As to food, he should eat broiled chops and steaks, eggs, and dry toast lightly buttered. The steaks and chops should not be too rare, but not overdone, and eggs should never be used to the point of producing biliousness. Cocoa is preferable to either tea or coffee, and coffee to tea. He should not take more than half a pint of fluid at each meal. Vegetables should be eaten in moderation. One potato, beans, peas and cabbage, are recommended. Avoid sweet vegetables. Bishy of alcoholic stimulants, but one glass of Old ale at dinner would not be hurtful. All nostrums and aperient medicines should be rigorously avoided and their effects produced from exercise and change of diet. A glass of cold water taken early in the morning often proves an excellent aperient, and with a small teaspoonful of raw flax-seed stirred up in it is an inviolable one. Should he lack appetite let him put a few quassia chips in a glass of water at night, and drink half a tumblerful in the morning about half an hour before breakfast. There are certain preparations known to medical science which tend to build up and strengthen the whole system. These are iron, strychnine, quinine, phosphorus, lime and manganese, in differing groups or combinations. But these should be taken under medical advice, and discontinued if the slightest ill effects are felt from their use. Richardson says that "three clean pipes of tobacco a day will not hurt any healthy man." In short, moderate exercise, nutritious food, frequent bathing, and a calm and contented mind will clothe the bones with a comfortable covering of good, healthy tissue.

Up in the northwestern part of New York two warm kisses can be had in the country districts for seventy-five cents, while in villages where old maids are plenty osculation has dropped to even a lower figure. There is some demand for Oswego kisses at $5,000 each, and a few of the best osculatory favors are going off in Canada for one thousand per osculate. Right in New York city the choice of the market can be had for ten dollars a dozen, and they go begging at that price in Harlem.

AN APPROPRIATE MOTTO.—"Was the deceased a man of family?" inquired the tombstone agent, as he made a memorandum of the design selected and wrote the inscription in his order book. "He had been married three times," was the reply. "The motto 'At rest' would just fit this blank space below the inscription," suggested the agent deferentially.—Chicago Tribune.

The latest novelty in bonnets has a crown of alligator skin. If in wearing them the ladies take cold, we say to them confidently there is no better remedy for coughs and colds than Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup.

TO-DAY'S TELEGRAPHIC DISPATCHES.

Proceedings of Congress. WASHINGTON, D. C., Jan. 27. SENATE. The Senate was not in session to-day, having adjourned yesterday till Monday.

HOUSE. Mr. White, of New York, introduced a bill for the protection and administration of the forests on the public lands. Referred. On motion of Mr. Burnes, of Missouri, Senate amendments to the little deficiency bill were concurred in. The House then proceeded to the consideration of private business.

Destitute Indians. BROWN'S VALLEY, Minn., Jan. 27.—In regard to the statement made a few days ago that the Sisseton Indians were in a starving condition, it was found yesterday that quite a number are almost entirely dependent on the charity of several families of this place. The agent is doing what he can to help the needy ones, but for some reason tries to cover up the fact that the Indians, if not actually suffering, are greatly in need of assistance. Even by visiting their log cabins, where several families generally house together during the winter months, it is a hard matter to learn whether or not they have plenty of or are next door to starvation. You can only surmise by either the healthful and well fed or pinched and hungry looks of the faces. The Indian will not utter a complaint, but will tighten his belt one more hole and with a stolidity that is beyond comprehension sit down in a corner, pull his blanket over his head and grin and bear it even to his death. The present destitution is attributable to a partial failure of their crops last season. They receive no more cash annuities from the government. The Sissetons are rich in lands, but the greater share of them have most scanty provisions and little or no means of procuring enough to keep body and soul together.

Struck by a Train. PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 27.—The rector of the Protestant Episcopal church of the Holy Apostles accompanied by the Rev. Wm. N. McVickar, D. D., Rector of Holy Trinity church, and the Rev. Dr. Phillips Brooks of Boston, together with Miss McVickar, a sister of Dr. McVickar, started last evening in a carriage to attend the dedication of the chapel of the Holy Comforter, at 27th and Wharton streets. The carriage was driven by Wm. Wernbold. While crossing the Penna. R. R. tracks at Gray's Ferry, near the Arsenal, the rear part of the carriage was struck by an engine. The latter was going at a slow rate of speed at the time, but the force of the collision was sufficient to throw the driver from his seat, while the occupants of the carriage managed to escape uninjured. The driver received injuries about the head. The carriage was demolished.

Murdered and Buried. SANTA ANNA, Cal., Jan. 27.—C. B. Hitchcock, a prominent farmer, came to Santa Anna last Monday with his wife and acknowledged the deed to his property to a German named Anslag. They returned home, but not having been seen thereafter, neighbors grew suspicious of foul play and instituted a search. Their dead bodies were found yesterday a long distance from the house. Hitchcock and his wife were side by side in a hole in the ground, which had been covered over with earth and straw. Hitchcock's throat was cut from ear to ear and his wife's head was split open with a hatchet. It seemed evident that Anslag had murdered them to retain the money he had paid them for the land. A lynching party was at once organized and started for Anslag and he was lynched before officers could interfere.

Maxwell, the Murderer. ST. LOUIS, Jan. 27.—The jail authorities are alarmed lest Hugh M. Brooks, alias Maxwell, shall cheat the gallows by committing suicide. A physician who has attended Maxwell for the last six months last night said: "Maxwell has been in jail now for nearly three years, and every day he smoked from forty to fifty cigarettes. He smokes a brand that contains a considerable amount of morphine. His Turk like stolidity is simply the result of continued morphine poisoning, by which the sensibilities are gradually dulled and the brain rendered torpid. He is liable to drop dead any time, and may easily have smuggled into him enough morphine to end his life."

Both Legs Amputated. OMAHA, Neb., Jan. 27.—Miss Ettie Shattuck, a young school teacher, who was severely frozen in Holt county during the late blizzard, had both her legs amputated at Seward yesterday and will live. On the night of the storm Miss Shattuck took refuge in a hay stack but was unable to burrow deep enough to prevent her limbs from freezing. After staying in the stack 78 hours she was discovered by a farmer and rescued.

Fight at a Gospel Meeting. ST. PAUL, Minn., Jan. 27.—A miscellaneous assortment of black eyes and broken noses resulted from an attempt of several young men to break up an American Gospel Army meeting last night. They provoked the row by gaying the speakers and succeeded in getting as bad as they sent. A policeman put an end to the decidedly animated proceedings by arresting the ringleaders.

Train Robbers Captured. EL PASO, Tex., Jan. 27.—A dispatch from Chihuahua says a force of American troops who have been scouring the country southwest of Chihuahua in quest of the Mapala train robbers have come in with another robber, making three captured. The dispatch states that in the robbers' possession were found four of the horses on which the bandits escaped and quite a sum of money, some in original Wells Fargo packages.

A Curious Case.

READING, Pa., Jan. 27.—Jacob Hollenberger, a young man 19 years of age, about two months ago, while working in a stove foundry in Philadelphia, was injured by an explosion of molten iron. The explosion killed one man and a quantity of the molten fluid flew in young Hollenberger's mouth. The theory of the physicians is that a portion of the molten iron slipped down his throat and, cooling, closed up the passage leading to his stomach, as since then it has been impossible to give him any nourishment except by injecting it in liquid form. When in good health the young man weighed 140 pounds, but his weight has now been reduced to sixty-five pounds. When he rouses himself from the influence of the opiates which are given him he constantly appeals piteously for food. Every means has been tried to remove the obstruction, which shuts out food for his stomach, but all have failed, and it is thought starvation will finish its work in a few days. A few days previous to the accident he was married to Miss Catharine Diehl, of this city, who has spent her honeymoon in nursing him during his terrible suffering.

The Indiana Contest. WASHINGTON, Jan. 27.—The House Committee on Elections to-day disposed of the Indiana contested election case by ordering a report to the House declaring the seat vacant on the ground that White, the sitting member, is ineligible, while Lowry, the contestant, did not have a majority of the votes cast. The adoption of the report by the House would necessitate another election in the 6th Indiana district. On the motion to declare Lowry entitled to the seat every member of the committee except Mr. Houk, of Tennessee, who was absent, voted in the negative. The succeeding motion, to declare that White is not entitled to the seat, was supported by all of the democrats, while Messrs. Rowell, Cooper, Lyman, Johnson (Indiana), and Lodge voted no. The republicans will present a minority report declaring White entitled to his seat.

Fire. BALTIMORE, Jan. 27.—Fire this morning destroyed the second and third floors of R. B. Armiger's carpenter shop on Frederick street. The Novelty Theatre, in the rear, and fronting on Gay street, and two adjoining buildings were damaged by fire and water. Damage $6,000, partially insured.

Missing Pastor. NEW YORK, Jan. 27.—The pastor of the Congregational Church in Battle Creek, Mich., Rev. Theo. W. Haven, has been missing since January 11th. His health has been somewhat impaired by overwork and from worrying upon certain theological questions.

The Deficiency Bill. WASHINGTON, D. C., Jan. 27.—The House Committee on Appropriations has resolved to recommend that the House accept the Senate amendments to the Deficiency Bill passed last week.

RUNS IN THE FAMILY.—"And so you will get married when you grow up to be a young lady, Flossie?" said the caller. "Oh, I haven't a doubt of it," assented Flossie. "Everybody says I am very much like my mamma, and she, you know, has been married three times."

AN INOPPORTUNE TIME.—Boston man (to medium)—Can I communicate with the spirit of my wife? Medium—I will see, sir. (After recovering from a trance.) No, sir, the lady is attending a meeting of the Hosannah Browning Club and doesn't wish to be disturbed.

TRIBUTE OF RESPECT. At a meeting of the Board of Directors of the Mechanics' Building Association of Alexandria, Va., held January 25th, 1888, the following resolutions were unanimously adopted: Whereas God, in His all-wise providence, has deemed it expedient to remove from our midst our worthy and highly-respected President, JOSHUA H. D. SMOOTH; and whereas his relations with the members of this board have been of a nature so intimate, we deem it proper that we should demonstrate our regard for him as a man, a citizen and a valuable co-worker in the interests of our association; therefore, be it Resolved, That in his death our association sustains the loss of one of her most steadfast, consistent and zealous officers, and the community at large a good and valuable citizen. That we extend to his bereaved family the full assurance of our cordial sympathy. That a copy of these resolutions be sent to his family and also published in the newspapers of the city of Alexandria.

LEONARD MARBUERY, Secretary. HENRY STREAU, President.

NEWS OF THE DAY.

The loan required on account of the new German military bill will amount to 280,000,000 marks. Russia, while denying warlike intentions, is strengthening the organization of her army and preparing a flotilla on the Oxus. There is great distress in Dakota towns remote from railroads, and it is feared that the people will freeze to death for want of fuel. The Senate yesterday passed bills granting pensions of $2,000 a year to the widows of Generals John A. Logan and Frank P. Blair.

Engineer Commissioner Ludlow, of the District of Columbia, has been relieved by the President, and Maj. Chas. W. Raymond appointed in his stead. Senator Vance, of North Carolina, says he does not believe there will be any substantial reduction in the tariff during the present Congress, judging from the present outlook. Dispatches from various points in Maine, New Hampshire, Massachusetts, New York and Pennsylvania report heavy snow burdens, which delay trains and cause great inconvenience. The Senate has confirmed the nomination of Martin V. Montgomery, associate justice of the Supreme Court of the District of Columbia, and J. E. Hoge, United States attorney, District of Columbia.

Yesterday morning the stranded British steamship Kimberly, which had been ashore three-quarters of a mile north of Wash Woods Life Saving Station, thirty miles south of Cape Henry, was floated and taken into Norfolk. John T. Allen, of Austin, Texas, who died last week, left an estate valued at $100,000, all of which, with the exception of a bequest of $5,000 to the daughter of an old friend, is left to the city of Austin to found an industrial college for boys in that city. Senator Wilson, of Iowa, who has just been re-elected, does not complete his first term in the Senate till March 4, 1889. When his second term expires he will have been in public life nearly forty years, as he was a member of the Iowa constitutional convention of 1858.

The Kentucky distillers who are parties to the agreement made last June not to make any whisky this year held a meeting in Louisville Wednesday at which the general trustee of the association was directed to bring suit against any signer of the agreement who has violated the contract. Resolutions were adopted asking the trade not to purchase whisky made in 1888 by those who have refused to become parties to the agreement. The reception at the White House last night in honor of the members of Congress and the judiciary did not attract a full representation of either body. There was quite a creditable turnout of the Senators and their families, only a small percentage of Representatives, a fair sprinkling of uniformed officers of the army and navy and a very few civilians. The reception was over in an hour or so, although the Presidential party remained in their places to await any fashionable stragglers.

SPOILED AN ELOPEMENT.—A sensation was created at the Union Depot in Petersburg, Va., yesterday, by a father capturing his daughter from a man with whom she was about to elope. The parties were Andrew Harris, twenty-four years of age, and Fannie Dodson, sixteen. The couple walked from their home, in Dinwiddie county, to Petersburg, a distance of eleven miles. Dodson, the father of the girl, took the train for Petersburg as soon as he heard of his daughter's elopement, and reached the depot just as she and the man of her choice were about to board the train for Weldon, N. C., to be married. The irate father seized his daughter, and, in spite of the angry threats of the prospective husband, carried her off.

Mr. W. W. Scott, secretary of the State democratic committee, was presented last night by the members of that committee with a handsome fowling piece. The presentation took place at the Exchange Hotel in Richmond, and the speech was made by Mr. Gordon, of Albemarle, to which Mr. Scott made a happy reply. And now Scott should notify the game that he will be on the "war path," so that they may come down without being shot at.

The retired Khedive of Egypt has at last received property and cash to the amount of several million dollars in settlement of the claims he has so long been pushing against the Egyptian Government.

The bill to allow all parties who tendered coupons in payment of taxes previous to the 5th day of December, 1887, to withdraw them and pay in cash, was ordered to be engrossed in the House of Delegates yesterday.

The Baldwin locomotive works, in Philadelphia, last year turned out 653 locomotives, the greatest number ever turned out by any shop in the same time.
